PAID IN sat gazing at him with we stark with agony and amaze. FULL

Novelized From Eugene Walter's Great Play

... By ... JOHN W. HARDING

Copyright, 1908, by G. W. Dillingham Co.

CHAPTER XXI.

she had grown wise and come to look upon Jimsy's visits as pleasant breaks in the monotony of her existence, bowever, she had obtained glimpses of his inner self, finshes of the profundity of his mind, an inkling of his elevation of sentiment that escaped him, in spite of himself, quite unconsciously. Her woman's keen perception had divined a spirituality that was buried purposely by speech and conduct. This had interested her and given her food for thought, but she could find no satisfactory explanation. The clew to the mystery, which, truth to tell, interested her but mildly, had come to her first on the evening of her husband's attack on Captain Williams in the little Harlem flat, when, after he had let fall and smashed the cup, he had remarked a little ruefully that he had let slip everything he had ever had in his life that was worth while. The confirmation of her deduction that his unrequited love for herself had been the death of ambition and accounted for his aimless, lonely existence, which she had been inclined to reject as absurd was obtained on that momentous night just before her husband extinguished utterly and forever the few embers of love for him that still were live. After he had told her the story of his life in his quaint, everyday speech and her heart had gone out to him in that burst of irrepressible sympathy the consternation this had caused him had uncovered his secret as in a book, for in that moment she had seen beyond the mere start of timid mod-Later, after the shock of Brooks' action had ceased to obsess her and he had receded further and further toward a memory, she had set free her guide him right." imprisoned inclinations. Once more her rejuvenated fancy had taken wing to the heights of the ideal and roman tie. Somehow it had come to associate Jimsy with its excursions. Possessor of his secret, she had set herself, while disguising her task with cunning, to the dangerous study of the heart that had held it so long inviolate. The knowledge that he loved her with such steadfast intensity rekindled love on the dead ashes her husband had left behind, and for the very reason that Jimsy betrayed his sentiments in nothing, held unswervingly to the line of conduct toward her he had followed ever since she had refused to take seriously his offer of marriage, this love had grown stronger, fiercer, until it had filled her life. She saw that she had passed happiness by. She exalted Jimsy's secret passion until in her imagining he became the incarnation of nobleness, of desire, of all mortal

She brought a heap of blueberries to him and poured them into his joined Tell her that there is no light in life hands, and they seated themselves on a rock to eat them and to rest.

"This is the most enjoyable picnic I've had in years," she said gayly. "It was quite an inspiration of yours to run up to visit us. Why don't you come often instead of spending your week ends in the hot city? You ought to take a vacation and stay here for a

"I'd like to awfully." he told her, "but the fact is I'm too busy to think of getting away. Williams is piling a whole lot of work and responsibility on me these days. Williams, you know, isn't what you'd call an easy boss. If he raises a man's salary he sees to it that he gets his money's worth. He simply won't be bothered, even with matters that ain't precisely details."

"It's because he trusts you, Jimsy," she assured him with an intenstion perilously near to tenderness.

"So you see," he went on, "it's easier to talk about holidays than to get them. I shouldn't be here now, for I'm working Sundays as well as other days at present, only that I had to come up on a matter of importance."

"Oh," she said, with a pout, "I thought you came to see us for ourselves, not on a business trip. No more berries for you."

"I came for the express purpose of seeing you and of talking to you

Her heart fluttered violently, suffocatingly, again. "To me-alone?"

"Yes. I've seen Joe."

The pronouncing of her husband's name was to her as a heavy blow. Sweet, timorous expectancy, hot, turbulent blushes that she had bent to hide vanished instantly, and she looked up at him startled. "Joe walked in on me five nights ago. He looks well and is doing well."

"What is that to me?"

The words came in chilling accents, and her eyes grew hard.

Emma, do you remember that on that night just before you learned the truth I told you about that chap in Denver who was long on love and short on honor and kind of took the view that it was his wife's place to overlook things and help him get right?"

"Well?" "Well, I'm still of that opinion." "Do I understand that you-that

She did not finish the sentence, but sat gazing at him with wide eyes,

"I guessed you'd be kind of surprised to hear from him. Since you left Joe he's been leading a strictly honest life. He has a good job in a bank at a good salary, has saved money, and all he wants is for you to forgive and forget and start over again. Joe's all right now, there's no doubt about that, for I've looked up the record he's made since you've been separated. Not only that, but he loves you more than ever. That's gospel truth, too, I know."

"Forgive and forget! Yes, I have forgotten, and oblivion enshrouds forgiveness with it. Joseph Brooks is dead, as dead for me as though he were in his grave. I have even ceased to bear his name. Sometimes I have wondered if he ever existed. If I remember him it is as one recalls a nightmare from which one is glad to have awakened."

She laughed a little mirthless laugh and, plucking a fern branch, began to pick the fronds from it nervously, letting them fall to the ground.

"That's all very well, Emma," he objected gently, "but Joe is none the less very much alive, and he is your husband. You mustn't forget that ever. And he's all right, I honestly believe. If he did fall into temptation he meant well. He thought he could put the money back easily enough, and he wanted you to have more comfort and be happy. The best of us ain't no better than we should be if you come right down to the contemplation of the naked fact. You know that the book says, There is not a just man upon earth that doeth good and sinneth not.' To me the man who is real sorry for having done wrong. especially when his wrongdoing had such a pardonable motive as Joe's had. is as good as he was before he did the thine."You are the one man I know whom I would never have suspected of harboring a treasury of such homely platitudes," she said scornfully.

"If it were only a question of forgiving a man who had sinned so weakly as that, but it isn't," he went on 'More is involved-his absolution and salvation by duty if not by love. Emma, you are Joe Brooks' wife. You took oath before God-and you meant it then-to stick by him in adversity as in prosperity, to help him in time of trouble. Your place is by his side now. Yours is the only hand that can

She rose and placed both of her little gloved hands on his shoulders and looked into his eyes.

"Do you believe what you are telling me, Jimsy Smith?" she asked gently. "Do you, speaking from your inmost heart, order me to return to the arms of that man?"

He rose, holding her wrists firmly against his shoulders and speaking with intense earnestness "Emma, there are some things on this earth that we're called on to do, ordained by an all wise and merciful Providence. We may not like to do them, but it is not a matter of inclination. We have to make our decisions by the rule of right or wrong. Is it right or is it wrong? It's an arbitrary rule, but I guess it works out for the best in the end. It has always seemed to me so. Therefore I say go back to Joe, your husband. Joe pleads to your heart that was his. 'Tell her,' he said. 'that I'm more sorry than I can express; that I'm sorry and miserable. without her.' Those were about his words.

He released her wrists. She had listened to him at the last with averted face that was bloodless and looked ghastly under its coat of sun tan. She walked away wrestling with herself. Smith stood as impassive as fate But on his brow a dampness had gathered, and she had seen the sweat beads ooze there as he spoke.

The little cool clad form with its clinging skirt returned slowly. "Jimsy, why did he charge you to tell me these things?"

"Why? I don't know. Because I'm his friend and yours, I suppose. Because there was no one else could do

"And, like the good man you are, you were governed in your decision by the rule of right and wrong."

"That was about it, if you cut out the qualification of me." "And, having been influenced to assume this role of ambassador by a sense of duty and loyalty, feeling bound to do so for the very reason that would have deterred a man of ordi nary moral caliber, you would have adhered to the rule though every word of your counsel had been to you as the sear of a white hot iron and its utterance had been death." For the first time in her life she saw a look of sternness pass over his face. And it was mingled with pain.

"Emma," he said, "I guess we'll go down now. And we'd better take a short cut, if there is one, or we won't be home for dinner. You must be hungry, and of all the"-

"No, Jimsy, hear me," she interrupt-"You must and shall hear me. You have said what you had to say. Now it is my turn, and I, too, will speak plainly. You believe-you know I am and always have been a good woman. You believe that I was faithful, as far as was humanly possible, to the spirit as well as the letter of my marriage vows, made fervently, trustingly. I swore to love and honor Joe Brooks. It was easy, for I did then love and honor him beyond understanding now. But neither love nor honor is kept alive eternally by the virtue of an oath in the face of delusion and worthlessness. Gold was tinsel; diamond was glass. You were witness to the slow murdering of love, and you saw it strangled and thrown down at the last us he would have strangled me had you not prevent-

He would have spoken, but she checked him with a gesture of command.

"No, don't interrupt. Hear me to the end and then speak. What is this thing that you are asking me to do? You are asking me to go to a living death, to make of my heart a sepulcher of all sweet or elevating emo tion, to surrender my lipseto the fetid kiss of an Iscariot, to deliver my body to his loathsome embraces, while my soul sickens with disgust and horrormy body that he would have betrayed. hired out for a piece of silver and, gloating, taken back again. You are asking me to immolate myself with all that I hold sacred and beautiful on an altar that you sigle duty. Now apply your rule to this. Is it right? Is it wrong? Oh, Jimsy, answer me! Before God, is it right?"

She stood trembling with the vehe mence of her defense and the strength of her feeling, her arms outstretched in interrogation and appeal.

A great sigh was the indication of the conflict that was raging in Smith's heart, and for one single instant the mask of impenetrability fell from his

She read the answer there.

Removing feverishly the glove from her left hand, she forced from her finger the wedding ring that in the years had tightened closely upon it and hurled it from her. It ricochetted on a rock and went bounding over the outer edge of the plateau far down into the pathless, tangled brush of the almost perpendicular declivity.

Smith turned away in silence, and in silence they made their way back along the little path up which they had come. Neither spoke, even at the difficult places when he stretched out his hand and helped her with its strong, sustaining clasp.

Jimsy was grave and abstracted. In his Gethsemane he had drunk too deeply of the waters of knowledge. and they were bittersweet, heavily impregnated with regret and dismay. Emma had discovered the secret which for years he had guarded so jealously and-oh, the blissful torture of it!-had revealed to him that she loved him. This was the outcome of his self sacrificing mission on behalf of the husband who stood between them with the right of the might of law and the conventions and whose trust was in the keeping of his honor. His role of platonic friendship was ended. His privileged relations with the woman who was dearer to him than life could no longer be maintained. The home of the Harris family could no longer be the refuge of his loneliness, the pleasant oasis in the desert of his existence, where he could find consolation and rest for his suffering heart, beyond which the world lay dark and indiscernible.

[TO BE CONTINUES.]

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE S.S.LESSONS

What the Great Men of the Nations Are Saying of Them.

Hundreds of letters are being received by the Editor of the S. S. Ques- that he is doing his divinely appointed tions which are running weekly in this paper. The following are samples of the rest. They are worth reading, where you ought to be, and are doing and incidentally will show you what you are missing if you do not study these celebrated questions.

YALE UNIVERSITY. President's Office.

New Haven, Conn. My Dear Sir-I have read your questions with interest.

They certainly are calculated to stimulate thought on the practical bearing of Bible history upon the moral questions of to-day.

Faithfully yours ARTHUR T. HADLEY. President.

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY. Rev. Wayland Hoyt, Professor of Religion and Science.

Philadelphia, Pa My Dear Brother-I think your questions suggestive and valuable. Yours very truly, WAYLAND HOYT.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA. Office of the President. Berkeley, Cal.

My Dear Sir-I should think your questions might well serve to stimulate profitable discussion in a Bible Very singerely yours.

BENJ. I. WHEELER. Rev. Dr. T. S. Linscott.

EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN SYNOD OF IOWA. Dubuque, Ia.

Rev. Dr. Linscott, Dear Sir-I have carefully examined a number of sets of questions on the Sunday School Lessons for the International Press Bible Question Club, and believe they are certainly natural questions arising in the study of the lesson, legitimate and suggestive, questions which very often arise in the mind of the thoughtful individual and too fre quently put aside for lack of solution. But presented in this general way they would occasion greater study and research by the many and promote study by groups. It would seem to me the course would be beneficial in a degree no one could guess or esti-Yours very truly, HARVEY M. LEECH.

SACCESTIAE ORESTIONS

On the Sonday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the international Press Efble Question

(Copyright 1910 by Rev. T. S. Linecott, D.D.)

(Copyright, 1910, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.) January 16, 1910.

The beginning of the Galilean Ministry. Matt. 4: 12-25. Golden Text - The people which at in darkness saw great light, Matt. Verse 12-Why did Jesus depart for Galilee when he heard John was imprisoned? Was it for fear of personal arrest? Why should a good man not unnecessarily expose himself to danger? Verse 13-Describe, or point out on the map, the situation of Nazareth and Capernaum and state at least one thing for which these cities are noted. Verses 14-16-State your reason for either theory that Jesus went to dwell in Capernsum purposely to fulfil the prophecy of Isalah, or that his going there was an unconscious fulfilment of this prophecy.

Why, or why not, do any of the events which God says are going to happen, depend upon the help of man? Why is it that the advent of Jesus into any heart, or into any community, is Hike a great light bursting out in dense darkness? (This question may have to be answered in writing by members of the club.)

What is the literal meaning of the figures of light and darkness, as used in verse sixteen?

Versel7-What, if any, was the difference between John's preaching of repentance and that of Jesus? (See Chap. 3:2.)

Compare say Abraham and Enoch of the Old Testament, with the Apostles John and Paul of the New Testament, and then compare the four with an equal number of like godly men now, and then say if there is any essential difference in the way that they each entered into the kingdom of God? Verses 18-22-How can you explain that these fishermen so promptly gave up their business and followed Jesus? What can be said for, or against, the idea, that they had heard Jesus frequently and had thorough!; convinced themselves of his authority, and that then they took sufficient time to dispose of their business affairs?

Give a reason for your answer as to whether God in these days, or ever, calls upon men and women to do erratic things, such as, neglecting their business, or their families, in order to do religious work?

How may a man of God recognize the call of God to new work, when it Peters, Honesdale. comes through the medium of another man?

Will a true Christian, at the command of God, give up the business in do gospel work? When God calls a man to devote be presumed that it is a lifelong call? of John C. Kilroe, Dyberry town-Most people recognize that a ship. special call is necessary for the gosnot a special call necessary for any occupation?

Why for example should not a Chrisviction, as that of a pastor of a church work? If you are not sure that you are what God wants you to do, what reason is there to believe that you are not living in some degree separate from God?

Verse 23-Why is every Christian, to the extent of his opportunity, under as much obligation to minister to the spiritual, social, and physical needs of the people as Jesus was?

Verse 24-Did Jesus heal all the sick people in the community? Verse 25-Is a faithful man equally to be praised whether he is popular or unpopular? Lesson for Sunday, Jan. 23rd, 1910. True Blessedness. Matt. v:1-16.

VICTORIA UNIVERSITY. Rev. N. Burwash, S. T. D., LL. D., President and Professor of Biblical and Systematic Theology.

Toronto, Canada. My Dear Dr. Linscott-I have read with great interest your questions on the Sunday School Lessons. Your method of dealing with the subjec strikes me as most excellent. With out entering into disputed critical questions, you seize at once the practical moral and religious principles involved and proceed to apply them to great living issues of to-day. Your experience as a man of business enables you to do this with sympathy and insight.

Your temperance lesson is excellent and could not be better. With kind regards.

Yours sincerely, N. BURWASH, President.

Quoth a Knocker. Yes, if it were not for the Bubmequent cash dash for the pole would be Mere balderdash.

The Optimist. "I'm sorry to hear your mule died," said to Happy Sam. "Oh, it's all right, boss," he returned resignedly. "I ain't got no kick comin'."-Lippincott's Magazine. Following Fashion. The millionaire's wife had demanded divorce. "Oh, well," she explained, "it's the usual -New Orleans Times-De TRIAL LIST.—Wayne Common Pleas Jan. Term, 1910. Beginning Jan. 7.

1 Ames vs. LaBarr, 2 Spellyogel assigned to Honesdale Dime Bank vs. Brutche.

3 Dunn vs. Brutene.
3 Dunn vs. Brunne.
4 Mittan vs. Hunkele.
5 Ramble vs. Pennsylvania Coal Co.
6 Rietler & Sons vs. Wayne Storage Water Power Co.
7 Hirt vs. Meszier.
8 Truesdail Admr. vs. Arnold et al.

M. J. HANLAN, Clerk Honesdale, Dec. 23, 1910.

A PPRAISEMENTS.—Notice is given that appraisement of $300 to the widows of the following named decedents have been filed in the Orphans' Court of Wayne county, and will be presented for approval on Monday, January 17, 1999—viz: Matthew McKenna, Buckingham,

A. W. Brown, Starrucca, Personal. Fred Kennedy, Mt. Pleasant, Personal.

Henry D. Cole, Clinton, Personal, W. H. Buchanan, Scott, Personal J. A. Rutledge, Damascus, Per-

M. J. HANLAN, Clerk, Honesdale, Dec. 30, 1909.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Honesdale Consolidated Light, Heat and Power Co. of Honesdale, Pa., for the election of directors and transaction of such other business as may properly come before a stockholders' meeting will be held at the office of said company, Honesdale, Pa., on Monday, January 17, 1910, between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock p. m.

M. B. ALLEN, Secretary.

COURT PROCLAMATION .- Whereas the Judge of the several Courts of the County of Wayne has issued his precept for holding a Court of Quarter Sessions, Oyer and Terminer, and General Jail Delivery in and for said County, at the Court House, to hearing

> MONDAY JANUARY 17, 1910. and to continue one week:

and to continue one week:

And directing that a Grand Jury for the Courts of Quarter Sessions and Oyer and Terminer be summoned to meet on Monday, Jan. 19, 1910, at 2 p. m.

Notice is therefore hereby given to the Coroner and Justices of the Peace, and Constables of the County of Wayne, that they be then and there in their proper persons, at said Court House, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said 10th of Jan. 1910, with their records, inquisitions, examinations and other remembrances, to do those things which to their offices appertain to be done, and those who are bound by recognizance or otherwise to prosecute the prisoners who are or shall be in the Jail of Wayne County, be then and there to prosecute against them as shall be just.

Given under you hand at Housedwise this just,

Given under my hand, at Honesdale, this 22d day of Dec., 1909, and in the 133d year of the Independence of the United States
Start M LEE BRAMAN, Sheriff, Sheriff's Office Honesdale, Dec. 22, 1909. \ \ 102w4

REGISTER'S NOTICE.—Notice is hereby given that the accountants herein named have settled their respective accounts in the office of the Register of Wills of Wayne County, Pa., and that the same will be presented at the Orphans' Court of said county for confirmation, at the Court House in Honesdale, on the third Monday of Jan. next.—viz:

Eight and final account of Jankey.

First and final account of Joshua A. Brown and H. M. Spence, administrators of the estate of Eliza C.

First and final account of George Homer Ansley.

First and final account of G. C. which he may be engaged in order to Tarbox, administrator of the estate of Lida Tarbox, Scott township. First and final account of Edwin himself to gospel work, is it always to P. Kilroe, administrator of the estate

First and partial account pel ministry, but if this is so, why is Henry Wilson, administrator C. T. A. of the estate of Albert Whitmore, Honesdale. tian blacksmith have as clear cut con- J. Wheeler, administratrix of the estate of Almone E. Wheeler, Lake township. Second and partial account of E. A. Penniman, executor of the last will and testament of Francis B.

Penniman, Honesdale. First and final account of Walter M. Fowler and Chas. Sanker, administrators of the estate of Frederick Werner, Texas township.

E. W. GAMMELL, Register.
Register's Office.
Honesdale Dec 22 1909.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

WAYNE COUNTY SAVINGS BANK

HONESDALE, WAYNE CO., PA., at the close of business, Nov. 6, 1909. RESOURCES

Reserve fund.
Cash, specie and notes, $48.840 50
Legal securities.
Due from approved reserve agents.
Serve agents.
History and fractional cur-.118,341 64-212,182 14

Checks and cash items..... Due from Banks and Trust Co's, not reserve agents... Ills discounted not due, $334,115 52 loans with collateral... Loans on call with col-lateral... Loans on call upon one 44,035 00 104,625 75

227,379 77---2,043,251 urniture and Fixtures.

6,000 2,000 217 400 0 Miscellaneous Assets. $2,886,340 93 LIABILITIES

....$ 100,000 00 84,143 35 Time certificates of deposit. 3,238 78
Saving Fund Deposit. 2,180.823 16
Cashier's check outst'g 271 29-2,335,246 64
Due to Commonwealth 25,000 00
Due to banks and Trust Cos. not reserve access a seconds.

11,891 54 Dividends unpaid.... State of Pennsylvania, County of Wayne, ss:
I. H. Scott Salmon, Cashier of the above named Company, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, to the best of my knowledge and belief,
(Signed) H. S. SALMON, Cashier,
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 13th day of Nov. 1998.

(Signed) ROBERT A. SMITH, N. P. [Notarial, Seal] Correct-Attest:

W B. Holmes, F. P. Kimsile, H. J. Conges.

A CCOUNT E. W. BURNS. GUARDIAN OF

Harley E. Fleming, a feeble minded person, late of Cherry Ridge Township. Wayne Co., Pa., deceased.

Notice is bereby given that the first and final account of the guardian above named has been filled in the court of Common Pleas of Wayne county, and will be presented for confirmation nist, June 17, 1810, and will be confirmed absolutely on June, 28, 1810, unless exceptions thereto are previously filed.

M. I. HANLAN Prothemotars.

Jan. 3, 1919. M. J. HANLAN, Prothonotary,

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION,

NOTICE OF ADMILIANT OF ESTATE OF JOHN KRANTZ.

Late of Honesdale, Pa.

All persons indebted to said estate are notified to make immediate payment to the undersigned; and those having claims against the said estate are notified to present them the said estate are notified to present the duly attested for settlement. WM. H. KRANTZ, PHILIP KRANTZ, JOHN E. KRANTZ, Administrators. Honesdale, Pa. Dec. 8, 1909.

MOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION,

ESTATE OF
CHARLOTTE S, HAND, late of Honesdale,
All persons indebted to said estate are notined to make immediate payment to the undersigned; and those having claims against the said estate are notified to present them duly attested, for settlement, CHARLES S. HAND, HENRY S. HAND, Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 8, 1909. Executors. Or W. H. Stone, Honesdale, Pa. 100w6

SHERIFF'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.-By virtue of process issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Wayne county, and State of Pennsylvania, and to me directed and delivered, I have levied on and will expose to public sale, at the Court House in Honesdale, on FRIDAY, JAN. 21, 1910, 2 P. M. All of defendant's right, title and interest in the following described property, viz:

All the right, title and interest of the defendant in and to those certain parcels of land lying in the township of Cherry Ridge, county of Wayne, State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows:

FIRST-Beginning in the southern line of lot of land formerly owned by Peter Meginnis, now Lawrence Weidner, being the north-western corner of lot No. 40 in the allotment of the Tilghman Cherry Ridge tract near the eastern water course of the Honesdale and Cherry Ridge Turnpike Road; thence by said Weidner s and and land formerly of Thomas Callaway, now Valentine Weidner, being also north line of said tot No. 40 east one hundred and sixty rods to a corner in the public road known as the east Cherry Ridge or Sandercock road; thence along said public road south one hundred and sixty rods to a corner in the north line of land late of Geo. Sandercock deed; thence by said Sandercock land, being the south line of said lot No. 40 west one hundred and sixty rods to a stones, formerly a beech corner; thence by lands conveyed by executors of John Torrey, dec'd, to Mary Murray et al., north twelve and eighth-tenths rods to a stone's corner; thence by same Ansley, testamentary guardian of land north eighty-seven degrees west eighty-seven rods to a corner in the middle of the Honesdale and Cherry Ridge road; thence along the center of said road northerly, one hundred eighty-five and three-tenths rods to place of beginning, containing 185 acres and 80 perches.

SECOND-Beginning at the southwest corner of land late of John Callaway; thence by land late of John Torrey and one Howe west one hundred and eight rods; thence north First and final account of Phoebe five degrees west sixteen and sixtenths rods to a corner of land of J. Greenfield: thence by last mentioned land east fifty-four and four-tenths rods to middle of the Honesdale and Cherry Ridge Turupike Road; thence north on said road two degrees east one and three-fourths rods to a corner; thence by J. Greenfield east fiftyfour and five-tenths rods to a stones corner in the western line of said Callaway; thence by said line south eighteen and one-fourth rods to place of beginning, containing 11 acres and 126 perches. Excepting minerals, oils and coals as mentioned in deed from executor of Elizabeth Smith to David Robbins, dated January 3, 1908, recorded in D. B. 98, page 81. Upon said premises are a frame dwelling and barn, and about thirty acres of said land is improved.

Seized and taken in execution as the property of David Robbins at the suit of W. H. Smith, Executor of Elizabeth A. Smith, assigned to C. J. Smith, trustee. No. 164, October Term, 1907. Judgment, $3300. TAKE NOTICE,-All bids and costs must be paid on day of sale or deeds 15.093 03 will not be acknowledged. Kimble, Att'y for Assignee. Sheriff's Office. Honesdale,

M. LEE BRAMAN, Sheriff.

