I do not recommend them, for the fact that they do not always kill the scale without injury to the trees. Many orchards in this and other States have been entirely destroyed by them. You can not afford the risk. The commercial oils may be all right for two years, but the next year cause thousands of dollars of damage in the same orchard, as was experienced by one of Pennsylvania's most prominent and successful fruit growers. At Mont Alto, Franklin county, an owner lost between five and ten thousand dollars worth of fruit in 1909 by using oil sprays, although in 1908 and the year before, the results with the same materials on the same trees had been apparently good.
