WAYMART.

A most enjoyable time was spent at the Stevenson home Saturday evening when the ladies of the Presbyterian church gave a reception to about seventy friends of Mr. Wright, who has occupied their pulpit during the summer and now resumes his studies at Princeton University. A delightful program was rendered consisting of piano solos by Misses Histed and Lord; recitations by Misses Smith and Dymond; vocal selections by Miss Griffiths and Mr. H. Peck; piano and mandolin duet by Miss Histed and Master Rorford Reynolds. Rev. Davis of the M. E. church then, in his usual good humor and style, made some fitting remarks, alluding to the right man in the right place, and thought we had such a one with us to-night. The Wright man was then asked to come forth and was presented with a purse as a slight token of appreciation. Mr. Wright responded in a few well chosen words. "Some one then took up the strain of 'Blest Be the Tie' which was entered into most heartily. Mr. Wright is a young man for whom we foresee a brilliant future in the ministry. He has a rare power of eloquence which impels his hearers not only to think but to act. He has broad and liberal ideas, a power of keen discernment, fearlessness, perseverance and tact, gifts rarely combined in one, but which are so essential for the uplifting of fallen humanity,
