WHEN THE WHALE WALLOPS THE WHALERS.

When the greasy old Gayhead recently returned to San Francisco, after a six-months' cruise in the Northern Pacific, she was not only the first whaler in years to bring in a really full cargo of sperm oil, but she also brought back six men who had been hurled skyward by the head and then again by the tail of a wounded whale. One sailor called this "the real thing in the way of airships," and First Mate Baptist seemed to think it far more thrilling than ordinary aviation, saying: "What's a falling a few hundred feet to being tossed up some forty feet or more in the air and being caught when you come down on the end of a monster whale's tail, which again threw you and your shipmates back up into the sky?"

The Gayhead was off Katlak Island when a monster whale was sighted. Captain Wing ordered out four boats to the attack. They surrounded their prey, and Second Mate Thomas, with his boat's crew of five men, began to close in upon him. Then, says Mate Baptist, according to the Chicago Tribune:

Mate Thomas, he goes close up to the big fellow to fire the bomb while the other boats lay off to wait for the strike that was due. All this time old Mr. Whale rolls lazily on the sea taking things easy; as we all thought, sleeping and dreaming.

But that whale was a most lively boy you ever see. Mate Thomas, he sneaks up kinder slow, so as not to scare him. All of us boys counted that whale as easy meat, but we had another think a-coming; we had. They were getting ready in the bow to fire the harpoon. When whizz-z-z goes the big bomb—plumb to the core of that big fellow.

Before you say scat, Mr. Whale he flies up out of the water, quicker than you could wink an eye. An' then the big thing happened. Mate Thomas' boat was rocking on the surge caused by the monster's lashing, when suddenly up the boat goes into the air, and 'we thought she'd never come down again. Then, the fellows went right 'n' left, while you couldn't see much that looked like the boat. Yes, come to think of it, there was a few splinters of it left.

We were a little bit scared at first, for the fellows they got a hard, good smash; but when we heard them yell up there we knew they were all right, and then we all laughed. An' when they laughed the old whale he catches the bunch of them with his tail jes' as they come down. Men were scattered in every direction. But after a while we had the outfit picked up.

Mr. Whale, he kept charging around 'n' a lashing of his tail 'n' spouting like all mad. We saw lots o' blood 'n' knewed he was badly hurt. Finally, he made a grand rush, leaving great streaks o' blood behind him, 'n' dashed out for the open sea, spouting jest like fury. That was the last we ever see o' him. Well, we wur pretty glad to get back to the old Gayhead without our skins being broken, tho we were like chunks o' ice.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought. Bears the Signature of J. C. Fletcher.

IF YOU ARE BORN IN FEBRUARY You have good reason to be interested in this, the shortest month of the year, if it happens to be your birth month.

February was one of the two months which the Emperor Numa added to the calendar 713 B. C. The name February comes from the Latin word Februarius, meaning to expiate, because at this season the Romans celebrated the festival of expiation.

The old Anglo-Saxons called it "Sproutlike month," as the cabages sprouted at this time. It was later named "Sol month"—sun month. Places, the Latin word for fish, is the zodiacal sign for February, into which sign the sun moves on the nineteenth of the month.

If you were born between the first and the twentieth of the month you will be blessed with strong common sense, keen perceptions, versatility, conservatism and remarkable executive ability. If your birthday occurs between the nineteenth and the end of the month you are, so the wise oracles say, promised, in addition, an extremely poetic temperament. You will be thoughtful and studious, conscientious and faithful to duty, kind, but very opinionate in holding to your own opinions and economical to a fault.

February's birthstone is the amethyst, which signifies power of deep love. Let me repeat a comforting little verse about the amethyst: "The February born shall find Serenity and peace of mind, Freedom from anger and from care, if they an amethyst shall wear."

The February flower is the primrose. It means sadness. February is the favorite marriage month in Italy; the first, third, nineteenth and twenty-first being especially favorable for tying the knot. You are warned, however, that you will be tempting Fate if you choose the eleventh of February for your wedding day.

Here is a cheerful little prophecy if you have already chosen a February wedding day: "Married in February's sleety weather, Life you'll tread in tune together."

February has some unlucky days—six in all: the eighth, tenth, seventeenth, twenty-sixth, twenty-seventh, and twenty-eighth. The first three named are especially unlucky. A quaint old proverb says, regarding February weather: "All the months in the year Displease a fair February."

The funeral of James Mandeville was held in the M. P. church last Wednesday at 1 p. m., services being conducted by the Rev. Thomas Hooper, pastor of the above named church, who delivered a very appropriate sermon suitable to the occasion. During the last few weeks of his life he was cared for at his late residence by his grand-daughter, Catherine Barhight, of Carbondale. She did everything that willing hands could do to comfort him until he closed his eyes on everything earthly. He enlisted in the Civil war, for three years, in the 17th Pennsylvania Cavalry, and served until its close; but he answered his last roll call on earth, in the ranks militant, and gone to join the army triumphant. His remains were laid at rest in the old cemetery. He was 68 years of age.

Charles Vansickle has moved in the residence vacated by Lincoln Merithew. Mr. Vansickle has in his employ Emmett Pugh, formerly with Jerry Buckley of this place. As they are both hustlers their success is assured. Let the avril ring.

The Ladies' Aid held at Mrs. Geo. Feilding's last Wednesday, eclipsed all former occasions of the kind that is known to the writer. There were fifty-five present that took dinner and some left that could not wait. It goes without saying that a very pleasant day was enjoyed, although the weather was somewhat inclement.

James Hasen is working in Carbondale at present. Mrs. Eugene Swingle, accompanied by her daughter, Hazel, made a business trip to Scranton last week. Rev. Thomas Hooper has not been able to get to his appointments for the past three Sundays owing to the storms and snow drifts which are nearly fifteen feet high in some places.
