—Christy Mathewson, Honesdale's old pitcher, has just completed the manuscript of a base ball story for boys of all ages, and it is the promise of his publishers that it will be ready in February. This will be the first of a series of boys' stories on sports, to be known as "The Matty Books." Associated with the Father of the "Fad-away" in the preparation of "The Matty Books" is W. W. Aulick, the sporting writer, who will act as editor of the various publications. Matty, in speaking of his position, says he hopes the official scorers won't mark up too many errors against him. "I don't claim to be a Shakespeare in the Literary League," but I believe I've got something to say to the boys that may interest them.

—In one of the most sweeping orders ever handed down by the pope of the Roman Catholic church, Pius X last Tuesday decreed that in the future Rt. Rev. Bishop M. J. Hoban of this diocese, as well as all other bishops of the church, shall have full authority to settle finally all questions regarding the marriage of Catholics without reference to the authorities at the Vatican. In the past when Catholics married non-Catholics or were married by parties outside of the church, it was necessary to receive an order from Rome before they could be reinstated in the church. By the decree of the Pope issued Tuesday Bishop Hoban will have the right to settle all questions arising in this diocese without first referring them to the papal authorities.

WAYNE CO. MAN GETS JOB.

Charles T. White, of the N. Y. Tribune, the Lucky Man.

Charles T. White, political reporter on the New York Tribune, has been named one of the minority members on the tax board of New York City. The appointment was announced last Saturday night by Mayor Gaynor. White is a Republican. The place pays a salary of $7,000. He was born in Whites Valley.

Mr. White has for fifteen years been a reporter on the staff of the New York Tribune. For the last ten years he has been the city hall and political reporter for that paper. He is 46 years old. He started in to learn the newspaper business as a compositor and afterward was for six years, before going to New York, owner and editor of the Hancock Herald. He is president of the Delaware Valley society and one of the founders of the Amen Corner. At one time he lived in Peckville and is well known in Scranton.

HUNTERS TO BE LICENSED.

Harrisburg, Jan. 10.—The state game commission has promised to give its support to a movement to be started this spring in favor of the enactment by the next legislature of a hunter's license law similar to those now in force in New York, New Jersey, Indiana, Illinois, and many of the Western and Southern states. Such a law was proposed in a bill before the legislative session of 1907, but failed to receive sufficient votes in the house.

Since that time the state game commission's wardens have been carefully noting the complaints made by farmers about trespassing by hunters and investigating accidents, so that state authorities believe the time is ripe to pass such a bill in Pennsylvania.

The proposed bill would place a tax of $1 upon every hunter, no matter whether he went for a day's hunt or went out on a two week's chase of deer. The licenses could be issued in such a manner that a number could be traced in case a hunter damaged a field or shot a calf. This plan has been tried successfully in New Jersey and the state game authorities have resolved to do what they can to have it passed in this state.

PENNIES IN MAIL BOXES.

It is Desired by Postmasters That Patrons Provide Themselves With Stamps.

The government has sent out a letter to postmasters and rural carriers, extract of which follow:

"From a recent count made by rural carriers, of coins deposited by patrons in their boxes for the purchase of stamp supplies, it was found that each carrier was collecting an average of 115 one cent coins each week; or the enormous total of 300,000,000 cent coins.

As most of these coins are deposited loose in boxes, it is desirable that the patrons provide themselves with stamp supplies in advance of their needs, or to equip their boxes with suitable coin holding receptacles. The picking up of loose coins from boxes not only results in needless hardships and suffering to carrier in winter weather, delays the delivery and collection of mails, but frequently results in actual money loss to the carrier, for if, in collecting coins from the boxes they drop them into the snow or on the ground without recovery, they are required to replace the amount out of their own funds.

Place no pennies in the rural mail boxes or in the mail box in front of the local postoffice. Sometimes letters are dropped into this box without stamps or pennies and the postmaster is at a loss to know who put pennies in and who did not, consequently all the letters without stamps are likely to be held up.

PICKING A HORSE.

A British cavalry, speaking of horses, said:

"Give me a free hand and I should pick a roan—that is, for good temper and quick learning. Dark grays and blacks are mostly strong and hardy, and so are dark chestnuts. As a general rule, light chestnuts and light bays are nervous and delicate. A rusty black's a sulky pig nine times out of ten. Then, again, there are 'white stockings,' as they call them. You know the old saying, 'One white leg's a bad un, two white legs you may sell to a friend, three white legs you may trust for a time, four white legs you may lay your life on.'"

This does not agree with an old Yankee saying:
One white foot, buy him;
Two white feet, try him;
Three white feet, look well about him;
Four white feet, go on without him.

Now, however, the American idea is similar to that of the sergeant, and they say, "Four white feet you can stake your life on him."—London Spectator.

BOTH CONVICTED.

Walter Wilmot and Mrs. Ella Miller Convicted of Burglarizing.

Walter Wilmot, of Susquehanna, and Mrs. Ella Miller, his boarding mistress have both been given jail sentences as the result of their trials in Williamsport at the term of United States Court, on the charge of having broken into and burglarized the Great Bend postoffice, in Susquehanna county. They were indicted Monday afternoon and placed on trial and sentenced Tuesday afternoon.

Wilmot must serve the next two years in the Federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. Mrs. Miller was sentenced to serve a six months' term in the Susquehanna jail. Each must pay half the costs of the prosecutions and a fine of $1.

They were indicted for having broken into the postoffice at Great Bend on the night of December 21 and taking therefrom $276.36 in cash as well as $53.69 of postage.

It will be remembered that the two were arrested by Postoffice Inspector W. A. Rose, Deputy Marshal J. W. Snyder and a state trooper a few weeks ago. When called for a hearing before United States Commissioner Skinner, Mrs. Miller blamed the robbery on Wilmot, saying that she did not know about the robbery until Wilmot told her that he had committed the crime and gave her the money. Wilmot, on the other hand told the same story of his innocence, saying that Mrs. Miller dressed in a suit of his clothing and committed the robbery, then coming to her home and telling him about her crime. He admitted he helped her spend the money.
