THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

Three cheers for the red, white and blue bodies of our mutilated children on the fifth of July.
Why not save up that boy of yours for a real war instead of offering him as a target on the Fourth of July?
The Fourth sometimes begins on the third and ends in five feet of a cemetery.
Just because a boy has too much to say is no reason why he should be presented with lockjaw, even though America is a free country.—Life.

DALZELL MAN ARRESTED.

Black Makes First Move in Contesting Election of Opponent.
Pittsburg, June 7.—The plurality of Representative John Dalzell in the primary fight for control of the congressional convention in his district is admittedly less than 300. His opponent, Dr. Robert J. Black, while admitting that the returns favor Dalzell by this number, says he has been counted out and that an honest recount will show that Dalzell has been beaten for re-nomination by 1,500 votes.
Black has formally demanded a recount, and already one Dalzell partisan has been arrested for alleged frauds, with evidence piling up that there were irregularities in many election districts.
J. Harry Evans, the man arrested, was a judge in a McKeesport polling place. He is charged with deliberately changing four votes from Black to votes for Dalzell, and when Black watchers protested they were thrown from the polling place and the count continued.
It is alleged that all through the district of 171 precincts this state of affairs existed. Dalzell had the machinery, and when the returns indicated he was beaten, it is said, the orders went out and were obeyed.

FEAR PRIEST RIDDEN KING.

Three Thousand Evangelicals Ready For Anti-Catholic Vote.
London, June 7.—Opposition to the proposed change in the form of the accession oath has reached the form of public demonstration. This was shown when 3,000 persons, members of the Established Church, sent to King George protesting that any attempt to alter the declaration would grievously hurt the feelings of the people and endanger the hard won liberties of the empire of Great Britain. A resolution was also passed vehemently opposing a revision of the oath and pledging "determined resistance to every attempt to tamper with this great constitutional safeguard."
Lord Kinnaird, who presided, denied that there was the slightest desire in the world to vex their Roman Catholic brethren; but, as he stated the matter, those who were taking the question in hand did not even dare to risk the possibility of seeing a priest ridden monarch ascend the throne of Great Britain. They were not, he added, going to barter their liberties at the demand of John Redmond and others of the Roman Catholic members of the house of commons who chanced to represent Ireland at this time.

ESTRADA'S OFFER.

Peace Proposition For a Limited Time Only.
Bluefields, Nicaragua (by Wireless from Colon), June 7.—President Estrada has given out this statement: "My peace offer made to the Madrid faction of the Nicaraguan government will hold for a limited period. If no satisfactory reply is forthcoming we shall direct a campaign against Managua, and I am sure that this time it will be successful. We are already preparing for this campaign. However, we prefer peace."
President Madrid's answer to General Estrada's appeal for peace was an order issued to the old government's representative, General Irias, to assemble added forces at Greytown for another assault on Bluefields. Estrada's counter consisted of instructions to Generals Mena and Chamorro to prepare for a movement against Greytown, the government base of supplies, and a campaign against Managua, on the Pacific coast.
These developments are cited as verifying the forecast that peace is entirely impossible in Nicaragua unless a stronger power intervenes.

TRYING ARMY MURDER.

Accused Former Baroness Appears in Court in Germany.
Berlin, June 7.—The trial of the former Baroness von Schonbeck, the heroine of the famous Allenstein garrison murder on Christmas day, 1907, began at Allenstein. The former baroness is now the wife of A. O. Weber, the foremost satirical artist in Berlin. Frau Weber appeared in court dressed completely in black and leaning on the arm of Mr. Weber. The proceedings were in camera.
On the date mentioned Major von Schonbeck, an artillery officer, was murdered by Captain von Goeben, another army officer, who was the lover of Frau von Schonbeck. The captain, who was arrested, at first maintained his innocence, but later on made a complete confession, wherein he implicated the baroness in the murder. An hour after making the confession Von Goeben blew his brains out.
