LOCAL MENTION.

—Here is a minister who appreciates the editor. At a recent editorial convention he offered the following toast: "To save an editor from starvation take his paper and pay for it promptly. To save him from bankruptcy advertise in his paper liberally. To save him from despair send him every item of news of which you can get hold. To save him from profanity write your correspondence plainly on one side of the sheet and send it in as early as possible. To save him from mistakes, bury him. Dead people are the only ones who never make mistakes."

—Services will be held at the First Baptist church at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday. Preaching by the pastor.

—County Treasurer Fred Saunders has intestinal obstruction and is a seriously sick man. Dr. H. B. Ely is attending him.

—The Business Men's association will hold a special meeting Friday evening of this week to talk over the acceptance of the invitation of the Carbondale Business Men's association to join them in their picnic at Lake Lodore on Aug. 3.

—The postoffice has two letters for Dr. Lee B. Woodcock, "Lake Lacawac, Pa." and a letter for George B. Brandon, "Lake Lacawac, Pa." There is no such lake on all the list of 72 this county boasts, and the clerks do not know how to deliver Dr. Woodcock's and Mr. Brandon's letters.

—Arrangements are being made for the excursion to Lake Lodore Friday by the Pioneer City Druid society and the Druid Glee society of Olyphant. Among the events will be a competitive entertainment between the glee clubs of the two societies. A number of athletic events will take place.

—The Wyoming Valley Cut Glass company is preparing to commence work. Several new machines have been installed in the Delaware avenue armory and when the company begins operations it will employ from 15 to 20 men. Harry Doney, of Third street, who was formerly manager of the Pittston Cut Glass company, will act in a similar capacity with the new firm.—Pittston Gazette.

—E. H. Cortright, Wyman Kimble, John Crogan and Mike Bregstein got home Wednesday from their auto trip to Old Home week at Stroudsburg. The Cortright car after it got its new axle in place ran finely and good time was made, both going and returning. After leaving Milford the 28 miles to Stroudsburg was run at a 40-mile-an-hour clip over a road as nearly perfect as any in Pennsylvania. The Honesdale men were delighted with their outing and they say Stroudsburg knows how to handle a big reunion, but just the same they came home convinced that the Honesdale Old Home week of last year is not going to be beaten in a hurry by Stroudsburg or any other eastern Pennsylvania town.

—Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Vicinus on Tuesday evening, a son.

—Myron E. Dodge is getting along nicely and in a few days will be allowed to sit up.

—Rev. George S. Wendell will hold services at Dyberry Baptist church on Sunday at 2.30 p. m.

—The ball game with Carbondale Saturday afternoon will be called at 2.30. Carbondale expects to send from 300 to 500 rooters.

—Fred C. Shoell, the barber, is making preparations to install a modern steam heating plant for his entire building, shop, telephone office, home and all. O. M. Spettigue has the contract.

—The Toasted Corn Flake company have an auto delivery wagon in Honesdale this week. This company has several of these machines in operation and claim that they beat the horse or locomotive as a means of carrying their salesmen and selling the goods.

—Burglars got into the grocery store of Crosby & McGinnis some time Wednesday night and gobbled about $5 worth of candy, cigars and small sweet stuff. A back window was found half out and the fellows that got in, probably boys, stood on a box and went through the window that way, leaving no clue of any consequence.

—The treasury department at Washington has issued warning to the authorities against a counterfeit $2 bill said to be in circulation. So far as known none has yet been discovered in this vicinity, but a sharp lookout is being kept in view of the recent operations of a New York gang in this part of the state some of whom were sent to the federal prison for a long term.

—Borough Solicitor Charles A. McCarty was called on today to give an opinion as to the proposed changes in the grade in front of P. E. McGranaghan's property on South Main street. Mr. McGranaghan claims water flows back into his cesspipe and is likely to damage his property. Mr. McCarty told the street commissioner he preferred to render a written opinion, and this he will probably do presently.

—Mr. and Mrs. Mark V. Richards and son James leave Port Jervis on train 3 Saturday afternoon for Piqua, O. On Monday Mr. Richards will assume his new duties as managing editor of the Piqua Daily Call. They go a week earlier by reason of the fact that President Merritt C. Spedel expects to attend the Republican state convention as one of the delegates from Miami county. The convention will be in session at Columbus the greater part of the week.

—Wednesday morning while at work in the laboratory of his drug store O. T. Chambers met with a painful accident. He was mixing some soda syrup in a gallon glass jar when the jar slipped from his hand and in trying to catch it the jar struck the end of a table and the pieces of glass cut Mr. Chambers' left hand between the thumb and forefinger, also between the two middle fingers. Dr. H. B. Ely was called and found it necessary to take seven stitches in the hand to close the wounds.

—G. E. Webb of New York, one of the leading hotel men of the country, is in Scranton negotiating, it is said, for the management of Hotel Jermyn. A conference was held between the executors of the Jermyn estate, F. S. Godfrey, the present lessee of the property, and Mr. Webb, with the object, it is understood, of acting on a proposition made Mr. Godfrey to immediately turn over the lease of the property to the Jermyn estate. Mr. Webb's home is in Ellenville, N. Y. He has been manager of the Ansonia in New York and he was at one time steward in the Plaza hotel in that city. He has also managed hotels in Norfolk, Va., and other large cities.

—Joseph Ackerman, Charles McCann, Sr., P. F. McCann, P. J. McDonough and G. A. Shevlin of New York left Carbondale Monday afternoon about 2 o'clock on a fishing trip. They returned about 11 in the evening. During their trip they succeeded in getting 40 pounds of bass and trout, and there was much speculation among their friends as to where they had made the haul. Later, however, it developed that the fish had been presented to the fishermen by James Riley, father-in-law of Mr. Ackerman, who is spending the summer at Pleasant Mount. One of the bass, it is claimed, weighed seven pounds and two ounces, another weighed five pounds, and a third weighed nearly four pounds.

—Attorney E. C. Mumford and C. M. Betz went fishing Wednesday and were gone all day. They were out for bass and they went "up the Delaware." At 4 in the morning their lines were in the water and before the sun sank behind the Pennsylvania hills the fishermen from Honesdale had landed 24 large and luscious ones. Men from the north of the county and one or two from the New York side of the river thought Mr. Mumford and Mr. Betz had experienced great luck, but Mr. Mumford told them he felt quite sure he could beat that day's catch in strictly Wayne county water. Both men came home elated by their outing up river and today their friends have not had to press them in order to get details of their success. Mr. Mumford remarked that he wished it could rain today or tomorrow so he could take a trout trip to supplement his bass trip.

—An effort is being made by local business men to have the trunk line road from Honesdale to Newburg pass through Callicoon. A party from here will go to Honesdale in a few days in an endeavor to interest parties in the latter place.—Sullivan County Democrat.

—James Cannon of Scranton, a brakeman on the Delaware and Hudson, received a severe laceration on the head and had a couple of ribs fractured Tuesday afternoon by being caught between passenger coaches while making up an excursion train at Lake Lodore. His injuries were dressed and he was removed to his home.

—F. O. Flagg, who is to open up where the Boston store did business, bought the stock and fixtures, including the cash register, for $540 at Buel Dodge's trustee sale Wednesday. The stock brought $500 and the register $40, but on the register there is $65 due the factory. N. B. Spencer was auctioneer and about all the business men in town who could get away at 3 in the afternoon crowded into the store. The bidding, however, was not very brisk. Mr. Flagg, the new proprietor, comes from Connecticut. He will open up in a few days, he says.

—The fellow who stops his paper because he becomes offended at some item that does not suit his fancy always imagines he is getting even with the publisher, but he is never missed. This only happens occasionally, for there are only a few people in any community who imagine a paper should contain nothing but what they approve of.

AUTO FEELING ACROSS RIVER?

Commissioner Smith of Jersey Writes Commissioner Hunter Sharp Letter.

A despatch from Trenton, N. J., says: Threatening to retaliate upon the motorists of Pennsylvania unless the discrimination of the Keystone state against those of New Jersey is removed, State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Smith has written a lengthy letter to John W. Hunter, state highway commissioner of Pennsylvania, requesting that Pennsylvania extend to New Jersey motorists the privileges provided for in the adjoining state's reciprocal motor vehicle law. Commissioner Smith goes at length into the details of New Jersey's system of improved roads, the absence of toll roads, the large amounts expended annually to keep the roads in repair, so that they shall always afford good riding for automobilists, and the comparatively small cost of a non-resident motorist's privilege. He also recites the fact that should Pennsylvania see fit to provide as many good roads in proportion to its size as New Jersey, it would cost more than $100,000,000; that the expense and annoyance of Pennsylvania's numerous toll roads more than balance the expense and annoyance of obtaining a New Jersey non-resident automobile license, and points out that the police departments of numerous Pennsylvania municipalities have special orders to look out for and annoy New Jersey automobilists. Commissioner Smith further says, in part: "New Jersey motorists desiring to operate their cars in Pennsylvania have on several occasions called the attention of this department to the construction placed on the provisions of the Pennsylvania reciprocal law relating to motor vehicles, which provides that privileges granted to non-residents shall not apply to residents of those states that do not extend similar privileges to residents of Pennsylvania. The privileges referred to are that non-residents shall be exempt from the provisions of the act for a period of 10 days if they have complied with the registration laws of the state in which they reside.

"To New Jersey motorists reciprocity is denied, notwithstanding that the New Jersey law provides non-resident privileges of eight days upon registration and the payment of a nominal fee, and yet in dealing with residents of other states, many of whose registration laws are in many respects wholly dissimilar to those of Pennsylvania, a liberal construction of the reciprocal provision is made, and residents of other states are accordingly extended courtesies which are denied residents of New Jersey. In addition to this, the police departments of many Pennsylvania municipalities have issued orders specially directing that the automobile law shall be strictly enforced against residents of New Jersey.

"For this reason two of the largest clubs of New Jersey have, by resolution, and many motorists have personally urged me to exercise the prerogative of the department and refrain from issuing tourists' licenses to residents of Pennsylvania. I dislike very much to pursue such a course, and will not do so except as a last resort. Retaliatory measures seem to me to be methods of warfare coming to us from a less enlightened civilization, to be used only when individual rights can be obtained in no other way. I am confident that some way may be found whereby citizens of New Jersey will not be discriminated against while touring in your state. If your law is to be strictly construed, I am sure that your authorities will, upon reflection, so construe it to affect all alike. If a liberal construction is to be employed, I trust all will receive the benefits.

CAR THIEVES IN THE TOILS

at Hawley that a car in the yard at that point had been broken and robbed of eight cases and one barrel of beer. An investigation was started and the empty bottles were found strewn about the yard, though it was discovered that some of the beer had been taken up into the village and distributed among the neighbors of some of the men. They got Tyler, Lieut. Ralph went on, and he confessed to his own share of the job and told the names of his companions.

Then Tyler was put in the witness chair. He was not asked many questions. He told how on the night of July 1 the crowd, six strong, went to the car and opened it, got out the beer, drank up the whole of it, and tossed the bottles away. "I didn't have a thing to do with it," interrupted Wright from his seat six feet away.

Justice Smith ordered Wright to furnish bonds of $200 or stand committed. Wright said he thought his father in Pike county would go bonds for him and he said he had communicated with him, but the prisoner did not seem very hopeful. His wife was in the corridor and before Wright was committed Detective Spencer took him out to bid her goodbye.
