LOCAL MENTION.

—Miss Caroline L. Peterson is in New York city making purchases for the holiday season.

—Local Superintendent Judson Smith spent Saturday here in the interests of the Consolidated Telephone Company.

—From twenty Martha Washington suppers $10,380.22 have been cleared, or an average profit of $500 per year.

—Robert M. Dorin has purchased the advertising and distributing rights for Honesdale and vicinity of Mrs Isaac Forman.

—The National Elevator and Machine company on Tuesday received a large upright boring mill from the Griscoe Machine company to be used for turning shears.

—Dr. and Mrs. Webb, of Forest City, and Miss Courtwright, of Carbondale, were numbered among the out-of-town attendants at the funeral of the late Dr. Searles.

—One of our esteemed contemporaries omitted in a recent enumeration of "Wayne county folks," who have ventured into musical composition, the name of Mrs. Orpah Swingle, of Ariel.

—The Wyoming conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will meet in annual session, commencing March 29, 1911, in Owego, N. Y. Bishop Robert McIntyre being the presiding officer.

—Several Honesdale veterans are planning to attend the dedication exercises at Chattanooga, Tenn., for which purpose the government has granted free transportation. They will leave New York November 11.

—The Young People's Society of St. John's Lutheran church have elected Royal Richenbaker and Geo. Ripple as delegates, and Will Haggerty, as alternate, to the Fall convention of the Northeastern district of the Luther League at Scranton, November 10.

—In compliance with many requests, the management of the Lyric has decided to hold the curtain until 8.30 instead of the usual time, on Thursday evening, Nov. 10, when "The Wolf" is the attraction here. This is being done in order that those attending the Men's Supper at the Presbyterian Chapel may also take in the show. Personal guarantee is given by Manager Dittrich that "The Wolf" will be one of the best attractions and one of the best theatrical events of the season. The price of admission will be gladly returned to those not satisfied with the performance.

—Monday night, a horse attached to an undertaking wagon belonging to J. Samuel Brown, while standing at the station, became frightened either at the noise of an engine blowing off steam, or got tired of being out in the cold, or else longed to get back to the stable and finish his supper—whether prompted by any or all of these things, he dashed off up the road as fast as he could go. Fortunately no one was in the street at the time, and so Dobbin got home without damage to himself, wagon or pedestrians, and stopped in front of his Master's place of business, with an air of "Well, here I am. What are you going to do about it?"

—Several individuals interested in "Honesdale Beautiful," waited upon the county commissioners at their meeting last week and remarked upon the fact that large piles of ashes had been permitted to accumulate at the rear of the court house, and suggested that they were proving to be an eye-sore to pedestrians in that vicinity and that it might be a good idea if they were removed. In discussing the matter in the lobby of one of our leading hotels a prominent citizen pointed out a picture of the Jeffries-Johnson pictures to be exhibited here in the near future, and said he thought it might be better if a protest was registered against the "fight" pictures, since the ashes were put there for the convenience of the farmers who came to town and hauled their away.

—Friday, November 4, was Pension Day.

—"You will eventually shop in Honesdale—Start now!"

—Miss Emma E. Taylor was tendered a delightful "agate shower" several nights ago.

—The men of the First Presbyterian church will banquet Thursday evening, Nov. 10 at 6:30 o'clock. Tickets, 50 cents.

—Hon. Benjamin R. Jones succeeds the late Judge John Lynch as additional law judge of Luzerne county.

—The fifteenth annual Wayne county school directors' convention will be held in the High school, November 18 and 19.

—County Superintendent J. J. Koehler encountered huge snowdrifts in the course of his visits last week to several rural schools.

—James Boyle, delivery boy at the Wayne County Co-operative store, has accepted a position in New York, and is succeeded by Leo Buckley.

—Mrs. S. J. Katz has learned of the rapid recovery of her brother, Sidney Samuels, who recently was operated upon for appendicitis in New York city.

—"The sale" held at the parlors of Grace church, Friday afternoon, was well attended, in spite of the inclement weather, and proved to be a social as well as a financial success.

—A District Sunday School Convention, is being held in the Galilee Methodist Episcopal church to-day (Wednesday). Morning, afternoon and evening sessions are scheduled.

—The recent M. E. Men's Autumnal supper at Hawley was a great success. The net proceeds reached $226. The men are being congratulated on the "happy result of their efforts."

—The next meeting of the Wayne County Medical Association will be held the third Thursday in December, when Dr. Winebrake, of Scranton, is expected to speak on "The Use of the Forceps."

—Edward E. Payne, Scranton, is the new division agent for the D. and H. R. Co., with headquarters at Carbondale, and jurisdiction covering the Honesdale and Nineveh branches of the Pennsylvania Division.

—Thursday afternoon Protection Engine Company No. 3 answered an alarm of fire at the home of Frederick Smith, 529 River street. The blaze, which was a slight one, was put out before the Fire Company arrived.

—Will all members who are collecting weeks and days on the hospital calendars please try to collect their money and bring it to a meeting at the lower hall Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock? Women's Hospital Auxiliary.

—"I guess the fire was in the stove alright," remarked a number of disgusted spectators who answered a fire alarm last Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, running to Sixth street at the bridge corner through the rain and slush only to find that there was no fire.

—Mrs. Emma G. Secor has leased her rooms to A. A. Oehlert, the engraver and repairer in Rowland's new jewelry store, who with his wife and little daughter will take possession soon after the middle of the month. Mr. Oehlert was formerly in business in Scranton.

—The Rev. Edwin MacMinn, who is very well remembered here as the former successful pastor of the Honesdale First Baptist church, has resigned his charge at Dalton, Lackawanna county, to accept a unanimous and entirely unsolicited call from Kearney, Nebraska.

—The Cluthe Institute of New York City has an interesting advertisement on page 5 of this issue. Those afflicted will do well to carefully read the offer of this well known concern. They ask nothing except that you send for their book, which is mailed free upon request.

—George Keller, who in company with Fred G. Rickard, last Friday delivered the ballots in the southern end of the county, reports that they came across drifts so deep that they had to get help to be shoveled out.

—T. F. Mangan, of Hawley, transacted business in Honesdale, Friday.

—Harry T. Madden, of Scranton, sang Friday afternoon at the High school. In the evening he appeared before a large audience in the Lyric Theatre introducing "In Dear Old Wayne." His rendition of the charming song was well received, and Mr. Madden was heartily encored.

—The Sunday edition of the Scranton Tribune-Republican sang its "swan song" October 30. It expired peacefully after an existence of only nine months. Its newsy pages and "home-made" stories will be greatly missed. Here's hoping that it may yet rise like a "Phoenix," from its ashes.

—Daniel Brown, of Lebanon township, has been furnishing the turkeys for the annual Martha Washington supper in the First Presbyterian church for a number of years. It is said that the churchwomen will be compelled to pay thirty-five cents a pound, this year, for their fowls.

—Fully eight inches of snow fell Thursday night, the heavy flakes commencing to fall Thursday noon. Some one told the CITIZEN representative that "he missed the poems on "Beautiful Snow," which appeared every Fall in the papers of forty years ago, and which are rarely seen in print now."

—A genuine German supper will be served at St. John's Lutheran church parlors, Thursday, November 10. The menu consists of Sauer kraut, kartoffel fleisch, sour fleisch, mashed potatoes, fresh roasted ham, kuchen, kichel, coffee, etc. Tickets, 35 cents. Sie sind Alle freundlich eingeladen beizuwohnen.

—Three attempts have been made to break into the store of Graham Watts and Son, Keystone street, Hawley; the last of which occurred several nights ago. Two panes of glass were removed from a basement in an effort to effect an entrance. A reward is offered for the arrest and conviction of the offenders.

—Master Russell Pohle is reported to be convalescing rapidly from an attack of diphtheria.

—A handsome new carpet has recently been laid in the main auditorium of the First Baptist church.

—The Rev. W. H. Swift, D. D., married Benjamin Garing and Carrie L. Gredlein, both of Cherry Ridge.

—A successful progressive entchre, the third of a series for the benefit of the new hospital, was held at the home of Miss Minnie Bayley, Willow Avenue, Friday evening.

—Miss Wilhelmina Schoell delightfully entertained the "Q. T." club at her home, Friday. After spending the afternoon in sewing and reading, dainty refreshments were served.

—Raw furs wanted—Highest prices paid for raw furs of all kinds. Write me for prices. B. S. FINKLE, Binghamton, N. Y. 89t3

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Ella Graves, aged seventy-eight years, died at her home in Fortonia, Wayne county, Friday, November 4.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Bigelow, aged 58 years, of Denver Col., a former resident of Dyberry, Wayne county, died October 18. She is survived by her husband, S. D. Bigelow, three sisters, Mrs. Ida Hoar, of Elain, Utah; Mrs. Hattie Conklin, of Bidwell Hill, Wayne county, and Mrs. Florence Bodle, of Dyberry, Wayne county.

Miss Annie Wizard, who had been ailing with cancer for several years, died at her father's home in Cherry Ridge, Monday morning at 6:30 o'clock. Funeral services will be held from her late home, Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Albert L. Whittaker, rector of Grace Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a member, officiating. Miss Wizard, who was only thirty-six years of age, kept house for her father and three brothers, Orris, Alva and Harold. A fourth brother resides at Beach Lake. Her mother preceded her in death three years ago. Miss Wizard was a great sufferer. She spent some time in the State hospital, Scranton, returning home last September. She was confined to her bed ever since, and failed rapidly, until death at last brought a blessed relief to her poignant sufferings.

Edward, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin J. Brown, 303 High street, died in a Rochester, N. Y., hospital Saturday, and the remains were received at Honesdale, Monday evening. The death of their son came as a terrible shock to Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who were unaware even that he was sick. Mr. Brown, Jr., was born in Honesdale, July 15, 1878, and was in his thirty-third year of age. He left here about twelve years ago, and in that time he followed his profession in the state of Kentucky, in Scranton, and in Elmira, N. Y. Failing health compelled him to give up operating. L. F. Bishop was his instructor in telegraphy. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his parents, the Rev. W. H. Swift, D. D., officiating. Interment was made in Riverdale cemetery. His parents and these brothers and sisters survive to mourn his early departure: Mrs. William Olsen; Antoinette, Walter, Honesdale; Henry, Peekskill-on-the-Hudson; Mrs. Milton Lewis, Carbondale.

HERRICK HUNTER SHOT WEDNESDAY.

Herrick Center, Pa., Nov. 3.—While hunting in the woods near his home yesterday, Elmer Masler, a well-known resident of Herrick Center, was accidentally shot and died from his injuries at the Emergency hospital where he was taken after the accident. The victim's left arm was shattered by the shot.

How Masler received the wound is not known. He left his home early yesterday morning for a hunting trip and when he did not return, his son started out in search of him. He scoured the woods for some time before he came upon the unconscious body of his father. He was hurriedly taken to the hospital in Carbondale but he was so weak from loss of blood that he failed to rally from the wound. As near as can be learned Masler was cleaning the gun and accidentally pulled the trigger, the shot tearing his right arm into shreds. He was accompanied by two friends on the trip who heard his cry of distress after the shot had been fired. They hurried to his assistance and removed him to his home.

The deceased was a farmer by occupation and was about forty years of age and moved to Herrick Center about three years ago from Jessup where he worked in the mines. Besides a widow and several children he is survived by two brothers, Stephen and Joseph, of Jessup.

Three Weddings at Prompton.

Rev. R. C. Burch, of Waymart, married three couples at the residence of Mrs. John M. Romich at Prompton, Wednesday evening, Nov. 2. The contracting parties were: Miss Rena Stark and F. W. Phillips, Mrs. Eva Horton and J. J. Duell, Miss Susie O'Dell and Henry Bartholomew, all of Whites Valley. The brides were gowned in white, and carried shower bouquets of roses and ferns. The house was prettily decorated with palms, ferns and flowers and was illuminated with candles. After the ceremonies, an elaborate supper was served. Mrs. Irwin Bodle and Mrs. Arthur L. Datesman assisted the hostess, Mrs. Romich. The bridal couples remained a week at the home of Mrs. Romich for a house party.

You Can Sell All Your Hay.

Let a farmer get thirty to forty acres well seeded to alfalfa and he ought to consider himself well fixed financially. With four or even three tons of hay per acre at present prices he will have the income from $50,000 clear. He need not keep any stock except his work teams, and he can spend the Winter where he pleases. This means selling all the hay, and the supply will never catch up with the demand. A Colorado man offered alfalfa hay at $10 per ton, but the freight rate of $12.80 to New York prohibited trade. Thus the eastern alfalfa grower need not fear western competition, but can have a clear field. There is a great opening in alfalfa.—Rural New Yorker.

EVER INCREASING.

A bank account is like a snowball—roll it gently along and it will get larger (almost without your noticing it) as the days go by. Like the snowball, too, the hardest work is making the first deposit, giving it the first push, after which the initial impetus gains as the ball runs down, the bank account rolls up. We want to help you with your financial snowball.
