Eloping couples from Pennsylvania and others from the Keystone state who go to Binghamton, N. Y., to wed are becoming a source of considerable expense to the city taxpayers, says the Binghamton Press.

The law provides that a minister or person registering the record of a marriage shall be entitled to a fee of 25 cents for each wedding recorded. At the last meeting of the health board one minister had a bill of $50 for 200 marriages to be audited. Of the $28 marriages recorded last year, it is estimated that nearly 600 were from Pennsylvania, which would mean that eloping couples cost the local taxpayers $150.

An auto owner not totally unknown in Wayne county went with a party of three for a ride in Pike county. Night overtaking them on the road about 30 miles from Honesdale, they stopped at a hotel for supper and lodging and to have the mud scraped off the machine. Two meals and one lodging for the party came to $19. That was paid without a holler. The man who scraped and brushed the machine said he thought he ought to have $4. He got it. The man who paid the two bills says 19 and four make 23, according to his arithmetic, but that he proposes to keep his auto and entertain his friends, for all the hotel men and the stable help in Pike and Monroe are so steep in their charges.

Judge A. T. Searle has handed down an opinion refusing a new trial in the case of M. J. Lavin against Maria B. Hull. Lavin is a butcher in Olyphant, where Mrs. Hull lives. Six or eight years ago Joseph A. Hull, son of the defendant, bought goods of Lavin and when the bill amounted to a little more than $100 and Hull showed no disposition to pay, Lavin cut off his meat supply. Mrs. Hull agreed to pay for whatever her son ordered and Lavin again provided him meat. When the bill amounted to $213.15, on April 25, 1904, and Mrs. Hull had paid nothing, Lavin once more shut down on the meat supply and sued. A jury gave him a verdict for the full amount and interest from April 25, 1904. The plaintiff's counsel applied for a new trial, which was refused.

MORE CARBONDALE GAMES?

Not Likely, Says Honesdale Captain, Who Got Two Blows.

Capt. Billy Kupper said Monday that he didn't think that his team would play Carbondale again after the dirty treatment, the rowdiness and the rank umpiring brought forth by Sunday's game at Carbondale.

"It was the worst thing I ever saw," said the Honesdale captain. "They got to throwing stones and I was hit twice myself. Both were small stones and didn't hurt much, but I knew I was hit. "It isn't worth while to play with men who can't conduct themselves like gentlemen, and I don't think my team ought to risk it again."

A Word About The Lord Case.

People who read the news of the fracas at Equinunk which resulted in the death of Silas E. Lord should bear in mind that the news which appears in our county papers, gathered and printed by them, is obtained under difficulties and is very apt to be twisted and warped to suit the fancy of those who do the telling.

In most instances it is colored to match the prejudice or sympathy of the relator.

The defence very sensibly has made no public statement and evidently is confident that when the testimony is sifted in court the jurors will get the truth of the case and that justice will be done then. Until then the general public should be content to reserve judgment.

TWO BALL GAMES

LOCALS GOT ONE PLAYED HERE, AND IT WAS A CLEAN GAME, BUT CARBONDALE CONTEST SUNDAY PROVED TO BE DIRTY WRANGLE—HONESDALE TEAM WAS STONED.

On Saturday the Carbondale team, known as "Nick Murtaugh's Pets," came to the Maple City and were defeated in a good, clean game by a score of 5 to 4. The pitcher for the visitors, listed as one McAndrew, receives more letters directed to Frank Mayoock of Miners Mills than he gets by using the name of McAndrew. Be that as it may, McAndrew lost his bearings in the sixth, when four singles and an error gave the home team three runs and the game.

Gregor pitched a good game for the locals. The tabulated score follows:

HONESDALE,		R. H. O. A. E.
Weaver, 1b2	2	1	1	0
Brader, 3b1	1	1	0	1
Sandercock, c1	2	7	3	1
Hattler, if0	3	0	0	1
Kupper, ss0	1	1	1	1
Mangan, 2b0	0	2	1	0
Murray, cf0	1	1	0	0
Polt, rf1	0	1	1	0
Gregor, p0	1	3	1	1
Totals5	11	21	8	5

CARBONDALE,		R. H. O. A. E.
Giles, ss0	1	3	0	3
Murray, 3b0	0	0	2	0
Rosler, c1	1	2	0	0
Cook, cf1	1	0	0	0
Boules, c0	0	6	0	0
Miscel, rf1	0	1	0	0
Healy, 2b0	0	0	2	0
Clune, 1b0	0	7	0	0
McAndrew, p0	2	0	1	0
Totals4	5	20	5	3

Two base hits, Hattler, Rosler; stolen bases, Honesdale 4, Carbondale 2; sacrifice hits, Murray and Healy 5; bases on balls, off McAndrew 3, off Gregor 2; umpires, Campbell and Balles; time of game, 1.40.

Score by Innings:
Honesdale1 0 1 0 0 3 0—5
Carbondale ...0 0 0 1 1 2 0—4

Carbondale 5; Honesdale 0.

The above represents the umpire's score of the Honesdale-Carbondale game in the latter city Sunday. The Maple City boys went to Carbondale to play ball for clean sport and nothing else. One James Campbell of Carbondale, who impersonated the umpire, could not see it that way. In the first he began to rub it into Honesdale. In the third, with the bases full, Gregor slashed out as clean a two-base hit as Sunday was a warm day, but "Umpire" Campbell could not see it in that light. He called the ball foul. This was a crisis for the Honesdale team.

To make a long story short, it took two and one-half hours to play five innings of this sort of ball, and in this length of time Honesdale was licked by a score of 5 to 0. A tabulated score of a game of this kind would be a detriment to the national game, so none is given.

FREE BRIDGE COMMISSION.

Goes on Tour of Inspection Along the Delaware River.

The Delaware river free bridge commission, consisting of Hon. Winslow M. Mead, deputy superintendent of public works of New York, of Albany, in behalf of New York state, and Chairman Alfred Marvin of Matamoras, Hon. Clarence J. Buckman of Bucks county and Hon. Miles C. Rowland of Kimbles, the commission appointed by Gov. Edwin S. Stuart of Pennsylvania, and M. C. Stary of Sawkill, clerk of the Pennsylvania commission on the part of Pennsylvania, met for their joint organization meeting at the law offices of Hon. Alfred Marvin in the postoffice building, Port Jervis, N. Y.

After organization, they met the directors of the Barret Bridge company, with whom the commission took up the question of that bridge as the first in its line of inquiry and investigation, also making a personal inspection of the bridge property.

The entire commission left for Pond Eddy on the 11.55 train, from there going to Shohola and Lackawaxen and as far as Hancock, meeting the officers of each bridge crossing the Delaware between the states of New York and Pennsylvania between Port Jervis and that place, reporting their results of the investigation to the next legislatures of both states as a basis for proposed laws for the two states to purchase the bridges and to free them of tolls, and for the perpetual care and custody of them by the states of New York and Pennsylvania jointly. In a week or so the Pennsylvania commission will meet that of New Jersey for the same purpose.

This Pennsylvania commission is the result of a joint resolution introduced by Mr. Marvin in the last legislature and passed by that body, the appointments having been made by Gov. Stuart in conformity therewith.
