

ILL, HE ENDS LIFE

Gilbert Jones, Once Wealthy Publisher, a Suicide.

HAD BEEN LONG A SUFFERER.

Son of Founder of New York Times
Chose Former Office of the Newspaper in Which to Kill Himself.
Friends Know No Reason.

New York, Nov. 3.—Gilbert Edward Jones, son of the famous George Jones, publisher of the New York Times and himself once the owner of that newspaper, shot himself to death in the building his father many years ago had left him, the old Times building at 41 Park row. He was sixty-six years of age and very wealthy. No reason for his act was given, and his relatives were at a loss to imagine why he had taken his life.

Mr. Jones was president and secretary and treasurer of the Park company, the corporation which owned the building in which he killed himself in his offices on the seventh floor. He had just been to lunch and returned shortly after 1 o'clock. He went to his private office and lay down on a couch. No one except another officer of the corporation was in the place at the time. But he heard the shot and with others from the hall rushed in. Mr. Jones had placed the upturned muzzle of a revolver of large caliber in his mouth and then fired a bullet that plowed up through his brain and cracked the bones of the skull. An examination showed that the point of the bullet had touched the scalp without breaking it. The employees of the company rushed into his private office and found Mr. Jones prostrate on his couch.

After hunting a half hour for a physician an elevator man found Dr. Wolfred Nelson, physician of the Astor House, and summoned him to the side of Mr. Jones.

Dr. Nelson at once pronounced the man dead.

Business acquaintances of Mr. Jones insisted that his affairs were in good condition, so that there was no cause growing out of them for his act. The relatives also said that they could find no reason whatever for it. But it was thought that Mr. Jones' illness was probably the cause of his suicide. He had suffered much from lumbago, and as he was getting along in years it was thought by some of those who knew him that his pain had become unbearable.

PROBE TELEPHONE TOLLS.

New York Company to Appear Before Public Service Commission.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 3.—The upstate public service commission has determined to make an investigation of the telephone charges collected by the New York Telephone company for the transmission of messages between the borough of Manhattan and the boroughs of Brooklyn, Queens, the Bronx and Richmond and each of them, and to determine whether such tolls are unjustly discriminatory or unduly preferential or in any wise in violation of laws, and as to whether or not it shall determine the just and reasonable rates and charges to be hereafter observed and in force as the maximum to be charged, and as to whether these shall be other than the rates now charged.

The company is required to appear before the commission at the Engineering society's building, New York, on Nov. 28 and submit evidence and arguments as to the matters which are to be investigated.

WELLESLEY BARS ELOPER.

Young Mrs. Ulman's College Days Ended by Faculty.

Boston, Nov. 3.—Married women, particularly those who have flown to Nashua, N. H., the nearest Gretna Green, in search of an obliging clergyman are not on the desirable list at Wellesley college, so Mrs. Lourin Beth Ulman of the freshman class and of San Francisco was shooed away by a faculty edict.

The youthful bride, who was formerly Miss Madelin Powers, daughter of President Frank J. Powers of the Union Trust company of San Francisco, left the town of hard study and fudge and, with her trunks and Latin grammar, came to Boston, where she met her husband and his relatives at the station.

Charge Browne Juror With Bribery.
Chicago, Nov. 3.—The Daily News stated without reservations that a true bill charging bribery of a juror in the Lee O'Neil Browne case has been voted, naming as defendant Charles R. Erlstein, one of Browne's attorneys.

Circumventing Papa.
"Reginald, I'm awfully sorry, but papa says he doesn't want to see you coming here any more."
"Boredom, your father's wish is law. He shall not see me again if I can help it. What evenings in the week does he spend downtown?"—Chicago Tribune.

Tinted Paper.
The origin of blue tinted paper came about by a mere slip of the hand. The wife of William East, an English papermaker, accidentally let blue pack fall into one of the vats of pulp.

NURSEMAID IN UNIFORM

A Smart Cape and Cap Set in the Old Time White Apron

THE SWAGGER NURSEMAID'S COSTUME.

The white apron is no longer a sufficient uniform for the smart nursemaid who follows her charges about the streets. The up to date maid now wears in the house a snow white frock of duck or linen, and in the street this is covered by a dark blue or gray cape coat like the one pictured. Her little bonnet has a dignified veil to match, and the white mull bow at her throat is dignified and respectability epitomized.

The Pajama Girl.
When cold winter nights come the small girl and her small brother, too, will be anxious to change their lingerie underwear for pajama suits of warm flannel.

Pajamas for girls are cut exactly like those the boys wear, but the materials are daintier in coloring and often in weave. The pretty suit seen in the cut is made from ducking fleece, a kind of flowered flannel which is very attractive and washes splendidly. The fleece is patterned with Mother Goose figures, and the ground-work is a fascinating shade of pink.

PAJAMAS OF PINK FLANNEL.

Mothers who approve of silk underwear and can afford such luxuries for their children as silken pajamas have a lovely selection of suits from which to choose. Many of these models are of quilted silk embroidered in oriental designs.

Chum With Your Opposite.
It is a fine idea for the business girl to chum with her opposite. If you are inordinately inclined to gaiety or laziness a serious, intellectual friend will tone you up.
If you need toning down in the way of nerves and a too strenuous ambition find a friend who loves physical exercise, jokes, dressmaking and housekeeping.

If you are a natural born anchorite try to hobnob with the girl who gives fudge parties and sees the world from another angle.
That's the sensible way to lower the average, don't you think so?

PRESIDENT DAVILLA.

Honduran Executive Having Trouble With Gen. Valladares.

San Salvador, Nov. 3.—It is reported here that General Jose Valladares, former governor of Amapala, Honduras, who was deposed from office by President Davilla and recalled to Tegucigalpa, has returned to Amapala in order to hand over his command to his successor and has openly declared himself against the government. It is also rumored that he has attacked the American consular agency and has committed other excesses.

Jose Maria Valladares has a record for hatred of foreigners, especially Americans. When the new American minister, Mr. McCreery, who succeeded Philip Brown, reached Amapala early last month President Davilla wired the commandant, then Valladares, to receive Mr. McCreery officially and accord him proper honors. Valladares replied that he would not receive "any of Taff's dogs with any honors."

The Ancient Use of a Kiss.

A Roman woman in the ancient time was not allowed to drink wine except it were simple raisin wine, and however she might relish strong drinks she could not indulge even by stealth—first, because she was never entrusted with the key of the wine cellar, and second, because she was obliged daily to greet with a kiss all her own as well as her husband's male representatives, down even to second cousins, and as she knew not when or where she might meet them she was forced to be wary and abstain altogether, for had she tasted but a drop the smell would have betrayed her. So strict were the old Romans in this respect that a certain Ignatius Mercurius is said to have slain his wife because he caught her at the wine cask—a punishment which was not deemed excessive by Romulus, who absolved the husband of the crime of murder. Another Roman lady who under the pretense of taking a little wine for her stomach's sake and frequent infirmities indulged somewhat too freely was indicted to the full amount of her dowry.

Among the Honors.

One of the last times that Bishop Burgess of Long Island dined out was at the Press club, where the waiters are all negroes. The head waiter bowed Bishop Burgess and his host profusely to their places. "This way, admiral," said he. "Tek this table. You get a peevish view of the harbor heah, admiral."

"I am not an admiral," said Bishop Burgess, smiling.
"My mistek, sub," said the head waiter. "Ah mout er known all the time I was er talkin' to a military man. You like dis table, colonel?"
"I am not a colonel," said Bishop Burgess, smiling more broadly. "I am a bishop."

"To be shuah, sub," said the head waiter. "To-o be shuah! Ve'y sorry for mah mistek, sub. I got dem titles of admiral and colonel wrong, sub, but Ah was all right on de main issue. Ah knowed soon as Ah saw you dat you was one of de face cards of your profession, sub."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Purely Hypothetical.

"Uncle Henry, I want to ask you advice."
"Well?"

"But you mustn't mention it to a living soul. Suppose you were a young girl of my age and three men had proposed to you, one of them a young preacher, fine looking and well educated, the second one a handsome young man in business, swell dresser and thinking the world of you, and the third a rich foreigner with a distinguished air about him and well spoken of by everybody. Which of the three do you think would make the best husband?"

"Why, Annabel, child, consult your own heart. Which of the three do you love best?"
"Mercy, Uncle Henry! Nobody's proposed to me yet. I'm only trying to get pointers, so I'll know the right man when he comes along."—Chicago Tribune.

Both Exempt.

"Do your daughters help their mother with the housework?"
"We wouldn't think of expecting it. Muriel is temperamental and Zaza is intense."—Pittsburg Post.

Persia hasn't caught up with the times enough to provide herself with a real transportation system. Horses and donkeys still constitute the passenger and freight carrying resources of the empire which once dominated the east. Still Persia has one railroad. It is ten miles long and runs from Teheran, the capital, to the shrine of a defunct shah.

Miss Caroline E. Wenzell of Boston has the only school in the country in which the pupils are all street vendors. The object of the school is to teach these street merchants a more musical way of calling their wares. Instead of abolishing the cries of these men, as the members of the anti-noise society proposed, Miss Wenzell believes they should be turned into music.

ARE YOU, GOOD WOMAN, AT YOUR BEST?

Many beautiful women find themselves losing good looks and health—slowly fading from a cause unknown to them. She has no appetite, and the food she does eat seems to do her no good. Why? If you should ask her what the trouble is, she would say, "I am just tired out." But the real cause is constipation and its resulting condition—bad blood. Just think what habitual neglect of the bowels means—sickness instead of good health; nervousness instead of vigor; cheerfulness replaced by depression, happiness by misery.

A week's use of Smith's Finest and Butternut Pills will work wonders. They will regulate the functions of the liver and the bowels, immediately unload the congestion, cure the constipation and cleanse the blood of impurities. These little pills will soon make you feel and look at your best. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep them on hand. These little Vegetable Pills will ward off many ills.

Bleeding Fish to Keep Them.

The Norway fisher cuts and bleeds fish the moment they are caught. He cuts the throat or bleeds them from the tail. Fish so finished keep far better. Fish are best just before spawning time; thereafter they become poor, then watery and unfit. Some folk are grieved by herring and mackerel. No matter how fresh the fish the people vomit, purge and break out in bold hives. It is not uncommon to find dead oysters mixed up in the heap. These dead ones are liable to poison the live ones.

The Acreage Problem.

The "acreage problem" is very simple. An acre measures 209 feet each way, containing 43,681 square feet. Now, if a plot of ground has a frontage of 354 feet, its depth must be as much as 354 is contained into 43,681 square feet, equalling 123.39 feet, which will be the depth. To prove it, multiply 354 by 123.39, which equals 43,681. Very simple, isn't it?—L. Gibbins in the New York World.

Bullocks and a Bull.

He was an Irish barrister; therefore he must perpetrate a bull. Addressing the jury in tones of deep emotion, he said: "It will be for you to say, gentlemen, if the defendant shall be allowed to come into court with unblushing footsteps, with the cloak of hypocrisy in his mouth, and draw these bullocks out of my client's pocket with impunity."

WHEN THERE IS ILLNESS

In your family you of course call a reliable physician. Don't stop at that; have his prescriptions put up at a reliable pharmacy, even if it is a little farther from your home than some other store. You can find no more reliable store than ours. It would be impossible for more care to be taken in the selection of drugs, etc., or in the compounding. Prescriptions brought here, either night or day, will be promptly and accurately compounded by a competent registered pharmacist and the prices will be most reasonable.

The Era of New Mixed Paints!

This year opens with a deluge of new mixed paints. A condition brought about by our enterprising dealers to get some kind of a mixed paint that would supplant CHILTON'S MIXED PAINTS. Their compounds, being new and heavily advertised, may find a sale with the unwary.

THE ONLY PLACE IN HONSDALE AUTHORIZED TO HANDLE CHILTON'S MIXED PAINTS Is JADWIN'S PHARMACY.

There are reasons for the pre-eminence of CHILTON PAINTS. 1st—No one can mix a better mixed paint. 2d—The painters declare that it works easily and has wonderful covering qualities. 3d—Chilton stands back of it, and will agree to repaint, at his own expense, every surface painted with Chilton Paint that proves defective. 4th—Those who have used it are perfectly satisfied with it and recommend its use to others.
