LABOR LINES UP FOR J. K. TENER

Prompt Repudiation of Scheme Worked by Keystone Party.

THE LEADERS ACT QUICKLY

Greenawalt's Personal Game Blocked When Exposed By Representative Union Men.

An attempt to work a scheme to influence organized labor in the present gubernatorial campaign has proven a boomerang for Berry and his par'y.

President Greenawalt, of the State Federation of Labor, is being denounced upon every hand for seeking to use the position which he fills temporarily to advance his own political interests and to promote the cause of a combination of politicians who are striving to use the Keystone Party to land themselves and their friends in public office.

Greenawalt's political campaigning for the Keystone Party is quite natural, as he is known as an ardent Democrat, but his efforts to use his position to influence the votes of the wage earners of the state are resented by the rank and file of organized labor in Pennsylvania as well as the infinential lenders of various trade unions.

Tener a Friend of Labor.

Greenawalt's action, it is pointed out, is most reprehensible, on account of the fact that John K. Tener, the Republican nominee for governor, has for years been known as a staunch friend of the workingmen throughout western Pennsylvania, where he grew up in an atmosphere which would naturally make him sympathise with the wage carners. He spent his boyhood days working in a steel mill in the great Pittsburg district, and in recent years he figured in the satisfactory settlement of labor disputes in his home community, being chosen to appear in consultation as the representative of the workingmen. The only period in his career when he was a large employer of labor was when he was at the head of a glass manufacturing establishment, and he had none but union men employed about the

Upon several occasions during his tour of the state Mr. Tener has taken legislation in the interest of labor, and he has pointed out that through the agency of the Republican party many excellent labor laws have been passed, most of them at the suggestion and upon the request of union labor. The employers' liability bill passed at the last session of the Pennsylvania legislature was enacted by a Republican majority in the senate and the house and was signed by a Republican governor.

The fact that John Mitchell, one of the most respected and popular leaders in the crowd of labor in recent years, is a warm advocate of the election of Mr. Tener to the governorship, has been known to the labor leaders of the state from the very outset of the

Mitchell Indorses Tener Plan.

John Mitchell has heartly indorsed Mr. Tener's proposition for the appointment of a state commission to be composed of employers and wage earners, whose duty it shall be to investigate every phase of the question of employers' liability and kindred subjects and report to the coming session of the legislature such changes in existing laws as may be deemed ndvisable. Mr. Tener has given his word to do everything in his power to have satisfactory laws and amendments to lays enacted at once.

In order that workingmen of Pennsylvania shall not be misled by the tactics of Greenawalt and others working with Berry, an address has been issued to wage earners over the signatures of Patrick Gilday, president of district No. 2, United Mine Workers of America, and Thomas Haggerty, member of the national executive board of the United Mine Workers of America.

They declare that Greenawalt is acting on his own responsibility, that there is no distinctive labor candidate in the field [that] Greenswatt's appeal was not authorized by any convention or organized labor assembly, and they protest against any labor lender at tempting to dictate to organized labor. They say; "We can recall instances when organized labor asked for and received the assistance of prominent men in the Republican party who are now being villified by some of the advocates of the Keystone Party."

Escaped Sing Sing Convicts Believed to Be Secreted In Cave.

White Plains, N. Y., Oct. 11 .- The posse of keepers and deputy sheriff's who are searching for the five convicts who escaped from Sing Sing prison are almost positive that the fugitives are hiding in the dense woods on Buttermilk mountain, which is a part of the great estate of John D. Rockefeller at Pecantico Hills. They found footprints, and it is generally believed that the convicts are together and are hiding in some cave or deserted Italian shauty. The police of White Plains received information occasion to refer to his advocacy of that the wife of one of the convicts, who lives at Mount Kisco, had received a letter from her husband asking her to send him a blue suit of clothes and $200. It is said that the letter was delivered by a third party.

DEADLOCK OVER CANDIDATE.

Massachusetts Democrats Unable to Select Man For Governor.

Boston, Oct. 11. - The Democratic state ticket still lacks permanent candidates for governor and lieutenant governor. The four men appointed by the convention as a committee to select the men to take the places of Mansfield and Loring are not only in a deadlock on the gubernatorial nomination, but they are unable to agree upon the fifth member of the committee, they having found it necessary to name one to break the first deadlock,

In addition to these troubles, the Democrats of this state are confronted with the declaration of Secretary of State Olin that the temporary nomination of Clifton R. Loring for Heutenant governor is "apparently not in conformation with the law."
