Just as soon as the comet commences to draw away into space and away from the Earth's orbit, we may expect normal weather, but as it is now the absorption of some of the Sun's power to energize the comet is diverting heat and light which the world otherwise would receive. We are glad that we will not be a resident of this county when it makes its next visit in 1985.

John Kimble and John H. Weaver, Jr., left for Towanda on Sunday morning where they will begin their duties as managers of the new factory of the Wayne Cut Glass Co. They expect to be in operation by next Saturday with a force of experienced glass cutters. We regret to have these men leave our community, also the men who go with them, as they were a valuable asset to the town. It is the men who are industrious, who are willing to work, and who are determined to work who add to a town's worth.

A comet party camped out on the up-town bridge Saturday night and Sunday morning, and in order to keep warm they built a fire on the north end of the bridge, which did no harm except leaving the ashes and debris for Sunday morning church goes to walk over. They kept awake alright, and by their noise kept everybody else awake in that neighborhood. The comet refused to be seen and hid itself behind some clouds that were too dense to be penetrated by the naked eye.

OBITUARY.

MCKEE—Andrew McKee died at his home in Winwood, Preston township, May 7, 1910, of paralysis, aged 78 years and 3 months. He was for many years a resident of the above town. Deceased was a member of the Lake Como Lodge of Odd Fellows. He is survived by his wife, a married daughter and five sons.

RICKARD—Mrs. Sara Batron, wife of Commissioner John Rickard, of Cherry Ridge, died at her home Friday afternoon, May 13th, 1910, of heart trouble, aged sixty years. She is survived by her husband, one son, William; one brother, Leonard, of Texas township, and one sister, Mrs. Frank Gill, of Scranton. Funeral services were held from her late home Monday afternoon. Interment in Darling cemetery.

TUMAN—Mrs. Mignon E. Tuman, wife of Herman Tuman, of Vine street, died at her home on Thursday evening of blood poisoning, after a few days' illness. Mrs. Tuman had been well-pagering and in some manner got some paste on her cheek. About three days after her face began to swell and Mrs. M. E. Conville and Ely performed an operation. The poison had progressed so far, however, that the operation was ineffectual in checking the poison and she died at 10:30 Thursday evening. Deceased was in her twenty-eighth year. Besides her husband, a little daughter, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mangan, two brothers and two sisters, survive, Edward and Herbert, of Honesdale, and Mrs. Fred Walters and Mrs. Jacob Smith, of Scranton. The funeral took place on Monday morning at 9:30 from St. John's Roman Catholic church, Rev. Thomas Hanley officiating.

CLAUSON—Mrs. Louisa, widow of the late Nicholas Clauson, died suddenly at her home last Wednesday. The funeral was held from her late home on Friday morning at 10 o'clock in Danascus. She was 75 years of age, having been born in Germany in 1835. She came to this country in 1852 with her parents, who settled in New York City. She was married to Nicholas Clauson, officer on one of the ocean liners running out of New York. His health failing, they moved to Cocheaton, N. Y., where Mr. Clauson died in 1868. She is survived by four sons, Fred W., of Honesdale; Charles M. and George L., of Galilee; and Nicholas P., of Durgee, all of whom were present at the funeral, and acted as pallbearers. She has also two sisters who survive her, Mrs. Pauline Schilling, of Callicoan, and Mrs. Thomas Johnson of New York. Rev. James Coleman officiated at the funeral, interment being made in the old Cocheaton cemetery.
