

A CHAT WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

BEACH LAKE.

Quite a rivalry exists among the different summer boarding houses as to which shelters the best card player. In a contest just closed Miss Sarah Shine of New York, who represented the excellent house presided over by Mrs. Chester Calkins, won the prize in the euchre contest. This prize was a handsome cream pitcher and spoon holder. Card playing is one of the chief amusements during the evenings, especially during inclement weather, and in good weather the porches are crowded with sets of players and the pleasant bandage and laughter can be heard until bedtime.

LAKEVILLE.

Miss Elizabeth Alpha entertained her friend, Miss Freda Guiger of Scranton, recently.
 Arthur Ammerman is visiting relatives in this vicinity.
 Elna Nelson of Bloomsburg State Normal school was a very pleasant and welcome caller in this place Thursday.
 Mrs. Sarah Pennell recently visited friends and relatives in Dunmore and Carbondale.
 Maxwell Beasler of New York is spending his vacation with his uncle at this place.
 A number of New Yorkers and Scrantonians are guests at the Reaumont.
 Mrs. A. Pelton of Barryville, N. Y., was the guest of Charles Daniels' and family lately.
 Mrs. Charles Raushmeir of Honesdale recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bishop.
 Marcy Ely of Baltimore Medical college and his cousin of Binghamton, N. Y., spent last week with A. Goble and family.
 Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sheeley and daughter, of Port Jervis, N. Y., are home for a time.
 Last week James Sheeley by accident nearly amputated his index finger, which is doing nicely now.
 Fred Wilson of Taylor attended the Rebekah fair at this place Wednesday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lovell entertained their son-in-law, R. Evans, and two sons. The latter have spent a week here.
 Five young men are enjoying a fishing trip camping along Locklin's lake here.
 Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Harloe and family of Ledgedale were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Utt Sunday.
 Mrs. William Reineke of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mrs. F. Tuttle of Schenectady, N. Y., are visiting relatives in this vicinity.
 Miss Maude E. Locklin is suffering intensely with a broken arm and many bruises as the result of an automobile accident. Dr. White of Ariel is in attendance.
 Hyman Cohen returned to his business in New York Monday.
 Norman Bishop of Honesdale is home for a time.
 Mr. James, the purchaser of the Long pond property, was a caller in this place last week.

Fairs are the best means of recreation and education, and all should attend as many fairs as possible, but above all do not miss this fair.

WAYMART.

Miss Ethel Hempstead and Miss Lydia Bowker have returned to their home at Inwood, L. I., after a two weeks' visit at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Bush.
 Miss Nora Finch of Jermyon has been spending a few days at the homes of her friends, Mrs. Ada Griffith and Rev. Bush.
 The recent ice cream and cake social by the league of the M. E. church was a fine success.
 Rev. Richard M. Pascoe of Girdford, N. Y., preached an excellent sermon in the M. E. church last Sunday evening. Rev. Pascoe was reared in this section and his trip here was a pleasure to him and his friends.
 Rev. Burch of the M. E. church and Rev. Wright of the Presbyterian church conducted the funeral of John O'Dell at Prompton Tuesday. Mr. O'Dell was a young man of splendid parts and his death brings great sorrow to his family and a host of friends.
 The M. E. Sunday school held its annual picnic at Elk lake Thursday. Many old and young people were present. A pleasant outing was experienced by all and the financial results to the school were most gratifying.

GOULDSBORO.

Death and Burial of Frederick Dierolf—Mr. and Mrs. Catterson Surprised.
 The funeral of Frederick Dierolf, who died suddenly of heart failure at 5:30 Wednesday morning at his home on Main street, was held from the Grace Lutheran church at 2:30 Friday afternoon. Rev. Rufus E. Ken officiated. The funeral was very largely attended. A large number were present from Scranton, Wilkes-Barre and other towns. There were many beautiful floral tributes from his friends. Interment was in the family plot in Lehigh cemetery, where his first wife and children are buried. The services at the grave were conducted by Gouldsboro Lodge, No. 298, I. O. O. F. He was 39 years old and came to America from Germany in 1892, securing a position as baker with Zelders in Scranton in May, 1893. He was united in marriage to Miss Maria Margold and shortly afterward came to Gouldsboro and purchased the P. O. S. of A. hall, then a new building, which he remodeled into a large double dwelling with a public hall, ice cream parlors and modern bakery. His first wife died in December, 1896, and June 12, 1898 he married Emma Zainn of Reider, Germany. There are five children dead. One, Anna Pauline, was taken sick during the Memorial day services this year in the cemetery and died in a few days. He is survived by his father, one brother and three sisters in Germany, his wife and two children, Freda and Fred, in this country.

Mr. and Mrs. William Matthews are entertaining the following guests at their home at Klondike: Jacob Mauves and niece, Gertrude Johns, of Ridgeway Park and Miss Alice Beehler of Wilkes-Barre.
 The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Catterson on Second street was the scene of a very delightful surprise party. The occasion was the 51st wedding anniversary. Last year they celebrated their golden wedding. All their family were home and many friends as well. This year five daughters decided to give them a little surprise and came unexpectedly to their parents, bearing presents and baskets and boxes of good things, fruit cakes and all the delicacies that could be provided and a very happy day was spent by all. Although Mr. and Mrs. Catterson are well along on life's journey, they seem much younger. Both have jovial, kindly dispositions and have hosts of friends who trust they may be spared to enjoy many more anniversaries. The daughters present were Mrs. Howard Dixon and son, James, Mrs. Charles Monninge and daughter, Mary, and Miss Sue Catterson of Scranton, Mrs. W. J. Marshall from Orange, N. J., and Mrs. M. J. Spiegel of Thornhurst.

J. B. Williams, attorney, of Stroudsburg, and sister, Miss Martha Williams, called on Gouldsboro friends Saturday. Mr. Williams is spending his vacation at his old home at South Sterling.
 Emmett Cassidy of Scranton called on old friends and neighbors here the last of the week.
 Miss Marilla Fairless of West End is spending her vacation with friends in New York and Jersey City.
 Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Leade are entertaining their daughters, Mrs. Albert Smith of Dickson City, Mrs. Howard Moore of Scranton and Mrs. Vandewater of Blairtown, N. J. They gave a party in their honor. Dancing was the amusement of the evening. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant time had by all present.
 Miss Alma Richardson of Scranton is spending some time with friends here.
 Mr. and Mrs. George Gerlitz entertained the first of the week friends from Dunmore.
 Miss Lottie Fargo is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Latham.
 Mrs. Simmerson of Lake Scranton is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hall. Mr. Simmerson has charge of the Scranton Gas and Water company works there.

Mr. and Mrs. Kimmemaucker of Hotel Belmont, Scranton, and Mrs. William Giegel and son, Robert, of Wilkes-Barre were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Shuterle Friday. They were here to attend the funeral of Frederick Dierolf. Others from out of town that attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Kessler of Clearview, Clifton; Mrs. Dietz, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Besecker, Walter Eck, Philip Eck, Henry Zeigler, Mr. Fribley and sister from Newfoundland, Mrs. Chris. Shibley and son, Mrs. Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kimmemaucker, Mr. Stevens and many others from Scranton; John Frey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wert, South Sterling, and Mr. Levy of Tobyhanna. Mr. Dierolf will be much missed, as he took an active interest in the affairs of the town, was a hard worker, and was seemingly in the best of health when he retired Tuesday night. He apparently slept well all night. He had, however, had heart trouble many years. Nine years ago he went to Germany, where he remained nearly a year. He returned much improved. His wife and children have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.
 The numerous friends of Mrs. Harry Morgan, who has been critically sick at her home, Rock Lodge, are glad to know she is much better. Among the many friends that have been to see her were Mrs. W. H. Dewitt and Miss Marrie Wagner of Morristown, N. J. Miss Kelley of New York and Miss Lottie Fargo of Montrose spent the day with her last Thursday.

After a very serious attack of blood poison that confined him to his bed for weeks, H. C. Leader of Lehigh was out for the first on Saturday.

 Richard Hall, Jr., who had his foot badly hurt at the new dam the Scranton Gas and Water company are putting in, is able to be out again.
 Mrs. Richardson and children of Chinchilla, who have been spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Courtney, have returned home. Her sisters, Misses Rose and Minnie Courtney, accompanied her.
 Harry and Ira Sebring, Fred Rhodes and Harold Edwards are camping at Lake Winola.

CAVE DWELLERS ALL BLIND.

Animals That Live Underground Have Sensitive Organs of Hearing.
 The underlife of the caves has a world of its own. Animals are born in subterranean caverns hollowed out by streams, develop, reproduce and die while forever deprived of the sun light. There is no cave mammal except a rat nor is there a cave bird. There are no animals that require much nourishment.
 Grottoes with underground rivers have the most life. Usually the subterranean life resembles the general types of the country. It has entered the cave and become acclimated there, undergoing divers adaptive modifications. So we generally find, in modified forms, the life of our time. But some caverns there seem to be the remains of an ancient animal life. There are everywhere also disappeared from terrestrial rivers and lives only in certain caverns.
 The creatures of modern species that have adapted themselves to underground conditions are sharply separated from the light dwellers. Their skin is whitish or transparent. Their eye atrophies or disappears altogether. The optic nerve and the optic globe disappear, leaving the brain profoundly modified. Other organs develop in proportion. Those of hearing, smell and touch become large. Sensitive hairs, long and coarse, appear all over the body.

Progress in Turkey.
 The Turks, observes a Paris Journal, are becoming more European every day. It is announced that Cherket Pasha has made an order that soldiers are to be supplied with a number of forks. They will not each have one, but they use them in turn; on other occasions they will continue to use "la fourchette de la nature." Although we may be inclined to smile, Cherket Pasha's order is a sign of progress, for, after all, forks are comparatively a modern invention.

It was in Venice that forks were first introduced some time in the fifteenth century. It was at the time considered a grave scandal to supplant the plans of nature, it being contended that one of the uses of our hands and fingers was to serve the stomach. Queen Elizabeth, we are told, had only two or three forks and spoons in silver. The personages about the court used wooden forks.

Powerful X-Rays.
 Before the German Society of Physicians, F. Dessauer recently exhibited an apparatus for the production of X-rays of extraordinary penetrating power, his idea being that such rays might prove useful in the medical treatment of deep-seated disease. By employing Roentgen tubes in which the exhaustion of the air is carried to a very high degree, and through which, in consequence, the electric discharge can be sent only by means of a very great tension, he produced rays so penetrating that they readily passed through the bones as well as the flesh, so that a radiograph of the hand made with these rays showed hardly any image of the bones. With ordinary rays the energy at the surface of the body is a hundred times more intense than at a depth of five millimeters in the tissues. With Dessauer's rays the penetration is very much more profound.

Sodium for Electric Uses.
 Sodium is an excellent conductor of electricity, and in view of the increasing price of copper and the growing demand for that metal not only for electric installations, but for many other purposes, the idea has been broached that sodium should be tried as a material for electric cables. Experiments looking to this end have lately been made by Mr. A. G. Bett. He filled an iron tube 130 feet in length with melted sodium. The core thus formed had a cross-section of an inch and a half. A current of 500 amperes was readily transmitted through it. Mr. Bett thinks that sodium conductors constructed upon this plan may be made cheaper than conductors of copper.

Wood as Strong as Iron.
 Recent official tests of the many valuable hardwoods native to Western Australia have made known the extraordinary properties of yate, believed to be the strongest of all known woods. Its average tensile strength is 24,000 pounds to the square inch, equaling that of good cast iron. But many specimens are much stronger, and one was tested up to 17 1/2 tons to the square inch, which is equal to the tensile strength of wrought iron. The sawn timber of yate is probably the strongest in the world. The tree grows to a maximum height of 100 feet, and has sometimes a diameter of 2 1/2 or even 3 feet.

Onionology.
 After eating onions a girl should immediately sit down and peruse some work of fiction that is calculated to take her breath away.—Chicago Daily News.

BIG IMPROVEMENT MOVEMENT

Spokane, Wash., May Spend $25,000,000 to Make City Attractive.
 A movement is under way in Spokane, Wash., which was started by Charles M. Fassett, president of the chamber of commerce. Involving the expenditure of $25,000,000 to make Spokane not only the largest inland city, but the best place in which to live and work on the continent. In outlining the preliminaries for the work Mr. Fassett said:
 "We want Spokane to be beautiful, sane, healthy and happy. We want

 parks, boulevards, paved streets and a scheme of public buildings that will be a credit to our people. We want perfect water, sewage and garbage systems. We want anything that will make Spokane a better place in which to live, and with these we must trust implicitly that it will be populated by the right kind of men and women and become as great and strong as the aggregate of its citizenship. We want to combine the beautiful and the practical.

The committee to be appointed in a few days will be divided into sub-committees on legislation, physical development, municipal administration, commerce and economics, public buildings and civic art and exploitation, but will not be limited to any one improvement or class of improvements. We are more anxious to know wherein Spokane is weak than wherein it is strong, so that we may build accordingly."

TOWN BOOSTER'S BOOSTS.

Valuable Suggestions That Are Applicable to Any Rural Community.
 A town booster who knows how to boost recently prepared these questions and suggestions, which are applicable to any town, whether it is on the map or not:
 Where is our town on the map?
 Who knows our town is on the map?
 Who cares—other than our home folks?
 What does our town mean industrially to America?
 What is its rank in the American development game?
 What's the score?
 Are we really in the game?
 Boys, it is almighty important the position our town takes in this race for municipal supremacy.
 And the old town cannot fight her battles without you and me to boost. We can boost at least if we do not build.
 No town is better than her men.
 No town ever went ahead without men to push her ahead.
 A lazy farmer allows his crops to run to weeds.
 A lazy townsman allows his town to run to weeds—literally and figuratively.
 Weeds and crops do not thrive well together. Weeds and town development do not know each other.
 Let's cut down the weeds.
 Let's cultivate our ground.
 There is a reason for our town being on the map or it would not be there. Let us study our town a little.
 After we know our town let's tell others; let's pass the information abroad; send it abroad.
 Let's work for our town.
 Our private business is important and must not be neglected, but our general business interests are inseparably associated with the welfare of the town.
 If the town prospers we will have a better chance to prosper.
 What are you and what am I willing to do to make our town more prominent on this map?

Home Merchant is Your Friend.
 The home merchant is the man who gives you credit when you have no cash to buy the necessities of life. The home merchant is the man who helps you to pay the taxes that run your schools and pave your streets. The home merchant is the man to whom you appeal in times of distress for favors. Then why should you ignore him when you desire to make a purchase? He sells as good goods at as low figures as the man who does business in the big city. The hills look green far away.
 To Be Great Be Beautiful.
 Beauty plays no inconsiderable part in the greatness of cities. Parks, museums and art galleries, together with broad and well paved streets and boulevards, clean and brilliantly illuminated, comprise the necessary adjuncts of an up to date progressive city.
