

THE WEEK IN WAYNE

WHAT THE FOLKS IN THE SHIRE ARE DOING.

LAKEVILLE.

Special to THE CITIZEN.

Lakeville, Pa., January 21.—Spencer Daniels arrived home Saturday last after spending a few weeks with friends at Pittston, and visiting his brother, Berton, at Niagara Falls. Mr. Daniels was not much taken up with Niagara. He says: "Give me old Wayne for mine."

A. C. James, Brooklyn, N. Y., arrived at Long Pond Saturday last and is now engaged with a force of men putting up ice for the coming boarding season. Mr. James will occupy his commodious summer resort soon, preparatory to the coming season, when he expects to have a number of city boarders.

Miss Hazel James was called home on Thursday morning on account of illness of her mother who has been dangerously sick with kidney and bladder trouble. Dr. White, Ardel, has been in attendance every day. At this writing she is reported some better. Her daughter, Mrs. W. Walker, is also home caring for her.

Mrs. Sarah Pennell left yesterday for Scranton. To-day she will attend the Rebekah association at Factoryville, Mrs. Pennell being a delegate from Hildgard Rebekah Lodge, No. 359, Lakeville.

Dan Smith, Scranton, spent Saturday night and Sunday with his mother at Audell, Pa.

Lakeville Grange, No. 1447, will have public installation of officers on Wednesday, January 25, at P. O. S. of A. hall, Lakeville. Would be pleased to see a goodly number out. Refreshments will be served to the members and visiting members after the services.

Quite a number from this place attended the wedding reception at Uswick Saturday evening, given by Mrs. Pennell in honor of the marriage of her daughter, Miss Gladys, to Conrad Keniecke, both of this place.

LEDGEDALE.

Special to THE CITIZEN.

Ledgedale, Pa., Jan. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Michael Madden are rejoicing over the arrival of twin boys.

Mrs. E. Schrader and daughter, Sophia, made a business trip to Scranton Monday last.

Mabel Wolf, Greentown, has been sewing for Cora Martin the past week.

Kellam and Kelly's graphophones are making this town quite musical. The weather has been so changeable the past week that the people have caught severe colds.

John Becker has a sick horse. John Fatterson and Fred Becker made a business trip to Arlington Tuesday last.

LOOKOUT.

Special to THE CITIZEN.

Lookout, Pa., January 24.—Robt. Eggleston, an octogenarian, is seriously ill of pneumonia, at the home of his son-in-law, John Evans, South Branch. Mrs. Vergil Young, a daughter, is caring for him. It was reported last Friday that he was slightly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schnakenberg, Jersey City, N. J., formerly of Duck Harbor, are returning back to spend the remainder of their days in good old Wayne. They will make their home at Kellam, where they have purchased a cottage near the Delaware river, a very pleasant summer resort.

Postmaster LaFord L. Teeple received an invitation to attend the inauguration ceremonies of the Hon. John K. Tener as Governor of Pennsylvania. Being indisposed he was unable to be present.

Mrs. John D. Bailey died at her home in Kellam on Tuesday, January 19, aged 85 years. Interment was made at Braman cemetery. Her first husband was Robert Teeple. He accepted a position as clerk in the War department, at Washington, D. C., when the War first broke out and remained until May, 1865. He then started for home, but died very suddenly in that city, and was buried there. Mrs. Bailey leaves five daughters to mourn the loss of a faithful mother.

In Memory of Mrs. J. D. Bailey.

Dear mother, thou hast gone,
No more, thy dear form we see;
All thy pain, and sorrow ended,
Free from all, thy cares to be.

Look we not at life-long sorrow
With its toil, and with its pain
God will help thee bear thy burden
Till in Heaven we meet again.

Hearts like golden links united
Torn asunder day by day,
Waiting for the promised token
Where the hidden pearl doth lay.

STERLING.

Special to THE CITIZEN.

Sterling, Pa., January 22.—H. R. Megargle is at Mrs. Brown's, Angels, and is quite ill and under Dr. Simons' care.

For some time Hugh Fitz has been sick, and getting no relief from home doctors went to Scranton to consult a specialist.

Mrs. E. M. Catterson returned from her visit to Burlington, N. J., and has been quite sick since.

Mrs. Francis Philo is also in poor health.

F. M. Barnes was on the grand jury at Honesdale last week, and R. R. Stevens is there now.

The Grangers had an oyster supper last week, and a number of visitors were present and all enjoyed a good time.

Election was held last Wednesday evening, and the session was a long one for the boys who were anxious to get out and "celebrate." The occasion was this: Rev. W. E. Webster married Lyman J. Gilpin and Miss Pearl C. Twiggs of Oxford, Ind., at the parsonage and the boys were anxious to give the happy couple a good send-off but unfortunately a box of choice cigars settled the matter and so the boys beat an inglorious retreat and "left them alone in their glory." Well, we are glad that in this case we don't lose a good boy and girl.

At the last Ladies' Aid, that met at the parsonage, three new members were received: Mesdames L. G. Butler, B. F. Simons, and N. H. Butler.

Mrs. S. N. Cross is now at Rev. David Evans' at Wilkes-Barre. Mrs. Evans is still living although no hopes of her recovery.

Mr. Smith has purchased the timber on the piece of woods formerly owned by Delos Moore for $15,000. of Mrs. Edith Potter, Hollisterville.

R. B. and J. G. Simons have put up their saw mill on Ralph Swingle's land and so are ready to saw out the lumber. Very few, if any, good pieces of large timber are now standing in Sterling.

S. N. Cross was recently re-elected janitor for the twelfth consecutive year.

Sunday school was reorganized on January 15 as follows: Superintendent, L. F. Ammerman; assistant, J. E. Cross; secretary, Lowell Cross; assistant secretary, George Cross; treasurer, R. A. Smith; organist, Laura Gilpin; assistants, Latha Barnes and Ruth Webster; librarian, Beulah Cross and Myrtle Ammerman assistant. Teachers to be supplied next Sunday.

Sugar-making is quite an industry here and S. N. Cross has now on hand over 1200 sap buckets. A few make more out of a good "sugar bush" than they make out of anything else.

BERMUDA TOURS

should secure the subscriptions NOW, THIS WEEK, before Thursday night at 10 o'clock in order to secure a Bonus of 15,000 votes for every $15.00 turned in before that hour. A man means well when he promises to help you, but when the time comes along for him to fulfill his promise it is often the case that something turns up to prevent him.

Get Ten Friends Together.

Get ten friends together, explain that you want to win the Bermuda Tour. Have each promise to secure you at least five yearly subscriptions. Then keep after them until they have secured their promised number. That means just 50 yearly subscriptions. Fifty yearly subscriptions means exactly 125,000 votes if they are subscriptions to THE CITIZEN, turned in as single yearly subscriptions. Of course, five-year subscriptions count more than single years, as will be seen in the vote schedule. In addition five bonus ballots will be given, counting for 15,000 votes each, making a total of 75,000 votes on bonus ballots alone and 125,000 on regular votes, which would make a grand total of 200,000. This with what you have credited in the paper, together with your reserve vote, should go a long way toward making you a winner. Contestants can easily figure out what ten of their friends could do for them by collecting five-year subscriptions on THE CITIZEN on a similar basis.

Did You Get A Big Ballot?

Saturday you received a "Competitive Ballot." Did you get a big one? If not you know that you must buckle right in now and GET ENOUGH OF THIS WEEK'S BONUS BALLOTS to overcome the difference.

If you won a large ballot you cannot afford to remain idle during this week.

REMEMBER POSITIVELY NO OFFERS OF ANY KIND NEXT WEEK.

If you can't get your friends to subscribe for one year get them to subscribe for 6 or 4 months—1250 votes for 6 months' subscription and 1000 votes for every 4 months' subscription.

The CITIZEN'S Bermuda Tour contest has received a fresh impetus from the "Last Special Offer" which is made to candidates this week. Scarcely had the rush occasioned by the close of "The Competitive Period" commenced to subside when the candidates who were perhaps thinking that the opportunity was favorable for "a half hour nap," were aroused to wide awake consciousness that no time could be less appropriate for loafing than the present.

This is POSITIVELY the last offer of extra votes that will be made at any time during the contest. Subscriptions will have more voting power, dollar for dollar, during this period than any time after Thursday night at 10 o'clock.

There are always some candidates who figure on waiting until the last day before they put forth any effort in their behalf. They jolly themselves into believing that they are waiting to find out whom they will have to compete with, so that they may know just how hard they will have to fight. Their real motive is procrastination, but, whatever it is they will be irretrievably lost, as far as this contest is concerned, if they pass up this last offer, for some of those who are alive-from-the-start will get good and busy to-day and Thursday and get such a voting start that there will be no use trying to overtake them with work done the last day when work and dollars count for far less.

The Last Special Offer.

By taking advantage of the Last Special Offer it will be possible to get hundreds of thousands of votes that will not be secured by your competitors during the last week. NEGLECTING THIS OFFER MAY MEAN DEFEAT TO YOU.

Why You Want It.

It is easy to show every one to whom you apply for aid that it may mean a very great deal to you. Tell them of the prize you hope to gain and be sure that you fix your hopes high. The higher you aim the higher the mark you are apt to hit. If people know that you want something really worth while they will be very willing to aid you. If they give their help it will make you that much more apt to realize your wish. No one attains anything unusual who is not ambitious. Now it is something unusual to get such valuable prizes as you have a chance to. What you need to assure your success is ambition and energy.

Realize It Is Almost Over.

You realize that the contest is almost over and that there is no more room for delay. THE GAINS IN VOTES MUST BE MADE NOW OR NEVER AND EVERY PROMISE OF AID THAT WAS MADE YOU WITHIN THE NEXT FEW DAYS OR EARLIER MUST BE FULFILLED OR IT WILL BE TOO LATE. Urge your friends not to put you off again. The delay consumes your time, which is worth so much to you now, and it is probably just as easy for them to give you the subscription when you ask for it as to postpone for a longer time.

A Word To Subscribers.

Subscribers, this is your last opportunity to do a kindness for some one of the deserving candidates in THE CITIZEN European contest.

You will be doing yourself a good turn at the same time. If you are an old subscriber you will save yourself the annoyance of constant calls from a collector, if you do not take the paper now you will be giving yourself a pleasure hitherto unknown. It is a satisfaction to feel that THE CITIZEN you read in the evening is reliable, it will not be contradicted before morning. It is a pleasure to read the bright, broad views, and the clean, conservative columns of a newspaper like THE CITIZEN which is as well-fitted to the man of affairs, as it is to the home, combining as it does and as few papers do, the element of state wide information, detailed local news, reliable reports and a stand never abandoned, for the best interest of the community. Your friend in the contest may need just one subscription to win. If you fail to give it and she loses, wouldn't you feel bad to think that you were the cause of her being disappointed? Of course you would. So pay your subscription before this offer expires.

End Near.

The end of the contest is so near that one can almost reach out and touch it. This means that you will have to hustle between now and Monday, January 30, if you want to come out with the highest number of votes on the last night. Remember there will be no offers after the close of the Last Special Offer on Thursday night. Reliable business men of town will count the votes on the last night. The ballot box will be out of the hands of the Tour Department after Thursday. Look over all your reserve votes and see if you have any that should be voted before the last night. The Booster ballots must be voted on the 24th. The Competitive ballots must be voted on the 25th and the Opportunity ballots must be voted on the 26th, so look over your votes carefully so that you do not make any mistake.

Candidates do you want to win that Tour of Bermuda? If you do, get out and hustle. Devote all your time to the effort. You have only one week and it will mean a lot of hard work but you are capable if you make up your mind to work hard this week.

Thursday closes the Last Special offer. Get as many clubs of $15 as you can. If you remain idle this week don't be disappointed if you are left behind on the final count.

If there is any candidate who thinks she has not received full credit for the votes she has sent in up to this time, write or call on the Tour Manager in THE CITIZEN office and state your case and we will gladly correct any errors that may have been made by us.

LEONA LORD CONVICTED!

necessary. It has been commented upon by the counsel for the Commonwealth and counsel for the defendant at length and each has placed such construction upon it as he thought it susceptible of, and in stating the evidence, gentlemen, we wish you to understand that we do not desire to influence you in any degree or give you our opinion concerning it, and should you have any doubt of what the evidence is, you will take your recollection of it and not statement concerning it.

William Lord testified that his father, Silas E. Lord, died at Equinunk, Wayne county, Pennsylvania, on July 24, 1910, and it is in evidence that one special wound was inflicted upon him on July 12, 1910, at Equinunk, Wayne county, Pennsylvania, and while there is evidence that there were other cuts and wounds inflicted upon him at that time, Dr. Frisbie testified that they were not of a serious nature and were simply cuts; and he further testified that this special wound was upon the left side of the head, posterior to the fissure of Bolando, of triangular shape, one and one-half inches on one side, one and three-quarter inches on the second side, and one and one-eighth inches on the third side, and states that it went clear through the skull and that a piece of the bone of the skull was loosened and entirely out and that the wound entered into the brain from two to two and one-half inches in depth. And he also testifies that there was a cavity in the brain underneath the cut through the skull and this cavity was of the exact impression of the point of the pick offered in evidence in this case, and he testified that in his opinion this special wound was caused by a pick and could not have been made by the shank of a hoe. He describes this wound at length and in detail and gives his reasons for his conclusions and you, gentlemen, will consider all his evidence.

A cast of the wound was also offered in evidence, showing, as Dr. Frisbie states, its exact size; also a number of photographs taken at the autopsy were offered and admitted in evidence, showing this wound in different phases, and this cast and these photographs you can have to examine if you desire.

The doctor also testified that at the autopsy he found all of the vital organs of Silas E. Lord in healthy condition and that, in his opinion, this special wound upon the left side of the head was undoubtedly the cause of the death of Silas E. Lord, and this question is what you must first determine in this case. Dr. Frank M. Woolsey, who saw this wound and was asked the cause of the death of Silas E. Lord, said, "I would say the primary cause was this wound, and the secondary was the septic condition arising from the one wound." You should then consider: Was this special wound upon the left side of the head of Silas E. Lord caused by a pick, as testified to by Dr. Frisbie, and if so, who used the pick that struck the fatal blow?

Both the Commonwealth and the defendant show that on July 12, 1910, there was a fight at Equinunk, Wayne county, Pa., between Millard Lord, the son of Leona Lord, and William Lord, the son of Silas E. Lord, and you will consider the details of that fight and determine what was the situation of the parties at that time and what were the feelings and conduct and actions of the defendant, Leona Lord, what she was doing and what she said during the progress of the fight, to aid you, if you can, in determining the other important issues in the case.

Photographs were offered and admitted in evidence, showing the location of a certain ditch in and about which this fight occurred, and showing the respective houses of Leona Lord and Silas E. Lord and the street in front of the houses. These photographs were offered to give you a better idea of the situation upon the ground. And the evidence of measurements has also been given to show the distance the different parties who testified about this affair were from the matters and words of which they testified they saw or heard.

Evidence is given to show that the defendant, Leona Lord, was present at this fight and that Silas E. Lord was also present and that they were near each other. Now, did Leona Lord have a pick in her hand and during that fight did she strike Silas E. Lord with it?

William Lord testified that the defendant had a pick in her hands at the time of the fight and tried to strike him with it and that Samuel Reed took the pick away from her. Mrs. Meda Denie testified as follows: "Mrs. Leona Lord came down the steps and she stooped over like that and then she picked up a pick that was up on the dirt pile and she said either, 'Damn him, kill him' or 'damn him, I will kill him,' and she raised the pick over her head, and that is all I know. At that time Sam Reed was walking around and Silke Lord stood there over the boys."

Mrs. Logan testified, among other things, that the defendant flew across her porch and snatched up a pick that lay on the dirt. In another part of her testimony, she says, "I could not see Mrs. Lord; I don't know whether she stood one foot or three feet back, but she had the pick in her hands and was striking. I couldn't see who or what but I could see legs come up occasionally as the pick descended."

Mrs. Loretta Thomas testified: "I heard some one scream and I ran into the street and saw Mrs. Lord with a pick in her hands and Will Lord and Millard Lord were lying on the ground, and she had the pick drawn like this and she struck at Will. I suppose, he lay there anyway, and then I saw Sam Reed take the pick away from her and throw it on the ground."

James Sherwood testified: "Mrs. Leona Lord came off from her stoop, down where they were fighting, and she got kind of unto me, I guess, and then Silke caught her, and she picked up the pick, and Sammy came and hit him on the head a couple of times with the hoe, and knocked him down, partly, and then she used the pick on him. Q. What did she do with the pick? A. She hit him with the pick. Q. Who hit who with the pick? A. Mrs. Leona Lord hit Silas Lord with the pick." Walter Anderson testified that he saw blood on the podch. He identified the pick offered in evidence by the Commonwealth as the pick he then saw. Said, on cross-examination, that the handle had blood all the way down and the socket had blood on it. He was within two feet of it.

So you will understand that if you find a verdict of murder in the first degree against the defendant, you must state in your verdict. Your verdict would be: "We find Leona Lord, the prisoner at the bar, guilty of murder of the first degree."

Or, "We find Leona Lord, the prisoner at the bar, guilty of murder of the second degree."

Or, "We find Leona Lord, the prisoner at the bar, guilty of manslaughter."

Or, "We find Leona Lord, the prisoner at the bar, not guilty."

Now, gentlemen, our duty in this case is discharged. The responsibility which has rested upon us during the trial of this case is now transferred to you and the case goes to you for determination, with all honesty, with all candor, with all earnestness, seeking that which is right and true. With the consequences of the verdict to the defendant in this case, whatever it may be, you have nothing to do. You are not responsible in any way for that. You will consider the case simply upon the evidence and that alone, applying the law to the evidence, and ascertain the guilt or innocence of this defendant, and if you find her guilty, then the grade of that crime.

For several days you have been kept under surveillance by two officers who have been sworn to keep you in charge and to prevent your holding communication with others. We congratulate you that this separation is drawing near to a close, and we thank you for the patient forbearance with which you have endured the inconveniences to which you have been subjected and the earnest attention you have given the progress of this case, and may wisdom in your deliberations guide you to a conclusion in accordance with the exact truth.

Gentlemen, the case is now in your hands. Take it and consider it in all its parts and render such a verdict as shall your consciences under the oaths which you have taken.
