FRIDAY, MAY 6, 1910.

Next to the wife beater comes the horse beater and it is to be regretted we have one or two in this community.

We note with pleasure that the farms in this county are developing into a higher stage of cultivation.

C. Fred Wright is now State Treasurer, and it is a source of gratification to his many friends to know that Governor Stuart selected him for this important position.

OPPORTUNITY.

The owners of the building formerly occupied by the Wayne Cut Glass Co. will sell at a reasonable figure or will rent at a fair rental.

WHERE AND HOW WILL THIS END.

Next month the United States will launch the biggest warship ever built in an American navy yard.

Last fall the North Dakota and the Delaware were given their steaming trials. They were vessels of 20,000 tons displacement, and were the largest warships in any navy.

the same manner as a gun and which can blight, crumple up and destroy anything from a Jersey mosquito to an army corps.

WRIGHT IS STATE TREASURER.

Supreme Court in Amicable Action Sustains Governor's Appointment to Fill Vacancy.

Harrisburg, May 3.—State Treasurer John O. Sheatz formally transferred the office of State Treasurer with its custody of millions of dollars of cash and bonds to Charles Fred Wright, of Susquehanna, this morning.

Mr. Wright had formally demanded the office early yesterday and had been refused in accordance with the arrangement to start the test case in the Supreme Court.

Mr. Sheatz made this statement last night: "In retiring from the office of State Treasurer, I do so with a feeling of thankfulness and appreciation to the people of Pennsylvania for the honor bestowed upon me in electing me treasurer of this great commonwealth."

Auditor-General-elect A. E. Sisson who also assumes office to-day, stated that he would make no changes for the present.

The decision of the Supreme court is as follows: "Now, May 2, after argument and consideration, judgment is entered for the commonwealth that John O. Sheatz be ousted and altogether excluded from franchise, privilege and power of state treasurer and that the commonwealth recover its costs from the defendant."

The decision was announced by Chief Justice Fell, who said that a written opinion will be filed later.

Auditor General Sisson took the oath of office before Secretary of the Commonwealth Robert McAfee at 10:30 on Tuesday. His bond for $5,000, with the Pennsylvania Surety company, of Harrisburg, as surety, was filed at the same time and shortly before noon the office was formally transferred to him.

The desk of the new auditor general was occupied by many flowers, chief among them being a design of a horseshoe of roses sent by the department. Many officials on the "Hill" called to congratulate him and he received numerous telegrams.

It is understood that Deputy Auditor General T. A. Crichton, Chief Clerk N. E. Hause and Corporation Clerk J. V. Murray are to remain for the present, together with most of the clerks.

The record of Auditor General Young shows that he collected $80,659,244.33 in his three years, barring the last day of the term, which has not yet been counted. The collections for 1907 from May 1 were $16,761,117.57; for 1908, $25,852,548.95; 1909, $29,161,183.70, and in 1910 to May 1, $8,944,395.11.

BREAD WITHOUT FLOUR.

Parisian Process by Which Whole Wheat Grain is Used.

Parisian bread is made without flour in a machine that transforms the wheat into dough. The machine consists mainly of a large screw turning loosely in a case on whose inner surface is a screw thread running in an opposite direction.

Between the main threads on the cylinder are smaller threads, and the depth of the groove grows progressively smaller from one end to the other, so that it will hold the entire wheat grain as it enters the machine and will accommodate only the pulverized wheat at the exit.

The wheat is prepared by a thorough washing, after which about a pint of tepid water to a pound of grain is added, and the whole is allowed to stand about six hours. At the end of this time the grains of wheat have swollen to double their ordinary size. It is then mixed with the yeast and salt and poured into the machine. It falls between the threads of the moving screw and is simultaneously crushed the envelope and body of the grain, making of them a homogenous mixture which forms a smooth paste.

Bread obtained by this process contains a succession of holes whose size increases as they approach the crust, which is thin. The odor given off is most agreeable and far more pronounced than that of ordinary baker's bread.—Chicago Tribune.

HYMENEAL.

FLYNN—MCGINNIS—A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. John's Roman Catholic church on Wednesday morning, May 4th, at 10 o'clock, when Miss Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McGinnis, became the bride of John D., son of Thomas F. Flynn, of Main street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas Hanley. While the bridal party entered the church Miss Murrin played the wedding march, and while the knot was being tied, "Hearts and Flowers" was pleasingly rendered. The bride wore a cream lace robe, and champagne hat with plumes to match, and carried bridal roses. Her attendant, Miss Rose Flynn, sister of the groom, wore a princess cream silk gown, and large picture hat, and also carried bridal roses. Edward McGinnis, brother of the bride, acted as best man. After the wedding a sumptuous wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, to both families and a few invited guests. The bride is one of Honesdale's most popular young ladies, while the groom is a highly esteemed young man, and their many friends join in wishing them a very happy wedded life. Mr. and Mrs. John Flynn left on the 4:30 Delaware & Hudson train for an extended trip, which will include New York City, Buffalo, and other points of interest.

SELFARTH—MILLER—A pretty home wedding was solemnized on Thursday morning, May 5th, at the home of Mrs. Henry N. Miller, Bethany, when her daughter, Miss Grace Evelyn, was united in marriage to William Charles Selfarth of Brooklyn, N. Y. The house was prettily decorated with ferns, lilacs and apple blossoms. At the appointed time, 11 o'clock, the bridal party entered the parlor in the following order: The two ribbon girls, Isabelle Paynter and Anna Intemann, nieces of the bride and groom, who formed an aisle with ribbons, the matron of honor, Mrs. Robert H. Miller, walking alone, and last the bride, leaning on the arm of her brother, Robert H. Miller, who gave her away. They were met by the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. B. Signor, pastor of the Methodist church, in the presence of the immediate families and friends. Before the ceremony, Mildred Miller, a niece of the bride, played the march from Lohengrin, and during the ceremony, Hearts and Flowers, and at the end Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride was attired in a gown of white French Batiste, trimmed in silk net and silk applique, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The matron of honor, a sister-in-law of the bride, wore white silk mulle with lace trimmings and carried white carnations. The ribbon girls were attired in white lingerie dresses. After congratulations were received by the bridal party, a wedding breakfast followed, served by friends of the bride: the Misses Blanche Starnes, Eva Harnes, Carrie Cody, and Marjorie Hauser. The tokens of regard which Mrs. Selfarth received were displayed in a room on the second floor, and in number, value and beauty will greatly contribute to personal comfort and home adornment, consisting of silver, imported china, cut glass, linen, pictures, and checks, one from the groom's mother for $100. Mr. and Mrs. Selfarth left on the afternoon train for New York amidst a shower of confetti. After the wedding trip they will reside in Brooklyn where the groom has a home in readiness. The bride's traveling suit was grey chiffon Panama, with hat to match trimmed in pale color. Mrs. Selfarth is one of Bethany's most estimable and popular young ladies, and will be greatly missed by her circle of friends. The groom is a son of Mrs. Charlotte Selfarth of Brooklyn, where he is in the hardware business, and has a large number of friends. The bride gave favors to her attendants at the wedding, the Misses Starnes, Cody, Harnes, Hauser, Intemann, Paynter, and Miller which were gold brooches with amethyst setting. Among those who attended the wedding from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Miller and daughter, Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Paynter and daughter Isabelle, Carbondale; Miss Eva Harnes, Hawley; Mrs. Intemann and daughter Anna, Brooklyn.

THE KIND OF A GIRL FOR US. The buxom, bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked bouncing lass, who can darn a stocking, mend trousers, make her own frocks, command a regiment of pots and kettles, feed the pigs, chop wood, milk cows, wrestle with the boys, and be a lady withal in company is just the sort of girl for us and for any worthy man to marry. But you, ye pining, moping, mortgaged, music-murdering, novel-devouring daughters of fashion, and idleness you are no more fit for matrimony than a pullet is to look after a family of fourteen chickens. The truth is, dear girls, you want more liberty and less fashionable restraints, more kitchen and less parlor, more leg exercise and less sofa, more pudding less piano, more frankness and less mock modesty, more breakfast and less bustle. Loosen yourselves a little, enjoy more liberty and less restraint by fashion, breathe the pure atmosphere of freedom, and become something as lovely and beautiful as the God of nature designed.

PROF. WILBUR VERY ILL.

Professor J. E. Wilbur, head of the mathematical department at the Bloomsburg State Normal school, is near death's door at the Moses Taylor hospital in Scranton. His wife, Mrs. Louise Wilbur, and his two sons, Harry, a newspaper man from Milwaukee, and Elmer, professor of Latin and Greek in a college in Jacksonville, Florida, are at his bedside.

Professor Wilbur was operated upon two weeks ago for abscess of the liver, but since then edema of the lungs has set in, and no hopes for his recovery have been entertained for the past few days.

Prof. Wilbur is one of the most popular teachers in this part of the State. He has held the position as dean of mathematics at Bloomsburg for over thirty years. He is well known in this place and only three weeks ago delivered a lecture to the students of the Central High school in Scranton. Prof. Wilbur is a brother-in-law to Rev. W. H. Hiller.

THE PROBE REACHES WAYNE COUNTY.

The probe that is being used in the Scranton school investigation touched a Wayne countean in yesterday's investigation. It appears that Walter L. Lawrence, real estate dealer, and land agent for the D. & H. R. Co., sold the property upon which school No. 44 is located to Wayne L. Stevens, a Wayne county farmer for $1200. The day following Stevens sold this same property to the school district for $1600. Stevens is a nephew of W. D. Oakley, one of the Scranton School Controllers, and it is said that Stevens was used as a go-between in order to make this deal with a profit of $400.

Some single suits to clean up stock, at Menner & Co.'s store, will be sold out regardless of cost. 4w

The Best Investment For Savings "THERE is no doubt that real estate is the very best investment for small savings. It is bound to grow and grow into money. More fortunes are accumulated from the rise in real estate values than all other causes combined. To speculate in stocks is risky and even dangerous, but when you buy real estate you buy an inheritance. The wise young man or wage-earner of today invests his money in real estate." —ANDREW CARNEGIE. THE TIME Saturday, May 7th, 1910, AT 2 P. M. Sale held on the property and will begin sharply on time. REAL ESTATE IS WEALTH More fortunes and more competences have been made in Real Estate than the combined gold, silver and copper mines of the world have produced. No other investment can be at once so profitable and so safe. Real Estate, by its increase in valuation, often pays one thousand per cent. in a comparatively short time, sometimes even more. Think of the wealthy people you know or know about. Haven't most of them made their money or at least their start in REAL ESTATE YOUR CHANCE IS JUST AS GOOD. LOOK ABOUT YOU. Nearly every great fortune the world has ever known has had its beginning in Real Estate. Real Estate has always been, and always will be the safest, surest and best investment for anyone, whether he be rich or poor. THIS IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY—START NOW.
