HAWLEY & WILSONVILLE

A death of unusual sadness was that of Lula M. Oothoudt, the young wife of Floyd B. Oothoudt, who died at her home on Bellemont Hill Monday afternoon of peritonitis, being ill two weeks. The deceased came with her husband to Hawley from the northern part of New York State one year ago last December, and by her endearing qualities in this short time had won many friends. Owing to illness, none of the relatives were present, leaving the heart-broken husband to face his grief alone, but for the extreme kindness of the people of Hawley, who ever ready to answer to the call of distress, did everything possible to comfort the bereaved one, who has left to care for two little girls, the eldest being six years of age, and the youngest one year. The former has found a home with E. Tutill, and the latter has been taken by Mrs. Fred At-ford. The funeral was held from the home on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. B. P. Ripley officiating. Interment was made in the Eddy cemetery.

DIFFICULT OPERATION.

On an improvised operating table stretched over two seats in a car of a Long Island railroad train, James Corwood lay senseless while a surgeon amputated one of his legs. While the operation was performed, the train lurched and pitched, making the fast run to Jamaica, Corwood was run over at Bellemore, and put aboard to be taken to a hospital at Jamaica. A telegram was sent ahead to Rockville Centre, in response to which a physician boarded the train at that point. He saw an immediate operation was needed. He completed the task before the train reached Jamaica. At the hospital it was said Corwood had a chance of recovery because of the prompt treatment.

MEMORIAL DAY.

In the dream of northern poets,
The brave who in battle die
Fight on in the shadowy phalanx
In the fields of the upper sky;
And, as we read the sounding rhyme,
The reverent fancy hears
The ghostly ring of the viewless swords
And the clash of the spectral spears.

We think with imperious questionings
Of the brothers whom we have lost
And we try to track in death's mystery
The flight of each valiant ghost,
The northern myth comes back to us,
And we feel through our sorrow's night
That those young souls are striving still
Somewhere for truth and right.

A chosen corps, they are marching on
In a wider field than ours;
Those bright battalions still fulfil
The schemes of the heavenly powers;
And high, brave thoughts float down to us,
The echoes of that far fight,
Like the gleam of a distant picket's gun
Through the shades of the severing night.

No fear for them! In our lower field
Let us keep our arms unstained,
That at last we be worthy to stand with them
On the shifting heights they've gained.
We shall meet and greet in closing ranks,
In Time's declining sun,
When the bugles of God shall sound recall,
And the Battle of Life be won!

—John Hay.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR NOMINATION FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

FRED C. REICHENBACHER, Druggist, Honesdale, Pa.

Was born at Honesdale in 1864 and has always been a resident of the borough. He was educated in the Honesdale high school and learned the druggist's business in the pharmacy of C. C. Jadwin, and is still engaged in that calling. He has always been an active and consistent Republican, is well versed in and an able exponent of the principles of the party and wholly devoted to its interests. Mr. Reichenbacher is a member of the American Federation of Musicians. He was placed in nomination for state senator of the 14th district by the conferees of Wayne at Stroudsburg in 1908 and during the deadlock had the highest vote of any candidate; but notwithstanding the nomination belonged to Wayne, his name was withdrawn on the fifty-second ballot and the nomination went to Carbon county.

Turn out to Primaries Saturday, June 4, 1910.
