STEENE.

"Rots And Spots" In Steene—Ice Harvest Over—Maple Sugar Boiling, Next—Personals.
Special to THE CITIZEN.

Steene, Pa., January 28.—Merchant Dimond says he sees now where he made a very grave mistake in agreeing to take all of farmers Denny's and Wood's eggs and paying the highest market price, paying said farmers 40 and 45 cents per dozen and laying in a big stock, expecting to retail at 50 cents, but that machine warned him Monday morning of a sudden drop in eggs in New York from 50 cents down to 25 cents, this being from 15 to 20 cents less than he paid. He thinks he will break said contract and allow the farmers at Steene to build the much talked-of new store as he explained to the Link that he could not stand the pressure.
 The Lake Lodore Ice company finished filling their ice plant Saturday. They have a few orders for loading cars this week.

The Sunny Side Of Life.

When to be disappointed
 You in any way feel inclined,
 Remember there are others
 Who are in that state of mind.
 When you are short of money
 And bills are coming due,
 Remember there are others
 That are in that boat with you.
 And should you get acourting
 And your best girl turns you down,
 Just let her there are others
 And don't begin to frown.
 Look always on the sunny side
 Whichever way you go,
 For down the stream your boat will glide
 And up you'll have to row.
 Adapt yourself to circumstance
 And you will reach the shore
 When on the train apply the brake
 When in the boat the oar.
 Always keep your courage up
 And never let it fall.
 Then you will reach the mountain
 top
 Now join me in the chorus sweet,
 We'll sing it loud and long,
 The darkest hour we'll have to meet
 Is just before the dawn.
 —Orpha Swingle, Ariel, Pa.

STERLING.

Special to THE CITIZEN.
 Sterling, Pa., January 31.—We have had bare ground for some time but now we just have snow enough to whiten it.
 On the evening of January 27th a number of Orrin Barnes' young friends made him a very pleasant surprise party. Lowell Cross "busted" a rubber tire going home, but found it the next morning. We do not think it got on a "bust" at the party.
 Mrs. Edna Potter and son, Lester, and Clarence Brown, Hollisterville, visited Mrs. P's old home Sunday and attended Sunday school as in days of yore. Come again.
 L. T. Adams and L. G. Butler are each afflicted with the grip.
 Chas. E. Luicks installed officers for the district deputy in Washington (Camp No. 279, P. O. S. of A.) on the evening of the 24th. On the evening of the 25th J. Gilpin was deputized to install officers in the Sterling Grange and he did it.
 Mrs. H. H. Robacker's mother is now her guest.
 It may not be "home news" but with the editor's permission should like to call the reader's attention to the little poem that appeared on the fourth page of THE CITIZEN of January 27th entitled "To My Dog Blanco." It is the best thing of its kind that I ever saw and any one who can appreciate a good, faithful dog will say so.
 Lyman J. Gilpin was recently married and still resides at his father's and last Saturday evening about forty of their friends made them—what shall I call it?—a commercial shower. Well, at any rate they received quite a variety of good, useful and ornamental articles that will come acceptable when they go to housekeeping.

Death of Mrs. M. F. Stevens.
 Mrs. Margaret Ferguson Stevens was born March 3, 1833, and died at the residence of her son, Clarence, in Salem, on the 27th, hence she was nearly 78 years old. She will be interred besides her husband in the Catterson cemetery to-day and Rev. J. H. Boyce, assisted by Rev. W. E. Webster, will officiate at the Sterling M. E. church of which Mrs. Stevens has been a faithful and constant member for many years. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Alice Drink and two sons, Thomas, Everett and Clarence; also by three brothers, viz. John, William E. and Joseph. Her troubles are over.

Death of Ezekiel Wheele.

Ezekiel Wheele, aged 79 years, died at the home of his brother, Joseph, at the Eddy on Monday evening, January 23. The cause of his death was dropsy. He came to this country from Germany with his parents when a boy, landing at New York city where they lived for a while. Ezekiel moved to Orange, N. J., where he resided for many years, coming to Hawley about seven years ago to make his home with the above mentioned brother. Three years ago he suffered a severe attack of rheumatism, which so affected his head that it caused the loss of his eyesight. He has been an invalid since that time. The funeral services were held from the R. C. church and were conducted by Father Burke. Interment was made in Hillside cemetery. Mr. Wheele is survived by two brothers and one sister, Joseph and Mrs. Adam Steltz, Hawley, and Albert, Wilsonville. His parents formerly lived on Bone Ridge, Paupack township.

Burglars Busy in Hawley.

P. M. Colgate, on going to the office on Friday morning found things in a state of great disorder. Investigation proved to him that burglars had entered the building the night before and secured quite some booty, consisting of registered letters and postage stamps. Very little money was taken by the culprits as Mr. Colgate is the habit of carrying the cash home with him at the close of business. So far no clue of the burglars has been found, except some of the tools belonging to a blacksmith in town were found near the building.
 R. W. Murphy and D. J. Branning, of the Keystone Cutting shop, are in New York City on business.
 A. Wall returned Saturday from a business trip to Lebanon.
 C. S. Houck, cashier of the Hawley Bank, who took the examination which was held at Wilkes-Barre on December 6 and 7, 1910, by the State Board of Law Examiners, received notice that he passed very creditably. This examination is final for admission to the bar.

Impressions of Hawley.
 Hawley is a bustling, bustling city of 1900 inhabitants. Its streets are tortuous and winding, and remind the stranger on first sight, of the famous streets in Boston town. Fourteen hotels cater to the wants of the traveling public. Large and handsome churches are unfailing indexes of the good spiritual condition of this residents of this lively borough. Two banks take good care of the citizens' surplus cash, fully half-a-million of which is deposited in the banks of Honesdale.
 Justice of the Peace W. B. Ammerman dispenses justice with an even hand. When a representative of THE CITIZEN dropped into his office, recently, "Squire Ammerman was patiently trying to explain the law of debit and credit to a man who was forced to use the sign language for communication with him. Paper and pencil were called into use, and questions and answers written. The man left his office with a satisfied expression, on his face, confident that his interests would be safeguarded.
 Lewis Ningo, foreman for the silk throwing mill of H. W. Kimble, states that his men are working on day and night shifts and that they are trying to get every pound of silk wound up that they can. The silk, which is imported mostly from China, and Japan, comes only in one thread. "We spin it, wind it, and reel it up into skeins," he said. Mr. Kimble also has a mill at Middletown, N. Y.

To show the thrift and industry of the Italians residing in and near Hawley, one case may just be mentioned. A man came over from Italy twenty-one years ago. He bought a piece of woodland, some distance out of town, and to-day he has one of the finest farms you want to find.
 The Italians who come to this country become the best of mechanics, as soon as they learn to speak the language. They are smart. By the way it is claimed that the new King of Italy is a bright young man, and gives his subjects more of a chance to learn something. Italy, it is said, is a good country for the rich and the poor man, but not for the middle class. A "middle-class man" can't live there; they tax him so heavily.
 Charles Elliot, a Justice of the Peace of Palmyra township, is a familiar figure on the streets of Hawley. He is a son of Charles L. Elliot, the celebrated portrait painter, who died in 1868, and who painted a number of famous portraits which may be seen at the capitol.

Political Penicillings.

P. H. Carney, it is said, will not be a candidate for prothonotary on the Democratic ticket, this year.
 Contractor Henry Breed is going to be a candidate for Commissioner.
 Herman Harnes, Esq., says he will not come out for District Attorney.

TUBERCULOSIS SUNDAY.

April 30 Appointed For Sermons On The Subject.
 April 30 has been set aside this year as "Tuberculosis Day," and will be observed in 200,000 churches in the country in a manner similar to that of "Tuberculosis Sunday" in 1910, when over 40,000 sermons were preached on the prevention of consumption. In this first official announcement of the occasion made by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, the leaders of the movement state that they hope to enlist all of the 33,000,000 church members in the country. In one respect Tuberculosis Day will differ from Tuberculosis Sunday of 1910. Instead of requesting the churches to give to the tuberculosis cause a special Sunday service, the national association is going to ask this year that meetings, at which the subject of tuberculosis and its prevention can be discussed, be held on Sunday, April 30, or on any other day near that date, either in the week preceding or the week following. "What we want," says Dr. Livingston Farrand, executive secretary of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, in a report on this movement, "is to have this whole subject of tuberculosis discussed in all of the 200,000 churches of the United States at as nearly the same time as possible. This does not mean that a stated service must be given over to this work, though that might be desirable, but that any minister, or other authority whom he may invite, can present the problem to his congregation before or after his regular service, or on any day within the week preceding or following April 30."
