Miss Harriet Rockwell has returned home from her duties at the Arlington High school. The success which has attended Miss Rockwell's teaching was such that extra inducements were made to have her remain, which she declined. The trustees of a Middletown, N. Y., church finding fault with a neighbor whose property was next to the church erected a board fence about eight feet high (which was about 95 inches higher than their religious principles) in order to revenge a disputed grievance. The owner of the adjoining property, a Dr. Hulet, then erected a large and conspicuous sign on his barn bearing this inscription: "He who cutteth off his neighbor's light shall be an abomination in the eyes of all his people." This has caused quite a rivalry of interest in this church, and while their attendance has not perceptibly increased, yet the number of people who pass that way for a smile are greater than ever.

Deemer, of River street. The ceremony was performed at 3 o'clock. Rev. William Dassel officiated. The maid of honor was Miss Vera Murray, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Miss Rita Murray and Miss Mame Deemer, and the groom as attended by his brother, Frank Deemer. The bride was attired by a gown of white messaline silk, trimmed with Baby Irish lace. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Her maid of honor wore a gown of pink messaline satin, trimmed with Baby Irish lace, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Miss Rita Murray wore a blue silk gown, and Miss Mame Deemer was attired in a gown of pale yellow silk. The bridesmaids carried yellow roses. The ushers at the church were Philip and Fred Murray and Philip and Fred Deemer. Both the church and home presented beautiful appearances, the decorations consisting of palms and rhododendrons. After the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on South Church street, which was attended by the immediate relatives. Both Mr. and Mrs. Deemer are well known and popular young people of this place for some time. The bride has been principal of the Texas high school for some time, and the groom is connected with the Herbeck & Deemer Cut Glass Company, of this place. They received many beautiful presents, consisting of cut glass, silverware, linen, china and furniture. Mr. and Mrs. Deemer will spend several weeks at one of Wayne county's lakes. The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Deemer and John Irving, of Binghanton; Mr. and Mrs. P. H. TO TURN HANDS OF CLOCKS AHEAD SIXTY MINUTES. Cincinnati, O., June 30.—If Cincinnatians get up at 6 o'clock next Monday, it will be in reality what was 5 o'clock the year before. They will quit work at 5 o'clock just the same but in reality it will be 4 o'clock, according to the new method of reckoning time.

They will work the same number of hours but there will be more sunlight from May 1 until October 1. They will have their evening meal at what is now 5 o'clock, after which they will have about three hours of daylight, whereas now they have but about two.

This is all accomplished by an ordinance passed by the city council which provides that at 2 o'clock in the morning on May 1, 1910, the hands of the clock be turned forward an hour and shall remain so until October 1st when they will be turned back again. Until the whole country adopts the new day-light schedule, however, Cincinnatians will have to figure train schedules according to the present way of computing time. While clocks will say it is 9 o'clock the railroads will say it is but 8, and Cincinnati people have to figure on their departure in that way.

FARMERS CALL FOR HELP. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson confirms the assertion that there is no good ground for complaints of serious lack of employment. The secretary has just returned from a trip which took him through the great crop-growing sections of the west, where he found such a shortage of help among the farmers that there may be difficulty in gathering the ripening grain. "There is little excuse for a man being out of work at this season of the year," says the secretary, who added: "I found the farmers in the west more interested in the weather than in the tariff, and more concerned with the prices of hogs and farm products than with politics of any sort. There is a great dearth of farm labor, however, and many farmers are overworked." All this in the face of reports that the large cities are overrun with men who are out of work, adds the secretary, who alludes to the statement that there are two millions of unemployed in the country, and he says: "A great part of this alleged number could obtain work if they desired."

OBITUARY.

On Tuesday, June 29th, Abraham Hawker, aged 79 years, passed away. Mr. Hawker was born in Cornwall, England, in 1830. He came to this country in 1873, coming direct to Honesdale, where his brother, John, resided. He took employment with his brother as shoemaker for one and a half years, afterwards branching out for himself and continued in business for many years until age, and declining health compelled him to retire. He was highly respected, of a genial disposition, making friends with all whom he came in contact with. His death was due to a general debility. He is survived by his wife Elizabeth, five sons and two daughters of when Isaac, Charles, Samuel, Mary and Elizabeth are at home, while Thomas resides at Camden, N. J., and Herbert at Port Jervis. The funeral will take place from his late home on Green street this afternoon. Rev. A. L. Whittaker will officiate.

AN EXPLANATION. Frank W. Delancy, of Sellersville, Pa., who was to speak at the Court House Friday evening, June 25, on "The Value of the American Hen," appears to have gotten badly mixed in his dates, as he was in Honesdale Thursday evening, June 24. In a communication received from him on Friday afternoon he stated that it would be impossible for him to stay over as he had to be in Sunbury on Friday evening. He also added that he thought he had arranged to speak here on June 24. I have his letter (have mailed him copy of same) in which he states Friday evening, June 25th. The mix up of dates was entirely on his part and those who were disappointed we trust will not hold any hard feelings toward the Wayne County Poultry and Pigeon Association.
