STERLING.

Startling Absence of Mrs. Margaret Malsome—Wildly Delirious Since Her Return—Breezy Bits From Sterling.

Special to THE CITIZEN.
Sterling, Pa., November 22.—Although, as usual, many are not prepared for winter, yet the snow stays on, and it does appear as if winter had come to stay.

Yesterday this community was startled by hearing that Mrs. Margaret Malsome, relict of Reuben Malsome, had left the house shortly after midnight, very poorly clad, and left no trace of her departure. All day long perhaps 20 or 30 men searched every nook and corner in which they thought she might be hiding, but without the least success. To the surprise of all about 6:30 in the evening she returned, gave one scream, and fell senseless. Most of the time since her return she has been unconscious, or wildly delirious, and certainly she is in a very precarious condition. Last Sunday she told a cousin, Robert McLain, that she would never see him again. Mr. McLain bid her good-bye, as he was leaving for the Soldiers' Home at Fortress Monroe.

For the past two years, William Stevens has been living with his son, Harry, in Dunmore, and yesterday another son, Wesley, living here received a telegram that his father was dying, and so left for Dunmore. A. J. Cross has been confined to his house all this week, and improves but slowly.

Lydia Leisher has the diphtheria, in a mild form.

LAKEVILLE.

Special to THE CITIZEN.
Lakeville, Pa., Nov. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Woodward, Adella, were the guests of her parents, J. N. Stephens and wife, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Seegar were guests of Mrs. William Clark, at Paupack, on Sunday.

The L. A. S. met with Mrs. G. L. James on Wednesday last. Proceeds $2.10. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Locklin, on Wednesday, November 30.

Mrs. R. O. Glessinger, and granddaughter, Marie Daniels, are visiting relatives at Wilsonville and Hawley.

William Davis and F. E. Moxley, of Scranton, are spending a few days here hunting, stopping at R. Hazelton's.

Frank Haney recently entertained friends from Hawley.

We are sorry to note the serious illness of our neighbor, Mrs. J. Malmes.

Sponsor Daniels returned on Wednesday, after spending some time with friends at Pittston and Scranton.

Rev. H. T. Purkiss was called to Arlington on Thursday to assist Rev. R. Lucas in the funeral services of Mrs. George Rouche, who died on Tuesday, of apoplexy. She leaves one son and one daughter, besides her much-bereaved husband.

Peter Daniels left on November 15 for a "bear old deer hunt" in the wilds of Pike.

Coe Young, Jr., has just placed a fine monument in the Branan cemetery in memory of his wife and father. Parties from Honesdale did the work.

Mrs. O. H. Braman, Carthage, is visiting her parents, Mrs. and Mrs. A. P. Lauson, for a week.

Mrs. Hattie Schenck has returned to Braman to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Preston Teepie.

John Wesley Arnold is on a business trip to Carbondale.

The weather being favorable in about three weeks the Bobolink and brother Arthur will wind up their lumber contract with Lumberman Hollenback. They won't be sorry as they need some rest.

Two of Forest City's sportsmen took from this section one day last week five foxes, a good day's hunt.

It is reported that another big industry is in progress for the citizens, and farmers here at Steene, such as farmers Denny and Wood, have come to the conclusion that their autos can be put to practical use as well as pleasure. Therefore they are talking of breaking ground at the corner of Fern avenue and Main street and erecting a large dry goods and grocery store. They will deal in all kinds of farm produce, from a load of hay down to a dozen of eggs in exchange for dry goods and groceries, which will save farmers in this section long trips to Waymart and Prompton.

South Sterling, Nov. 22.—J. M. Burke, and Mrs. Wells, Buffalo, have returned to their home, after spending a week with Dr. Burke's mother.

Mr. Walton George, Mt. Pocono, is the guest of Messrs. G. V. and J. G. Frey.

Mrs. W. H. Osborn and daughter, Edna, spent the first part of the week in Scranton.

Miss Anna Barnes, who has spent two months in the West, has started on her way home and is visiting at the home of Dr. Edwin Burke in Chicago.

James M. Gilpin and daughter, Ruth, and son, Burton, spent Thursday in Scranton.

Miss Leah Houck and Miss Kate Simons, started for Virginia Saturday where they will be the guests of Mrs. Houch's sister.

Mrs. M. B. Carlton and sons, Kenneth and Marshal, spent the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Frey.

Mrs. Hattie Roocke has returned to her home in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Margaret Frick, of LaAnna, went to Philadelphia Tuesday to see her daughter, Oral, graduate as a trained nurse.

G. H. Lancaster has gone to Philadelphia on a business trip.

A. E. Barnes, Dr. R. A. Smith, Merritt Smith and son, Clifford, and Ray Smith have spent this week deer hunting near Peck's Mill Pond.

Edgar Robacker and wife, Moscow, are visiting their parents.

C. W. Akers is on a business trip to Scranton.

John Wesley Arnold is on a business trip to Carbondale.

BRAMAN AND KELLAM.

Special to THE CITIZEN.

Braman and Kellam, Nov. 21.—Mrs. D. M. Stalker and daughter, Edith, went to Honesdale last Wednesday and will return Saturday. They will visit her brother, M. Lee Braman and other relatives at Indian Orchard.

John La Forge, W. Engelbrecht, Staten Island, and Mr. Hiram Conklin and Ross Tyler, Galilee, have been hunting the past week in this vicinity. Those from Staten Island returned to their homes last Saturday. They did not find game very plentiful but enjoyed the sport and the fine air among the hills of Wayne county and succeeded in taking a number of rabbits home with them.

STEENE.

Special to THE CITIZEN.

Old Farms Can be Made New With Right Management.

Steene, Nov. 21.—Peter Knay is making great improvements on the old Richardson farm, that he purchased five years ago. At the time of his purchase, five cows and a team was all that could be wintered from the produce of the farm. Now Mr. Knay can winter his team, twenty cows, and a dozen head of young stock. This last summer he found it necessary to tear down the small barns and build greater. This goes to show that old farms can be made new with the right management. Peter's head is level.

The school directors that missed the addresses of Judge A. T. Searle and Attorney F. P. Kimble, last Saturday morning at the directors' Institute, missed a treat. We think that there were a few in attendance that would liked to have missed some of the latter part of Attorney Kimble's address, but down in the heart of the honest director a still small voice said "Amen."

While chopping wood one day last week, one of our neighbors, Charles Hubbard, had the misfortune of running a stick or small silver in his eye. It is feared that he will lose the sight of the optic. He is consulting a specialist at Scranton this week.
