REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT

Judge Robert Von Moschzisker, of Philadelphia.

AUDITOR GENERAL,

A. E. Sisson, of Erie.

STATE TREASURER,

Jeremiah A. Stober, of Lancaster.

JURY COMMISSIONER,

W. H. Bullock.

Dr. Cook claims he is a Democrat. It is now in order for Peary to "nail this lie" and prove by Samuel J. Tilden, Grover Cleveland or some other inaccessible Democrat that he is not, never was, and could not possibly have been within voting distance of that abnormal condition.

The Democratic papers throughout the State are publishing side by side the portraits of the candidates for Supreme Court Judge, and in their editorials by orders of Boss Duffy, are calling attention of voters to these pictures, asking people to look at them and then vote for the one they think best qualified for the position. This is a hard blow to Mr. Munson, the Democratic candidate for while he may be in point of respectability the equal of Judge Von Moschzisker, his picture belies the fact, as it would answer just as well for Charley Murphy, of New York, probably the most corrupt political boss of this or any other age. Mr. Munson's picture, we hope, does not resemble him, as it does resemble a man who could fill the position of bartender or referee a prize fight satisfactorily, in fact there is a wonderful resemblance between the face that the Democrats are sending out as the features of their candidate for Judge and the face of Jem Mace, one time English champion prize fighter. The picture of Von Moschzisker is rather youthful, but intensely intellectual, with kindness and all those finer traits of character that go to make up a mind that can be equitable and just, and his actions during the campaign of remaining home and attending to his duties as Judge of the Common Pleas, while Munson has been running around the state making speeches, shaking hands, setting them up for the boys (by proxy), and making promises, is a good index to the fitness of the candidates for the position of Supreme Court Judge.

Governor Stuart, Lieutenant Gov. Murphy and others, in public addresses, forcibly have reminded the Pennsylvania voter of his duty this year. Repeatedly they have emphasized the necessity for a sweeping Republican majority and have warned the voters against indifference. Since the enactment of the Payne tariff law the LaFollettes, Cumminses, Bristows, and other law tariff exponents have renewed their agitation for "progressive" tariff revision. Now progressive tariff revision is simply Democratic tariff revision, the sort of revision that paralyzes industries constructed under the protective tariff system. Some of the low tariff agitators are making speeches in the west, in which they endeavor to discredit the new tariff law. They hope to keep alive tariff agitation with its destructive influences upon the country's business. The tariff question was settled at the recent session of Congress, and settled right. The Payne law is bringing prosperity to the entire country, and no other State will receive a larger share of this prosperity than Pennsylvania. The Keystone State will be the principal beneficiary under the protective system, and it has no patience with the agitation of the low-tariff advocates. It should impress the country with this fact at the polls. An unprecedented Republican majority at the first election after the enactment of the Payne law would be a rebuke to the free traders that would have a wholesome effect. The most direct way to sustain the protective tariff system is to vote the straight Republican ticket.

If Peary had buried his hammer after nailing the Stars and Stripes to the North Pole, we would have thought more of him.

Those constitutional amendments are not political measures. They are in the interests of economy. It means a saving of $2000 each year to Wayne county if they are adopted by the people. Every man irrespective of politics, should vote for them.

A straight party vote does not vote on the amendments. Each voter can mark in the party square for his state and county officers and then he must mark after each amendment, and his mark should be after the word "Yes."

HARRISBURG LETTER.

Harrisburg, Oct. 22.—The statue to ex-Senator M. S. Quay has been the object of curiosity to Capitol sightseers this week, and many remarks have been made regarding this remarkable man by friends and foes. The marble effigy stands in a niche nearly opposite the main entrance to the building, almost at the head of the stairs leading to the Senate chamber. It is a fine piece of work and has been pronounced satisfactory by the supervising architect. Some delay has been caused in the payment to the sculptor, by reason of the failure on the part of one of the Commission having the matter in charge to properly qualify, but that will soon be arranged.

Comments as to Senator Quay, his character, life, achievements, ambitions, political sagacity, etc., have been freely made and widely published. An impartial record cannot well be written at this time. In his lifetime he stirred up so many animosities, caused so many bitter fights and figured so largely in warm political campaigns that time has not yet healed some of the wounds made. Another generation can take a more impassioned view and write the record.

Senator Penrose surprised even his friends by the splendid record made during the late Congress, in his efforts to protect the industries of Pennsylvania. He was tireless and unwavering, and the manufactures located in this state, and incidentally, all those interested in those large industrial plants, owe him a debt of gratitude, to say the least. In committee, on the floor of the Senate and in consultation with other National leaders, he showed himself a man among men, and his strong influence and able tactics preserved to the manufacturing interests generally what might have been lost. As a leader in Pennsylvania politics he has done much to harmonize the party and bring it to a high plane of efficiency in working out good results. Recently he has been doing some fine work for the state and local tickets in Philadelphia.

The Quaker City is the only point in the State this fall where the sailing is not smooth. Just when the Republicans have all difficulties cleared up, others arise, but there is no doubt of the final result. Mr. Rotan will be elected with Messrs. Martin and Dobbins, and the state ticket will come out of the city with a big majority. Some way or other the Traction troubles are bound to butt into the local politician situation though they are matters of policy rather than of politics.

Messrs. Sisson, Stober and Von Moschzisker seem to be making good headway and no doubt remains as to their election. The candidate for positions as fiscal officers of the state can be depended upon to carry on the good work now being done and Judge von Moschzisker will add new energy and thought to our Supreme Court. He has a proper idea as to what is due from a candidate for so dignified an office as Judge of the Supreme Court and his attitude had made him many friends.

A word about roads. Experiments have been made looking toward the elimination of dust on the main traveled roads, and so far fine results have been secured. A compound, costing about five and a half cents a square yard to make and apply has been found to lay the dust and prevent mud. It is composed of Portland cement, water or gas tar, liquid asphalt, coal oil, carbolic disinfecting powder, sulphate of copper and synthetic oil of wintergreen. These ingredients all have their peculiar uses, and a road near town, where this compound has been applied, has been entirely free from dust, while on ordinary country roads, the dust has been several inches in depth. Col. Demming has been experimenting with various materials for good roads and incidentally looking for something to keep them good and attractive. The man who can secure for us good roads, that will last, stay dustless, and not cost too much, deserves a monument.

Fourth Class Postmaster Examination Saturday, Oct. 30.

The United States Civil Service Commission announce that on the date named above, an examination will be held at Winterville, Pa., for the position of fourth-class postmaster of class B at Scott Center, Pa. The compensation of the postmaster at this office was $40 for the last fiscal year. The examination is open to all citizens of the United States who can comply with the examinations. Application forms and full information concerning the requirements of the examination can be secured from postmaster at Scott Center, Winterville or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C. Application should be properly executed and filed with Commission at Washington within seven days before the date of the examination, otherwise it may be impracticable to examine the applicants.

Pennypacker Curios Sold by Auctioneer.

A curious combination of books, portraits, lottery tickets and miscellaneous articles were auctioned off Saturday, in Philadelphia, the lot being the last consignment of the celebrated library of Samuel W. Pennypacker, former governor of this state.

Some idea of the peculiar nature of the collection can be had from the lottery tickets, which were knocked down to the highest bidder. One of these was "For Paving Philadelphia Streets," being dated 1761 and signed by Thomas Riche.

Then there was an antique handkerchief which, according to the catalogue, was "said to have been owned by Lady Washington." The man who bought the handkerchief said it probably had never been owned by the woman in question, but that it was a curiosity anyway, coming from the former governor's collection.

A book which attracted attention was on "Hallucinations; or, the Rational History of Apparitions, Visions, Dreams, Magnetism and Somnambulism."

This Beats the Curfew Bell.

No late hours, no philandering, is possible to the young men of Eastern Uganda. Their morals are carefully looked after by the elder men of their tribes and they have no chance to go out at night. The people of Eastern Uganda are called Bakedi. Sir Hesketh Bell, the Governor of Uganda, has recently sent to the Colonial Office in London a highly interesting report of a tour made by him through the country of the Bakedi. In this report he says:

"Although the majority of the Bakedi go about in a state of absolute nudity, a desire for clothing is steadily growing among them. Unfortunately, more clothes means less 'morals.' The Baganda, who have always been greatly addicted to wearing apparel, are of notoriously lax habits, while among the Kavirondo, the Bakedi and all the unclothed Nilotic tribes a notable degree of morality is found to exist. 'A sharp eye is kept on the bachelors. The northern Bakedi take amusing cautions with regard to the latter. All the lads and unmarried young men are made to sleep in small, specially constructed huts raised high up on posts. The doors of these huts are so small that the occupants have to wriggle in on their stomachs. Access is gained only by a ladder, which is carefully removed as soon as the young men have been safely disposed of for the night. I was told that among some of the tribes fine ashes are strewn under these human pigeonholes so that telltale footprints would indicate any attempt at a nocturnal excursion."

IN MEMORIAM.

Whereas, Our order has sustained a severe loss of one of its members, Brother Theodore C. Brunig, who died October 19, 1909; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we in our grief at the untimely cutting off of our esteemed brother who had only recently passed his 42nd birthday, should be mindful of the fact that life is but fleeting, and a record of work and fidelity to the order, such as the deceased left us, is a pleasing thing to review.

Resolved, That in his memory we drape our charter and lodge room for a period of thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to his immediate family, also that they be published in the Honesdale papers.

Oalek Tribe No. 318, Improved Order of Red Men, Honesdale, Pa., October 22, 1909.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The service at Grace Episcopal church Sunday evening, October 31, will be one hour earlier, at half-past six o'clock, that members of the congregation may attend the 75th anniversary service of the Central Methodist church.
