FRIDAY, FEB. 18, 1910.

As the recent flood in Paris is but a repetition of others which have periodically inundated the French capital during its thousand years or more of existence, one would think that inventive genius of the Gauls would have devised some preventive measures long before this.

Before listening to the complaint of your children about the general mendacity of the teachers, and getting all worked up and excited over it it is better to reflect a little. Remember your one or a half dozen cherubs drive you crazy about half the time, and bear with the teacher who is making for you intelligent men and women out of an unpromising raw material as you were twenty or thirty years ago. Remember that besides your boy, who, of course, everybody knows is an angel, she has to contend with that awful boy of your neighbor's and you know full well what a terror he is.

ELECTION ECHOES.

George W. Penwarden received 228 votes for Town Councilman of this borough. This was the highest number of votes received by any candidate for that office, one quarter of the men who voted for him, voted for him alone. John Stegner, a candidate for the same office received just fifty-six votes. Had these lone voters exercised their privilege to vote for two candidates, they could have elected either Charles McCarty or John K. Seitz, for the same mutual understanding, which they no doubt had in voting for Penwarden, could have been stretched so as to cover any of the other candidates. J. T. Boyd, who was elected Judge of Election, received the highest number of votes of any candidate who had an opposing candidate, his total vote being 302. W. H. Stone had the lowest number of votes, he receiving one vote for Justice of the Peace. Mr. Stone was not a candidate, and is under the impression that Squire Robt. A. Smith who was a candidate, and whose extreme modesty would not permit him to vote for himself, voted for W. H. Stone. Mr. Smith received 334 votes, and consequently can now claim that he received a majority of 333, which is probably the largest majority ever received by any candidate in the history of Honesdale. Squire Smith is only 86 years old, but he has an experience in political economy and vote manipulation that comes only with old age. Messrs. Stone and Smith are both members of the Domino Association, and for years have been opponents for the championship, and it is surprising that this rivalry should extend into the political arena.

Plucked by Machinery.

Chickens are now plucked in a wholesale manner by the use of pneumatic machinery. There is a receptacle in which the fowl is placed after being killed, and into this are turned several cross currents of air from electrical fans revolving at the rate of 5,000 turns per minute. In the twinkling of an eye the bird is stripped of its feathers, even to the finest particles of down, and the machine is ready for another.—Exchange.

Living the Simple Life.

In Kabakon, a small island in the Bismarck archipelago in the South seas, may be seen two German professors, eating only coconuts, and clad only in loincloths. The founder of this simple life colony is Professor Engleheart of Munich and Erlangen universities. A chronic invalid from his childhood, he determined to try the fruit cure. After various experiments he decided that European fruits were not the best and went to Ceylon and finally to Kabakon. He was joined fifteen months ago by his companion, Dr. A. Bethmann.

When Eggs are Poisonous.

All substances, even eggs, are poisonous when they are injected in certain quantities into the circulatory system of an animal. A French investigator has taken the powdered yolk of a duck's egg, treated it with a 20 per cent. solution of salt and injected it into the veins of an animal until it died. In order to kill a rabbit 55 grains of the substance were required for each pound of the rabbit's weight. The yolk of a hen's egg is less poisonous than that of a duck, but that of a turtle is more so. The albumen of eggs is also poisonous.
