LOCAL MENTION.

Ferdinand J. Crockenberg, of Fortonia, formerly of Waymart, purchased the interest in the Eddy hotel, at Hawley, from Fred Kumfort, Monday morning. Possession given immediately.

There are five acts and eight scenes in the play "She Stoops to Conquer," which will be given at the Lyric on next Tuesday evening. Special scenery is being arranged this week and the drama will be given in its entirety. The sale of seats will start on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

About three months ago Principal Oday of the High school applied to the Worcester Polytechnic Institute for the privilege of allowing graduates of this school to enter that institution without an examination. After considerable correspondence Prof. Coons of the Institute faculty visited our local school to ascertain if, in his judgment, it was sufficiently equipped to properly prepare students for the technical course. Wednesday morning Prof. Oday received a letter from the President of the Institution, stating that the request had been granted and that the certificate of the Honesdale High school would be in lieu of examination for admission to the Institute.

Judge W. G. Covington, of Georgia, spoke to a good sized audience at the court house on Tuesday evening. The Judge has the reputation in the south of being a speaker of great power. The speech was more of an argumentative character in which he summed up the case of the People against the Saloon, the audience being the jury, and there is no question what the verdict would have been had a vote been taken. The audience remained until the last word was spoken, and their repeated applause showed their interest. Mr. Brandt made a short address appealing for funds to support the Anti-Saloon League movement. Mr. H. C. Jackson, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination of Representative, was called on. He stated if he was nominated and elected he would be for local option and any other measure that would benefit the people and especially those of Wayne county. Rev. J. B. Cody was president of the meeting and introduced the speakers, after calling on the Rev. James Rainey of Aldenville to open the meeting in prayer.

The annual May pole dance of the Alert Fire company will take place next Wednesday evening.

John Hobbs, of South Canaan, has a freak colt with five feet. The colt is apparently in good health.

The last junior program of the term will be held at the High school on Friday evening. All are invited to attend.

George S. Wendell will conduct services and preach at the Berlin Baptist church on Sunday next at 2:30 p. m.

The industrial wagon of the Salvation Army canvassed Honesdale on Wednesday, and received many old garments.

The Rev. L. C. Murdock, D. D., will preach at the Methodist church next Sunday morning. Other services through the day as usual.

On Wednesday evening the saw mill of the Kimble Lumber Co. at Kimbles, was burned to the ground. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The Ushers' Comet dance at the Lyric hall on Wednesday evening was well attended. Music was furnished by Miss Helen Beck and Kevin O'Brien.

The First Quarterly Conference of the Honesdale Methodist Episcopal church will be held at 8 o'clock next Saturday evening. Dr. Murdock will preside.

The Past Quarterly meeting of the Carley Brook charge will be held at Torrey, on Sunday, May 22nd, at 2 p. m., after which the quarterly conference will be held. Dr. Murdock will preach.

A barn belonging to S. S. Olmstead, of Farview, was consumed by fire one night last week. Insurance to the amount of $500 was carried in the Wayne County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

The following composed a Comet Party at the golf links on Tuesday evening: Misses Mae Penwarden, Elvase Krantz, Florence Watts and Mrs. O. M. Spettigue, Jr.; Messrs. O. M. Spettigue, Jr., Joseph A. Bodie, Jr., Dr. G. C. Butler and F. A. Jenkins.

The Republicans now have four candidates in the field for the nomination of Representative, namely: William C. Ames, A. L. Bishop, H. C. Jackson, and Fred Riechenbacher. The primaries will be held on June 4th, and every Republican should go to the polls and vote for his choice.

Representative Langham, of Pennsylvania, has introduced a bill by which it is proposed to increase the pensions of all soldiers now receiving pensions under $20 a month. It provides that those receiving $12 or less shall be advanced to $16; those receiving $16 and less than $20 to be advanced to $20.

Captain Carl J. Kelly left on Thursday noon for Mt. Gretna, where a number of the officers of the Thirtieth regiment will spend a week at a camp of instruction to be conducted under the auspices of the state by officers of the regular army. First Lieutenant W. H. Mumford and Second Lieutenant E. F. Doney are also among the party.

A number of Honesdale people remained up on Wednesday night with a view of witnessing the sweeping of old mother earth by the tail of the comet, but all were disappointed as nothing was visible, and the only difference in the appearance in the sky was an increased brightness in the western portion of the heavens.

Krantz & Smith have received a very satisfactory offer to locate their business in another town. Messrs. Sell & Krantz will leave to-day to meet the parties, and if proper arrangements can be made, will at once close the deal, and arrange for removal. We hope for Honesdale's sake that this deal will not be consummated. We need every factory and every workman, as every payroll that leaves town is a loss to our merchants and town.

Persons who are skeptical that the comet has any effect on the earth are advised to travel to Skelportown, N. J., where David Easton has a large collection of chickens. For the last week those chickens have been observing the comet season by sleeping. But Easton's hens still lay eggs, although they won't wake up long enough to cackle about it. Easton has fourteen laying hens. Each morning when he goes out to see if the flock has awakened he turns over each of those hens as if she were a marble statue. Underneath he always finds an egg.

I note that Hon. A. T. Searle, of Honesdale, president judge of the Wayne county courts, is presiding at the court of Quarter Sessions of Lackawanna county this week. This, I believe, is the third full week that Judge Searle has heard cases in the court of Quarter Sessions in this city. He has also presided at special sessions in Scranton and Wilkes-Barre and has given universal satisfaction that has stamped him a jurist of unquestioned ability. Judge Searle began his legal career in Honesdale in 1882 when he was admitted to the Wayne county bar. Hon. J. Benj. Dimmick of this city was a candidate at the same time, and Mayor Dimmick and Judge Searle stood side by side as they took the oath upon being admitted to practice as attorneys. Mayor Dimmick soon after turned his attention to banking, while Judge Searle stuck to law. While yet young men both have achieved success that comes to but few in the struggle of life. Judge Searle, I understand, will go to Harrisburg next week to preside at the courts in that city.—Tribune-Republican.

L. Sadler, who is employed by Kelly & Steinman, has moved to Deposit, and is now occupying C. D. Hayne's house on Second street, that city.

The eight-hour law for telegraphers has been declared constitutional by the Supreme Court, and the Erie Railroad Company put the law into effect on May 8th.

The gong sounded an alarm for fire at 11:52 a. m. on Thursday. The fire companies were soon on the way to the scene of the fire, which proved to be Frank Cory's barn on the rear of his Court street lot. The fire was caused by the burning of some rubbish in the yard, which ignited some material in the barn. The emergency hose, which had been placed near the factories at that point, was brought into use, and before the fire companies reached the scene, the fire was under control and soon extinguished. Hose Company No. 1 and Engine Company No. 3 both responded promptly. The loss was very slight.

Dr. Peterson has relaid his sidewalk on West Eleventh street by bringing it up to the grade. He has also overhauled his curbing so that a big improvement is noticeable.

THE WHITE PLACUE.

How to Ward Off the Dreaded Scourge of Consumption.

"How can I keep from catching tuberculosis? You say we breathe a whole colony of the germs into our systems every day. Is it pure luck that keeps a man from becoming a consumptive?"

This question is often asked of physicians, who tell you how great a percentage of the population has the disease, and you wonder how to keep out of that percentage yourself. The formula is simple. Every one gets the germs into his system, but if a man's condition is healthy they can't gain a foothold.

Avoid excess of every kind. If a man drinks or smokes too much he gives an opening for the attack of the disease germs. The corpuscles which nature made for the watchdogs of the system and which normally chase down and devour the injurious germs go to sleep at the switch and lose interest in hunting.

Don't eat too much. Get all the fresh air possible. It's still free.

Sleep with your bedroom windows down from the top and up from the bottom, and open 'em as wide as possible. But avoid drafts.

If you work with a man who is uncleanly reform him gently, but firmly. It may be a man's privilege to go unwashed, but no man has a license to become a passenger train for disease bacilli which have limitless transfer privileges.

Don't work too much. Don't rest too much.

If great care is taken there is no danger of infection even if you live with a consumptive. The patient must use a cup or paper that can be scalded out or burned. Clothing and bedding used by the patient must be boiled regularly. The patient's room must be kept free from carpets and hangings that would offer hiding places for germs. There should be separate dishes for the patient. There must be a generous use of antiseptics. The house must have plenty of fresh air and sunshine.

The Code of Slang.

It is rather a clever notion in a recent story to make two Americans communicate with each other by means of slang in a Central American republic at a time when all telegrams are carefully inspected. If they used Spanish, that, of course, would be immediately understood. If they used English the officials would find some one to translate it. As they had no cipher code prepared in advance, they could not resort to it. Consequently the first American telegraphs to the other American in "the great and potent code of slang." Here is a telegram which slipped through the fingers of the curious Central American officials: "His nibs skedaddled yesterday per jack rabbit line with all the coin in the kitty and the bundle of muslin he's spongy about. The bundle is six figures short. Our crowd in good shape, but we need the spondulics. You collar it. The main guy and the dry goods are headed for the briny. You know what to do. Bob."—Bookman.

Explained.

"Why do so many sick people in hospital wards like to be put in a bed next to a patient from the country?" said the young nurse to the house doctor.
"Graft," said the doctor. "Most country or suburban patients come from homes where there are chickens and maybe a cow. When the folks come in for a visit they bring eggs that were laid that morning and fresh milk, cream and butter. If the person lying beside the country patient is very sick he appeals to the sympathies of the country visitors, and the next time an extra egg and an extra pint of milk come."

Stomach Dead Man Still Lives

People who suffer from sour stomach, fermentation of food, distress after eating and indigestion, and seek relief in large chunks of artificial digestors, are killing their stomachs by inaction just as surely as the victim of morphine is deadening and injuring beyond repair every nerve in his body. What the stomach of every sufferer from indigestion needs is a good prescription that will build up his stomach, put strength, energy and elasticity into it, and make it sturdy enough to digest a hearty meal without artificial aid. The best prescription for indigestion ever written is sold by druggists everywhere and by G. W. Peil, and is rigidly guaranteed to build up the stomach and cure indigestion, or money back. This prescription is named Mi-ona, and is sold in small tablet in large boxes, for only 50 cents. Remember the name, Mi-ona stomach tablets. They never fail.
