Several Accomplices In the Elsie Sigel Murder.

AIDED IN THE TRANSFER OF BODY

Expressman Tells of Taking Trunk Containing Corpse of Cirl Missionary to a Chinese Laundry In Harlem.

New York, June 30.—Information is at hand which for the first time since and Carrigan.

At Detroit — Detroit, 3; Cleyeland, 2. Batteries — Mullin and Schmidt; Young establishes that Leon Ling must have had accomplices and that, though a telegram signed with his name and in his writing was sent from Washington, he could not have been there on the date on which the message was

New facts as to the movement of the body in New York, now added to the details previously unearthed concerning the trip to Newark, N. J., came out through Arthur Logan, an expressman in the employ of the Constitution Express company of this city.

He told that at 12 30 p. m. on June 9, the day of the murder, a lean, light colored Chinaman, agreeing perfectly with the descriptions of Leon Ling. called at his office and told him that he wanted a trunk carted from the top floor of 782 Eighth avenue to the Chinese laundry of Wah Kee, 370 West One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street.

When Logan entered the Eighth avenue house shortly afterward he found Leon Ling waiting for him at the top of the fourth flight of stairs, he says. The door to his room stood open, but It was so dark that the place looked to the expressman like a cave. All the shades were drawn. In fact, he didn't see the trunk until he stumbled on it. but he noticed that the door to the adjoining room was ajar and that four Chinamen, who wore cues, were moving about in the obscurity. This is the door that Chong Sing, Leon Ling's intimate, who is detained as a witness, has sworn was closed.

Logan lifted the trunk with the help of his assistant and, though he is a strong man, found it heav.. He noticed that it was stoutly roped.

When he got to the Harlem address he found Wah Kee waiting for him. "All right; 50 cents, said Kee. Fifty cents had been the charge agreed on with Leon Ling. Wah Kee knew of it in advance, so the expressman thinks, and his views are shared by the police. There was no hesitancy about accepting the trunk. Wah Kee ordered it carried through the laundry to the kitchen and sleeping room in the rear, where Logan left it.

Nearly eight hours later Leon Ling called at the office of the New York Taxical company at the corner of One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and Eighth avenue and asked how much it would cost him for a taxicab to Newark. He was told $12 and instructed the driver, Martin Luria, to call at Wah Kee's laundry. When Luria got to the laundry at 11:55 p. m. he found that the heavier part of his fare was a stoutly corded trunk.

Leon Ling was pacing the street nervously while the trunk was being lifted to the front seat, and insisted "o tightly lashed, lest it fall The trunk secured, and break he stepped into the taxi himself and pulled all the shades. Not once on the journey to Newark did he put his head out the window, except at the ferry to pay the tolls.

To the restaurant at 64 Market street, Newark, he had been told to praise from the large bridal drive and when he arrived there at 2 o'clock in the morning of June 10 Li Sing, the proprietor, met him at the door and helped him carry the trunk to a rear room. He was paid and drove back to New York.

The foregoing facts accounting for. how the body got to Newark came out for the first time through the taxicab driver himself, Martin Luria. His narrative dovetails with the testimony of James Halstead, a Newark cabman, who took the body and Leon Ling back to the Eighth avenue room on the afternoon of the same day, where the body stayed until found by the police. Leon Ling vanished in the meantime.

WAR ON BROWN TAIL MOTH.

Fifty Government Experts Begin Operations at Rye, N. Y.

Rye, N. Y., June 30.-Fifty experts of the state board of agriculture have arrived here and begun a campaign against the brown tail moth, which recently made its appearance in a consignment of shrubbery purchased from a Boston nursery and planted on the estate of W. W. Cook here.

Several acres of grass on all sides of the infected shrubbery were sprayed with gasoline and burned over, and a careful inspection of foliage throughout this section will be made.

Today's wedding is the outcome of a meeting of the young couple at the Onwentsia Hunt club, at Lake Forest, Ill., something over a year ago. Both bride and bridegroom are lovers of horses, and much of the courtship was carried on while they were mounted on horseback. Mr. Lord is master of the hounds of the Onwentsia club.

CALL ON BANKS FOR $25,000,000

Secretary of the Treasury Withdraws Government Deposits.

Washington, June 30 .- A call on national depositary banks for a return to the treasury of government funds aggregating $25,000,000 was made by Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh. Of this amount $9,000,000 has been called for July 15 and $16,000,000 for August 15.

This call will practically wipe out all of the deposits of government funds in national banks subject to check by the treasury of the United States, except about $37,000,000, which is held in active account and necessary to meet checks of government disbursing offices, and $1,000,000, which will be allowed to remain in $1,000 lots in such of the 1,000 smaller national banks as desire to retain their designation as national bank deposi-

The working balance in the treasury is more than $43,000,000, which will be increased by the call to approximately $68,000,000.

Probably the most remarkable letter was one found in the bungalow signed "Edith." This letter, sent to Easton, not only indicates the warm feeling of Gilbert Woodill's wife for the fugitive broker, but seems to prove that she had known him for at least more than

The letter was in part as follows: "Is the iron immodest when it creeps to the loadstone and clings to its side? Is the seed immodest when it sinks into the ground with budding life? Is the cloud bold when it softens into rain and falls to earth because it has no other choice, or is it brazen when it nestles on the bosom of heaven's arched dome and, sinking into the blue black infinity, ceases to be itself? "Is the human soul immodest when, drawn by a force it cannot resist, it seeks a stronger soul, which absorbs Oh, this the song the firecracker its ego as the blue sky absorbs a floating cloud and as the warm earth swells the sea, as the magnet draws the iron?

JULY 4.

Spread your bunting; hang yow wreaths;

Let your banners be unfurled. Shout until the welkin seethes All about the deafened world. Get your old time speeches out. Cheer until you split the skies, But be careful while you spout Of your eyes.

Drag the ancient cannon forth. Load it to the muzzle's brim. Let the east, south, west and north Echo with its blim-blam-blim! Let the crackers hiss and spit, Rocket sticks come down kerplunk But be careful how you sit On the punk.

Let the Roman candles flare All the darkened heavens through et the mortars fill the air Full of stars red, white and blue Let the fluent red lights flow. Dimming both the moon and sun, But be careful how you blow Down your gun.

Roar, rejoice and speechify. Go through all the bag of tricks With which now we glorify Heroes of old seventy-six, But, no matter what your glee Mid the roar of bursting bombs,

Careful, oh, most careful be

Of your thumbs! Liberty a blessing is Worthy to be glorified, Worthy of the fiery whiz Of a nation full of pride, But it seems a bauble vain Empty, useless thing of chance,
