DOES HE REMAIN AN OFFICIAL?

Head of Lawrence (Mass.) City Government Found Guilty of Conspiracy-White Must Serve Three Years In House of Correction.

Salem, Mass., July 14 .- For the first time in the history of Massachusetts a mayor of a city has been sentenced to prison, and today the interesting question has been raised as to whether the imprisoned mayor can continue to hold office while serving his term.

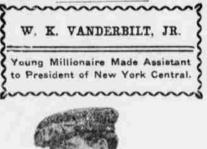

Found guilty of conspiring to secure the confirmation by the board of aldermen of the appointment of James A. Hamilton as chief of the Lawrence fire department and of conspiring later to secure Hamilton's removal from that position, Mayor William P. White of Lawrence was sentenced to serve three years in the Essex county house of correction and to pay a fine of $1,000. Samuel Kress was sentenced to two and a half years' imprisonment. Matthew Burns to two years and George D. Smart to a year and a half. Ernest Dube also was convicted but not sentenced, his case being placed on file because he had given evidence for the prosecution.

Hamilton is now under indictment for alleged bribery in securing confirmation of his appointment. It is expected that he will be placed on trial in September. He still holds his position as fire chief.

Mayor White made an impassioned address to the court, saying that he had been innocent of any wrong intention. Burns spoke in similar vein. while the other convicted mea made no statement.

Judge Schofield was not long in announcing his sentence. He spoke of the enormity of the offense of city officials in violating the dignity of their office. He also censured the other men for working in co-operation with the mayor in his illegal work.

Mayor White was first to receive his sentence. He showed many signs of nervousness. It was thought by his friends that he might be placed on probation on account of the dignity of his office. As the sentence was read by the clerk White fell back into his chair.

As illustrated in Fig. 1, steel bars one-half inch thick and from three to six feet long are driven into the posts, one end being sharpened and bent at right angles. Fig. 3 illustrates the method of fixing these rods.

In Fig. 1 a sectional view of the posts is shown with concrete setting about the decayed section. Fig. 2 illustrates the finished job.

Flowers and Shrubs.

Remove seed pods from shrubs that have flowered. Keep the leaves well cut even if they are a little burned. Pinch back chrysanthemums.

Cut runners from violets that are to be in house or cold frames.

Plant pansies and bulbs, daisies, forget-me-nots and silene in coldframes for early spring.

August is the month to sow seed for next year's perennials. There is a noble list of them.

House plants taken up in August and put in pots will make fine plants and flowers well during the winter.

Repot rubber plants, dracenas, palms and all house plants.

Keep carnations cut back to make good crowns.

Get the soil ready for frames and potting plants, using one-third good cow manure to two-thirds sod soil from old cow pasture made good and gers so angry that many have almost

From Yale. Those who have followed the work and career of Miss Jane Addams, founder of Hull House, Chleago, expressed little surprise when Yale recently gave her the degree of master of arts, the first time in the history of the university a woman has been thus honored, for she has well earned this distinction. Miss Addams did not invent, but she at least developed, a new field of sociology and has thrown more the feminine fancy and are shown in the cutest combinations of linen or batiste and embroidery or lace. Mere frills on a tiny band are very smart. Some of these are touched with color or edged with butter colored lace, the ple to the removal of sentimentality latter being a fad at present in Paris. From two to five inches is the correct width of these flat neck dressings. Fichus bid fair to be very popular, and very dainty and softening to the face are the new fichu collars. The vandyke shaped collar is quaint and charming to see on women of certain demure types. A braid of black satin has taken its place around the top of many of the plaited or kilted collars. So chic is the effect that one does not appreciate at once its double purpose of lengthening the usefulness of those hard to launder frills. Novelties in rabats, jabots and tiny collar bows are shown in odd shapes by the score, with many bits of Per-sian colorings to brighten them up.

"A beautiful young bride, the story ran, entered a corner grocery one morning and said:

'Have you got any jackpots, Mr. Sands?"

'No, ma'am,' Sands answered, and he had a smile behind his hand. 'I've got teapots and coffee pots, but Jackpots, I don't stock.

"'Oh, dear!' said the bride. frown wrinkled her smooth and beautiful brow. 'I'm sorry'! You see, Mr. Sands, my husband's mother used to cook for him, and nearly every night he talks in his sleep about a jackpot. So I thought I'd get one, for since he mentions it so often he must be used to it. Could you tell me, Mr. Sands, what they cook in jackpots?"

"'Greens, ma'am,' was the quick answer."

Preserving Spiders' Webs.

Naturalists employ an inveresting method to preserve all kinds of spi ders' webs. The webs are first sprayed with an atomizer with artists' shellac, and then, should they be of the ordinary geometric form, they are pressed carefully against a glass plate, the supporting strands being at the same time severed.

After the shellac has dried, the plates carrying the webs can be stored away in a cabinet.

Even dome-shaped webs may be preserved in their original form by spraying them with shellac and then allowing them to dry before removal from their supports. Many spiders' webs are very beautiful, and all are characteristic of the species to which they belong, so that, from a scientific standpoint, their permanent preservation is very desirable.

BAD BILIOUS ATTACK!

There is nothing that will more com-pletely knock out a man, or woman either, and entirely incapacitate them for work or pleasure, than a bad attack of billousness. You get up with a headache which increases if you stoop over. You are dizzy when you stand up straight again. Your tongue you stand up straight again. Your tongue is coated and your mouth tastes bad. You are irritable and out of sorts. That's biliousness.

If you want to get right again remove . If you want to get right again remove the cause. Your bowels are clogged. The natural sewers of the body fail to carry off the poisonous matter. The bile is being absorbed by the blood, and your whole body is crying out against the imposition. Take three Smith's Pineapple and Butter-nut Fills at once. Don't wait till you go to nut Fills at once. Don't wait till you go to bed. Then take two more when you retire. It is astonishing to see how quickly they will relieve. They restore the liver and stomach to normal activity and purify the blood. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep these little Vegetable Fills on hand. They ward off many ills.

good government for cities than any half dozen statesmen. She has lent the force of her personality and examfrom philanthrophy and the substitution of common sense for it. Miss Addams is the daughter of John H. Addams, who was for many years a member of the Illinois state legislature and a close friend of Lincoln. She was born fifty years ago in Cedarvfile, Ill., and early in life conceived the idea of devoting herself to the uplifting of the poor and to charitable work in general. After graduating from Rockford college in 1881 she went to Philadelphia to study medicine, but illness forced her to give up this plan. After a few years abroad Miss Addams returned to Chicago to take up her life among the working people, not so much to work for them as with them.

New York, July 14 .-- W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., is to turn from horse shows, automobile and motorboat speed contests and aeroplaning to serious business, such as made his family famous. His appointment to be assistant to the president of the New York Central railroad was announced by President W. C. Brown.

The announcement was simply made, and its official promulgation was obviously framed to minimize the start of surprise with which the public would receive the news.

It was set forth that, though people generally did not know it, Mr. Vanderbilt had been working for the New York Central system under Mr. Brown's direction for some time and had been found useful and efficient. Giving him a title in the executive department of the system was only a reward of merit.

Frames for the Hot-Bed.

In many instances, olled, waterproof cloth will answer every purpose for the hot or cold frames, and it is much less expensive than glass. Common white muslin may be used, and the simplest way is to saturate the muslin with pure, raw linseed oil; this may be put on the frames. Another way is to take three pints of pale linseed oil, one ounce of sugar of lead four ounces of white rosin. Grind and mix the sugar of lead in a little oil, then add the other materials and heat in an iron kettle, applying hot with a brush. Thin, stout manilla paper may be stretched over a frame and pasted firmly down with fresh flour paste, then painted on both sides with boiled linseed oil; but this is not so lasting as the muslin, nor to be recommended where the muslin may be had.

Lima Beans.

If pole lima beans were grown in drills and supported by net or other device, there would be less trouble with fungus diseases. This is a very profitable crop with gardeners living near large cities, but fungus troubles often lead to its abandonment. Another advantage in planting in drills and supporting on wires is that sprays may be applied with much greater thoroughness. Most fungus diseases of the beans may be readily controlled with Boreaux mixture.

Fertilizing Beans.

Fertilizing is an important matter in raising beans. If the soil is too poor it will not raise good beans and it will not do to apply barnyard manure directly to the crop. It pays better to apply manure a year in advance, and if the farmer will give this crop proper attention he will find it will give him as great returns for money and time invested as anything he can raise.

This is just one little "contribution" that Mr. Loeb has put into Uncle Sam's pocket since he began collecting moneys at the port of New York.
