NEWS FROM THE COURT ROOM.

The Lawyers and the Court Are Kept Busy This Week.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Fred and Michael Weidner was brought for trial on Tuesday. The Weidners were charged with assault and battery and aggravated assault and battery, also assault and battery with intent to kill, and Peter Herzog was the prosecutor. On Sunday morning, June 6th, Peter Herzog was returning from the creamery. The plaintiff testified that as he was driving along the road Michael Weidner stopped his horse by taking hold of the bridle and Fred assaulted him (Herzog) with a stick. He was severely bruised as the result. Dr. Ely testified that the plaintiff expected blood for three weeks after the assault. The defendants testified that they were standing near a bridge watching some boys swimming. Herzog drove along the road and stopped to let Charles Marsh out of the wagon. Fred Weidner stepped towards the wagon to speak to him. As he approached, Herzog struck him with the whip and Weidner returned the assault with a number of blows.

The quarrel was the result of a family quarrel which has occurred at different times during the past eleven years. On Wednesday morning the jury returned a verdict finding the defendants guilty of assault and battery.

On Wednesday the case of Lena Schwarz vs. Alexa Walker was tried. It is claimed that Joseph Jacob assigned to Alexa Walker vs. Joseph G. Schwartz and a levy on personal property in possession of Lena Schwarz was made. Issue to ownership of one black mare, one two-year old colt, one sucking colt, and one buckboard wagon. The plaintiff claims the property has been purchased by her money arising from the sale of personal property owned by her and paid by her own earnings and money borrowed from the estate of Matthew Clemo. The defendant claims that the property was purchased by Jos. G. Schwarz.

Judge Staples of Stroudsburg, presided at court on Thursday.

William Campbell, of Equinunk, who has been on probation for the past four months, was brought before the court and after a severe reprimand, was sentenced to pay a fine of $25, costs of prosecution, and not less than 1%, and not more than 7 years imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary. Campbell was tried the last term of court on the charge of cutting his wife with a knife and threatening to kill her. At the time of the alleged assault the defendant had been drinking. When in that condition his wife and children could not live with him. The morning he assaulted his wife Mrs. Campbell was preparing to leave the house. Campbell was arrested and spent some time in jail. In court he begged for mercy, and his wife agreed to live with him again, he promising to behave. He was placed on probation under a new Act which went into effect July 1st, and was released from jail on that day. He behaved himself for a while but during the haying season he started to drink and abuse his family. The sheriff was notified and Campbell was arrested. This was the first case of this kind in this county under the new act.

Yesterday morning the case of William Harrison and Lafayette Conklin was tried before Judge Staples. The defendants are charged with assault and battery upon F. Young. The assault occurred while returning from church on Sunday evening, Sept. 5th.

Letter From a Christian Scientist. To the Editor.

Dear Sir:—In your issue of the 8th you published a report of an action to compel Miss Agnes Young, a Christian Scientist of New York, to restore a piece of property which Greta M. Arthur, a patient, declared that she had deeded away while under mental influence.

Notwithstanding Miss Arthur makes such a charge Miss Young denies it. The testimony in the case showed that Miss Young consulted a real estate agent who placed the value of the property at the price that Miss Young agreed to pay for it.

A witness testified that Miss Young was at first opposed to taking over the house at any price, but that she did so out of regard for Miss Arthur.

We have no desire to uphold any conduct that is not legitimate and Christian. A true Christian Scientist could never be guilty of using a personal influence of any kind. He could only make a plea in behalf of the omnipotence and goodness of God and in behalf of righteousness and truth. If he undertook to will the carrying out of certain transactions he would be obliged to depart from the practice of Christian Science and resort to a subterfuge that is entirely contrary to the teaching of Christian Science.

Yours sincerely,
FRANK BELL.

A RUBBER-HEEL CAMPAIGN.

The Democrats are making a rubber-heel campaign for the election of their candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, Hon. C. LaRue Munson; whether it will be effective depends entirely on the Republicans of Pennsylvania. This is an off-year in politics. It is possible that there will be many Republicans who will not take enough interest in the campaign to attend the election, and it is likely that many easy-going Republicans may be induced to give Mr. Munson, who is an affable, genial gentleman and an astute politician, a complimentary vote. If enough Republicans can be induced to vote for Munson to seriously cut into the Republican vote, and if a large number of Republicans should hold their party allegiance so lightly as to stay away from the polls, it might easily spell defeat for the Republican candidate, Judge Moschizker. We would not have it thought that we are alarmists, but it certainly can do no harm to call attention to the situation as it is rapidly developing. The campaign the Democrats are making for their candidate is being conducted with great judgment. They are not holding meetings or parades under the ephemeral inspiration of the blare of brass bands, but with their candidate are quietly slipping around the State calling on the members of the bar, meeting the people with a glad hand, and insisting to all they meet that their candidate is non-partisan, that the office of the supreme judge should be removed from politics, etc. This is certainly an effective method to use, for it is the only possible policy that could win for the Democrats in the State of Pennsylvania. However, it should not be forgotten that Mr. Munson is the candidate of the Democrats and has the united support of his party at his back. He is a Democrat and is the candidate of the Democratic party, and as such should be treated the same as the candidates of the Republican party are treated by Democrats. Judge Moschizker is a man of ability, is eminently qualified for the high position to which he aspires, and is a Republican because that party is the party of progress and prosperity. Let every Republican remember these things when they are approached to vote for Mr. Munson.—Hollidaysburg Register.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Bucknell Growing.

With only a few weeks of Bucknell's sixtieth year gone by, the prospects for another season of added growth are most encouraging. In the college alone, one hundred and thirty-five new students are enrolled and in daily attendance on classes. In the Academy fifty new students are registered.

The opening of college was marked by the completion of new East College, forming a beautiful quadrangle with old Main College, West College and Carnegie Library. The new building gave floor room for vastly increased facilities in the civil and the Electrical Engineering courses. In readiness for the opening of the college year the physical laboratory and the drawing department were moved into East College—a change that was imperative on account of the rapid growth of the institution. The extensive room left unoccupied at the power plant by this change is now entirely devoted to the new shops, and a splendid equipment has been installed there for practical shop work.

A number of minor improvements were also made during the summer which add to the beauty of the campus. New walks were laid, an addition was built to the President's house, a new concrete entrance to Tustin Gymnasium constructed and the outside wood-work to old Main College given a fresh coat of paint.

Changes on the faculty were made as follows: In the college, Prof. M. L. Drum as assistant Professor of Mathematics in place of Prof. Jos. M. Wolfe, the newly-elected Registrar; in the Academy, Prof. W. S. Wilcox, Mathematics; Prof. Chas. C. Fries, of Reading, Rhetoric; Prof. G. N. Wilkinson, of Williamsport, Science; in the Seminary, Miss Lydia A. Berkley, Ashland, Ohio, Piano and Pipe Organ; Miss Georgina K. Scott, of Philadelphia, Art.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

$100 Will Be Given for the Best Slogan.

The Tampa Board of Trade desires a slogan to adopt officially. It has used "Tampa's the Town to Tie to" and others, but wants something more dignified and expressive. Chicago uses "I Will," and other cities such as "Watch Us Grow," "This is a Good Town," etc.

At a meeting of the Board of Governors October 9th it was resolved that $100 be awarded to the person who suggests the most popular and applicable slogan, one with the fewest words and widest meaning. The competition is open to the United States, and will close December 15, 1909, so that the winner will have a Christmas present that cost him or her but a two cent stamp. The judges will be the nineteen men, representative citizens of Tampa, who composed the Board of Governors. There will be no favoritism shown, for the slogans will be numbered and a corresponding number given the sender. The judges will not know the name of the contestant.

Every reader of this paper is invited to submit a slogan. Make it short and catchy. In writing simply give the phrase you desire to enter, or as many different ones as come to your mind, and sign your name and address. Mail this to Slogan, care Board of Trade, Tampa, Fla.

To assist you in making your suggestions it will be well to look at a map of the west coast of Florida to locate Tampa, surrounded by waters of the Gulf of Mexico and Tampa Bay.

Tampa is the connecting link between the Panama Canal and the seat of Government at Washington. Its harbor can shelter the navy of the United States and defy the world. It is a city of 50,000, growing by leaps and bounds. It manufactures 300,000,000 clear Havana cigars each year. It ships $11,000,000 worth of phosphate and is the center of the naval stores' industry of the south. It has 50,000,000,000 feet of standing timber within a hundred miles of it, which must pass through its port. It is the tourist's paradise, best deep sea fishing, good hunting, boating, sailing. Highest summer climate in twenty years 96 degrees; lowest in winter, 32. Most equable climate, healthiest city in America, with a death rate of 8.3 in a thousand. Ships through its Citrus Exchange 4,000,000 boxes of oranges and grape fruit. Truckers net as high as $1,000 an acre from their vegetable gardens. Most progressive people in the world. More miles of paved streets, sewers, electric lines, etc., than any city of its size. The mecca for autoists where they ride with comfort and pleasure the year round.

From this date competitors can "think up" something pretty clever. There will be $100 for the best thinker.

This paper will publish the name of the winner and the slogan which committee considers the most concise and convincing.

In entering competition address Slogan, care Board of Trade, Tampa, Fla.

SPRAYING MATERIAL.

State Zoologist Surface Gives Some Good Advice.

Following information was given by Professor H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, Harrisburg, as to the spraying of twelve trees of ordinary size, in answer to an inquiry from a Lebanon county man as to what material to use, and how much would be needed for each tree:

"I note by your letter that you make inquiry concerning the amount of material needed for spraying about twelve 'ordinary' trees. However, you do not state what kind of trees they are, and it makes quite a difference as to whether they are peach or apple, quince or pear, or even forest trees. However, if they be the size of a full-grown peach tree, you can count on their taking from two to three gallons to the tree. A full-sized apple tree will take from three to ten gallons. This would mean from one to two fifty-gallon barrels of the spray liquid to twelve trees.

The best thing you can do for trees with San Jose scale is to boil seventeen pounds of sulfur and twenty-two pounds of lime in enough water to boil it, using anything but a copper vessel. It will not injure iron. Stir it occasionally. After it has boiled for fully an hour, strain it, and add enough water to make a total bulk of fifty gallons. Water can be added during the process of straining and will help to wash it through the strainer. Do not use a cloth strainer for the fibers or little threads may go through and help to clog the nozzle. The best kind of strainer is one with a straining wire put across the bottom in such a way that it will be higher at one side and lower at the other, or one built like a cone standing upright and pointing upward with the funnel. The best material to use in making this strainer is brass wire cloth, with about thirty meshes to the inch. You can have such a strainer made by any tinsmith at a cost of about one dollar.

"Spray your trees thoroughly after the leaves drop. There is no use to spray for scale now while the leaves are on. Do this when the wind is blowing slightly in one direction, and when it blows in another direction spray them again. Be sure that you touch every speck of the bark from tip of the most remote branches to the base of the trunk. In addition to the spraying, cut or prune back the trees severely, or in proportion to the amount of injury, removing not only the dead but also the dying wood."
