CUARDING TRACK. Efforts to Prevent New D. and H. Dynamiting.

ONE KILLED; SIX ARE INJURED.

Serious Disturbances Follow Strike of Section Hands In Pennsylvania. Indiana Attorney General Still Watching Situation.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 26.-A small army of special officers today guard the track of the Delwaare and Hudson rallroad.

Serious rioting, dynamiting and train wrecking have occurred along the line between this city and Carbondale, on which 1,200 section hands are striking.

In a riot at Carbondale one was killed and six injured, the tracks of the railroad beneath the Laurel line viaduct were dynamited and blown out, while in the railroad yards at Hudson, three miles from this city, the fishplates on a number of the tracks were removed, splkes were drawn and the rails replaced so that they were spread two inches wider. Similar work was done in the Carbondale yards, and as a result locomotives were derailed in each yard and more serious accidents were narrowly avoided.

A mob of about 500 attacked strike breakers at Carbondale and several hundred shots were fired, the police trying to protect the strike breakers. In the melee James Clecone was shot through the head. He died a few hours later. Several arrests have been made. Among the prisoners are George D. Gentile, George Wilson, Thomas Johnson, John Marco, James Ernest and William Sullivan. All are charged with rioting. Ciccone was a striker. A number were injured and carried away by friends

The tracks were dynamited at Avoca and torn to pieces. The shock shook the village, and it took a number of hours to make repairs.

The misplacing of the tracks at the Hudson and the Carbondale yards also occurred during the night, and the wires connected with the signal system in many places along the road were tampered with so that wrong signals would be given.

A number of troopers of the state constabulary have been distributed along the road to protect the strike breakers, and the railroad company is also protecting the road with a number of special officers.

Hold Troops In Readiness.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 26.-Brigadier General William J. McKee, commanding the Indiana national guard, who was sent to South Bend Sunday. night to investigate the contention of the Grand Trunk railroad company that state troops were needed to quell riots by strikers and strike sympathizers in the Grand Trunk yards in that city, reported to Governor Marshall that the local authorities had the INVISIBLE IN SLEEP.

Fish Have Ability to Change from Bright to Pale Hues, "That file fish is asleep," said the attendant.

"How do you know," the visitor to the aquarium asked. "But I can't see him by the way.

"That's how I know. He, like many other fish, changes color on going off. Awake he is mottled with brown and dark olive green, a handsome, sombrely splend'd object. Asleep he is a pallid gray, with darker wings and tail, a ghost of a file fish, practically invisible. "Many of the weaker fish, especfally in the tropics, have this abilfty to change from a bright to a pale, vague hue when they sleep. Thus they sleep safely. Otherwise their slumber would end between a bigger fish's jaws.

"A wonderful natural dispensation isn't it. Suppose you were a criminal, being pursued hotly, and whenever you grew tired you could throw yoursef under a tree and doze off, conscious that in your sleep no one could see you?"-New York Sun.

No Soft Bed for Him,

There is an immensely rich man in New York who never slept on a bed or eiderdown, goose feathers, felt, hair or excelsior. When a boy, ho slept on a pallet of straw. When a young man his bed was an old-fashioned shuck mattress in the making of which he assisted to the extent of sorting the shucks. In the army (1861-'65) he was glad to sleep on the ground. Later, as a civil englneer, he reposed on a puncheon; and now, rolling in wealth, goes to bed every night on a trundle bed which he bought from his aged "nigger This affair is not over mammy." fourteen inches high, and is corded up with half-inch hemp. There is no mattress, and of course there are no springs. A rag quilt covers the ropes, another covers his body as he sleeps. His health is superb .- New York Press.

How the Scarecrow Earns Wages,

As he stands in the middle of the flat Suffolk field there is little to show that he is not the ordinary inanimate scarecrow. He stands motionless for five minutes at a time, and only when a bird is tempted by the fresh corn just appearing above the ground does he show any sign of But then it is that the scarelife. scrow moves; he hits an old tin can with the rusty handle of a shovel and frightens the birds and makes them fly quickly out of sight. So he spends his day this old bent man and at the end he is paid 18 pence. He is the village scarecrow .--- London Daily Mail.

Forest Fires,

There is one feature which does not always enter into expert estimates of the world's timber supplies. and that is the terrible prevalence of destructive forest fires which annually devastate enormous tracts both in the United States and Canada More destruction is wrought by these terrible outbreaks in a few days, particularly in pine and fir forests, than would be brought about by years of Journal.

nation For Governor-Roosevelt Is Silent Concerning Fight.

Columbus, O., July 26 .- The first session of the Republican state convention, which is to nominate a candidate for governor and state officers to oppose the Democratic state ticket headed by Governor Judson Harmon, will be called to order in Memorial hall at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Representative Nicholas Longworth of Cincinnati, the temporary chairman of the convention, in his speech is to defend the Taft policies as to the Payne-Aldrich bill and other national measures adopted at Washington last winter. He is also to defend past Republican state administrations and to attack the Democratic platform on which Governor Harmon was renominated at Dayton several weeks ago. Governor Harmon and Representative Longworth are neighbors in Cincinnati and have long been personal friends although politically opposed to each other. President Taft and Representative Longworth are also home neighbors in cincinnati and the Tafts and the Longworths are intimate politically and locally in Washington and at Bevelry.

President Taft has long been fond of Mr. Longworth not because the latter is ex-President Roosevelt's son-in-law, but because of the intimate associations of years. While it is accepted here that President Taft on the visit of Senator Burton and Senator Dick to Beverly made it clear that he desired to keep aloof from interfering in the work of this convention he nevertheless as a citizen of Ohlo had a right to his personal views as to a candidate for governor and it is understood that the president did not look in the keen favor upon the candidacies of either Judge Aren Britt Brown of Dayton or James Rudolph Garfield of Montor. It has become known in the inner circles of the convention that the nomination of Mr. Longworth for governor would not be displeasing to President Taft, but on the contrary would receive his hearty approval.

The prediction is freely expressed that should the warring factors continue their bitter work there will be but one outcome, the nomination of Mr. Longworth.

The warring Republican leaders declared that Judge Brown would enter the convention with 300 delegates at his back, Warren G. Harding of Marion 300, Carmi A. Thompson of Ironton 300 and Garfield 125. This would about absorb the 1.066 delegates comprising the convention.

George B. Cox, the burly boss of He was clearly chafing under the sec-Cincinnati, continues to predict Judge Brown's nomination, declaring he had no second choice, and yet he remembered how Harding in 1904 eulogized him as the Napoleon of Cincinnati Republican politics. But, while grateful to Harding for his sentiments, Cox was unalterably for Brown. As to Garfield, Cox has no use for him. All sorts of reports are being circulated among the delegates to the convention. One of these is the declaration on the part of Mr. Garfield's intl- fairs

GEORGE WESTINGHOUSE. Corporation Discord Will End In Retirement of President.

COPYRIGHT, BY GESSFORD, N.Y.

Pittsburg, July 26 .- There was a great stir in Westinghouse circles when it became known that George Westinghouse would most likely not be re-elected as president of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company at the directors' meeting to be held soon. Over his own signature in a Pittsburg paper Mr. Westinghouse says he will "neither be present not represented" at the stockholders' meeting to be held next Wednesday. Mr. Westinghouse also makes other remarks reflecting on the present management of the company's affairs, and particularly attacks Robert Mather, chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company. This draws from Joseph Marsh of Pittsburg, one of the Westinghouse board and one of the big bankers of Pittsburg, a rather caustic reply to Mr. Westinghouse, in effect that the trouble does not lie between Mr. Westinghouse and Chairman Mather alone, but that Mr. Westinchouse's views are and have been at variance with every other member of the board-that Mr. Westinghouse is opposed in the ratio of 15 to 1.

New York, July 26.-It has been known in Wall street for some time that George Westinghouse expects to withdraw without opposition from the presidency of the Westinghouse Electrie and Manufacturing company. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the company will be held tomorrow and it is thought that Mr. Westinghouse will be replaced at the first meeting of the directors after this. After the reorganization of the company Robert Mather, who was president of the Rock Island company, was made chairman of the board. It seemed to be believed that Mr. Westinghouse was primarily an inventor, and most of the management was intrusted to Mr. Mather. The president belleved in a policy of expansion and from time to time he criticised the attitude and doings of his associates.

Judges' Wigs.

The wig is only worn by English barristers to give them a stern, judicial appearance, and no one can say that it fails in this respect. The custom was originated by a French judge in the seventeenth century when, hap-pening to don a marquis' wig one day, he found it gave him such a stern and dignified appearance that he decided to get one for himself and wear it at all times in court. This he did, and the result was so satisfactory from a legal point of view that not only judges, but barristers also, took up the custom throughout Europe.-London Graphle, Acquitted.

"Sir!" said the young woman, with what seemed to be indignation.

- The young man looked embarrassed. "Yes, I did kiss you," he admitted, 'but I was impulsively insane."
- "That means that a man would be lunatic to kiss me?"
- "Well, any man of discretion would be just crazy to kiss you."

This seemed to end the strain, and, no jury being present to muddle affairs, a satisfactory verdict was reached.

REPUBLICANS GROW ACTIVE.

Discord Among Tennessee Democrats Gives Opponents Hope of Victory.

Memphis, Tenn., July 26.-Taking advantage of the break in Democratic ranks in Tennessee and encouraged by the hostile attitude of many lifelong Democrats all over the state to the present administration headed by Governor Malcolm R. Patterson, Democratic candidate for a third term, Republicans have formaily opened headquarters in Memphis for the first time in more than twenty-five years. Candidates in both county and state elections have been announced and a systematic canvass of the local situation is being made for the judiciary election Aug. 4, when new supreme court judges and other officers will be chosen.

Tennessee Republicans hope to reclaim this district, which is known as the biggest voting district in the state. It was at one time Republican.

The Play and the Cigar

Henry J. Byron, one of the wittlest of English playwrights of a score of years ago, remarked on one occasion: "A play is like a cigar. If it's good, everybody wants a box. If it's bad, all the puffing in the world won't make it go ...

worth for governor would in a measure offset this alleged insurrection, for Mr. Roosevelt might feel it agreeable and convenient to come into President Taft's state and make a speech or two for Mr. Longworth.

Taft Watching Ohio.

Rockland, Me., July 26.-President Taft has his eyes on Columbus, O., where the candidates will be named who, it is hoped, will check the presidential ambition of Governor Judson Harmon. The president will be in direct communication with Columbus today and tomorrow, and it will be easy for him to send a telegram to Columbus that might be potent in the event of a deadlock.

The president's personal choice for the nomination is Congressman Nicholas Longworth, but he will be satisfied with any candidate with the possible exception of James R. Garfield, whose nomination would be a direct slap at the president.
