STERLING.

Special to THE CITIZEN.

Sterling, Pa., January 9.—On the away for some time, has returned 3rd Rev. L. C. Murdock, District home. Superintendent, held the last quar-superintendent, held the last quar-terly conference here. As we have spent Saturday in Scranton. no Sunday service but little inter-est was taken in the meeting and no town, Friday, to attend to the burial one outside of the Sterling officials of Perry Miller. were present.

Horace Bell, Ariel, was the guest of Earl V. Cross last Sunday.

On the morning of the 3rd, Miss Katle Cross was quietly married to time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson J. Frantz, now of East Edward Smith.

Stroudsburg, by Rev. W. E. Webster and the happy couple immediactly left for Dallas, the old home of the groom. Congratulations. Miss Katie was one of our most estimable young ladies and will be greatly missed in the Sunday school and church of which she has faithfully served as organist, but most of all will she be missed by the dear old folks at home. Notwithstanding the joy at a wedding, there is always a certain sadness connected with it that only fond parents can realize. They have a house already dale, furnished at Stroudsburg in which Ham. will at once go to housekeep-

WAYNE S. S. WORKERS' COLUMN (Mrs. G. C. Abrahams, Editor)

Correspondence for this column, from all the Sunday Sunday School workers in the county, is earnestly request-ed. Let us make it a verit-able Round Table, everyone being free to ask or answer any questions relating to Sunday School work.

The Primary Department. The Primary Department of the Sunday School cares for the children who are six, seven and eight years of age. The characteristics of children of this department differ very much from those in either the department preceeding or following this. These three years are years when child's brain is growing rapidly and is very susceptible to impressions. The body is never more active. The children of this department go to and the T. I. C. A separate room for people is very helpful. If they are in the main room they are continusomething in another seeing class which takes their attention opportunity to use a blackboard or pictures. Music and other exercises suited to the age of the little ones is not possible when other classes are in the same room.

If your school does not have a separate room, and few of our schools do, provide the best substitute. A vestibule or a room in a neighbor's house may be used. Perhaps the best substitute is the screened corner of which we spoke last week in our talk on the "Belast week in our talk on the ginners' Department." This room or corner should be made as attrac-tive as possible. Small chairs are best for little children. The floor may be covered with carpet or matting and the walls and ceiling tint-ed or papered. A musical instrument is desirable though not an absolute necessity.

A blackboard of some kind necessary. This may be stationed on the wall or in a movable frame, or a piece of blackboard cloth may have a straight edge tacked at either edge and be hung on the wall. Some teachers hesitate about procuring a blackboard feeling that if they had one they would not be artists enough Siko Union Sabbath school elected to use it.
