Company E turned out 48 strong Thursday evening for their annual inspection. This strong arm of 59 members, has these officers: Captain, Carroll J. Kelly; first lieutenant, Winford H. Mumford; second lieutenant, Edward F. Doney. The men were complimented on their general appearance and were told that when they were installed in the new armory building next year, they would have one of the best companies in the State. After the inspection an informal banquet was held at Taeuber's Cafe. The inspecting officers were: Mayor M. H. Taggart, Sunbury; Major A. G. Rutherford, Scranton; Major Edward Conrad, Scranton; Lieutenant Herman Ernst, Scranton.

Pullman porters get but $25 per month out of which they must pay 35 cents for each meal, and also for two uniforms a year at $26.50 each. They are held responsible for everything in the car, and must suffer deduction from wages for any loss or injury to the equipment. These conditions have obtained since the Pullman company effected "economies" last year by making nine men do the work formerly done by ten—economies at the cost of flesh and blood, and to the injury of the public, who cannot get the same protection and care from exhausted and worn-out trainmen as the Pullman company is supposed always to furnish and never fails to charge for.

Miss Isabele Eysenbach, Naticoke, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in the Maple City.

A bill was recently introduced in the legislature to pay for the pelts of noxious animals killed within the last two years and that may be slain during the next two years. It carries the sum of $100,000, of which amount $40,000 is to meet a deficiency incurred by the payment of bounties for the killing of animals without the pale of the law, the remaining $60,000 being for the extermination of four-footed pests during the two years beginning June 1, next. The animals regarded by the law as noxious are the wildcat, on which there is a bounty set of four dollars; the fox, whose hide commands two dollars, and the weasel and mink, which are paid for by the state at one dollar each.

President Taft is entitled to the gratitude of all moralists and philanthropists for the action he has taken to impress on the minds of the young the need of abstention from intoxicants on the part of those who desire to live usefully and act nobly. He has had distributed thousands of copies of a letter he wrote on the subject for the benefit of the Sunday school children throughout the United States, citing the example of Abraham Lincoln as a stimulus to their patriotism. The President says in this circular:

The excessive use of intoxicating liquor is the cause of a great deal of the poverty, degradation and crime of the world, and one who abstains from the use of such liquor avoids a dangerous temptation. Abraham Lincoln showed that he believed this in writing out for his boy friends the pledge of total abstinence, so often quoted. Each person must determine for himself the course he will take in reference to his tastes and appetites, but those who exercise the self-restraint to avoid altogether the temptation of alcoholic liquor are on the safe and wiser side.—[Catholic Standard and Times.]

Texas Fire Company, No. 4, in a body, attended the masquerade ball given at White Mills by the Fire Company of that town, two sleighs being required to convey the local company, Saturday night.

When Judge Searle of Honesdale closed the door of his court against boys who were anxious to hear the details of the disgusting Howe case—a case from our county, and a case that comprehends a criminal act, for the commission of which the scaffold or the electric chair ought to be supplied—he served the cause of public morals and did the young men a kindness for which they may some day thank him. Judge Searle might have gone farther and excluded from the trial some old men who fought their way to points of vantage that they might hear every scrap and scintilla of the salacious evidence. I was glad to learn that a tipstaff moved one gray head who persisted in getting so close to the witness stand that he sneaked within the bar enclosure. The unfortunate plaintiff ought to be pitied in the presence of so many coarse eyes and vulgar ears, as she viewed the morbid loafers who would be in their element at an orgy such as rotten Corinth saw or Rome in its decadence. A man ought to feel ashamed of his sex as he contemplates a picture of two or three hundred men, crowding and trampling each other, to get a chance to drink with putrid zest the story of a hapless girl's ruin who, after all, pays the severest penalty in her sobs and tears and heartaches. Shame on the man whose prurient morbidity makes him vassal to the lowest conceits in his man-nature.—[From "Personal and Pertinent" in Saturday's Carbondale Leader.]

More than a hundred of the members of Camp No. 10,914, Modern Woodmen of America, their wives and friends, assembled Friday night in Freedom Hall to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the organization of their order. The evening's program was opened by a duet, Miss Elsie Heumann, pianist, and Otto Heumann, violinist. George F. Ross made a few appropriate introductory remarks dilating upon the strength and growth of the order, characterizing it as the largest fraternal order in the country and claiming that it furnished the cheapest protection for family and friends. Following Mr. Ross' address, Charles T. Truscott sang a solo entitled "All That I Ask of You is Love," accompanied by Frank A. Jenkins, to the great delight of the audience. Miss Elsie Heumann and Otto Heumann rendered a second duet and Miss Lactea V. Hawken sang in a pleasing manner. "Why Papa Was a Woodman!" Albert C. Lindsay responded to a call for an address on "Fraternal Insurance." According to Mr. Lindsay the order has a million and a quarter members scattered throughout the world. A male chorus, consisting of Elmer Butler, Frank Evans, Mr. Haywood, Charles T. Truscott, Charles J. Dibble, then sang. Miss Elsie Heumann and Otto Heumann delighted the crowd with musical selections. A sumptuous banquet followed.

According to a message received Saturday afternoon, from E. Dana Durand, director of the Census, Washington, D. C., the population of the boroughs in Wayne county, according to the Thirteenth census is: Honesdale, 2,945; Hawley, 2,018; Waymart, 412; Prompton, 263; Bethany, 130; Starrucca, 381.

A. W. Larabee has returned to his home in Starrucca after spending the week in town.

All county officers in the state will be paid salaries instead of depending upon fees for their commissions if a bill which Representative Bentley of Washington county introduced February 6 shall become a law; the measure requires that the salaries shall be earned in fees, and the surplus must go into the county funds. If the fees do not amount to enough to pay such salary as is fixed by this measure, then the official must accept such a sum as is collected from the fees less payment of his deputies and clerks.

This proposed bill will change the pay system in 56 counties or all those having less than 150,000 population, according to the Susquehanna Ledger, and above that figure (eleven in number) are now under salary system. The salary payment is to be monthly and each official will be limited each month to what remains after his under-clerks and deputies are paid. County Commissioners and County Auditors fix the number and salary of all clerks or deputies.

This new schedule of salaries is to stand regardless of an increase or decrease in population, until changed by Legislature. It will take effect when the terms of the present county officials expires.

Wayne county in this bill would be listed in counties having more than 25,000 population and less than 50,000 of which there are sixteen in the state, and salaries would be fixed as follows:

Sheriff $2500 per year; Prothonotary $2500 per year; Treasurer $2,500 per year; Commissioners each, $1200; Auditors, each, $150 per year; Coroner $500 per year; Solicitor $500 per year. The Register of Wills and Recorder of Deeds merged in one office in our county would receive $4300 and Clerk of Courts, $1000 as additional to his office as Prothonotary or $2500 in all.

Uptown people, down town people, and hillsideers want to watch John Stegner & Son's ad. in THE CITIZEN.

The third Tuesday in February is no longer a legal holiday in this state. The adoption of the amendment to the constitution abolishing the spring election, held on that day, rendered unnecessary the further observance of the day as a legal holiday and the Governor has signed a bill abolishing it.

In consequence the banks were opened to-day [Tuesday] for the first time in many years, and those who have obligations due on the 21st day of February must not be deceived by the regulation which permits the meeting of notes and legal paper due on a holiday, on the next following business day.

There having been some controversy over the question of whether saloons would have to be closed, despatches from different portions of the state saying that saloon men were in doubt about it the following will be interesting:

Saloons are no longer compelled to close on the third Tuesday, and in consequence they too will be doing business for the first time in many years.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 16, 1911. Governor has signed the bill abolishing the third Tuesday of February, formerly election day, as a legal holiday. Payment of checks and notes payable on that day will not therefore be postponed until the next succeeding day as heretofore, nor need saloons be closed. JOHN C. BELL, Attorney General.

Charles Cook, Scranton, was a week-end caller in town.

Frank P. Kimble, Esq., left Sunday morning for Philadelphia, where he will argue several cases before the Supreme Court.
