M., and almost every other person from Equinunk, the last named being here in the interests of the Lord case.

—A number of young people from Carbondale, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre had a delightful time at Canaan Corners hotel in Waymart on Monday evening as the guests of proprietor Gildea. The two large dining rooms had been appropriately bedecked with autumn leaves and the young people merrily joined in the rhythmic moves of the dance music which was furnished by Scranton musicians.

—"The Call of the Wild," a dramatization of Frederick Remington's famous novel "John Ermine of the Yellowstone," will be presented here at the Lyric on Tuesday, Oct. 25. It is a thrilling tale of western life during the period of 1877-78. The role of the hero, John Ermine, is played by Franklin Woodruff. Ermine is a white man who has been raised by Indians and doesn't understand the customs of his own people. Engaged as a scout in the United States army, in the war against the Sioux, he falls in love with the daughter of the Major of the regiment. She, however, though fond of him, cannot brave the comment of her own sort by marrying him—this half wild man. Mr. Woodruff is a cultured actor and is considered by many noted dramatic critics as one of the coming stars of the American stage.

Weighing the Mayor.

A mayor, particularly an English mayor, is traditionally a man of weight and substance, but there is only one municipality that insists that his honor get on the public scales and prove it. Of the thousands of quaint and curious customs surviving in "the old country" this is perhaps one of the most odd. The mayor of High Wycombe has to be weighed on Nov. 9 of each year, inauguration day, and this custom has been observed for about six centuries. The mayor elect walks at the head of a procession consisting of the councilors, the beadle and the wace bearer. He is clad in cocked hat, silk stockings, blue coat and knee breeches. Upon reaching the town hall the mayor is placed upon the scales by the head constable, and a record of his avoirdupois is solemnly made in a book kept for this purpose.—Harper's Week ly.

Paul Gilmore in "The Bachelor."

"The Bachelor," by Clyde Fitch, a dainty comedy, with just one tiny dash of tears in it to give it a delicious flavor, and plenty of clever situations and sparkling dialogue wound about a slender and inconsequential story.

There are three acts to "The Bachelor," and but seven character, who unravel the story of a love affair between George Goodale, a stock broker, who confesses himself confirmed to the ways of bachelorhood, and Millicent Rendell, his stenographer. The chief complication of the plot—and without complications, of course, there would be no plot—is that the aforesaid bachelor, after proposing through a sense of chivalry to his stenographer is accepted and then unexpectedly rejected, suddenly awakens to the fact that he is actually in love, whereupon the proposing has to be done all over again. Will be seen at the Lyric on Wednesday, Oct. 26.

STORM'S HAVOC.

Over $5,000,000 Damage Done by Hurricane.

That Many Men Known to Be on Four Vessels in Gulf of Mexico Given Up as Foundered—Weather Bureau Warns.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 20.—After being cut off from the world for several hours telegraphic communication with this city has now been generally restored.

The wind is blowing at terrific velocity, having as high a rate as seventy miles an hour.

The Cuban storm is rapidly going north, and its center, according to the weather bureau, will pass within four hours.

Serious damage has been done here, and when advices are received from Florida points it is believed it will be found that the total loss will be over $5,000,000.

The wireless tower here, 208 feet high, was blown down at midnight. The government concrete walks to the Tybee pier are washed away, and the Tybee road from Port Scraper to Point Station is wrecked.

All boats are securely tied to piers. Residents of Tybee Island have come to the city for safety. All railroad tracks at Tybee have been washed away.

Fear Loss of Four Ships.

New Orleans, Oct. 20.—It is feared here that at least four vessels have been lost in the Cuban hurricane that extended into the Gulf of Mexico and that at least 150 souls went down with them. The Mercator, which alone carried a crew and passengers of sixty, has practically been given up for lost. The Grib, the Mount Vernon and the Bluefields are from two to three days overdue. Efforts are being made to reach them by wireless without result.

Two Boats Wrecked in Tempest.

Key West, Fla., Oct. 20.—The schooner Martin and the bark Hugo were wrecked by the hurricane. The crew of six on the Martin and ten on the Hugo have been rescued by the Bull line steamer Inventor, which is proceeding to Liverpool.

The American steamship Neufes has arrived here from Galveston for New York and reports that the lighthouses on Rebecca shoal, Tortugas island and Garden key are dark.

German Cruiser Out in Storm.

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 20.—During the storm the wind here reached a velocity of sixty miles an hour, accompanied by excessive rainfall. Growing crops have suffered. The German cruiser Freya, on the way to Havana, is believed to have encountered the hurricane at its worst. The captain left here on Saturday in spite of the storm warnings, saying that the experience would be good for his cadets.

Storm Rushes North.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The weather bureau has issued the following bulletin:

"The southern storm will advance northward along the coast, and the western disturbance will move directly eastward, probably joining forces off the New England coast by Thursday night. High gales will occur during the twenty-four hours in the coast sections south of New England."

The chief forecaster said that the territory near the coast between Savannah, Ga., and Jacksonville, Fla., will probably again be visited by hurricane winds and heavy rains.

MAYOR W. J. GAYNOR.

New York Executive Who Dines With President Taft Sunday.

© 1910, by American Press Association.

New York, Oct. 20.—President Taft's three days' stay in this city ended when he left for Washington over the Pennsylvania railroad. The president's departure from New York marks the close of his vacation, and he is now back at his desk at the White House. He will run down to the isthmus of Panama shortly after election day to investigate canal questions that are to be discussed in his coming message, but this is the only trip of any length that he has scheduled for the fall and winter. Mrs. Taft left with the president last night.

President Taft's invitation to Mayor Gaynor to spend Sunday at the White House caused some speculation yesterday in view of the fact that Mr. Taft is on a still hunt for supreme court timber. It was learned before the president left town, however, that his only purpose in inviting Mr. Gaynor beyond the desire to enjoy the pleasure of the mayor's company, was to honor the mayor of Tokyo, who is to be a guest at a White House dinner on Saturday night. Mr. Taft in his long career as a public official has visited Japan five times and on most of these occasions he has been very hospitably entertained by the mayor of Tokyo.

The president thought the best way he could show his appreciation would be to invite the mayors of two or three representative cities to meet his honor of Tokyo. He has accordingly invited Mayor Keyburn of Philadelphia and the district commissioners of Washington, besides Mayor and Mrs. Gaynor.

YANKEE BALLOON MAY WIN.

The America II. Has Good Chance in International Race.

St. Louis, Oct. 20.—The international balloon race has progressed to a sensational stage. No less than seven of the entrants have crossed the great lakes and are now in the air over Canada. There were ten starters.

The St. Louis No. 4 was forced to land near Hillman, Mich., after sailing 655 miles, because of lack of ballast to negotiate the flight across Lake Huron. With the Million Club aerostat down, the hope of the United States winning the race rests in the America II., piloted by Alan R. Hawley. The third balloon, which is down, is the Concor. Like the Million Club, it did not attempt to cross Lake Michigan and landed in Wisconsin, near Two Rivers.

The balloons which came to earth have cambric gas bags. The others have gas bags of rubber. The record made by the late Oscar Erbsloeh in the 1907 race, 873.4 miles, it is believed, will be broken.

Fears are felt for the safety of an unidentified balloon which was seen at Ludington, Mich., flying rapidly in a westerly direction, which would take it over the lake.

GIRLS ARE VICTORIOUS.

Striking Necktie Makers Win Their Demands.

New York, Oct. 20.—Twenty thousand striking necktie makers have returned to work, and the 300 girls still out will go back as soon as negotiations have been completed with members of the employers' association.

This announcement was made by Mollie Hamer, secretary and treasurer of the Neckwear Makers' union, at strike headquarters. The settlement, Miss Hamer said, was a big victory for the girls.

Eighty Hurt in Trolley Crash.

Kittery, Me., Oct. 20.—Eighty employees of the Portsmouth navy yard on the way to begin their day's work were injured, three possibly fatally, in a collision between two heavily loaded trolley cars on the Atlantic Shore Line railway at Fort Hill. Falling leaves had made the rails slippery, and the first of two cars mounting the hill, driven by Motorman Arthur Barnes, failed to respond to its brakes and rolled back down the hill, crashing into another car. An accident shifter in almost every particular occurred at the same spot six weeks ago.

When to Prune Trees.

One of the frequent inquiries received by Prof. H. A. Surface is in regard to pruning trees. It appears that many persons believe that there is an exact date when trees should be pruned, and doing this at any other time would be very injurious. In reply to an inquiry of this kind Professor said:

"It is a true proposition for all trees that you can prune when in leaf if you desire to check or retard their growth during the coming growing season, but if you desire to promote or increase the woody growth next year, you should prune when they are dormant or not in leaf. Shade trees are often too large, and it is desired merely to hold them for shade purposes, without letting them grow larger. When this is to be done, it is better to prune them when in leaf, or in mid-summer.

"However, when one prunes as late as October, it really does not make much difference in regard to the effect on the tree because the leaves have already performed their functions for the year, merely waiting the time when they will drop away, as they are no longer needed.
