INDIAN ORCHARD.

Most of the farmers in this vicinity are anxious to have a few days of rainy weather. A great many springs and wells have failed, and all streams are very low. Although most crops in this vicinity are below normal, there are more that are a failure. The corn, apple, and potato crops are far short of the average yearly crop.

The Honesdale and Texas poor directors will soon have the water plant at the almshouse completed. This will add greatly to the value of the property. George Seaman, of East Honesdale did the concrete work, which is done in a skillful manner. Mr. Deck, one of Honesdale's best plumbers, did the plumbing; this, too, is a first-class job. Bunnell, the steward, deserves much praise for the valuable assistance that he has rendered. He thoroughly understands the work from beginning to finish and knows that it is not only a neat job, but a substantial one, something that will stand for years to come.

Mr. Farmer, Buy a Phonograph.

A New Jersey farmer has discovered that music pays in the dairy business. He employed a Swiss milkmaid who yodeled, and the daily supply of milk increased. The milkmaid left, the cows moped, and the milk supply decreased. He bought a phonograph and installed it in the stables, and when he put in the kind of music the cows liked they gave down freely. Some tunes made them dry up.—Boston Journal.

STEENE.

After three weeks of hard labor, the borough of Prompton brought to a close on Saturday night, the mending of their streets. Our Chief Burgess, Mr. William Carr, is to be thanked for the effort he made in canvassing for outside help, securing almost two hundred dollars and with the aid of the farmers giving from two to four days with their teams, and the men with small homes (about one-half of our population), gave from two to four days, but a certain few who have lived in the borough all of their lives and have always cried for stone roads hadn't any use for good roads when asked to help. We will find that smooth roads will save repairs on wagons. We will not forget the generosity of Mr. Taylor who donated $50, Mr. Pentecost $25, Mr. Sneider $25, Mr. Founds $25, then lumberman Hollenback, who won't be outdone, donated in the neighborhood of $60, making about a mile of stone-crushed road without any detriment to the borough.

The Rev. Mr. Davis, of Waymart, preached a very interesting sermon here Sunday afternoon, taking for his text Matthew 13th chapter and the 58th verse—"And he did not many mighty works there, because of their unbelief."

Don't forget the treat when the Rhine Brothers arrive at Waymart next Monday, to begin a series of revival meetings. It is doubtful if the little chapel will hold the crowds that will go to hear the famous singers.

BANKERS INDICTED.

Charles J. and Charles P. Knapp Indicted.

At Binghamton, Saturday, Oct. 3d, the Broome county grand jury returned three indictments in connection with the recent Knapp bank failures. One is against Charles P. Knapp, of Deposit, and two are against Charles P. Knapp and Chas. J. Knapp, of Binghamton, jointly. All the indictments charge criminally receiving deposits in an institution known to be insolvent.

The indictments follow a series of failures last April, when the Deposit and Callicoon branches of Knapp Brothers, private bankers, closed their doors; the Outing Publishing Company, of Deposit, went into the hands of a receiver, and the Binghamton Trust Company was placed in the hands of the State Banking Department.

Charles P. Knapp, whose name appears in all three indictments, was in charge of the Deposit branch of Knapp Brothers, was president of the Outing Publishing Company and owner of Knapp's Millionaire Band. Charles J. Knapp was identified with the firm of Knapp Brothers and was president of the Binghamton Trust Company. He is an uncle of Chas. P. Knapp.

All the indictments relate to transactions by the firm of Knapp Brothers in Deposit, and have no bearing on the Outing Publishing Company and Binghamton Trust Company affairs.

Charles P. Knapp was arraigned on the first indictment, and a plea of not guilty was entered, with the privilege of withdrawing the plea and entering a demurrer. His attorney announced that a motion for a change of venue would be made, and asked to have provision made whereby the case would be sent to the next term of the County Court on October 18. C. P. and C. J. Knapp were arraigned on the two remaining indictments, and the same disposition was made in each case. Bail was fixed at $1,000 on each indictment.

The deposits alleged in the indictments to have been criminally received were made by Ansell Barnes and William Holloway, in the joint indictment, and by Edith Crowley, in the individual indictment against C. P. Knapp. All are residents of Deposit.
