HYMENEAL.

On Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock, a beautiful home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Bishop, East Extension street, when their oldest daughter, Miss Grace L., became the wife of Ray Oscar Bunnell. Rev. Dr. W. H. Swift united the couple who, unattended, stood under an arch of running pine. The bride wore a becoming brown silk foulard, trimmed with silk applique, and she carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. About twenty guests, the members of the two families, offered congratulations and after the reception dainty refreshments were served. At 4:40 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Bunnell left by the D. & H. for a two weeks' honeymoon trip to Buffalo and other points of interest. The D. & H. platform was thronged by their many friends who gave them a royal sendoff. The bride's traveling dress was of walnut colored cloth and she wore a hat to match. Upon their return to Honesdale the couple will reside with the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bunnell, Court street. The bride received many costly gifts of cut glass, decorated ware, silverware, china and furniture. Mr. Bunnell is in the employ of J. D. Weston as chauffeur, and he and his bride are highly regarded by their many friends. The out of town guests present were Mrs. Phoebe Brown, Dunmore; Peter Bishop, Hawley; Harry Sommer, Mrs. L. L. Wood and son, R. S. Wood, Carbondale.

Leo R. Compton, of East Cherry Ridge, and Miss Eva A. Goodman, Honesdale, were united in marriage at the M. E. parsonage by their pastor, Rev. W. H. Hiller, Thursday evening, at seven o'clock. They were attended by Wallace Goodman, brother of the bride, and Miss Martha Compton, sister of the groom. The bride wore a suit of gray broadcloth and her attendant was attired in blue serge. Both wore black hats with black plumes. After the ceremony they went to the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Compton, where a reception was given in their honor. After congratulations all retired to the large dining room where a sumptuous repast was served. Those present besides members of the immediate families were George Goodman, Charles Goodman, William Brock, Fred Compton, Henry French, Samuel R. Brown, Edgar Compton, H. W. Toms and their wives, Mrs. Julia Garrett, Mrs. Nelson and Miss Flossie Goodman. The wedding gifts were many and handsome, among them being a handsome sideboard and full set of dishes given by the parents to the groom. After spending a most enjoyable evening the happy pair went to their already furnished rooms at 621 Park street where they will reside. The groom is a popular glass cutter in the employ of T. E. Clark & Co.

A CAREFUL MAN.

His Indecision in the Matter of Employing a Doctor.

The parsimony of the old New Englander of the type now almost vanished was nobly exemplified in Mr. Benny Huntington, who lived with his maiden sister in a little town in western Massachusetts. Neither had ever spent a penny unnecessarily and when in his old age Mr. Benny became crippled with "the rheumatic" and had, as well strange flutterings of the heart, which were unrelieved by the best recommended "yarb teas," they were greatly shocked at the suggestions and warnings of their friends and neighbors that they ought to send for a doctor. Mr. Benny refused, declared his scorn of the entire medical profession and continued to save his pennies.

But the pain grew worse. Mr. Benny was confined to his bed in great agony and overheard some of the neighbors telling his sister that he was going to die. Then he sent for an old schoolmate, a man as "careful" as himself.

"Josiah," he asked, in a low, confidential tone, "have you ever had a doctor?"

Josiah shook his head. "Dunno as I have," he answered.

Mr. Benny reached out and laid a trembling hand upon his old friend's arm. "Josiah," he said again, "did you ever hear how much one o' them doctors charges for a visit?"

Josiah looked at his suffering friend with pitying sympathy. "Well," he said, breaking in as gently as he could—"well, I have heard, Benny, that they charge as much as $2 a visit."

"Two dollars!" Mr. Benny repeated. "Two dollars!" Then he sank back on his pillow and sighed in a voice of strangely mingled relief, regret and resignation. "Well, I dunno but I'd rather spend $5 than die!"

WORMY CHESTNUTS UNDER BAN.

Dairy and Food Commissioner After Bad Product of Forest.

Commissioner Foust has been advised that the chestnuts offered for sale in the state are wormy and decayed, and has ordered his agents to look into the matter.

Commissioner Foust says that chestnuts are being largely sold as food nowadays, and they are clearly under the provisions of the pure food act of 1909, and that he intends to see that the people buying them are protected.

The act of 1909 provides that any vegetable or other food substance which may be in a state unfit for use may not be sold. The chances are that there will be an inspection of stands in this part of the state. Some of the reports show that over half of some of the chestnuts sold have contained worms.

RAVAGES OF LOVE INCURBS.

Washington Pastor Sounds Warning to Parents of School Children.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—"Look out for the love incubus!" Many Washington parents are seriously considering this warning delivered by the Rev. E. Hoz Swem, pastor of the Capital Baptist church.

"This incubus," he said, "may be universal. I don't know about that. But I do know that it creates havoc in Washington. Girls and boys in school, young people at theatres, misses and youths on the streets are afflicted with it."

"I see it everywhere. And oftentimes the parents do not discover the ravages in their own family until a secret marriage is divulged. 'We can't stamp it out, like typhoid or malaria, either,' continued Dr. Swem. 'The best we can do is to regulate it like the corporations, and parents had better be considering the problem.'"
