SUBSCRIPTION $1.50

K. B. HARDENBERGH, PRESIDENT; W. W. WOOD, MANAGER AND SEC. Y.

FRIDAY, OCT. 21, 1910.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For Governor JOHN K. TENER. For Lieutenant Governor JOHN M. REYNOLDS. Secretary of Internal Affairs HENRY HOUCK.

COUNTY.

Representative, H. C. JACKSON.

Somebody has said that there are more young men in the penitentiary in this country learning trades than there are outside of them.

The sensational charges against John K. Tener, which the "North American" advertised for two days, and through which its circulation manager tried to get circulation for the paper by letters sent out through the state to those who might aid in pushing the paper, have fallen flatter than a pancake.

The "charges" only contained the statement that TENER was for a few weeks connected with a corporation which has in its directorate and among its officers men of the highest repute in the community and some who have been prominently identified with reform movements in Philadelphia.

He resigned the position of President which had been given him and he resigned from the Board of Directors. He did not accept the stock which had been offered to him.

But, although TENER got out of the National Public Utilities Corporation before he had scarcely got in it, there were many others of the very best standing in the community who remained in it, and who are in it today.

It is for them to fight the allegations of the newspaper that their company and they are crooked. As for TENER, he has been out of the question for a long time—much longer by months than he was ever in it weeks.

It is not to be forgotten, either, that TENER and all his connections have been above reproach at all times. His character is of the best, and is regarded as unassailable, while the source—the awful polluted source—from which this attack upon him springs, must necessarily be considered.

Van Valkenburg, who is editor of the North American, is the same man who was arrested during the Hastings' regime, charged with bribing state legislators to vote for United States Senator. He was arrested, indicted by the grand jury, and after several hearings in which his lawyers endeavored to break down the evidence, the case was placed on the calendar of the criminal court, and just before going to trial, his influential friends, who had been fighting to save him made an arrangement with the prosecution by paying $10,000 as the cost of prosecution and the case was not pressed. THIS IS THE MAN WHO ACCUSES JOHN K. TENER.

In his speech at Altoona Berry said: "The hand of the Almighty is visible, for His hand has been in all affairs of the nation since the day of Columbus." We hope Brother Berry will believe this after election, even if results do not suit him.

PICK UPS.

A man with a bad reputation may have a good heart.

An aviator fell on a barn in Nebraska, and nearly broke the ten commandments.

Many people fail to accomplish anything because they try to do too much.

We should have nothing to do with a religion that consists in making one sad.

It is a risky thing to get mad and stay that way until after sunset.

When Joshua stopped the sun, the earth must have stopped in sympathy for his ignorance of astronomy.

You may be moral without being religious, but you cannot be religious without being moral.

A man was robbed at the point of a pipe which he thought was a revolver. It was a meersham.

Air that is forced through ice water is now used in some hotels. Of course, there is an extra charge for air.

Whom the Lord loveth "He chasteneth." That is a favorite expression just now with Maine Republicans.

When people get in dead earnest about matters political they care nothing about having speakers introduced with a brass band.

When you look at a fly through a microscope you discover that it is one of the most ingeniously diabolical pieces of mechanism ever turned out of nature's workshop.

Congressman Palmer of Pennsylvania says Col. Roosevelt's African trip was "spectacular." Look out for another undesirable citizen, another name proposed for the Ananias club, now!

SAVINGS STAMPS INSTEAD OF COIN.

Public Will Get Bright Yellow Paper This Year in Place of Gold Pieces.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 18.—Uncle Sam as a source of supply for Santa Claus has switched from gold pieces to stamps.

It was decided this year to discontinue the coinage of the gold pieces and now Uncle Sam has placed an order for a large quantity of bright new yellow postal saving stamps. These together with a postal card upon which they are to be pasted, represent a deposit in Uncle Sam's new postal savings bank.

The card upon which the stamps are pasted will cost ten cents and will be in fact a "bank book." It represents the initial deposit of ten cents. Each card holds nine stamps which cost ten cents each. This may be exchanged for a dollar certificate.

With the use of the stamps for Christmas presents will arise the question of whether the postmasters may be required or may lawfully do a "mail order business" for the postal savings system will only be installed in one or possibly two post-offices in each state this year.

This question has not yet been decided by the officials. They are of the opinion, however, that if the mail orders for postal savings stamps do not reach a very big amount for any one office it will be allowable for a postmaster to fill mail orders until more postal savings depositories are established. Generally speaking, however, the postal savings system is not to be a mail order institution and each man is to be required to deposit his money in his home town in order to keep depositors within the legal limit of $100 a month for postal deposits.

THE ALLY OF THE DEMOCRACY.

The New York Herald has just completed a painstaking investigation of the political conditions in every state, with especial reference to the fight for control of the House in the Sixty-second Congress. Its inquiries lead to the conclusion that of the 391 districts, 118 must be classified as doubtful or debatable.

The Herald adds: "But not only is the House of Representatives at stake in this election—the political control of the Senate may also be involved."

In no other campaign since Bryan divided the Democracy has that party been so hopeful of victory. The chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, Representative Lloyd, of Missouri, a few days ago confidently predicted that the Democrats would have a surprising large majority in the next House. He included Pennsylvania in the list of states he said would show a gain for the Democracy. Mr. Lloyd's prediction regarding Pennsylvania is based upon the hope that many Republicans, assuming that the Republican ticket is sure to win, will neglect to vote and that others may be deceived into voting the Keystone ticket.

The Republican who casts his ballot for the Keystone ticket must do so with his eyes open. He must know that he is voting for a Bryan Democrat, who, if elected, will do everything in his power to advance the interests of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania and the nation.

IMMORTALITY OF THE SOUL.

Wizard Edison Denies Everlasting Life While Father Vaughn Asserts There Is.

New York, Oct. 15.—In a controversy between Thomas A. Edison and Father Bernard Vaughn about the immortality of the human soul, the former made the following statement:

"I cannot believe in the immortality of the soul. 'Heaven? Shall I, if I am good and earn reward, go to heaven when I die? No, no, I am not—I am not an individual—I am an aggregate of cells; as, for instance, New York city is an aggregate of individuals. Will New York city go to Heaven? "

"We are, as you know, made up—each part of us is made up—of millions of cells. These cells are not absolutely independent any more than you, as an individual living in New York city, are independent; but each cell is an individual. You are a part of the city; each cell is a part of you.

"Why should you a collection of cells, be immortal as a collection any more than New York city, a collection of individuals, should be immortal as a collection? Its citizens are continually dying, moving away and being replaced. Your cells are continually dying, moving away and being replaced."

Father Vaughn, in his reply, speaks as follows:

"Edison does admit the immortality of the soul for the all-sufficient reason that he denies the existence of a human soul."

"I wish to be put on record as acknowledging man's indebtedness to Edison for his matchless manipulation of electricity and for an inventive genius in other mechanical applications for the benefit of social and commercial life.

"But the people must not lose sight of the fact that Edison is neither a theologian nor a metaphysician. Edison himself has told the world that about the nature, even of electricity, he knows nothing at all."

"What Edison did know was how to make use of electricity."

"I would venture to remind Edison that the human soul might possibly be a far finer and subtler substance than electricity itself."

INFANT THIEVES.

The Reisler Lads Amaze Justice Zeller. New York Youngsters, Aged Five and Seven Years Respectively, Would Visit Stores, Ask For a Drink of Water and Rob Cash Register.

New York, Oct. 20.—Justice Zeller became amazed when he was told in the children's court of the evil doings of Max Reisler and his brother George. Max is seven years old and George five. Their home is at 810 Dawson street in the Bronx.

Their father, John Reisler, told Justice Zeller that they were entirely beyond his control. They stayed out late at night, he said, and when they came in frequently brought as much as $10 or $15 with them. At first they said they found the money, but he was convinced that they had stolen it.

Detective Leiber of the Harlem detective bureau was able to throw more light on the probable El Dorado. He had found the boys Tuesday evening as they were running away from an art shop at 107 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. Mrs. Ketcham, the proprietor, was in hot pursuit. She said that the boys had gone into the shop and asked for a drink of ice water. While Mrs. Ketcham was in the rear filling a glass for them one of her customers called to her, and she hurried back to find that the drawer of the cash register was open and $5 gone. The two small boys were just running out of the door. The $5 was found on the sidewalk near where Leiber arrested the pair.

On the way to the rooms of the Gerry society, Leiber said, the boys told him that they had been working the game for a long time. Sometimes they would get as much as $15 from one place. They generally picked out shops where the cash register was on a shelf low enough for them to reach without climbing on a chair. By this time the proprietor was back with their drink of water the cash register would be closed again and they would gulp down the water gratefully. Neither would put the blame on the other. George, the younger one, the detective said, told him that he generally took the money from the drawer as he was so short that even if the shopkeeper did look around he would hardly be able to see George's head over the counter.

As he could get no information from the boys Justice Zeller remanded Max to the care of the Gerry society until Tuesday and sent George, the smaller one, who still wears one piece gingham suits, home with his father.

SPEED MANIA.

"Don't Get an Auto Unless You Have To," He Says; "Then Get Rid of It and Take a Trolley."

"Take my advice about autos; don't get one unless you have to, and then, when you have it, get rid of it and take a trolley car."

This is the advice given by Edward T. Rosenheimer, who is awaiting trial on a charge of causing the death of Miss Grace Hough, who was run down and killed by his machine.

"Another thing," he continued in his cell in the Tombs, "don't see how fast you can go, but how slow. You may be fined for obstructing traffic, but you won't find yourself indicted for running over any one."

Rosenheimer's touring car is in the yard of the Morrisania police station, and Captain Price wants to get rid of it, but is unable to find anyone who seems to have authority to order its removal. When Rosenheimer was told of the captain's predicament, he said:

"I don't care what they do with it. I haven't seen it since August 19th, and I never want to see it again. I never want to see another auto, and I never intend to ride in another. But for automobiles I would not have been in this trouble. I had the speed-madness, but I'm cured."

A Leader in New Thought.

"Elizabeth Towne stands for that which makes for greater growth and greater happiness," writes Thomas Dreier in Human Life for October.

"She reaches a certain class of people. In her own field she is as great as Mrs. Eddy is in hers. Elizabeth Towne teaches folks to think correctly, to understand and use wisely their own forces, to conquer doubt and fear, and to stand up as fearless, independent, efficient."

"She works before action. She wants things done. She is no mere talker and writer—one content to preach and never practice. Her own business, which started twelve years ago with thirty borrowed dollars and which today enables her to gratify her temperamental desire for a fine home, trips to Europe and through this country, clothes that appeal to the feminine nature—well, that is the best proof that her teachings are practical. That she is helping others live richer lives is something anyone may learn from a single day's correspondence. One letter came in telling of a brakeman who had his legs cut off in a wreck. 'He cannot live,' the doctors whispered. 'By God, I will,' he said. He told later that he had been reading Elizabeth Towne's writings, and had been taught to fight against adversity. He lived."

"Her editorials are homely things. They are not what a Harvard professor of English would offer to his class as models of literature. But what is more important than literary style is found in them. They contain messages that, to use a Westernism, get across."

Are You PLANNING for To-morrow ? No man ever accumulates a fortune unless he has the habit of making sacrifices today in order that he may have something to work with to-morrow. The small amount that you are able to save every week may appear very small, but in time systematic saving, with the aid of 3 per cent. compound interest, will give you some substantial capital as a basis for investment or to live on when you can no longer work and earn. HONESDALE DIME BANK is yet young but it has helped many ambitious persons on the road to independence and success.

WHEN THERE IS ILLNESS in your family you of course call a reliable physician. Don't stop at that; have his prescriptions put up at a reliable pharmacy, even if it is a little farther from your home than some other store. You can find no more reliable store than ours. It would be impossible for more care to be taken in the selection of drugs, etc., or in the compounding. Prescriptions brought here, either night or day, will be promptly and accurately compounded by a competent registered pharmacist and the prices will be most reasonable. O. T. CHAMBERS, PHARMACIST. Opp. D. & H. Station, HONESDALE, PA.

Dogs and Fleas.

If your dogs are troubled with fleas a very simple way to get rid of the pests is to provide beds of fresh cedar shavings or, better, cedar excelsior in the kennels or wherever the dogs sleep. The scent is not at all unpleasant to the dogs, but is abhorrent to the fleas. When a dog's coat gets thoroughly scented not only do the fleas leave him while asleep, but they will not jump upon him when he is out during the day. — Brooklyn Eagle.

Entirely Apt.

At first glance the novel's title, "The Rainbow," seemed to be lacking in significance, but as it afterward developed that the hero blushed crimson, was blue with the cold, had his lips grow gray, was seized by a black rage, fell into a brown study, grew green with envy, purple with indignation, livid with fear, yellow with chagrin and scarlet with embarrassment, the title proved to be entirely apt.—Pack.

The Pillory.

The pillory in England was abolished as a punishment, except for perjury, in 1815 and was totally abolished in 1837. The last person to suffer from the Old Bailey was one Peter Bossy, for perjury, June 22, 1830. Notwithstanding the fact that this mode of punishment was supposed to be only for the lighter offenses, it often happened that the pillory meant death to those placed in it, the culprit frequently being stoned to death by the heartless mob.—New York American.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Two Tablets and Stomach Misery Gone

G. W. Pell sells and guarantees the best prescription the world has ever known for disturbed and upset stomach, gas, belching, heaviness, heartburn, acid stomach and biliousness. It is called MI-O-NA, remember the name, and it banishes distress from over eating or fermentation of food in five minutes. It is guaranteed by G. W. Pell to cure indigestion, sick headache, nervousness and dizziness, or money back.

No matter how long you have suffered you will find a certain cure in MI-O-NA stomach tablets.

About six weeks ago I purchased a box of MI-O-NA tablets for an aggravated form of stomach trouble. I had been troubled for four or five years, had tried different physicians and a great many patent remedies, but of no use, until I used MI-O-NA. They entirely relieved me from pain and I can now eat most any kind of food and relish it.—A. J. Fish, West Carthage, N. Y.

MI-O-NA stomach tablets are only 50 cents a large box at G. W. Pell and druggists everywhere. Get a trial treatment free, by writing MI-O-NA, Buffalo, N. Y.
