

SHOT; WIFE HELD.

Philadelphia Clubman Has Bullet In Head.

MRS. GLAPP'S STORIES VARY

Swicide, Accident, Self Defense Are Excuses Given by Woman Who Before Her Marriage Was a Manicure Girl.

Philadelphia, Dec. 13.—Only two persons were present when Herbert Mason Clapp, clubman, received the bullet wound in the head which narrowly missed ending his life at his home. One of these was Clapp, and the other was his wife, Mrs. Clapp, while her husband was lying upon the floor apparently dead, readily assented to the theory that he had committed suicide. Later, when Clapp was taken to St. Joseph's hospital with what seemed to be only a feeble spark of life remaining within him, she declared that the shooting was an accident.

When Clapp, growing stronger at the hospital, made a statement to Magistrate Thomas G. Morris in which he accused his wife of having attempted to murder him, Mrs. Clapp told a third story in which she asserted that she had seized the revolver with which her husband was wounded while he was flourishing it and uttering threats to take her life. She said the weapon was discharged while she was struggling to take the weapon from the maddened man.

Clapp under repeated questioning repeated his story that his wife had picked up the revolver and made a deliberate attempt to assassinate him. Mrs. Clapp is under arrest on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Clapp is a grandson of Mason, the "black king." He is thirty-eight years old and for twenty years figured in innumerable escapades which, owing to his wealth and the social position of his family, attracted wide attention. When his mother died about eight years ago she left an estate valued at from $500,000 to $1,000,000. Owing to her son's dissipation she provided that half the income be paid to Clapp and half to Clapp's first wife, who was Miss Mary Post, a New York society girl.

It was after his first wife had obtained a divorce from him that he married his present wife, Miss Mary Leaker. When he met her she was employed as a hotel manicure in Philadelphia.

Clapp induced her to go to Texas with him, and there the two were married four years ago.

CORDOVA, ALASKA.

Port Where Passengers From Wrecked Ship Were Taken.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 13.—The 106 persons aboard the stranded steamship Olympia have been saved, but the vessel, which went on the rocks of Bligh Island, Prince Edward sound, is being pounded to pieces by the waves. The victims of the wreck were taken to Cordova, from which port the vessel had sailed.

Steamers and launches hurried to the aid of the vessel from Seward, Valdez and Katella as soon as the report of the wreck was received by wireless.

BLACK HAND "GETS" ANOTHER.

Italian Shot After He Had Refused to Pay $1,000.

Hoboken, N. J., Dec. 13.—When he knew for certain that he could not recover old Salvatore Tollizzano, dying in St. Mary's hospital of three bullet wounds, told the police how he had been shot for his obstinacy in failing to pay tribute to the Black Hand. Not until he was made to realize that he was past all reason to fear the dreaded society did Tollizzano unlock his lips. Within an hour after he died a charge of murder was made against Dominic Branda, a supposed lifelong friend of the victim.

Tollizzano was shot the morning of Nov. 30. He had refused to pay attention to a Black Hand letter demanding $1,000.

WITNESS AND COUNSEL JAILED

Ordered Confined Until They Produce Evidence Against Brick Trust.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—Mrs. Alleen Christopher, the government's main witness against the so-called brick trust, and her counsel, John A. Brown, were ordered confined in the county jail by Judge Kenesaw M. Landis until they produced certain documents before the federal grand jury. The court declared the charges made against Charles F. Dewoody of the investigating bureau of the department of justice were without cause, reason or justification. Documents which the court declared are being withheld by the respondents are a dozen checks purporting to show that graft was paid certain persons in the city hall.

Paris, Dec. 13.—The reported engagement of Emma Eames and Emilio Gorgoza, a baritone, is causing much talk here. They will make a concert tour of American before their wedding. In the spring of 1909 Emilio de Gorgoza's wife sued for a separation from her husband. Later Mme. de Gorgoza sued Mme. Eames for $50,000 for alienation of her husband's affection. She made no allegation of improper conduct. Nothing has been heard of the suit since.

SUGAR TRUST LOST

Directors Will Be Prosecuted as Criminals.

TWO AGENTS ARE INDICTED.

Supreme Court Holds Statute of Limitations Doesn't Apply in Adolph Segal Case—Government to Start After Heads.

Washington, Dec. 13.—Through a decision of the United States supreme court the prosecution of John E. Parsons and five other directors of the sugar trust under the criminal section of the Sherman antitrust law is made possible. The prosecution will be under indictments already returned against the seven directors charging them with violating the Sherman law in the acquisition and suppression of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company of Philadelphia, the controlling interest in which was held by Adolph Segal.

The decision of the supreme court was a reversal of that of Judge Holt of the circuit court in the cases of Gustave E. Kissel and Thomas R. Harned, two agents of the trust. Kissel and Harned were indicted with Mr. Parsons and the other directors July 1, 1909. They interposed a plea in bar to the indictment, reciting that a conspiracy such as charged in the indictment was not continuous and that the statute of limitations had intervened to prevent prosecution. Judge Holt sustained this plea.

The supreme court holds that the conspiracy was continuous and the statute of limitations could not be pleaded in bar. The five directors indicted made no plea then, but the prosecution of their cases has been held pending the outcome of the appeal to the supreme court by Kissel and Harned.

Attorney General Wickersham and United States District Attorney Wise of New York, both of whom were in court when the decision was made, said it meant the prosecution not only of Kissel and Harned, but of Mr. Parsons and the other directors.

The other directors under indictment are Washington B. Thomas, Arthur B. Donner, Charles H. Sneff, John Mayer and George H. Frazier.

The indictments are based on the shutting down of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company in 1904 by Kissel, who, acting in the interests of the American Sugar Refining company, had bought up a majority of the stock and a controlling interest in the bonds of the company. Parsons and other members of the sugar trust, it is said, refused to let Segal, who was at the head of the Philadelphia concern, operate long enough to pay off the debts of the company.

POST AND WIFE DISAGREE.

Aviator Says She Was Never Legally Divorced From First Husband.

New York, Dec. 13.—Charging that his wife had another husband living from whom she had never been legally divorced when she married him, Augustus T. Post, the balloonist, who has figured in many daring flights, has brought to the supreme court a suit for the annulment of his marriage. The action is the culmination of a romance that began on shipboard in 1897, and, although the woman is twenty years his senior, the difference in their ages didn't deter him in the least from pressing his suit, and not long after their meeting they were married.

Mrs. Post denies the charge. Before she consented to be married to Post, she said, she got the late Supreme Court Justice Russell to look into her case, and he told her she was free to marry again.

A LEMON TREE IN HIS THUMB.

Waiter's Finger So Swollen That an Operation Was Necessary.

Washington, Dec. 13.—William E. Barron of this city has just recovered from an operation to remove a young lemon tree from one of his thumbs. Barron is a waiter. When waiting is dull he frequently helps the chef peel lemons and oranges and other fruit. About five weeks ago Barron noticed that one of his thumbs was swelling. He called a doctor, who tried everything known to science, but it was all unavailing.

A few days ago the thumb became so painful that Barron submitted to an operation. The surgeon uncovered an embryo lemon tree.

BARROWS SUCCEEDS POWERS.

Eastern League Decides to Vote Out Old President.

New York, Dec. 13.—Edward G. Barrows of Toronto was elected president of the Eastern League of Professional Baseball Clubs at the annual fall meeting. The vote was 5 to 3 against P. T. Powers, who sent in a letter of resignation, which the magnates refused to accept. There was much ill feeling over the election, and Powers was surprised when he learned that delegates from five clubs—Baltimore, Toronto, Montreal, Buffalo and Newark—had assembled at the hotel before time for the meeting and cast their votes for Barrows.

It was decided to play a schedule of 154 games next year, the season to open April 20. The dates are to be assigned by the new president. The new board of directors are Stein, chairman; Chapin, Dunn, O'Mara and McCaffrey. The schedule meeting will be held in Baltimore Feb. 6.

Hanover, N. H., Dec. 13.—President Nichols has announced a gift in the form of securities worth $400,000 which the trustees of Dartmouth college received from Edward Tuck of the class of 1862.

Mr. Tuck, who lives in Paris and is a member of the firm of Munro & Co., bankers, New York and Paris, in a letter accompanying his gift said: "I desire the income to be applied to the improvement of the existing scale of salaries of the faculty of the college. I wish the trustees of the college to apportion the additional income received according to the relative importance of the services rendered by the different professors, with due regard to length of service and professional distinction."

STRIKE TALK ON READING.

Telegraphers Demand Railway Reinstatement Two Men Discharged.

Philadelphia, Dec. 13.—Determined to secure recognition from the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad company, the Order of Dispatchers, Agents and Signalmen has sent a demand to General Manager Dice that the company restore two members of the order to their positions, threatening a strike of the telegraphers on the system.

J. F. Tetlow of Jenkintown and P. B. Pontius of this city were, it is alleged, discharged after they, acting as chairmen of committees of the order, had endeavored last October to confer with the railway officials in an effort to secure an adjustment of grievances.

MISTAKES IN THE NEWS.

The London Times "Killed" Mrs. Sheldon, Who Is Recovering.

London, Dec. 13.—The Times erroneously reported the death of Mrs. M. French Sheldon, fellow of the Royal Geographical society, explorer, author and lecturer. Mrs. Sheldon, who is the daughter of the late Colonel Joseph French, U. S. A., has been seriously ill, but is recovering. It appears that the bombardment of Rio Janeiro was confined to one day's duration. The censor held up a dispatch twenty-four hours and made it appear as if there had been a second bombardment.

The Perfect Living Room.

After all the modern house decorators have said their last word on the subject it would be hard to find anything half so satisfactory as the simple rules given by William Morris for the making of a perfect room. The woman who is planning to rearrange her house this fall with a view to adding to its comfort and attractiveness would do well to read over what William Morris wrote about the furnishing of the living room.

"Perhaps it will not try your patience too much," he writes, "if I lay before you my idea of the fittings necessary to the sitting room of a healthy person—first a bookcase with a great many books in it, next a table that will keep steady when you write or work at it, then several chairs that you can move and a bench that you can sit or lie upon; next a cupboard with drawers; next, unless either the bookcase or the cupboard be very beautiful with painting or carving, you will want pictures or engravings, such as you can afford, only not stopgaps, but real works of art upon the wall, or else the wall itself must be ornamented with some beautiful or restful pattern. We shall also want a vase or two to put flowers in, which latter you must have sometimes, especially if you live in town. Then there will be the fireplace, of course, which in our climate is bound to be the chief object in the room."
