LOCAL MENTION.

—Thanksgiving Day next week.

—The football season will close on Thanksgiving day.

—A daughter was born on Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Willard Birdsall.

—The weather during Institute week was excellent and the teachers enjoyed their visit to Honesdale.

—The Amity Social club have issued invitations to their annual ball which will be held Wednesday evening, Nov. 24th.

—The standard from which the English yard measure is taken was the arm of King Henry I., which was exactly three feet in length.

—State Prison has several men who were sent there simply because they had Axminster desires and rag carpet capacities.

—Marriage licenses have been granted to Ambrose A. Keleher and Minnie F. Roegner of Honesdale; James Soden and Josephine Carpenter, of Starrucca.

—Last Sunday at the meeting house Elder Hudnutt proposed that the church give something for the orphans. Deacon Stubbs, our local philanthropist, arose and proposed that they give three cheers for the orphans.

—For some reason the commendable entertainments of Institute week at the Lyric were poorly attended by the town people, but on Thursday evening there was a well-filled house who were not over-pleased with the show.

—The Semi-Annual meeting of Wayne County Pennsylvania Society of New York City will be held on Tuesday, November 16, 1909, at 8:30 p. m., at the Hotel Manhattan, corner 42nd street and Madison Avenue, New York City.

—The Rev. Dr. Finks gave an illustrated lecture Sunday night at the Presbyterian church on the "Mountaineers of North Carolina." On Sunday night he lectured on "Alaska," and accompanied his lecture with views that gave his audience an insight into that wonderful section of our country.

—F. T. McGuler, of Philadelphia, has received the contract to rebuild the Blooming Grove club house at that place. Contract price, $80,000. Work on the excavation for the basement was commenced one day last week. The club's former house was destroyed by fire last February.

—An unknown man, presumed to be a foreigner, was struck by a north-bound freight train near Archbald on Sunday night about 10 o'clock. Both arms and legs were severed from the body and the man's head fractured. He died at the State Hospital, in Scranton, shortly afterwards.

—On Friday last, a masked bandit, working alone, stole between $8,000 and $10,000 in cash and bonds from the home of Schuyler Ranier, 72 years old, a wealthy farmer, residing near Florence, Burlington county, N. J. The robber, after locking the farmer's aged wife into a room dynamited the safe and got the cash and escaped. Don't keep your money in the house.

—The open season for deer in this state begins on Monday next and continues until the end of November. Each hunter is allowed to kill but one deer, which in every instance must be a buck with horns. Dogs must not be used. Reports from all parts of Pike county where the deer abound are to the effect that the big game is more plentiful than ever. Local hunters are ready for the fray.

—At the Wayne County School Directors' meeting, which was held last week in the High school auditorium, the following officers were elected: President, R. M. Stocker; first vice president, Thomas Dunn; second vice president, Edward Deltzer; treasurer, Fred Saunders; secretary, A. M. Leine; delegates to the Directors' Convention which will be held in Harrisburg, A. W. Eno, I. J. Many, Thomas Smith, George Eberhardt, Edward Deltzer, E. R. Bodie and L. Atkinson.

—The wave of a great movement, which has been spreading over this country, has reached Scranton, and on November 22nd and 24th a convention of the Laymen of Northeastern Pennsylvania will be held, the outcome of which will be far-reaching in its effect upon the people of this section of our State. The convention will be opened with a banquet to which all laymen are invited. A registration fee of $1.00 will be charged which includes the banquet. Regular sessions of the convention will be held in the Elm Park Methodist church. A cordial invitation is extended to the laymen of Wayne county, and William B. Holmes and M. E. Simons have been appointed to receive notifications from those who intend being present so that arrangements can be made to seat them at the banquet.

—Frank H. Bridge, of Dingman township, and Minnie Roloson, of Milford, were married last Friday in Honesdale, by Rev. A. L. Whitaker.

—A positive cure for cancer has been discovered by the pathological department of Columbia University, so it is said. In eight cases, the new cure which is in the nature of a serum, has been successful.

—The Parish Aid Society of Grace church will hold their annual supper in the Sunday school room Thursday evening, November 18th. Tickets, 50c. First table 5:30. Fancy work and candy for sale at 2 o'clock. Menu—fried chicken, cold ham, potatoes, cabbage salad, jelly, rolls, coffee, ice cream and cake.

—At Welda, Pa., there is an apple tree that has netted its owner $20,000. This amount has not come, however, from the fruit of the tree, but from the picture which the owner has painted of it when it was bearing its blossoms and half opened green leaves. The apple blossoms became famous, and the pictures were as good as sold before the artist began his work.

—Superintendent Westbrook, of Pike county, says in his report to the Department of Public Instruction: We have better qualified teachers and more of them this year than for the past several years. Less trouble than usual has been experienced in obtaining teachers for all schools, and all indications point towards a successful school year.

—The Rev. Amos N. Somers, a Unitarian minister at Montague, Mass., states that he has succeeded in growing a "bugproof" potato. He says: "The vines of my potatoes have a peculiar odor which is offensive to the potato bug, for it never goes near them. I have taken bugs from plants of the type in the next row in my potato patch, and put them in my new vines, and in half an hour I can't find one."

—In a test examination recently held of twenty-four students in a college, seven could not name one justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, and several could only give the last name of one while only one of the number was able to give the full name of one. This may be over drawn but it is stated for a fact. If true it proves that a certain kind of higher education does not educate. Suppose our high school pupils were put to this test.

—The following young people from Wayne county are students at the Bloomsburg State Normal school: Ethel Biesecker, Hollisterville; Hazel Franc, Hollisterville; Harold Box, Gravity; Irene Curtis, Waymart; Grace Gillner, Sterling; Hubert Gleason, Gravity; Elna Nelson, Siko; Minnie Neville, Callopoese; Bertha Polley and George Polley, Seelyville; Blair Shaffer, Varden; Lillie Sheard, Calkins; Burton Shuman, Torrey; Emily Spring and Grace Wegge, Hawley.

—In speaking of the election at Hancock the Herald of that place says: After waiting, working and praying for twenty-five years, the advocates of temperance were rewarded on Tuesday. The town went no-license on all four liquor propositions by the following majorities: Saloon 283, wholesale 301, pharmacist 240, hotels 98. When the result became known late Tuesday night there was great rejoicing. The church and school bells were rung and parties of men, women and children paraded the streets giving vent to their feelings of joy and thankfulness in song and blowing of horns. The law will become effective Oct. 1, 1910.

—Present indications are that persons wishing first rate, plump, juicy turkeys for their Thanksgiving dinners will be obliged to pay from 25 to 30 cents for every pound thereof. Because of unfavorable weather conditions, the turkey supply all over the country is falling short of last year. In the principal turkey centres, which are Vermont, Maryland and Virginia, the supply has fallen off 30 or 40 per cent. In addition to this the weather has been so warm that the meat has not developed the way it should, and is still soft and dry in a great number of the birds, which have survived the delicate age and have grown to their full size. Two weeks of dry, cold weather, with a little frost, would put the birds in fine condition and harden the meat considerably.

—The state railroad commission in the matter of the depot at Hawley, has determined that they have no legal authority to compel the Erie railroad to restore the freight department at the lower, or Eddy, station. The commission, however, has notified the company that it must maintain passenger accommodations at the depot and bill freight in carload lots at that place. It was announced by some of the under officials of the Erie railroad that the sale of tickets and accommodation of passengers would soon be taken away. The decision of the commission will prevent this action on the part of the Erie company and the people of Hawley need not worry any longer about the passenger accommodations at the lower station. Attorney F. P. Kimble appeared for the Hawley people while the company was represented by the general attorney of New York City. The people interested in this depot have won a half victory, but it is understood that they will not be satisfied until the matter of the freight department is settled by the court.

—Don't forget chicken supper and sale of fancy work and candy at Grace church Thursday evening.

—The Honesdale Business Men's Association has placed a ban on raffles and will prosecute parties holding them, if they can get suitable evidence.

—We received a postal from Norwich, N. Y., which was unsigned asking us to make note of the death of Franklin P. Gilpin of Norwich, N. Y., formerly of Honesdale, aged 57 years.

—Edmund Finnerty, who has been our local news gatherer for some time, has accepted a most excellent offer from the Buffalo Wrench Co. to take charge of their sale department, and will leave for Buffalo on Thursday to assume his duties.

—J. Gardner Sanderson, aged about 70, of Green Ridge, died at the Hahnemann Hospital, New York city, on Monday morning. He was born in Towanda, Bradford county on Feb. 3, 1840, but was a resident of Scranton for many years. He leaves a widow.

—Dr. H. J. Gibbons, a native of Honesdale, who has been practicing in New York for the past few years, will return to Scranton shortly and open permanent offices in the Hengler building at Jefferson and Spruce streets. His son, Dr. Horace Gibbons, will occupy the same suite.

—Paul Prevot's house at Bear Swamp, took fire on Friday night and was burned to the ground. An aged lady, named Stenzhorn, who occupied the house had a narrow escape from being burned to death. The building was insured for $300 in our local company.

—Arthur Avery, formerly of Hawley, was badly burned about the arms and head recently. The accident was due to an explosion which occurred while he was doing some plumbing work at his home at Brooklyn and it is believed, was caused by a leak in one of the gas pipes. His injuries, although very painful, were not dangerous.

—Because he spanked a 12-year-old school boy with a shingle, Timothy Tripp, a district school master in the town of Greene, N. Y., was found guilty of assault and sentenced to pay a fine of $20 or serve twenty days in the county jail. Tripp chose the jail and began serving his sentence, but a few hours later he changed his mind, paid the fine and was released.

—Up in New England where Thanksgiving is observed with religious zeal a new trial confronts the people. Some years ago a strange disease attacked and killed thousands of pheasants and this year a similar malady has destroyed hundreds of flocks of turkeys. It is found by scientists to be a parasite which brings on an inflammation in birds similar to appendicitis in men.

—This is the 28th year of the Waymart High school under the supervision of J. F. Dooley; Florence Capwell, intermediate teacher; Jennie Smith, primary teacher. All of these teachers are doing excellent work. One hundred and fifty pupils have been enrolled to date. This is the largest enrollment in the history of the school. Over 60 non-residents are in attendance from eight different townships.

—John S. Kennedy, the modest millionaire, who died of whooping cough recently in New York, left thirty million dollars to various Presbyterian boards ranging in sums from ten thousand to two and a half million dollars. Did you ever hear of him before his death? Think of his unassuming ways as compared with the many showy moths who flicker around the flame of wealth and when they die leave no memory of any deed well done or any charity usefully bestowed.

—Burglars forcibly entered the waiting room of the West Hawley Erie station some time Thursday evening or early Friday morning of last week by prying open one of the windows with an iron bar. The gum machine and what it might contain in gum, candies and pennies seemed to be the attraction for the thieves at this point. The machine was smashed and all its contents were taken, which by the way did not consist of very many pennies as Mr. McAndrew, the station agent, had removed all of them the day before.

—S. S. Spears, of Hawley, returned home from a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Avery, of Brooklyn, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stickney, of Baldwin, Long Island. Word was received here since his return home that Mrs. Spears, who accompanied her husband to Brooklyn, and has since been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Avery, was dangerously ill of pneumonia. Mr. Spears and daughter, Mrs. W. C. Knapp, expect to leave for Brooklyn Friday. We trust they will find her illness is not as dangerous as present reports would indicate.

—On Friday, Nov. 5th, Governor Stuart appointed Dr. Samuel H. Gilliland, of Marietta, Lancaster county, State Veterinarian to succeed the late Dr. Leonard Pearson, deceased. He was born on a farm in Harris township, Centre county, a little over thirty years ago and before his father was appointed agent on the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad at Oak Hall. His early life was spent on the farm and in attending the public schools. Later he took a course in the Bellefonte Academy following which he attended the Millersville State Normal. He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania veterinary department in 1901.

—R. W. Penwarden left for the west for an indefinite period. He will have his business here closed up.

—The weather man informed us yesterday that a cold wave was coming; so be on the alert and get your winter wraps ready.

—The operation performed in New York City on Mrs. Jno. Heumann to remove a cataract from her eye, was successful and she is now home.

—Rev. Dr. H. G. Coenen will be installed pastor of St. John's Lutheran church on Thanksgiving evening, Nov. 25th. Rev. Mr. Rommel of Greenfield, Mass., will preach the sermon.

—A barn belonging to Charles Clauson, of Damascus, was burned last Wednesday night. It is almost a total loss. He carried an insurance of $300 on the barn and $200 on contents in our local company. The cause of the fire is supposed to be of an incendiary origin.

—The Scranton electric light system went on a strike Monday morning. Current disturber Short Circuit, exercised his authority and shut down every concern in Scranton depending upon electricity for light or power, compelling them to go back to old time methods for light and power.

—Three bombs were exploded last Sunday in the big labor convention now in session at Toronto, which made the saloon and liquor men shake in their boots. They were hurled by John Mitchell, Treasurer Jno. B. Lennon, and President Tom Lewis of the Miner's Union. Mitchell stated that wherever a saloon was destroyed, a reputable business will arise in its place. Lennon said that the liquor business lowers the standard of efficiency of the workman, and Lewis said we have prohibited our members from selling intoxicants even at picnics, and will insist upon having meeting places in buildings where liquor is not sold.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Potter, of Patchogue, Long Island, are guests of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Spettigue, Jr. Mrs. Potter was formerly Miss Mignon Wood.

Mrs. Addison Wickman, two children, son Walter and daughter Alma, of Montauk, L. I., have returned after a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Loercher, on Church street.

PARTY FOR DR. BURNS.

Relatives and Nurses Gathered on His 65th Birthday and Present Cup Upon the occasion of his 65th birthday a pleasant party was tendered Dr. Reed Burns at his private hospital, Jefferson avenue and Gibson street, Scranton, Thursday evening last. The guests included all the children and grandchildren as well as all the nurses who ever served in the hospital.

Miss Robbins, superintendent of the hospital, gave a dinner to the guests which was very much appreciated. A silver loving cup given by the nurses was presented to Dr. Burns by his grandson, Reed Burns Waite. The social program of the evening included a poem, written by Dr. Woodcock and read by Miss Casey.

Deutscher Gottesdienst.

Den Deutschen von Honesdale und Umgegend zur Kenntniss das in der Lutherischen Kirche, Church street, jeden Sonntag morgen deutscher Gottesdienst stattfindet wozu alle Deutschen herzlich eingeladen sind. H. COENEN, Pastor.

Promotion of Rev. Richard Roberts.
The session of the Second Presbyterian church of Scranton, Pa., have called the Rev. Richard Roberts, formerly of Bethany, to become the minister of their Adams Avenue chapel. They agree to pay him the sum of $1,000 annually in monthly payments, allowing one month's vacation. He has accepted the call, and the meeting of the Lackawanna Presbytery is to be held in the Second church of Scranton, on the 23rd inst. for the purpose of dissolving his pastoral relations with his church at Old Forge, and arranging to install him pastor of the Adams Avenue Chapel, of Scranton. We congratulate Brother Roberts on his promotion.

Anti-Saloon League Meeting.
A meeting of the members of the Anti-Saloon League will be held in the court house on Friday, November 19th, at 2 and 7:45 p. m. At the afternoon session plans for effective county work will be discussed and, if possible, adopted. The evening session will be a popular mass meeting to be addressed by Rev. S. E. Nicholson, State Supt., Rev. C. H. Brandt, District Supt., and others. This will be an important meeting and everyone is urged to be present.

Fortune Founded on Tips.
Mrs. Ellen J. Theilmann, widow of James Theilmann, formerly manager of Delmonico's, obtained one day recently letters testamentary on his estate, valued at $500,000. It was stated by Charles Garnier, manager at Delmonico's, that Theilmann entered the service of the late Charles Delmonico in 1872, and worked his way until he became manager of the restaurant. It is said he made his money on judicious investments in stocks on "tips" given him by patrons of Delmonico's. He was also a heavy and successful speculator in real estate.

Well Recommended.
Manager Dittrich of the Lyric has just received a personal letter from Chas. M. Southwell, former manager of the Lyceum and Academy of Scranton, but now manager of the Norristown Grand Opera House, in which he commends recent performances of William Lawrence in "Uncle Dave Holcomb" which is to be the attraction at the Lyric on Tuesday evening, Nov. 23rd.

Mr. Southwell says: "The play is equal in many respects to 'The Old Homestead' and Mr. Lawrence appears to better advantage in this new play than he did in his old part of 'Uncle Josh' which he played for five years. You can safely recommend Mr. Lawrence and his company to your patrons."

Accident at Rileyville.
Last week Tuesday, while Harvey, son of George Madden, and young Joseph Lent, both of Rileyville, were out hunting squirrels, young Lent in a playful manner, pointed his gun at his companion when the gun accidentally was discharged, and the charge of birdshot, which it was loaded with, entered young Hadden's foot. The shooting occurred near Bial Brown's sugar grove. The wound although very painful did not deter the boy from walking to Lent's home about three miles from where the accident happened. On arriving young Lent, who was heart-broken over the accident, fainted, while the wounded boy bore up bravely, although suffering intense pain. A doctor was immediately called who dressed the wound. On the following morning Dr. H. C. Many, of Tyler Hill, assisted by Dr. Courson, amputated the foot at the instep. The patient was doing well at last report.

Rummage Sale.
The Rebekahs will hold a rummage sale, Nov. 18th, 19th and 20th, in the Bennett Building, on Seventh street. Look for the flag. Contributions will be received Wednesday, the 17th.

—Yesterday was a cloudy day and it gave promise of a good, long rain which is needed in this locality.
