LOCAL MENTION.

—Always in driving turn to the right. Turn to the right when you meet a wagon, vehicle, automobile or person. Turn to the right and have any wagon, auto or other vehicle pass you on the left. Bear in mind that it is always turn to the right. This will avoid confusion. People generally understand this custom, so far as meeting of vehicles and persons is concerned, but it is often disregarded when any vehicle or pedestrian wishes to pass them.

—Katz Bros. will not be open a minute Monday.

—Captain James Ham Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. I. H. Ball of Ridge street.

—Percy L. Cole will open his drugstore at the old Reichenbacker stand Thursday. He has made the place all over and put in new stock as well as modern fixtures. Mr. Cole took a vacation of five months after giving up the job he had held for 19 years with C. C. "Jadwin". He feels like work.

—The New York, Ontario and Western reports for the quarter ended June 30 an increase in total any wagon, auto or other vehicle, net railway operating revenue increased $101,832. Net corporate income, however, was only $63,860 greater than for the corresponding quarter of last year.

—Protection Engine Co., No. 3, will make $300 or more on Friday's picnic in Bellevue park. The refreshment committee took in $149.55. There are still some bills to come in, the refreshment chairman said Monday, but $300 should be the net figure for everything. The committee will have a meeting tonight.

—The meeting of Democratic county leaders rumored on the streets of Honesdale Monday was simply an informal talk in the back room of a Seventh street business man who would not, it is understood, refuse to take the nomination for sheriff if he should find it sitting expectant on his doorstep the night of primary day. This man admitted the meeting was held, and he also declared there wasn't a thing for publication—yet.

—There has been an impression current that a section of the Farview hospital would be thrown open this fall. This is not true, for no part will be opened until the legislature meets and makes another appropriation. The hospital commission met Friday in special session. The personnel of the commission is Hon. Henry C. Walton, Judge C. B. Little of Montrose, County Controller E. A. Jones, Judge Holland of the Federal court and H. G. Ashmead.

—The Nicketlet did an excellent business Saturday night, when the little picture house was reopened. Every seat was held down by an interested occupant and Manager Michels's operator, Harry Humphreys of Scranton, threw on pictures that tickled every man, woman and child in the house. "Wanted—a wife" was particularly humorous and much laughter broke loose when 15 women, all ages, complexions and conditions, pursued the young fellow who had inadvertently advertised for a better half. Mr. Michels is delighted with the start he has made. He admits the Nicketlet was a paying investment Saturday night. He aims to have new, snappy pictures. He has a gilt edge operator and courteous attaches, and there is every reason to believe the Nicketlet under his management is to prove an agreeable recreation to the public and a moneymaker to the men who have subject from Mr. Groves, the lessee.

—The Honesdale National bank will be closed Monday, Labor day.

—Mrs. J. D. Varcoe of Waymart was admitted to Emergency hospital at Carbondale Monday for treatment.

—The Jewish synagogue is being painted and otherwise spruced up to recover its appearance after the fire of July 17.

—The funeral of Mrs. Benj. Loris, Sr., was held Monday morning at 9 o'clock from the German Catholic church. Burial was here.

—Miss Edna Katz informally entertained a few friends at a burdy gurdy porch party Monday evening. About eight couples enjoyed the unique affair, which was very impromptu.

—The Ontario and Western railroad have just made a contract for the double tracking of eleven miles of their road in northern Wayne, between Pleasant Mount and Winwood.

—Becoming effective Thursday, John C. McAndrews has been appointed chief clerk to Trainmaster J. J. Mantell of the Delaware division of the Erie railroad, to succeed Willis D. Canfield, who will remain in the trainmaster's office as stenographer.

—There will be a ball game on the silk mill flats Saturday afternoon, team opposing Honesdale to be announced later. The Clinton, Ct., team Capt. Kupfer expected cannot come, but he is hustling to get a team from some place, and he expects to succeed.

—Emerson W. Gammell expected to catch some fish in Rock lake, where the bass are plentiful this year, but his cronies in the courthouse declare the gentleman returned with an empty basket because, as they assert, he spent too much time singing and too little time fishing. When the singing subsided the fish commenced to bite and Dr. Powell, who was up to Camp Gammell on a day's visit, got two handsome ones. The Doctor is a fisherman, not a singer.

—George W. Taylor of Oregon township has been appointed inspector of the work of construction of the bridge over Hollister creek, in Damascus township. John H. Mederer of Hawley is the contractor. The contract was sublet by him to Chris Schroeder of Honesdale, but the commissioners have no official knowledge of this transaction.

E. S. Rice and family of Eastern avenue, Carbondale, are spending several weeks with relatives in Rileyville.

—Organizer James Kennedy recently organized Gaynor clubs at Middletown, Warwick, Greycourt, Goshen, Chester, Greenville and Florida. In those places he found strong sentiment for Mayor William J. Gaynor of New York city for Democratic nominee for governor of this state. From various reports throughout the state it is expected that Mayor Gaynor will be nominated at the next state Democratic convention.—Port Jervis Gazette.

—The Skat club is planning a Labor day outing that is bound to be worth while. The members, most of them, will take Erie trains Saturday for New York and from there they will go to Newark, N. J., a famous town for tanneries and Dutchmen, to pass the major portion of the holiday. Monday and Tuesday will see the Skats in Honesdale again. Their August outing at First pond was a hummer, both as regards the dinner and as concerns the singing and other festivities. The Newark outing should prove equally enjoyable. The doctor, the druggist, the two clothing men and the hotel man expect to take in this trip to the largest city in Jersey.

—The annual fair will be held at the fair grounds as usual this year. The great interest manifested by our people has made the annual fair a pronounced success, and the increased interest taken by former exhibitors presages a magnificent exhibit for 1910. We therefore wish to announce that great improvements will be made to accommodate the exhibitors in every department. A fine pavilion, commodious stock sheds, good quarters for poultry and pet stock, one of the best race tracks in the state, good water and many other accommodations, will contribute towards making this fair most successful.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Mollie Brown of Elmira, N. Y., is visiting friends in Honesdale. Miss Lactea V. Hawken of East street is visiting relatives in Peckville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fargo of Plymouth are spending several weeks in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Reilley and son, Leo, are spending two weeks with New York relatives.

Misses Josephine and Kate McKenna are spending a few days in New York on business.

Squire B. W. Raymond and J. H. Smith of Sherman were in Honesdale on Monday on business.

Earl Hughes of New York, who spent the summer with Frank H. Thomas, returned Saturday.

Miss Blanche Seymour of Port Jervis, N. Y., has been the guest of some Honesdale friends.

Ex-Commissioner John Rickert of Cherry Ridge shook hands with his Honesdale friends Monday.

Miss Mary Howley is enjoying her vacation with her father, M. J. Howley, in Port Jervis, N. Y.

F. P. Sweeney leaves Thursday to spend a few days with friends in Manchester, N. H. and Rutland, Vt.

Miss Margaret Dardis, who spent the summer with her grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Reilly, returned to her home in Brooklyn Saturday.

Walter Bigart of Dunmore has returned after a two weeks' visit with his aunt, Mrs. F. H. Thomas.

Cornelia E. Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas, is spending some time in New York city.

Edward Mueller of Pittston spent Sunday with his brother, George J. Mueller, and did not go with him to the Lake Lodore ball game.

Henry Arneke of Sherman is dangerously sick, having been operated upon for kidney trouble at the Lestershire, N. Y., hospital recently.

Miss Vera Coleman of Nyack, N. Y., who has been visiting relatives in Honesdale and the Lackawanna valley, returns home tomorrow.

Misses Ethel and Linda Sheeley, of Hawley, are the guests this week of Mrs. E. C. Sheeley on Mechanic street.—Port Jervis (N. Y.) Gazette.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Oday expect to return to Honesdale Thursday. Mr. Oday will be at the high school building Friday and Saturday from 9 to 5.

Miss Tillie Schaffer returned to Scranton Sunday evening. She was accompanied by her cousin, Miss Frances Deemer, who will remain for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Meara of Liberty, N. Y., spent part of Monday at the Wayne hotel. They were on their way to Forest City. Mr. O'Meara is the carpenter at the Loomis sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sam Brown and daughter, Virginia, of East street are visiting relatives and friends in the metropolis. They will also enjoy the breezes of Asbury park before returning.

Rev. Dr. W. H. Swift will go to Cherry Ridge Wednesday to conduct the funeral of Mrs. Elliott, who died Sunday. She was a Methodist, but Mr. Hiller is not available for that day and Fred G. Tolley, a relative of Mrs. Elliott, asked Dr. Swift to officiate.

Attorney O. L. Rowland is a seriously sick man. His trouble is congestion of the brain and since Wednesday, when he was taken sick, he has been growing worse. A trained nurse is with him all the time. Overwork is assigned by the family as the cause of Mr. Rowland's breakdown.

Conductor Charles Lord is again punching tickets on the Erie train that plies between Honesdale and Port Jervis, N. Y. Mr. Lord and his wife took a little vacation last week and went to see relatives and friends that dwell on the New York side of the Delaware. He says his outing did him a world of good. Traveling men and other regular patrons of the Honesdale branch declare there is no more affable conductor anywhere than "Charlie" Lord.

Mr. and Mrs. John Downing and family of South Park street have returned after several days' outing at Beach lake. * * * Mr. and Mrs. Charles Downing and family of Kingsland, N. J., were recent visitors in this city. They are now at Beach lake, where they will spend several days before returning. * * * E. S. Rice and family of Eastern avenue are enjoying a week's outing on the farm of the former's brother at White Mills.—Carbondale Leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Budd of Peckville, the former's father, Edward Budd of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and Lee Blows of Peckville motored through Honesdale the latter part of the week on their way to Equinunk for a short stay. The elder Budd still owns property there and the doctor was very much interested in the Lord case, as Equinunk was his birthplace. The party made a short stop at Beach lake.

Thomas J. Ham, according to his brother, Justice W. H. Ham, is daily mending and may be in Honesdale by Christmas time for a visit. He cannot walk much, but otherwise the former editor is in pretty good shape now. He reads the Honesdale papers with avidity, and Honesdale is the staple of his conversation. The hope is general that he may get home by the holidays. Everybody in Honesdale wants to see him.

Mrs. George H. Bruce, who left her home in Norwich, Conn., several weeks ago for Honesdale, where she is to spend September with her son, Hilliard Bruce, at the Wayne hotel, has been fussing around with relatives in New Haven, Conn., and Hackensack, N. J., but will reach here Saturday night. She may possibly go from Honesdale to Indianapolis, Ind., during October, to be in the Hoosier capital on Oct. 25, the 15th anniversary of the death of her brother, Rev. John Hilliard Ranger, who was rector of Christ church, Indianapolis, from 1888 until his death. Mr. Ranger is buried in Indianapolis and his widow and four children live there now.

Advertised Letters.

Burko, Mr. Drake; Mrs. John Gabriele, Mr. Hood, Mrs. Thomas Shortall, Miss E. E., "The Fashion," M. B. Allen, Postmaster.

HAWLEY.

Death of William Roach—Local Improvements—Business Changes—Fish.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Keesler of Tafton entertained relatives from Avoy during the week.

The Tafton Sunday school held their picnic on the Bea picnic grounds on the Paupac Saturday.

Fred Killam of Flint, Mich., is passing his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Killam.

W. B. Ammerman, trustee in bankruptcy, will sell the goods in the store of Benjamin Skier at public auction on Sept. 7 at 10 a. m.

Arrangements have been made for a special program of moving pictures for Wednesday evening. C. E. Rockwell, one of Scranton's fine tenors, will give the illustrated songs.

Miss Mabel Rodman, who recently finished a course of training at the Jewish hospital in Brooklyn, N. Y., is paying a visit to her parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Rodman.

Miss Carrie Bea has fully recovered from her recent sickness and will resume her duties in the Bellefonte silk mill today.

Anthony McDonough, the well known and popular liveryman of Scranton, who makes annual camping expeditions through the country for recreation as well as for business, with his retinue and several horses is camping on the gypsy grounds near Bellefonte hill. Mr. McDonough has greatly favored the farmers on his trip by exchanging his fear-nothing horses for their fractious ones, especially those afraid of the automobiles. He passed Sunday at his home in Scranton.

The stork paused in its flight and left a baby daughter with Mr. and Mrs. George Schardt of Wayne avenue Thursday morning.

Another home in town has been made desolate by the grim reaper. Saturday morning at 7 o'clock William Roach died from a paralytic stroke at Big pond, where he, in company with his two sisters, was taking his annual outing. Unusually tragic have been the events in this family's history. Father and three sons have been employed at various times by the old Gravity and Erie railroads. One son was crushed to death by falling between the cars on the old Gravity, a blow from which the mother never recovered. The father had both legs severed by the same railroad, crippling him for life. Another son was killed on the Erie when the Wyoming branch was being built. The deceased began railroadng about 31 years ago and very soon thereafter lost both legs and as a recompense the Erie gave him the position of watchman at the middle crossing on Church street, where for 28 years he faithfully performed his duties, making many friends by his patient, kindly manner. He made his home with his sisters, Anna and Mary, who are the only survivors. Mr. Roach was about 60 years old. Undertaker Bowan brought the body from Big pond to the Roach home Saturday afternoon. The funeral was from St. Philomena's church this morning. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery.

Fred Bea and Lloyd Bennett left Saturday morning for a trip to the western part of the state, where they will locate in Jeanette to work in one of the glass cutting industries of that place.

Several improvements are noticeable in town. D. J. Branning is having a porch added to his house facing Penn avenue. Miss Annie Riddel is having her front porch extended the entire length of the building, facing Atkinson street. G. Matter and Sons, the bustling flour and feed merchants, have greatly improved the grounds surrounding their handsome home, at the rear of which is a grove where they have placed rustic seats and in other ways have converted it into an ideal summer retreat. They have also built a good road from thence to the street in the rear, which was formerly only a rude stony path much frequented by residents of Bellefonte hill, it making a short cut into the business part of the town. The Rollison residence will soon be completed. Work on it is being pushed rapidly.

Fred Kohlman, an electrician, returned to the metropolis Monday after spending his vacation of two weeks in Hawley.

Shenk Hobday of the Knob, Pike county, who has been for several years an engineer on the Erie railroad, purchased Saturday the livery business of the late William C. Ames.

Postmaster and Mrs. D. James Colgate are enjoying a few days of recreation at Big pond as guests of their daughter, Mrs. G. Hensel of Carlisle, who, with her husband and little daughter, is occupying their cottage for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bunnell and two children passed Sunday with Mrs. Bunnell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sleezer, at Powlertown. Mr. Sleezer, who has been in poor health some time, went to Scranton Saturday to consult a specialist, who diagnosed his ailment to be limesticis.

William McNamara, who has been away during the summer, has returned and is now working in Bunnell & West's cutting shop.

John Brown, John Hover, Harry Vanfrank and Dr. Catterall, four expert fishermen, went to Peck's mill pond fishing and brought back 48 catfish and 26 pickerel. John Brown has the credit of catching the largest pickerel caught at Peck's this season, it balancing the scales at 5%. John Hover got the smallest one, weighing one and one-fourths pounds. Dr. Catterall caught an eel that measured 39 inches. Vanfrank caught a sunfish that weighed one pound.

Whites Valley Farmer Badly Gored By Bull.

WAYMART, Aug. 30.—Simon Pomeroy of Whites Valley was almost gored to death by a vicious bull last week near his home. The timely arrival of neighbors prevented the enraged animal from accomplishing his object.

Pomeroy sustained a broken shoulder and was otherwise badly lacerated where the horns of the animal penetrated the flesh.

Pomeroy was walking through a pasture when with a wild rush the animal bore down on him. He attempted flight, but the bull caught him with his horns and tossed him high in the air and over a fence. While Pomeroy was lying in the field the bull was preparing to make another attack, but neighbors rushed to the rescue.

OPERATED ON FOR APPENDICITIS.

GALILEE, Aug. 30.—Irving Conklin, living two miles out of this place, was operated on for appendicitis Friday by Dr. A. W. Smith of Scranton, who came up from Honesdale in an automobile, and Dr. Many of Tyler Hill and Dr. Corson of Rileyville.

—Be sure and read the advertisement of the Citizen today. You might see something that will please you.

Milton Ketchum and family and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Brong and child are at Beach lake, Wayne county. * * * Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Williams, also Frank Williams, will spend two weeks at Lake Como, Wayne county. * * * Mr. and Mrs. George W. Roberts are taking their vacation in the good old way. They left Peckville last Saturday by horse and carriage and are driving over the hills of Wayne county. They expect to return home tomorrow or Monday. * * * Dr. F. T. Budd and Miss May English, the latter a trained nurse, were summoned to Lakeville, Wayne county, Monday afternoon, occasioned by the critical illness of Miss Locklin, a sister of Messrs. George and Edward Locklin. The case is believed to be one of typhoid fever.—Peckville Journal.

John Thompson, who came from Arlington, Neb., to do some business East and also to eat a Robinson reunion dinner in Honesdale, left this week for New York to see the jewelry wholesalers. He has been entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Robinson. When he told Mr. Robinson that his father, John J. Thompson, was in Congress from Nebraska 20 or 25 years ago, Mr. Robinson set out to find the precise date for his Nebraska cousin. He will ask Congressman Charles C. Pratt, one of his old cronies, to hunt it up, and if Col. Pratt lacks time the job will be passed up to the librarian of Congress. Mr. Thompson has had a splendid time, he says, among his Wayne county connections. He will take a run back here in October for final handshakes before slipping away to the West.
