LOCAL MENTION.

—Every farmer and every household has something which is worthy a place at the fair. Bring it along and help to make the fair a glorious success.

—The fourth annual reunion of the descendants of Zipron and Sally Cobb will be held in Finn's hall, Clifford, Saturday, Sept. 3.

—Co. E's rifle range will be open Saturday and one week from Saturday. There are a score of the boys that have not qualified, and they should do so without delay.

—"Oh you school bell," soon you'll ring, "summer's over," yes, sure thing! Boys will leave their baited hooks, for the slate and old school books! Girls forsake their summer joys, to help study with the boys; "Oh you school bell" ting-ling-ling, means "now get busy" till next spring!

—More than a million young trees have been planted by the Pennsylvania road during the past three months to provide for some future requirements for timber and cross-ties. The work was started during April and much of the company's land areas between Jersey City and Altoona has been planted with young trees that will, within the next 30 years, be ready for use.

—The arbitration committee appointed at the last meeting of the Greater Honesdale Board of Trade to adjust if possible the difficulties between the Herbeck-Demer company and their workmen have not held a meeting. President Smith named on that committee M. E. Simons, Charles P. Searle and Charles A. McCarty. Mr. Searle and Mr. McCarty were away from town when the committee was appointed and Mr. Simons is away now. Mr. McCarty said Tuesday that he would be willing to serve, but that he could not see where there was anything to arbitrate, for the union says Mr. Herbeck must run a closed shop and he emphatically declares he never will do that.

—The committees to make final arrangements for Labor day under the auspices of the Central Labor union are these: Flint Glass Workers, Paul Knove, Louis Jeitz, Earl Mitchell, Bert Bates and Henry Wagner; Shoe Workers, George Loercher, Frank Truscott, John Tierney; Federal union, Michael Lowe, Patrick McCarty and Fred Vincinus; Musicians, Paul and Joseph Sonner. The chairman of the executive committee for the day is John Weiser; secretary, Theodore Hebert; treasurer, Fred Cory; press committee, Theodore Hebert, Paul Knorr and Charles Gander. Committee in charge of parade, Central Labor union, John Weiser, Theodore Hebert; Shoe Workers, George Loercher and Dan Vincinus; Federal union, George Schmuck; Flint Glass Workers, Earl Mitchell, Bert Bates; Musicians, Joseph Sonner. There will be a parade with two bands at 10 and a picnic at Bellevue in the afternoon. Hawley and White Mills are expected to participate.

—Services at the Methodist church next Sunday as follows: Preaching by the pastor, Rev. Will H. Hiller, at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sunday school at noon.

—The Montrose Democrat states that the population of that place is about 2,000. Twenty-five automobiles are owned by its residents, or one to every eighty people.

—Miss M. A. Igo today received word from the Metuchen (N. J.) Realty company that in Saturday's drawing of buildings lots at Boynton Beach, that state, she got lot No. 348 "with no string attached." The company has credited Miss Igo $125 on its books.

—A large boiler was installed last week in the State Normal school at Stroudsburg. The old one was taken out and this one takes its place. The boiler was of such immense proportions that eight horses were required to pull it from the International Boiler Works No. 2 to the schoolhouse.

—Speaking about the two small-pox cases at Tanners Falls, Dr. Ely said today that he had not seen them for a week, but that he expected to get up that way tomorrow. He added that he understood the cases, those of Thomas Murphy and Granville Rodde, were coming nicely under the care of Dr. Peterson.

—Fred W. Michels said today that the Nicket will surely be reopened Saturday and that the pictures would be of a character to suit all the little house's patrons. He has engaged Miss Rickert to play the piano and he hopes very soon to have a singer for the illustrated songs he has secured, but up to today the vocal talent has not been hired.

—Orchard Inspector W. H. Bullock got a small bunch of small, deformed apples from Albert Mitchell's orchard of 399 trees in Berlin township. This is a fine orchard and there are only a few of the deformed specimens in it. Under the microscope can be seen the apple seed chalice, which, with the green apic or plant louse, is the prolific cause of decayed apples. Mr. Bullock got a few peach yellows from a Waymart orchard the other day. He says he finds little of the "yellow peril" in Wayne county peach orchards.

—John E. Richmond saw the last of the insurance adjusters Wednesday and now has all his money for the horse, carriages, sleighs, harness, whips, etc., he lost in the Rickard fire Sunday, July 17. All told Mr. Richmond received a little more than $1100. He has deferred his habitual trip to the White mountains, a resort to which he and Mrs. Richmond have annually repaired for 31 years, but he said today that they would probably start for Bethlehem, N. H., in the heart of the mountain region, within three or four days.

—State Highway Commissioner Joseph W. Hunter has received notice from Gov. Austin L. Crothers of Maryland to the effect that the state of Maryland had granted reciprocal privileges to Pennsylvania automobilists. Henceforth a motor car carrying Pennsylvania license tags may be operated in Maryland for periods not exceeding 10 days without being required to obtain a Maryland license. This is in consideration of a like privilege granted the automobilists of Maryland in Pennsylvania under the new reciprocal act of 1909.

—It is probable that the Seelyville state road will receive half a carload or 60 barrels of asphalt oil as the result of the agitation in which State Road Inspector J. M. Hale and State Highway Engineer Arthur W. Long have taken a hand with the Texas supervisors. The meeting of the latter and Mr. Long to talk over the matter of applying the oil was held a fortnight ago at the courthouse, and at that time it was the sense of the meeting that the automobile people ought to help. About $20 was raised in short order and more money is promised. Asphalt oil stops the summer cracking and "ravelling" of the macadam.

—The annual picnic of Protection Engine Co., No. 3, is being pulled off in Bellevue park this afternoon and it will not end until a late hour tonight. The fire laddies have worked hard for this year's outing and the weather clerk is on their side this time. At 2 o'clock the drum corps led the parade through Main street, over the bridge and up the long hill to the park, where the fun was immediately started. Sonner's full orchestra plays for the dancing and the drum corps will not be idle after the dismissal of the line. John M. Lyons is at the head of the committee of a dozen that planned the affair, and William B. Roadknight is boss of the committee on refreshments, which means no man Jack or woman Sally in the park today will go hungry or dry. Firemen from No. 1, the Alerts and Seelyville mingled with their comrades of No. 3 this afternoon and there were many stories swapped and reminiscences of the good old times when No. 3 used to hold not only a picnic but a ball, usually accompanied by speechmaking, music by good local talent, and sometimes a farce or two. Secretary Frank W. Schuerholz spoke of the speeches that Thomas J. Ham used to make at the company ball. Everyone who heard him mention the beloved newspaper writer of years expressed pleasure at the news from New York that Mr. Ham is growing stronger every day and hopes this fall to be in Honesdale on a visit.

—Fish Commissioner William E. Meehan has presented to Gov. Stuart a report on shad conditions in the Susquehanna river, in which he says shad fisheries have not materially decreased, but that unless legislation is enacted soon there will be virtual extinction of the fish.

—The funeral of Mrs. Anna E. Zerfas, 76, mother of Mrs. Fred Dillman, who died Tuesday at the Dillman home, took place from that house this forenoon. Rev. J. B. Cody of the Bethany Presbyterian church conducted the services and J. Sam Brown took the body to Bethany to be buried.

—Dr. McConville, who put his horse in Bunnell's pasture before starting for Atlantic City and the boardwalk, did not have him there long. The animal, like the cat, got homesick and came back, jumping the fence and trotting a mile and a half to get home. He was returned to the pasture today and tied.

—H. W. Lynn, Walter L. Banta, J. J. Burns of Brooklyn; W. T. O'Donohue, chief of detectives of Hoboken, N. J.; Herman Jackins, Charles Bullwinkle of Hoboken, N. J., and W. J. and E. J. Fanning of High Wood Park, N. J., who are spending their vacation at Beach Lake house, Beach Lake, spent Wednesday in Honesdale.

—At a dinner given at the Beach Lake house Tuesday evening, the engagements of Miss Dottie Hillers of New York and Herman Jackins was announced; also that of Miss Annetta Parker and John Burns, both of Brooklyn, and William T. O'Donohue to Miss Bettie Vincent, both of Hoboken. The parties are well known in Honesdale, and their friends are congratulating them.

—One of the most enjoyable excursions that will be held at Lake Lodore this summer is the annual outing of Our Lady of Mount Carmel congregation on Monday. The previous outings under the auspices of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel church have proved very enjoyable and it is expected that the attendance this year will be even larger than heretofore. There will be fine music for dancing and an interesting program of athletic events is being arranged.

—The landscape gardening at St. John's church starts with the stone wall and steps, which have been pulled down. Walks, flower-beds and shrubbery are to come. Mr. Lutes, the Ohio man in charge, is an expert and comes with the best sort of church, park and other recommendations. He is expected to do an artistic job and to employ the necessary time and help to carry out the lawn scheme decided upon. A team and three or four laborers are at work.

—Mayor John Kubbach, who loves his little joke as much as some men love their little drink, told M. F. Dorin that the Jeitz quarry the Mayor bought on High street hill was to be the site of a crematory. Mr. Dorin, equally fond of a joke and at once wise to Mr. Kubbach's hint, told several women about the crematory scheme. Mrs. Dorin, prompted by her husband, told other women on High and Spring streets. The whole petticoat population of that locality flew to arms. They do not want a crematory on that street. They talk of circulating a petition to the council to keep the crematory away. The council, however, cannot help them, for the Mayor's purchase is beyond the borough limits.

—According to figures published by the census bureau a few days ago Scranton has a population of 129,897, says the Archbald Citizen. These are close to the figures given by conservative forecasters and they are sufficiently high to satisfy everyone. Scranton is still the third city of the state in point of population, its nearest competitor being Reading, which has about 25,000 less people. Scranton's ratio of gain during the last decade has been about 27 per cent and if that ratio holds good throughout the county it will give us close to 299,000 people. The passing of that figure will mean important changes in the salaries of county officers and if apportionment follows soon after the publication of the census returns we may have another senator and one or two more assemblymen. Aside from these things, however, we are anxious to know how many of us there are in the county.

—The Forest City-Honesdale game Saturday afternoon will be called at 3 o'clock. It is expected to be a good contest, for Forest City played a series with Carbondale and won it, and Carbondale, as Honesdale fans know, has no slouch of a team this year. Gregor will probably pitch for Honesdale. The box work of the clever young southpaw has steadily improved this season and in all the games save the first one at Walton in the Sullivan county series last month he has shown excellent speed and some curves that bother the opposing hitters. The last of the Carbondale series will come Sunday at Lake Lodore. Carbondale's argument and prediction with regard to this final game appear in another part of this paper, under a Carbondale dateline. The special train from Honesdale will leave at 1 o'clock and present indications are that it will carry a sizeable crowd to the lake. Carbondale will have a special train, to leave there at noon. Manager Murtagh and his boys expect at least 200 or 300 Carbondale rooters to accompany them on their Sabbath day's journey. The game is bound to be for blood and it is hoped there will be no disorder on or about the diamond.

—The juvenile orchestra drilled by Robert M. Dorin played for two hours at Hotel Heumann Wednesday afternoon. Parents and friends of the boys and girls were on hand to listen. Everybody said Mr. Dorin's proteges did well. He thinks so himself.

Little Girl Hurt at a Picnic. Miss Olive Rockwell, daughter of Harry Rockwell, while at a picnic at Fortenia this morning fell and injured herself, receiving a number of bruises. Dr. P. B. Peterson was summoned by telephone and went up in his automobile and brought the little girl home. This afternoon she is reported comfortable.

Miss Mae O'Neill, who has been abroad for the past six weeks, returned to her home here Tuesday evening. On her return she also visited relatives in Philadelphia and Scranton. Miss O'Neill reports having had a very enjoyable trip.

District Attorney Myron E. Simons was in town Wednesday on legal business, but bright and early this morning he left for Newfoundland to resume his vacation. Mr. Simons and his family will be with Dr. Simons, the district attorney's brother, until the second week in September.

Buel Dodge, the youngest looking 53-year-old man in Wayne county, is back from Hawley, where for a fortnight he worked in a drugstore during the absence of the regular prescription clerk. In Hawley as in Honesdale Mr. Dodge fooled a good many people on his age. Several of them thought the Honesdale man must be mistaken when he told them he went to work for C. C. Jadwin to learn the druggist's trade in 1872.

William Jennings McKenna, Robert J. O'Connell and Dr. McConville are at Atlantic City for the balance of the month. They will swim, drive an auto, patrol back and forth on the boardwalk, and do all things that three freeborn American citizens may of right do. Mr. McKenna will go on the road with his glass samples about the middle of September. Mr. O'Connell will open the hat season about the same time. He goes to Easton every week to visit the factory, but much of his time is passed in Honesdale.

Scavenger Briggs Ready For Business. A. B. Briggs of Scranton, city scavenger, is here, ready for work. He has all the latest appliances for cleaning vaults and cesspools. There has been some difficulty back about getting this kind of work done in Honesdale, but an experienced man is now on the spot and arrangements can be made with him by calling up the office of the secretary of the board of health.

THE WHITE MILLS SIDE.

Claimed Only Two Players From Village Were on Team. The Citizen is asked to publish the following statement giving the White Mills side of the Sunday game with Honesdale:

"We wish to say in correction of the article written in Wednesday's issue, referring to the aspirants for the Wayne county championship, that it is erroneous and willfully misleading. We always advocate good, clean play and when outclassed are willing to admit the fact.

"Last Sunday's game gave the lovers of the sport no pleasure, only disgust, as was proved by the number who left the field before the game was finished and the crude remarks made by those who stayed to the finish of the fiasco, which commenced with one regular White Mills player and ended with two. And the promoters at this end of the line are to be highly congratulated upon their delicacy and gentlemanly conduct.

"While the regular management were negotiating for a game or series of games, it certainly exhibited poor taste for a few grouchers to coax a team here and send them back with $3.80 and heap ridicule on their town or team.

"When people who are crazy to play and are too puerile, why don't they stand manfully on one side and support those who can play the national game? A little knowledge and skill is very amusing at times, but it is certainly serious when it interferes with other people's management of public affairs and amusements—and officiousness is ignorance, pure and simple.

"We are willing to entertain any good proposition from Honesdale and play on our own merits, but we certainly object to being ridiculed and to have people with fancied wrongs butt in and give such exhibitions as we had last Sunday.

"Hoping from now on those who are elected to office will be supported and allowed to make arrangements with other teams for games and where all due credit can be awarded to town and players.

"THOS GILL, JOSEPH STEVENS."

AMUSEMENTS.

Marcus Moriarty, who plays the part of "Ham Sweezy" in Byron Chandler's production, "Home Ties," is an actor of the old school, having played with some of the finest organizations the past two years.

Booth-Barrett, Lester Wallace and Madame Modjeska are some of his happiest recollections, while his latter day achievements have been with prominent stock companies as well as being a member of the first "County Chairman" company. Mr. Moriarty was chosen for the part in "Home Ties" for his great ability in this particular line of characters, and he makes the role of "Ham Sweezy" a vivid portrayal of the subtle, money-grasping old miser a most realistic one. At the Lyric theatre Tuesday evening, Aug. 30.
