LOCAL MENTION.

—Additional local on fourth and eighth pages.

—Slight frosts visited the higher lands in this locality Thursday night.

—Miss Ruth Ruppert, on Sunday last had the second toe of her right foot amputated by Dr. Ely. It is what is called a "hammer toe."

—On Saturday the Honesdale High school baseball team defeated the Bethany team at the latter place by the score of 12 to 6.

—Still the sweet slumbers of the six o'clock snoozer succumb to the shrieks of the soul-startling syren. Surely, 'tis sad.

—Sunday was a cool, beautiful day, and Honesdale had many visitors. One gentleman tells us that he counted 58 strange automobiles on Main street.

—The Wayne County Savings Bank, at its semi-annual meeting, last week, declared a semi-annual dividend of 12 per cent, and placed $10,000 in the surplus fund.

—A report is in circulation that the Standard Oil Co. is about to make butter out of the refuse of crude oil. That would not be nice, but undoubtedly an improvement upon the average oleomargarine.

—It is reported that Albert L. Fritz, supervisor of the Jefferson division of the Erie, is to be transferred to Jersey City, and that Charles Madill, of that place, will succeed Mr. Fritz.

—The Milford Press says that the application of "glutelin" to the streets of that borough has proven a great blessing in laying dust. Makes the surface hard and smooth. We shall have to read up on "glutelin."

—A traveling salesman for a prominent New York house, informed us, yesterday, that the price of all ready-made clothing would, next spring, be advanced from 10 to 15 per cent. Whew! that hits us hard.

—It is said that there is dissatisfaction in some quarters, that the officers of the 13th Regiment rode to Mt. Gretna in Pullman coaches while the privates were crowded into "dinky cars." What's the use of being an officer if you can't have the best?

—The Erie's roll of honor for July contains the names of three employees each of whom discovered and had removed a dragging brake-beam. The names are E. L. Clement, Port Jervis; A. L. Bolland, Hankins, Wm. Wall, Long Eddy.

—Mr. W. W. Wood, Jr., who left here Monday of last week for Seattle, Wash., got off his train at Jamestown, for a lunch, and was left. A mile west of the station the train was wrecked and some people injured. W. W. says he is glad he failed to connect.

—Don't let the Home Coming Week slip your mind. The principal days for public exercise will be Sept. 3d and 4th. Tell all your friends, who ever lived here, about it, and have them come "home" and bring their friends. The program, which is in course of preparation, will be published soon.

—"How to get rid of ants on a lawn," read a Church street young lady to her chum, last evening. "Wonder how they do that." "I know how we did it," was the response. "We just didn't invite her here, this summer. Last year we girls never could have a gentleman caller, that she wasn't sticking around."

—We wouldn't really enjoy having been any one of the three prominent Scranton women who were judges at the Times baby show at Luna Park last Thursday. There were 1,070 smiling (?) infants on exhibition and there were but thirty prizes to disburse. Think of the scathing, indignant anathemas that have been hurled at those unfortunate judges by 1,040 wronged mothers! The Times shouldn't do such things.

—July, thus far, has exhibited a marked coolness in its demeanor.

—The two large smoke stacks at the electric light stations have been painted.

—The Port Jervis Union says that whisky is a sure antidote for rattlesnake bite. Wonder how it knows.

—It is said that "the good die young," but don't mention it in the presence of the old and respected citizen.

—Nine persons took the examination for the rural free delivery route, which was held at the City Hall, by Miss Margaret Griffin, on Saturday morning.

—Marriage licenses have been granted to Peter Bosto, of Carbondale, and Katie Lisowski, of Ferryville; Andrew Berry and Mrs. Elizabeth Combes of Scranton.

—Burglars abducted from the home of Thomas Kirkwood, of River street, Carbondale, last Saturday night, seven dollars in money. Such a large sum of currency should never be left by itself, is probably what the abductor thought.

—Honesdale, for handsome, lady-like, nicely-attired young women, can give points to any town of its size in the country, and easily win. That, at least, is the opinion of all visitors here, and it speaks well for Honesdale.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Pfeifer, aged 87, died at her home in Aldenville, on Saturday. The funeral was held yesterday morning (Tuesday) at 9:30, at St. Mary Magdalen's church; interment in the German Catholic cemetery.

—The next piece of road to be reconstructed in this county in the order of the application on file in the state highway department will extend from Honesdale line through Texas township to the Cherry Ridge line.

—An inventory of the personal property of the estate of the late Wm. Connell, of Scranton, puts it at $2,989,866. The inventory of the real estate has not yet been taken, but it is estimated at something over $2,000,000.

—Two young men of Scranton, on Sunday night, "held up" two burly citizens on the street, and asked for a chew of tobacco. They were immediately "necked" by the outraged big citizens and turned over to the police. Be careful how you beg a "chew" in Scranton.

—Rev. Dr. Woolston, of Philadelphia, will lecture in the Baptist church, Thursday of this week. Rev. Woolston is a man of wonderful voice, simplicity of manner, and a great success. As a lecturer and picture-preacher he never fails to charm and fascinate his audiences.

—Pennsylvania's new fish law has the following: Outlines can not be used until June 1; season for same closes Nov. 30; carp, suckers, mullets, eels, and catfish only can be caught with outlines. Not more than 100 snoods and hooks can be used. Penalty, $20. Fike nets can be used in every month except June.

—Maurice, aged eleven years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Avery, died at his home in Scranton Saturday, from injuries received by loose powder, while celebrating July 4th.

—W. T. McAndrews, clarinet player in the 13th Regt. Band, died at Camp John Denthorpe, Mt. Gretna, last Monday night of peritonitis.

—Two young people of this place had "an awful" experience last night. They wandered in the woods in the afternoon until, as they say, they were "completely lost." When they restored themselves to their families at 11 p. m. there was great rejoicing. The "old man" says that next time that couple goes out he will surely send a guide.

—Don't send any more tinselled or frosted post cards, or, at least, don't attempt it, unless you place them in closely sealed envelopes. If you do, they will land promptly in the dead letter office. This action on the part of the Government is to save the mail-clerk's eyes, and also the muss which the tinsel and "frost" causes in its offices and mail-bags.

—The Monticello Watchman tells of a boy who celebrated the 4th in "bang-up" style. He was firing a small cannon, and the thing failed to go off. He picked it up and intensely scrutinized its interior. That caused the gun to remember itself and it "went." The lad now sees the world with one eye, he is minus two fingers, his countenance is twisted, and he is nursing three broken ribs. He had a "big time."

—Wilkes-Barre has a "bridge of sighs." Grace Dean and her lover had a quarrel Saturday last, and she sought to "loose the golden thread" by jumping off the North street bridge. She was pulled out of the water, notwithstanding her declarations that she wanted to die and her recreant lover was arrested. Just what the charge against him is, does not appear. It may be possible that it is against the city's ordinances to have a misunderstanding with one's best girl.

—The Sunday school of Grace Episcopal church will gather in the Sunday school rooms on Wednesday, July 14th, at one o'clock and at 1:30 p. m. sharp, will proceed to Bellevue Park for their annual picnic. Those living at the south end of the town will meet them at the Fifth street bridge. There will be sports and games of all sorts, including, it is hoped, a base ball game between the Indian Orchard Sunday school and the Honesdale Sunday school. A good time is assured.

—The Mannercho Society and a number of friends held their annual outing at Fortenia on Sunday.

—This is the season when lawyers take their annual rest, and peace will again "hover" for a little while.

—The winsome strawberry has made its annual adieux to this locality, much to the grief of its admirers.

—The Westfield Free Press has discovered a wild man in the woods near that place. There are some newspaper men who can make a paper interesting, even when real news is dull.

—Many of our exchanges complain that the trees are already losing their foliage, and that it is due to the appetite of the plant-louse. State Entomologist Fell tells them not to worry about it as the natural enemies of the louse, as the lady bug and the maggots of the flower flies will soon do for them.

Old Home Week.

Thursday evening last the chairman of the committees on Old Home Week which will be celebrated in this place Sept. 3d and 4th, met at the chambers of the council. All the chairmen except three were present.

The meeting was called to decide upon the date of holding the celebration. The affair will really occupy four days and will include Sunday and Labor Day. The latter occurs on Monday, September 6.

The resolution, however, names Friday and Saturday, Sept. 3 and 4, immediately preceding Labor Day. This celebration will be a strictly home affair, in which but very few out of town societies will be asked to participate. The civic and firemen's parade will occur Friday morning at 10 o'clock in which the school will also participate.

The dedicatory exercises of the new High school building will occur in the new building at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

The athletic sports will take place at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at Central Park.

A registration book will be provided for visitors who visit Honesdale. It will be located at the town hall.

The newspapers were requested to invite the public to visit this place especially during the two days of Old Home Week, and private citizens were also urged to invite their friends to be present.

The speech-making will occur from the court house steps on Friday afternoon.

It was agreed that the next meeting of the committee be held on Thursday evening, July 15.

Fractured a Wrist.

Leonard Batram, of Prompton, met with a painful accident one day last week. Mr. Batram was walking through the fields and slipping on a stone, he struck his hand against a large rock, fracturing his left

TO RECEIVE GOV. STUART.

At the Corner Stone Laying of the Farview State Asylum.

Arrangements are being made to give Governor Stuart a grand reception, when he visits Farview to attend the ceremonies of the corner stone laying of the Hospital for the Criminal Insane, on Saturday, July 24.

A meeting of about sixty prominent citizens was held at the parlors of the Allen House, on Monday evening, and Dr. Fitzsimons, a member of the commission, who helped secure Farview as a location for the hospital, were in attendance. Hon. W. H. Dimmick was made chairman of the meeting and, after a short address, he introduced Dr. Fitzsimons. In his remarks he mentioned Hon. L. Fuerth and Hon. E. B. Hardenbergh as faithful workers in securing the location of the hospital. At Farview there is now in course of construction a building 237 feet long and 47 feet wide. This building will be under roof by September 1st. By the middle of next year the building, with a frontage of 384 feet, and 3 1/2 stories in height, will be completed. At the present time $260,000 will be spent. When all of the buildings are completed, the structure will be the largest of its kind in the world. Dr. Fitzsimons said that Governor Stuart had accepted the first invitation sent to him. He will leave Philadelphia at 12:30 July 23, and spend the night in Scranton. His party will be taken to Farview in the private car of Mr. Sims of the Delaware & Hudson road. The ceremonies will begin at 11 o'clock, and last about two hours. A committee of three clergymen have been appointed—Rev. Charles Lee, Rev. Father Coffey, of Carbondale, and a Jewish Rabbi, of Scranton. The orator of the day will be Dr. Wagner, superintendent of the Binghamton State Hospital. Dr. Wagner is well known, having come into prominence during the Thaw trial in New York City, at which time he testified. Among the other guests present will be Judge Holand of the Federal Courts, and Robert Conklin, Commissioner of Forestry. The latter was asked to visit Farview to inspect the land in that vicinity. There are several thousand acres of waste land and an effort will be made to have the state purchase it.

After the ceremonies at Farview, a luncheon will be given to the Governor and party at the Canaan Corners hotel.

The purpose of the meeting, Monday night, was to defray the expenses of the occasion and about one hundred dollars was raised by the committee appointed. Prominent citizens of Carbondale have also started a subscription to raise funds. A special train will be run to Farview on that day.

Among the speakers Monday evening, were M. J. Hanlon, Hon. E. B. Hardenbergh, A. T. Searle, F. P. Kimble, C. A. McCarty and Hon. L. Fuerth.

The following finance committee was appointed: E. C. Mumford, M. J. Hanlon, H. S. Salmon, Edward Deitzer, H. Z. Russell. Transportation committee: L. Fuerth, Hon. E. B. Hardenbergh, George Penwarden, C. J. Dibble, and William Riefler.

O. L. Rowland, M. J. Hanlon and Hon. Wm. H. Dimmick were appointed a committee to make arrangements to have the members of Company E attend.

A committee will be appointed from this town to meet the Governor in Scranton.
