VICTORY.

We do not believe that Pennsylvania Republicans can be coaxed under any pretense whatever into the Grim or Berry Democratic organizations in sufficient numbers to affect the general result. It is true that in these closing days a vicious onslaught has been made upon the Republican ticket, and especially upon Toner. But Pennsylvania has become accustomed to vicious onslaughts. Four years ago the most despicable kind of a campaign was made against Edwin S. Stuart, but a very great many of his opponents have lived to bless the day when, in spite of their votes against him, he was elected. The Republican administration has been above reproach.

And now the time has come to elect his successor, and again the candidate of the Republican party is assailed in a most outrageous manner. He is not attacked as personally dishonest. His newspaper vilifiers try to create an impression where they dare not and cannot make a charge, the meanest kind of a campaign. But the candidate has openly and above board met his detractors face to face, and under oath has defied them with plain and pointed denials.

"I am satisfied that he will do what he promises you he will do, and I say this sincerely," declared Governor Stuart at the great demonstration in Harrisburg the other night, referring to Toner, and these promises are to continue the good government of Stuart. He is for good roads to be maintained by the state; for the development of the public school system; for the stamping out of consumption and of contagious and infectious diseases; for the best interests of the people of Pennsylvania. And he is also for the indorsement of the policies of Taft and of Roosevelt, and for halting the Democratic wave that has been threatening to sweep the nation from its moorings.

On the other hand we have Grim, a regular Democrat, and Berry, with all of the vagaries that he has absorbed as a disciple and follower of Bryan; Berry with his money-borrowing propensities that make him totally unfit for the Governorship.

We have no doubt whatever of the perfect safety of Pennsylvania institutions under the administration of Governor Toner, and we believe that Pennsylvania Republicans by a large majority think with us.

There is no reason, from a local standpoint, why Toner should not be elected. The Republican party has given a remarkable demonstration of honesty and ability through the administration of its present Governor, Edwin S. Stuart. To a continuance of the same high ideals Mr. Toner, stands pledged, and Gov. Stuart is on the stump to give his opinion that Mr. Toner means to do precisely what he promises and to advise in all sincerity the election of the full Republican ticket. Where Governor Stuart leads any Republican may follow with every confidence that he is doing the right thing.

Mr. Toner in his speeches gives evidence of an appreciation of the high duties of office. He is sound on the questions of the day, both of local and of general importance.

NEWS FROM MONROE COUNTY.

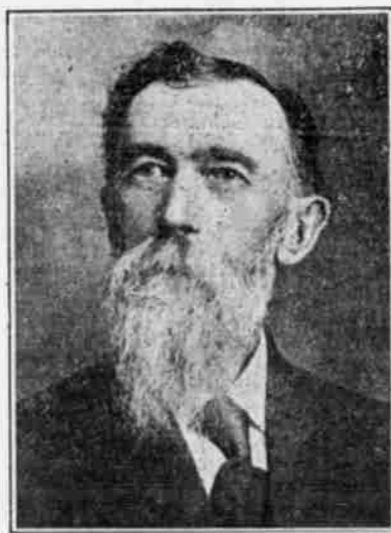

We are in receipt of a copy of the "Farmers' Advocate," a paper published at Stroudsburg, dated November 1, 1910. In big type on the front page there is an accusation against Harvey Huffman, who is candidate for State Senator. The charge is that Huffman while counsel for the county commissioners charged them extra fees and was at the same time counsel of corporations seeking to have their assessment reduced. To be counsel for both sides, is a serious offense, and no honest lawyer would dare attempt to do so. If Huffman was guilty of this offense he has no claim upon the vote of any honest taxpayer. For it is this juggling of taxes that compels the poor man to pay more than his share of the burden. Let every voter in Wayne county who is opposed to this kind of rascality vote for WINFRED D. LEWIS whose record is clean and who will receive the support of those who believe in a just distribution of taxation.

A vote for JACKSON will be a vote against perpetual office holding. No man in Wayne county is big enough to hold the same elective office for ever. No man has a right to expect the same political office at the hands of his constituents for five successive terms. No president of our country has ever asked more than two terms. There are any number of men who are worthy of our votes and whose capabilities are far greater than those who have already held office. H. Clark Jackson has never held a county office, and now as a candidate he is entitled to the support of the people of Wayne county. He is fitted for the position by reason of education, character and ability. He represents the farmers of our county, who are entitled to representation at Harrisburg. He is man broad enough to represent the whole people, to watch and protect the interests of our manufacturers, merchants and workmen as well as the agriculturalists. Vote for JACKSON and get your neighbor to vote for him. Be sure you vote in the circle in the first column.

Kipp is reputed to be a millionaire and possessor of about that amount of stocks, bonds and money at interest. If this is so, and all the taxes that he is paying is on the above, he is guilty of an offense, which should debar him for holding the office which he aspires to. A man who is able to pay taxes and dodges his taxes is a detriment to any community. Many a man is compelled to deprive himself of some of the necessities of life to pay his taxes, and if the rich man would pay his just tax the burden would be lightened on the man who is struggling hard to get out of debt and in a position where he can enjoy some of the comforts of this life. One of the reasons why taxation is so high is because so many men and corporations are doing just what Mr. Kipp is charged with doing, and men of this stamp should have it shown to them at the polls that the great mass of voters disapprove of their tax-dodging. Vote for PRATT who pays his taxes and is one of the largest taxpayers in his county.

MR. FUERTH'S TRUTHFUL STATEMENT.

Being a recipient of Mr. Fuert's latest production to influence men to vote for him as Representative, I take the liberty of calling the attention of "all voters" to a statement made by him under the heading "Just a Line on the Question of Liquor."

He "challenges any previous member of the legislature to show a cleaner record of public service, or one of more absolute fidelity and integrity to his constituents."

But who are his constituents? Who elected him to office? Has his "absolute fidelity and integrity" to the liquor traffic been a blessing to Wayne county, or to the state? These are questions that confront every voter and must be taken into consideration.

H. C. Jackson has never been connected with any business or enterprise that was not intended for the betterment of mankind. He is every inch a man.

JOS. M. COLEMAN.

This is a great Republican state. Throughout the nation agitation has aroused a fierce conflict, largely, almost wholly, for that matter, on account of the recent tariff legislation. It was precisely so when, following the passage of the McKinley tariff bill, the agitators assailed that measure. Very much the same fight was conducted in Pennsylvania in the year 1890 as now. The Republican party was defeated. Triumphant Democrats rode rough shod over everything two years later, and we had a Democratic President and the Wilson tariff, with results that were disastrous. Now Republicans are facing almost an exact parallel situation. They are asked to desert their party, as they were then, and take up with a Democratic Berry or a Democratic Grim. They subsequently regretted in sackcloth and ashes the turning over of Pennsylvania to the Democrats in 1890. They would just as surely repent the defeat of Toner in Pennsylvania should they bring it about next week.

VOTERS, READ THIS!

Mr. Editor:— Allow me please the use of your paper to correct at least one of the many false and misleading statements published in Mr. Fuert's Scranton printed liquorpaper which he in his desperation is mailing to the voters of Wayne county. He plainly says that at the late Wayne county fair I passed and repassed all day long for four full days, in company with my Keystone manager a certain tent which he says contained an immoral show. I have no Keystone manager and don't know to whom he refers. I passed the tent he refers to, I think, four times during the fair. I did not see or hear of anything wrong at this place. My department at the fair is upstairs in the main building and I am usually to be found there. I have nothing whatever to do with the tents or side-shows. If Mr. Fuert's moral nature was so shocked when he visited this tent he should have reported it to the proper officers and it would have been expelled. I might take other false statements and claims printed in the same sheet and prove them so, but I choose rather not to fret myself because of evil doers. I will simply ask what has Mr. Fuert really done in his eight years' of service in the Legislature. Has not our taxes steadily increased every year?

In a former article on taxation I stated that a portion of the liquor license tax was returned to the county by the state. I want to say further, that not enough of it is returned to pay the extra expense it puts the county to in costs of criminals and paupers caused by strong drink. Criminal statistics prove this to be so.

TENER SAYINGS.

"As it is in the nation, so it had been in the State. Under Republican rule this state has had its greatest prosperity. The Republican party has been in control now for fifty years, with but two exceptions. In that time all the greatest improvements have been made. When the Republican party came into power the state was forty millions dollars in debt, now it does not owe a cent."

"If I am placed in a position to influence legislation I will make it my business to see that the taxes of the state are more equitably distributed. I would tax certain corporations so that the burden would be lightened on those less able to pay. This is one of the progressive policies of the Republican party."

"This state has progressed as no other state has done, but there is still room for improvement. Under the splendid administration of Governor Stuart every department of the state has increased in efficiency."

At all the meetings throughout the state Mr. Toner made this campaign pledge:

"IF I AM ELECTED GOVERNOR, I PLEDGE MYSELF IN THIS PRESENCE, TO THE WHOLE PEOPLE OF PENNSYLVANIA, THAT I WILL, IN THAT HIGH OFFICE, SERVE NO PERSONAL OR PRIVATE INTEREST, BUT

"The Republican party of Pennsylvania is responsible for the enactment of an employers' liability law, which law affords the workman the opportunity of securing damages in many cases where they would not have the right to sue under the laws of many States. It is to be regretted that under any system of liability the workman must engage in long and costly litigation; and that the waste of money by workmen and employers in both prosecuting and defending suits of this character would go a long way if paid immediately to the workman to relieve his distress."

"We believe, and I believe, that the state of Pennsylvania, the greatest of all industrial states, should be among the first to enact and en-

At a Republican meeting at Manayunk, the appearance of the tall form of John K. Toner was the signal for an outburst of cheers.

Candidate Toner gave them a three-minute talk, no longer than Abraham Lincoln's talk at Gettysburg. The thing he laid particular stress upon was the Employers' Liability act. It was a new pledge, he said, that the Republican party in control of the government stood ready at all times to pass progressive legislation for the protection of the industrial workmen classes. "There is evidence of plenty of

If I am elected I propose to follow his example to the best of my ability. Our object will be to make the state the most important in the Union.

"Pennsylvania gives seven and a half million dollars a year to the schools of the state, exclusive of what is given them by the cities, counties and boroughs. This is more money given to the schools than any other state gives."

"My policy will be to have a more simplified school code and a new system. Pennsylvania now has the greatest schools and the most in the Union, and all that remains is for her to have the great system of conducting them."

"These are some of the things I pledge myself to do as Governor. And in conclusion, I desire to say in this presence, that if elected I will conduct the office of Governor with the idea of benefiting the people as a whole, to the credit of this great Commonwealth."

WILL HONESTLY AND FAIRLY EXECUTE THE POWER OF MY POSITION FOR THE GOOD OF THE WHOLE PEOPLE."

"I HAVE ALWAYS DONE WHATSOEVER LAY IN MY POWER TO AID IN ADVANCING AND BETTERING THE CONDITIONS OF THOSE WHO ARE DEPENDENT UPON DAY WAGES."

force legislation with respect to the subject, and it will be my purpose, if elected, to recommend the appointment of a commission of representative workmen and employers, whose duty it shall be to investigate every phase of the question and recommend to the Legislature a bill in accordance with the result of their investigation.

"It will be sufficient for me to say that in my view of the situation it is necessary for the prosperity of this country that a Republican Congress be elected this fall."

"The reason for this is simple. You know that when we have a Republican administration and a high protective tariff operating this country, there is widespread prosperity."

truth in the statement that under the Republican party we enjoy the best and greatest progress. Give the party credit for what it has done in the past. The history of the country shows that the best interests are under the administration of that party which believes in protection. You of this district know that.

"When the money stringency struck the nation recently and we all felt the need of some legislation to prevent any such recurrence, the Emergency Currency Act was passed by the efforts of the Republican party."

HARRISBURG LETTER.

The present political campaign presents conditions not often met within the state of Pennsylvania. With seven candidates in the field for Governor, the fight is practically narrowed down to two. Grim, the Democratic candidate, it is generally conceded will be third in the running, with Larkin, the Prohibitionist, polling less than the usual strength of that party. This is not due to his lack of popularity, but to the fact that Berry will draw some votes from that quarter. Berry will also draw heavily from the Democratic party, many of whom see no possible hope of electing their own candidate and will break away from the party. Many Democrats will support Toner.

Mr. Berry promises, if only they will elect him Governor, he will reveal depths of jobbery that will make the new Capitol matter seem small in comparison. This he cannot do, even if by any possibility he should be elected. Mr. Sheatz, who succeeded Mr. Berry, would very strongly resent any insinuation that his management of the State's finances was not strictly honest and clean. Mr. Young made a faithful and competent Auditor General, and not even his bitterest political foes ever intimated that anything was tolerated by him that would not bear the closest scrutiny. And of the administration of Governor Stuart none but the highest praise can be given. He has most carefully guarded the interests of the state at every point. These are the three chief administration officers of the state, and neither Berry nor any one else can find the promised scandal. If he knew of anything crooked, he would certainly reveal it during the campaign, so as to aid his candidacy.

Governor Stuart has asked for the support of the Republican party for Mr. Toner, and his endorsement carries great weight. The governor made a good point when he said that the Republican party does not nominate unfit men for office, and he has satisfied himself that Toner is worthy. What suits him is good enough for a whole lot of us who will do our best to bring victory to Toner and the whole Republican ticket, even down to H. Clark Jackson.

Mr. Jackson is one of the best men Wayne county has presented for the Legislature for a long time, and has many qualities that specially fit him for the place to which he aspires. He is not what you would call a big noise but he can be relied upon for effective work of the kind that will be needed in the coming session. The interests of organized labor will receive the same careful consideration as those of the farmer and tax legislation, of a nature that will equalize necessary bonders will be safely cared for. His life, reputation and character make it impossible for him to do otherwise than fairly by all interests that come before him. He won his nomination fairly if ever any one did and should receive the hearty and sincere support of every Republican voter in Wayne county. The county will fare much better by being represented by a member of the majority party. Here is a man who will serve his constituents faithfully.

Whatever doubts existed regarding the re-election of our Congressman, C. C. Pratt, seem to have entirely disappeared and our Democratic friends have ceased to claim that Kipp would again be chosen.

Mr. Pratt has made a good record at Washington. Very few men reach a prominent place during the first few years in Congress and Mr. Pratt has been content to serve his constituents in a quiet way, looking after all legislation in which the district would be interested, and by his vote and influence has endeavored to promote and accomplish the legislation to which the Republican party was pledged. He is not only a good Congressman but he is a good Republican, and that is what President Taft wants our district to send to Washington. It is undoubtedly true that the Republican majority in the next Congress will be somewhat reduced, if not wiped out entirely, and such a condition would interfere with the plans of the President and the leaders. Whatever other districts may do, our district should send a good Republican and this can only be accomplished by voting for Pratt. No one will dispute he is the better fitted for the place and here again it will pay to have a Republican on the job, one who works with the majority party. Wayne should give him a majority this year.
