—The regular monthly meeting of Protection Engine Co. No. 3, was held at the engine house on Tuesday evening, January 10. Regular routine business was transacted, also a communication from the secretary of the town council was received, notifying the company that it was deemed advisable for them to instruct their regular committee on care of fire plugs to have them inspected in company with some representative of the Water Company in order that the same may be in serviceable condition in case of fire. The communication was referred to the proper committee, with instruction to give proper attention to the fire plugs.

—The Wayne Cut Glass Company, Towanda's newest industry, held its annual meeting Tuesday afternoon, elected officers for the ensuing year, increased the capital stock from $10,000 to $50,000 and made preparations to enlarge the business and increase the output of the plant in the Tracy shoe factory building.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President—J. Samuel Brown of Honesdale. First Vice-President—Cortez H. Jennings, Towanda. Second Vice-President—Hon. John Kubbach, Honesdale. Treasurer—John H. Weaver, Sr., Honesdale. Assistant Treasurer—John H. Weaver, Jr., Towanda. Secretary and General Manager—John A. Kimble, Towanda. Executive Committee—E. Floyd Kizer, John A. —The citizens of Honesdale, as well as the members of Company E, Thirteenth Regiment, deserve the congratulations of the entire Guard, upon the near completion of their substantial new Armory. While buildings for the State troops have been erected in comparatively large numbers throughout Pennsylvania during recent years, thanks chiefly to the energy and general progressiveness of the State Armory Board, yet seldom has there been a case in which soldiers and civilians worked hand and glove for a common purpose as did the men of Company E and Honesdale residents to secure the new structure. This splendid spirit is worthy of the highest commendation, for without public support and sympathy in the cause of the National Guard, the State service would meet with an early death. The Guard lives to-day, and is the great potent factor it is, largely because the great mass of Pennsylvanians believe in this institution and cherish it. The co-operation so well demonstrated at Honesdale is a splendid example of patriotic devotion to the commonwealth, worthy of the highest praise.—Our State, Army and Navy.

—A New York woman has been sent to jail for telling a lie. It is to be hoped nothing of the sort will be started in this section.

—Rev. George S. Wendell, pastor of the First Baptist church, during 1910, officiated at four funerals, twelve weddings and eight baptisms.

—The skating at Seelyville Pond was exceptionally good the fore part of the week and many pleasure-seekers thronged there afternoon and evening.

—It was decided at the Sunday school meeting of the Grace Episcopal church on Wednesday evening that they would give a supper, Thursday, February 2.

—Dr. Helen Miller, who died at her home in Cleveland, O., Friday, Jan. 6, was formerly a resident of Pleasant Mount, and before her marriage a teacher in the Honesdale High school.

—District Attorney M. E. Simons will have an associate counsel in the Lord vs. Lord case Homer Greene, Esq., and E. C. Mumford, Esq. The counsel for the defendant will be F. P. Kimble, Esq., and W. H. Lee, Esq.

—If the people of Honesdale do not take more interest in the High School Lyceum Course, the High School will lose about $200. The auditorium seats over 600 and it ought to be filled at the lecture, on Thursday night, by Dr. Amsbury.

—Rev. W. H. Swift, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in 1910, officiated at thirty-four funerals, sixteen weddings and nineteen baptisms. During his pastorate here of nearly 27 years, Dr. Swift has received almost 900 people into the church.

B. Ely, Jacob Katz, Rev. Thomas M. Hanley, E. D. Penwarden, Clarence Pethick. The latter succeeds Frank Steinman, who has removed from the state, as a member of the board of directors.

—Everybody likes an old-fashioned minstrel show and relish it the same as they do the coming of the circus with its smell of sawdust, and red lemonade, and if Guy Brothers Big Minstrels which appear at the Lyric Theatre on Tuesday night don't carry you back to the old days and make you crack your face there will be a street parade at 4 p. m. on Main street and a free concert in the evening.

—Attention is called to the statement of the Honesdale National Bank, which is published in our columns this week. In less than sixty days the deposits in this bank have increased $61,810.37 which is a little more than $1,000 per day. This is an indication that this old, conservative, and well-conducted institution which has Uncle Sam as a guardian and whose depositors are safeguarded by the government, stands high in the confidence of the people.

—Clinton Doyle, Nicholson, who has had nine years experience in the hotel business in Northeastern Pennsylvania, has signed a lease for three years, and took possession of the Commercial Hotel at 6 o'clock tonight. Mr. Doyle has a large number of friends among the traveling public, and will maintain the high standard of service set by his predecessor, the late Charles J. Weaver. Mrs. Weaver and sons, who have been conducting the hostelry since Mr. Weaver's death, several months ago, have removed to the Dorrity house on Eighth street.

—Writing from Lippersdorf, Germany, under date of December 24, 1910, J. E. Cook, Honesdale, says in the course of a letter to one of his comrades: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sachse, Hawley, and I took the steamer Princess Augusta Victoria, at 12:20 p. m. on December 10, at Hoboken. The weather was fine, and at 4 p. m. all signs of land had disappeared, and we were swiftly going for the Atlantic Ocean. The sailing was good. We were becoming acquainted with our new fellow-passengers and inspecting our ship, which is 710 feet in length, 80 feet breadth, 8 stories high, and carries 4,000 people at one time. Nearly three-fourths of the passengers were going just on a visit to the old country. The third day out the weather was not so smooth. The water was rough, and many were not able to go on deck. I myself did not feel well, but only missed one meal while on board ship. We set foot on German soil, December 19, at 2:45 p. m. Am now at Lippersdorf, having seen no snow since leaving New York. Wishing you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. I am yours in P. C. & L. J. E. Cook.

Stork Pays Another Visit to the Home of Morris Connor, Well Known Theatrical Transfer Man.

Altoona, Pa.—Morris Connors, the well known theatrical transfer man, is very chummy to-day, he having become dad for the twenty-third time last week, when a bouncing young son arrived at his home in the Tenth ward.

Morris has achieved a reputation for many things during his bustling career, among others the numbers of his progeny. He has been twice married, eighteen children having been the product of the first union, but four of this brood surviving. The latest arrival is number five to the second marriage and the twenty-third that owes its paternity to Morris, and he has nominally retired from business at that.

The genial theatrical man is 61 years old. He is as young as he was when he worked for the only P. T. Barnum and Adam Forpaugh, whom he knew personally, and his friends expect to see him stepping around when he reaches the century mark.

RAILROADS BUILT 4122 MILES IN 1910.

141,204 Freight Cars, 3881 Passenger Cars and 3787 Engines Ordered.

Railroad construction in the United States during the year 1910 amounted to 4,122 miles of line, according to a compilation made by the Railway Age Gazette. This compares with 3,748 miles in 1909, 3,214 miles in 1908 and 5,212 miles in 1907. In Canada 1,844 miles of railroad were built and 3,071 miles of new line are now in course of construction.

There were ordered 141,204 freight cars, 36,347 are all wood, and 3,787 locomotives. Of the freight cars, 36,347 are all wood, 39,172 have steel underframes and 35,523 are all steel. Of the passenger cars, 1,308 are all wood, 733 have steel underframes and 1,855 are all steel.

These equipment orders are less than those placed in 1909, but nearly three times as large as those placed in 1908. The number of cars and locomotives built in 1910 is greater than the number built in 1909. The total number of freight cars built in 1910 in the United States and Canada was 180,945; passenger cars, 4,412; locomotives, 4,755. These figures compare with freight cars, 30,570; passenger cars, 2,849, and locomotives, 2,887, built in 1909.

The output of the Baldwin Locomotive Works was 1,675 locomotives, against 1,023 in 1909 and 617 in 1908. The high record production in any year was 2,686 locomotives, in 1906, but as the average weight and power of locomotives have greatly increased, the number of locomotives turned out year by year does not afford a true comparison of production.
