IN CASE OF FIRE!

Ordinance No. 15. Fire Alarm Signals, section 1. The steam gong shall be sounded only at 12 M. noon and in case of an alarm of fire.

Don't forget to write it "1911."

GOOD EVENING!

When we left our hotel to go down to business, Tuesday morning, the thermometer registered thirty-eight degrees above zero.

By the way we like Father Balta's definition of "New Year's Day," as being "only a term put down by human invention to give man another chance of life."

Anyway, here's hoping we'll all make a gallant fight to overcome our besetting sins!

WHO GETS THE MONEY?

"The Anti-Saloon League won't spend the $80,000 they gathered up last season in Pennsylvania," said a man who is prominently identified with the movement.

TREASURY SURPLUS.

The Treasury surplus for December will be between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000. Custom receipts are showing a healthy increase, and internal revenue receipts are $13,000,000 over similar receipts at this time last year.

"A good New Year to you! I am no cultivator of disappointment; 'tis an herb that grows not in my garden, but I get some good crops of gratitude."

There are indications that at this late day the people are beginning to appreciate President Taft, says Financial Review. The North Carolina legislature has endorsed him as a national and not a sentimental president.

THE LEGISLATURE AT WORK.

The session of the Pennsylvania General Assembly, which opened Tuesday, will be a very busy one indeed. An unusual amount of legislation of the highest importance to the State will come up for consideration.

LACK OF MANNERS.

When our esteemed down-the-avenue contemporary in its editorial columns, under the caption of "Mormonism, Dowelism, Eddyism," speaks of "people * * * will run after such impostors as Joe Smith, Alexander Dowie and Mary G. Baker Eddy," it but displays the bad manners for which it seems to have a mania.

JOHN K. TENER'S RISE.

The Story of His Life Reads Like a Page of Fiction.

The Governor-elect of Pennsylvania, John K. Tener, is an Elk of national reputation, a member of Charleroi Lodge and Past Grand Exalted Ruler of the order. It is the first time that a man once holding such a position has been chosen as Governor of any state, and naturally the officers of the order from all quarters have sent congratulations.

From a baseball pitcher to Governor of the second greatest and most populous state in the country is the story of John K. Tener's life. To some this may read like a page from the Arabian Nights, but it is true, and illustrates to what eminence a poor man, possessing ability, can rise in this country.

"Star, star, star, bright! First star I've seen to-night." and a hundred others for the same purpose of bringing good luck.

BERMUDA TOURS

CANDIDATES SHOULD WORK AS THEY HAVE NEVER WORKED BEFORE.

From this schedule it is hardly necessary for us to point out the advantages of securing every possible subscription this week.

Just think of the offer which makes it possible for you to get 5,000 votes on a yearly subscription where formerly 2,500 votes were given. A two-year subscription will count 14,000 votes instead of 7,000, while a six months' subscription will count for 2,500 votes instead of 1,250.

In the olden times charms were used to bring about things greatly desired. Here is the old saying addressed to the stars:

"Then picking up pins is warranted to bring any number of wished-for happenings. Perhaps each one of the candidates in THE CITIZEN'S contest has her own particular fetish which is going to bring her a Tour of Bermuda or a beautiful diamond ring, but in these modern days a little effort will do more than any number of incantations.

Instead of picking up pins, candidates in this contest should pick up their pencil and receipt book during the "Double Vote" offer, which ends Saturday night, January 7, at 9 p. m., and secure every possible subscription. They count more real votes toward the prizes than all the fetish incantations you may possess.

Name Your Companion.

Each candidate is required to send in the name of the young lady whom they will select as their companion of the Bermuda Tour in the event that they receive the highest number of votes.

To-day the names of the candidates' companions are printed, so if you have not yet made a selection, do so at once.

It should be remembered that the person receiving the highest number of votes will be entitled to take a friend along with her on the Tour of Bermuda at the expense of The Citizen Publishing Co. So Miss Candidate get some one of your bustling friends to help you win.

All day long Monday the successful subscription gatherers flocked to THE CITIZEN office and turned in the business they had completed, then, hurrying out again, they set off in search of just one more, or two more, or perhaps three more persons who might be persuaded to give a subscription to complete another club of ten yearly subscriptions before the office closed that night.

Very Successful.

To judge by the number who returned, they were most successful in their quest. By dusk, things began to thicken around us, and by 8 o'clock would have thought a reception was going on in the Tour department. Much fun and laughter and more good solid business went on.

The result was a bunch of subscriptions so large that the management is just now beginning to catch up with it, and the spare moments have been so few that we really don't know if there have been any at all.

The trouble is you can't know where anyone else stands. The fact that you were on the scene Monday night with a bunch of subscriptions would be more reassuring if you did not know that nearly everyone else was there, too. It was conclusively proved that there was to be no walk-over in the winning of the prizes, and that the ambitious candidates must keep right at it if they hope to keep ahead of their rivals.

Don't Go To Sleep.

Now that the "Opportunity Days" are over don't go to sleep. This is a real danger to many. They are conscious they did well during the time their efforts counted for most. They should not lose sight of the fact that all of these efforts may be wasted if they relax their energies now.

A new offer has started. Make up your mind that you will do as much with the opportunities offered you as you have in the past.

If you have fallen up to this time in the utmost diligence make up your mind to do still better than at any previous time.

The race is far from run; indeed, less than half of the time has elapsed, and there is not one of you who could not even if you were at the foot of the list overcome your present handicap in the remaining four weeks.

Friends Willing.

Other ladies of Honesdale and vicinity will find that their friends are more willing to help them get bundles of votes by subscribing to THE CITIZEN if they only asked.

Heartily Endorsed.

The contest is heartily endorsed on all sides. The prizes are so valuable and desirable that they meet the warm approval of the public.

Married ladies have congratulated themselves that they are not, as is frequently the case, excluded in favor of the young girls. Here they have an equal chance with all the pretty and popular maidens, and may show the "younger set" that they will have to work for their laurels.

No Apology Necessary.

No apology is necessary when you ask for a subscription to THE CITIZEN. You know that full value will be received. You will not have to explain this to the old subscribers; they know well what the papers are worth, but you are also interested in getting new subscribers, for their new subscriptions. Point out to them the excellent news service of those papers, their methods of handling matters of importance all over the world, their thoroughness in presenting the local situation. If they once get the habit of reading the CITIZEN they will not give it up.

Notice To Subscribers.

Be sure to ask for votes when you pay your subscriptions. Your favorite candidate will appreciate the votes you can get when you pay your subscription. If you do not ask for votes at the time you pay you cannot get them.

As a matter of fact, less than three per cent. of the total product is taxed at ten cents per pound, the remainder being taxed only a quarter of a cent per pound.

How Votes Are Secured. A coupon will be printed in THE CITIZEN which will be good for the number of votes indicated on the face of the ballot.

The certificate votes issued on each subscription can be voted at any time during the contest (subject to the voting rules.)

Voting Rules.

No more than 3,000 subscription votes or coupons per week can be voted during the first five weeks of the contest. After that date no candidate will be permitted to cast more than 5,000 more votes per week than the leader in the contest had in their published list of votes on the previous issue.

Increase in Oleo Consumption. The production of oleomargarine increased from $2,282,815 pounds in 1900 to 139,755,426 pounds in 1910. Of this latter amount 3,491,978 pounds were taxed at ten cents per pound. It will thus be noted that over 97 per cent. of all the oleomargarine manufactured during the last fiscal year was taxed at only one-fourth cent per pound.

The Tower—1910-1911.

I stood on a tower in the wet, and New Year and Old Year met, and winds were roaring and blowing and I said: "O years that meet in tears, have ye aught that is worth the knowing? Science enough, and exploring wanderers, coming and going, matter enough for deploring; but aught that is worth the knowing?"

Wayne County Man Raises Prize Pig.

Honesdale, Pa., Jan. 2.—If there's a championship belt that goes with hog raising, George Drake, of Tyler Hill, is going to sport his claim before the commission or whatever body has the handling of it around. When Dr. Tyler died, he left among other things, a record for hog raising in Wayne county.

"It can't be beat," they used to say around the stove of the village store in Tyler Hill.

There were some in the around-the-stove crowd who reckoned that Johnson had a chance with Jeffries and that Jeffries had a chance with Johnson; they figured out that this could happen and that could not happen. But whenever anyone brought the subject around to hog-raising they all admitted that Dr. Tyler's record couldn't be trimmed.

George Drake never said much one way or the other on this hog raising subject. His ambitions and plans and progress in his attempt to shatter the late doctor's record were kept to himself and family. Several days ago George got the word around to his neighbors that they might not be disappointed if they meandered over to his farm at a certain hour on a certain day.

Then he butchered a spring pig that had been born and raised on his farm. It weighed 197 pounds, seven pounds more than had the doctor's prize porker. James Smith, who had been after the record too for many a long day was stumped with the rest of them. His pig boosted the beam below the mark set by the Tyler porker.

Groundless Apprehensions.

Till the whole world seemed to be in a melancholy key We've sung, Unstrung.

We have learned to cry "alas! And fret, Has the hard luck come to pass? NOT YET!

The crops are incomplete, They say, Yet we have enough to eat Each day, Are our plans for toll or mirth Upset?

Has the comet hit the earth? NOT YET! Though grafters have been rash And bold, There are heaps of honest cash, We're told.

Are we sold out on the spot For debt? Has the country gone to pot? NOT YET!
