LOCAL MENTION.

—Max Denhardt has moved into his new home on Wood Avenue.

—Miss Antoinette Durland entertained a number of her friends at cards at her home on Friday evening.

—The trolley company propose making a time-table schedule so that people can reach Hawley early in the morning and leave late at night.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Penniman will celebrate their golden wedding early in May. Mr. Penniman has just celebrated his seventy-fourth birthday. He is now on his seventy-fifth trip around the sun.

—West Park street presents a very busy appearance, the excavation and building of the Strongman and Schoonover houses being the reason. The sound of the hammer and saw and the buzz of the lawn mower is good Spring music.

—Owners of concrete sidewalks may well profit by the experience of Cooperstown residents who used salt to free their walks from the ice this past winter and have now discovered that this method has practically ruined the walks in places.

—More than 6,000,000 young trout have been distributed this season by the state fisheries department, and within the next week 5,000,000 more will be put out. The fish are between one and two inches long and are ready to go into the streams and take care of themselves. The young trout are going into all but about ten counties, as a result of 2,900 applications.

—Harvey Huffman, of the popular law firm of Ellenberger & Huffman, of Stroudsburg, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Senator from this district, composed of the counties of Carbon, Monroe, Pike and Wayne, before the June primary. This announcement came only after the gentleman had been urged by many of his friends to take the step.

—The county seat of Bradford county—Towanda—is going to have an Old Home Week celebration to begin on June 23d. They are going to try and out-do all other places that have held such celebrations, and they have extended an invitation to William Howard Taft, President of the United States, to be present. We hope Towanda will be successful with this celebration just as Honesdale was last year when the Old Home Week celebration was held here, and very likely she will be.

—The yellow journals are getting in their usual slimy work regarding the trouble in the glass cutting industry in our borough. Big headlines and exaggerated accounts of the situation are the order of the day. One paper with big display type, says, "Sheriff draws revolver in riot with strikers"; another newspaper says, "Great disorder among the striking glass cutters." Both of these statements are lies pure and simple, manufactured by Honesdale correspondents of these papers, and in each case the "wish is father to the thought." There has been no disorderly conduct, and people visiting our town would not know that there was a strike going on unless told of the fact.

—Rev. A. F. Van Sciver, of Ariel, Pa., was ordained a deacon at the Wyoming Conference last week.

—Katz Bros. new advertisement calling attention to housekeepers' furnishings, appears in to-day's Citizen.

—Governor Stuart has issued his Arbor day proclamation, designating April 8th and 22d as Arbor days throughout the state.

—According to the Athens Gazette the Hon. Robert S. Edmiston of Bradford county, is making a canvass for the nomination for Congress in this district.

—Peter Randaft, a Wayne county, who prefers to live at Hancock, has purchased an automobile. It is the buggy type. Everybody knows what buggy means.

—The Rev. A. L. Whittaker will hold a brief service and give an instruction at the Indian Orchard school house, Thursday, April 7, at 7:30 p. m. All are invited.

—The Honesdale High school basket ball team will play the Hawley High school basket ball team on Friday evening, April 8th. This will be the last game of the season.

—W. W. Ham and Eugene Ham, who came to Honesdale on receipt of news of the fire which partially destroyed the residence of their parents, have returned to their respective homes.

—More than 45,000 negroes in Maryland will be disfranchised so far as state and municipal elections are concerned by the passage in the legislature of the bill of W. Mitchell Digges, of Charles county. Republicans contend, however, that it is in direct violation of the fifteenth amendment.

—The members of the well known John Brown furniture and undertaking concern celebrated on April 2d the sixtieth anniversary of their existence in business, John Brown having begun to cater to the people of Wayne county on April 2, 1850. This is one of the oldest business houses in Honesdale.

—A little flurry of excitement was caused on Friday evening by the arrest of a Syrian, who persisted in working at Herbeck-Demer Co.'s cut glass plant. The arrest was made by constable Mang of Texas township. The charge was for carrying concealed weapons, but the prisoner was not searched, although he requested the court to have it done. Justice Wm. H. Ham dismissed the case.

—Evidently the department of Fisheries is determined to stop polluting of the streams of the state. Four Wyoming county men last week paid $100 and costs, or over $200 because they failed to heed the warnings sent out by the Department of Fisheries. As long as the law is on statute books it will be enforced and every violator will be made to settle. The best way to avoid paying fines is to avoid breaking the law.

—Governor Edwin S. Stuart announces the appointment of Brigadier General Wendell P. Bowman, of Philadelphia, to be Major General of the National Guard to succeed Gen. Wiley and Col. C. M. Clements of the Twelfth regiment to be a brigadier general and assigned to duty at headquarters with Adjutant General Stewart. Both appointments to date from March 29th. General Bowman is the last of the general officers who served during the Civil war. This is the position for which General C. B. Dougherty, of Wilkes-Barre, was prominently mentioned.

—The Baby Contest at the Lyric wound up on Saturday with a spurt that was as exciting as a six day contest at Madison Square Garden on the last night. Baby Louise McMullen came under the tape on the last lap with a lead of only two votes ahead of Baby Marjorie Fryer Ross. All the other babies were distanced so far as vote getting was concerned. The winner received 1511 votes while the second best received 1509. Both babies received go-carts. This contest did not settle the question of which baby was the best looking, for "Our Baby" was just as good looking as any of the others.

—Election commissions have no judicial power to go behind the face of petitions asking that the saloon question be placed on the ballot, according to a decision handed down by Judge James A. Creighton of the Sangamon circuit court. He said that three circuit courts had so ruled, though the Supreme court has not passed on the question. His decision insures the submission of the saloon question to the voters of Springfield on April 5th. The court's decision contradicts that of the Chicago election commission, which decided it had judicial powers, and, after examining the eligibility of signers to a local option petition, threw it out because it contained insufficient names.

—John Noel, the Shohola lumberman, who is charged with attempting to burn the big mill of the Pennsylvania Coal Co. at Shohola, was brought before the court at Milford, Pike county, last week. To the district attorney some time ago he made a confession and signified his willingness to waive indictment and plead guilty. Noel told the court he would not plead guilty as false promises had been made to him to secure a confession, etc. John A. Kipp, who represents the prisoner, asked the court to fix bail and the amount was placed at $3,000. It is not likely Noel will secure a bondsman and he will remain in jail until June. The maximum penalty for the crime with which Noel is charged is ten years in the penitentiary.

—The Ward property, which was purchased by Harry Toms, is to be rebuilt. The house will be moved back and considerably improved before he occupies same.

—Dr. Peterson was called to reduce a fractured collar bone belonging to Orvin Kegler of Prompton, which he received while wrestling with a friend at his home.

—E. B. Mullen, who up to two weeks ago was press agent and general manager for Edward Payson Weston, the pedestrian, is the guest of Charles P. Searle, an Amherst College friend.

—The "Elks" to the number of 200 will visit our borough April 14th in a special train. They are here on the invitation of Chief Burgess Kubbach, and will do the "Hello Bill" act while here.

The excellent arrangements reflected credit upon the committee which consisted of Frank Holl, Chas. Boyd, Chas. Guinher, William Hoeflin, Fred Schuetz, Paul Sonner, and J. Hoil.

—On Saturday last, Mrs. T. J. Ham, accompanied her son, Eugene Ham, and wife to their home in Lakewood, N. J., where she will remain for some time. Her husband, Hon. T. J. Ham, who is now confined to his bed at the home of his brother, William H. Ham, will be removed to a New York hospital as soon as possible. It is with deep regret to their many friends that these two well known residents leave the Maple City.

—At the request of Robert A. McAfee, Secretary of the Commonwealth, M. Hampton Todd, Attorney General of the State, gave an opinion last Saturday that there will be no election of Judges this year in Pennsylvania, and that the term of Judgeship in Wayne county would extend to January 1, 1912. While all lawyers who have examined this question, have agreed on this subject, this opinion will set this question at rest.

—We have just received a copy of the report of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. It is very interesting and ought to bring joy to the heart of every person who owns STOCK in that corporation and a corresponding amount of sorrow to the consumer who is being strenuously milked in order to produce the above mentioned joy. When a corporation can clean up a net profit of $23,095,389 in one year, it is self-evident that the public, who make this profit possible, ought to get lower rates and better service.

—The Herbeck-Demer Co., whose men are not working, have been annoyed by a rumor that they do not pay their men fair wages. They prepared a sworn statement of their payroll and requested the Independent, Herald, and Citizen to print the same. The Independent and Herald have not printed this statement for reasons which they will no doubt explain in a later issue. The Citizen, in the interests of fair play, prints this statement in to-day's issue, and wishes to announce that any statement, properly signed and not libelous from any one who is a party to this present controversy, will be published in its columns.

He was born in Bethany and is the son of the late Judge James Manning. Mr. Manning has filled many offices in his native town creditably. He was, during the Rebellion, a resident of Williamsburg, afterwards called Brooklyn, and now a portion of Greater New York. He was general manager of the horse car railroad that ran between the Grand street ferry, Williamsburg, to Newton, Long Island, one of the first surface railroads where horse power was used that was built. Mr. Manning in his younger days was one of the crack checker players of the country.

—George Marsh will occupy his newly-purchased home on Blandin Flats this week.

—Margaret, the two and a half year old daughter of Mrs. Mary Hiller of 147 Tryon street, East Honesdale, was drowned on Sunday noon, while playing near the Axe factory pond, back of her home. A boy saw the form lying in the bottom of the pond, in about five feet of water, and immediately notified the neighbors. The body was taken to the home of Michael Murphy, and Dr. W. T.
