

WRIGHT SUCCEEDS

Completes One Government Aeroplane Test.

TAKES PASSENGER WITH HIM.

Orville Stays Up One Hour and Twelve Minutes, Breaking His Brother Wilbur's World's Record Easily.

Washington, July 28.—The world's aeroplane record for two men, as to both time and distance, was broken in a beautiful flight of 1 hour 12 minutes 40 seconds, going upward of fifty miles and at a speed averaging about forty miles an hour, by Orville Wright at Fort Myer, with Lieutenant Frank P. Lahn of the army signal corps as passenger.

The former record was made last year by his brother Wilbur, joint inventor with him of the machine in which both achievements were performed, at Le Mans, France, with Professor Pathe of the French Institute as passenger.

That flight was 1 hour 9 minutes 31 seconds. Wilbur was an eager spectator of the flight by his brother.

This success was all important to the Wrights in that it completed the first

COPYRIGHT WALDON LAWSON

LIEUTENANT FRANK P. LAHM.

Of two crucial tests of their machine imposed upon them by the United States government—the so called "endurance test" which required them to remain one hour continuously in the air with one passenger.

Orville did nearly thirteen minutes better than that and could have kept on for three hours and a half, the limit imposed by the gasoline capacity of the supply tank.

The other test, that for speed, will be completed with today, weather permitting, when Orville is to take Lieutenant Benjamin Foulois of the signal corps on a cross country flight to Alexandria and return, a total of ten miles, over a measured course and a speed required to average forty miles an hour.

Orville's flight would have carried him almost twice across the English channel.

Interest was added to the achievement of Orville Wright by the realization by everybody present that upon his last attempt to navigate the air with a passenger, that passenger, Lieutenant Selfridge, was killed and he himself was terribly injured.

His devoted sister, Miss Katherine Wright, who nursed him through the period of his recovery from that disaster, anxiously watched him from the doorway of the shed where the aeroplane is kept, and when he returned unharmed from his flight gripped him eagerly by the arm, nestled her face against his breast and said:

"Bully for you, brother. It was beautiful."

Mr. Taft, who had waited for him at the end of the parade ground, took him warmly by the hand and with the other grasping that of his brother Wilbur said:

"I congratulate you heartily, sir. It was a great exhibition. You came down as easily and gracefully as you went up. You beat the world's record."

"Yes, sir," replied Orville, evidently embarrassed. "I beat my brother's record."

The president and everybody in the crowd about joined in the laughter at this reply.

"How did your passenger conduct himself? Did he talk to the motor-man?" asked the president.

"He behaved very well," replied the aviator.

LATHAM ALMOST FLIES OVER.

Was Beating Bleriot's Speed When He Fell Into English Channel.

Dover, England, July 28.—Hubert Latham's second attempt to fly across the English channel ended disastrously. Almost in the moment of victory his monoplane fluttered into the sea, two miles beyond the Admiralty pier, like a bird with a broken wing.

Thousands of people crowding the waterfront saw the fall and for nearly half an hour they were kept in suspense, not knowing whether the daring aeronaut had met death or had again been rescued from death in the water. A flock of large and small craft raced to the scene of the disaster and a pliance from the British battleship Russell picked up the unlucky flier and put him aboard the French torpedo boat destroyer Escoffette.

After a surgeon had attended to his injuries the destroyer brought Latham ashore and he was taken to the Lord Warden hotel. His face was battered and bleeding and his nose was broken. The machine, badly wrecked, was hoisted from the boat to the dock.

Latham's flight to the moment of its sensational finish eclipsed Bleriot's in some respects. He made greater speed, being only twenty minutes in the air from the time he left the coast of France. Apparently he steered a straighter course than Bleriot, as he was making directly for Dover when he fell.

Stays Up For Hour and a Half.

Chalons Sur Marne, France, July 28.—M. Sommer made an aeroplane flight here of one hour, twenty-three minutes and thirty seconds.

WORLD'S EDUCATORS MEET.

Many Men of Highest Rank at Leipzig's Five Hundredth Anniversary.

Leipzig, Germany, July 28.—An event of interest to educators throughout the world began here today with the opening of the celebration of the five hundredth anniversary of Leipzig university, which is surpassed in age in Germany by Heidelberg alone and in size by Berlin and Munich only.

The world has seldom seen so distinguished a gathering of educators as the one now assembled in Leipzig. Practically every university of high standing in the world has sent one or more delegates to the jubilee. The festivities began with a reception to the guests and will last three days.

Among the American delegates to the jubilee are Dr. William H. Welch of Johns Hopkins university and the Smithsonian institution, Professor John W. Burgess of Columbia university, Professor Hans Oertel of Yale, Provost Charles C. Harrison of the University of Pennsylvania, President Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell university and many other American educators of the first rank.

MARTIAL LAW FOR BARCELONA

Food Supplies Are Cut Off Owing to General Strike—Rioting in Streets Has Caused Many Deaths.

Barcelona, July 28.—Barcelona is now under martial law. Serious rioting has occurred following the declaration of a general strike in protest against the military operations in Morocco and the dispatch to that country of large bodies of troops. Several persons have been killed and a large number wounded.

Violent meetings have been held during the past few days and the general strike followed. There has been much fighting in the streets and practically all communications have been destroyed. The food supplies have been cut off, resulting in great hardships and suffering, especially among the poor. The prices of the necessities of life are almost prohibitive.

The strikers cheer the soldiers, but have attacked the police of Barcelona and suburbs. Several serious engagements have occurred between the police and the rioters, and the former have not hesitated to use their pistols freely. As a result many innocent pedestrians have been shot as well as rioters.

CABINET FOR MARTIAL LAW.

Riff Tribesmen Capture Steamer and Drive Troops Off.

Madrid, July 28.—The cabinet held a long session and decided that the situation in Catalonia is so grave that it necessitates the proclaiming of martial law at Tarragona and Gerona, in addition to Barcelona. King Alfonso was not present at the meeting, he having returned to San Sebastian from Ferrol.

A special dispatch from Ceuta says a steamer from Tangier reports that 200 Riff tribesmen embarked at Algiers for Tetuan. They took possession of the ship and threatened to kill the captain and crew unless he proceeded to Tangier.

Off Tetuan the captain signaled for help, and soldiers from that place came aboard, but as they were unarmed the Moors quickly overcame them. Then with knives at his throat they forced the captain to continue to Tangier, where they disembarked and made their escape.

The death of Lieutenant Colonel Hanezmarin on July 23 in an engagement around Melilla was most dramatic. The Spanish regiment was decimated. Hanezmarin was wounded, and he ordered a sergeant to kill him to prevent his falling into the hands of the Moors to be tortured. The sergeant obeyed the order. He closed his eyes and sent a bullet into his colonel's heart.

Estimates of the Spanish losses have been raised to 400 killed or wounded. The mountain passes are filled with the bodies of Moors, over which jackals and birds of prey fight. According to advices received here the tribesmen are armed with rifles of the latest pattern and have plenty of ammunition, indicating that a huge contraband trade has been going on.

It is generally understood, however, that the western senators feel that Mr. Aldrich did all he could to continue protection for the cattle industry and that enough of them will vote to support the program for free hides and reduction from the house rates on leather and leather goods to insure its adoption by the senate.

MRS. PARKER.

(Sister of the late Lieutenant James N. Sutton.)

Provincetown, Mass., about Aug. 6 and the inquiry will be resumed probably on Aug. 10.

When Mrs. Sutton was called as a witness the judge advocate asked her to identify a letter she wrote to the secretary of the navy last February expressing the belief of herself and her daughter, Mrs. Parker, that evidence would show that her son was killed by one of his brother officers instead of committing suicide, as the former board of inquiry decided.

Major Leonard requested the court to place Mrs. Sutton on the stand as complainant against Lieutenants Adams, Bevan, Willing and Osterman and Sergeant De Hart. All these young officers were called into court and notified that they had been made parties defendant to the inquiry.

SHOT WIFE'S FIRST HUSBAND.

Bullet Flew Over Senator Jeff Davis' Head in Court.

Little Rock, Ark., July 28.—Shooting over the head of Senator Jeff Davis in Circuit Judge Fulk's courtroom, W. Y. Ellis of Pine Bluff killed Nathaniel Parker Willis, owner of a liquor cure establishment at Indianapolis. The slain man, who was formerly husband of Mrs. Ellis, died in the arms of his mother, who rushed toward him as he fell. Sheriff Roberts immediately seized Ellis.

Willis had brought suit against his divorced wife, now Mrs. Ellis, for possession of his child, born to his wife before she was divorced several years ago. Willis procured an order from Judge Fulk to take possession of the child. Ellis appeared for his wife, and Senator Davis represented Willis.

While Judge Fulk was discussing with Senator Davis the conditions of the transfer of the child Ellis fired at Willis across the counsel table. A court attaché knocked up Ellis' arm just as the weapon was discharged, and the bullet was imbedded in the wall.

Willis ran around the table with Ellis close at his heels. Ellis rested his pistol against the door jam just as Willis ran out and fired a second time. The bullet pierced Willis' heart and he fell to the floor dying.
