

IS LORIMER SAFE?

Resolution to Unseat Him Probably Will Fail.

BREAK IN SENATE LOG JAM.

Supporters of Illinois Senator Will Concession From Filibusters For Vote Today—Tariff Commission Bill Up.

Washington, March 1.—The deadlock in the senate was broken after an almost continuous session of more than thirty hours. Here are the direct results of the compromise:

First.—A unanimous consent agreement by the senate to vote on the Lorimer case this afternoon, at which time the resolution to unseat the Illinois senator undoubtedly will be voted down.

Second.—The making of the bill proposing the creation of a permanent tariff commission the unfinished business of the senate and agreement that no filibuster will be conducted against a vote on this measure.

The Canadian reciprocity situation in the senate remains unchanged as a result of the breaking of the deadlock in so far as the legislative log jam is relieved by the advancement of the Lorimer case and the tariff commission proposition. No attempt was made by friends of reciprocity to force a compromise upon this measure, and a special session to consider this subject still seems inevitable.

The disposal of the Lorimer case and the advancement of the tariff commission bill will, however, give the supporters of reciprocity a better opportunity to focus the attention of the senate upon it, but they acknowledge that the outlook for favorable action is not bright, in view of the fact that the senate has eleven big appropriation bills to dispose of in the remaining days of the session.

Just what the insurgents in the senate will get eventually from their filibuster is uncertain at this time. They announced in undertaking to obstruct a vote upon the Lorimer case that they would insist first upon a date being set for a vote upon the tariff commission.

CENSURES SENATOR GORE.

Bribe Charges Not Wholly Substantiated, Say a House Committee.

Washington, March 1.—By inference though not in direct terms, Senator Thomas P. Gore, of Oklahoma, is censured by the house committee that made an inquiry into his charges that an attempt was made to bribe him by persons interested in securing the approval of law contracts made with the Five Civilized Tribes. The report conveys the impression that Senator Gore stirred up a fearful tempest in a tea pot and raked up a lot of muck without any particular reason.

In his charges made in the senate, Mr. Gore alleged that Jake L. Hammet acted as the emissary of J. F. McMurray of McAlester, Okla., a lawyer who had contracts with the Five Civilized Tribes and had sought to enter the influence of Mr. Gore in having the contracts approved.

WILSON FOR PRIMARY BILL.

Geran Measure, Governor Says, Fulfills a Campaign Pledge.

Newark, N. J., March 1.—Governor Wilson was the principal speaker at the seventh annual banquet of the west Hudson board of trade in the town hall at Harrison. He discussed bills that are now pending at Trenton.

The Geran primaries and election bill, the governor said, was to fulfill a promise in the recent campaign. The idea, he said, was to put the choice of selecting candidates into the hands of the people. He spoke about trustworthiness election officers and the selection of responsible men to accept the posts on election boards.

East Liverpool, O., March 1.—Claiming to be a full cousin of the late General James W. Reilly, who died in Wellsville several years ago, leaving an estate of $250,000, Mary Sharkey McGrath of Newark, N. J., has filed a claim for the estate.

Twoscore of alleged heirs fought in common pleas court last year for this estate, but the court awarded the estate to the state of Ohio.

JURY GIVES GIRL $10,000.

But New York Judge Says Verdict For Breach of Promise Excessive.

New York, March 1.—Miss Henrietta French, the pretty South Dakota girl who sued David H. Decker, Jr., a wealthy young civil engineer of this city, for breach of promise of marriage, was awarded a verdict of $10,000 by a jury in the supreme court.

Justice Erlanger reserved decision on a motion to set the verdict aside, declaring it was "extremely excessive."

Robbers Attack a Consulate. Valencia, March 1.—A gang of robbers attacked the French consulate here. A large number of citizens, attracted by the noise the gang made attacked them and eventually drove them off. Many shots were fired, but so far as is known nobody was hit. The affair caused great alarm.

LEARN MORE OF TWO DEATHS?

Officials Inquire Into Conduct of Nurse Charged With Larceny.

Boston, March 1.—It is learned that inquiry is being made into the cause of the deaths of certain patients while under the care of Miss Amelia M. Leonard, the trained nurse arrested last Saturday for the alleged theft of jewelry and other property valued at more than $6,000 from the room of Miss Mary J. Lockwood after the latter died Feb. 14 at the Hotel Brunswick.

Inquiries are still being made in an effort to learn more details concerning the death of Miss Lockwood, and inquiries also are being made with respect to the death of Amelia De Forest Lockwood, her cousin, who also died at the Brunswick and was nursed by Miss Leonard. Amelia Lockwood, who was seventy years old, died Nov. 22. Mary Lockwood was seventy-two years old.

"PLUNGER JOE'S" WIFE SUES.

Suit of Mrs. Yaeger For Divorce Recalls Futurity Racing Days.

New York, March 1.—The good old Futurity racing days of 1905 are recalled in the suit before Justice McCall in the supreme court in which Mrs. Mae Bird Yaeger asks a divorce from Joseph C. ("Plunger Joe") Yaeger. "Madeline Fay," described as one of the American stage's most beautiful show girls, is named as correspondent. Justice McCall has reserved decision.

Yaeger started life as a newsboy in Pittsburg and became noted in 1893 on the American turf as a better and race horse owner. While Yaeger was racing thoroughbreds, winning money and rated as a millionaire his married life was happy.

BANDITS ROB EXPRESS CAR.

Messenger on Train Entering St. Louis Bound and Safe Opened.

St. Louis, March 1.—Two masked bandits boarded Iron Mountain passenger train No. 4 for St. Louis and after blinding and gagging the messenger of the express car opened the safe, removed the money and several packages of valuables and jumped off in the vicinity of Tower Grove Station.

The messenger, M. M. McRoberts of St. Louis, was left alone in the car by the robbers. He managed to notify the conductor. The train was stopped at Lower Grove Station and the police notified of the robbery. Experts are checking accounts to ascertain the amount stolen.

JUDGE BARS "ROUGH HOUSE."

Cornell Student, Who Started One, is Fined $10 in Court.

Ithaca, N. Y., March 1.—The landladies of Ithaca who have student roomers are to be protected from rough housing and other unseemly disturbance, according to the announcement of City Judge Bostwick, as he imposed a fine of $10 on Harry Aaron, a Cornell sophomore in the College of Law.

Aaron was arrested on complaint of Mrs. Vanderhoof, who said that he and a party of friends started a "rough house" in his room in her home. He was convicted of disorderly conduct.

TAFT TO BEGIN IN KANSAS.

Jayhawkers to Hear Opening Gun of Presidential Campaign.

Washington, March 1.—When President Taft goes out to see "what's the matter with Kansas" next September he may begin the political campaign that will only end in November, 1912.

Some time ago the president accepted an invitation to attend the state fair at Hutchinson, Kan., and Representative Anthony after a talk with the president announced that Mr. Taft would speak while in Kansas at Leavenworth and other cities.

Mr. Anthony thought the president's speeches would be political.

Pope Sees First Air Flight.

Rome, March 1.—The Pope saw his first aeroplane flight when Aviator Fischer, starting at Capannelle, two miles outside the city, passed over Rome, circled the dome of St. Peter's and returned to his starting point. His holiness watched his flight from a library window.

A CLASS "A" THEFT

An Old Sleuth Says "Topper" Got Drummond Gems.

ASK SCOTLAND YARD TO HELP

Captain Buetler, Formerly With Pinkertons, Believes Some of His Old Crook Friends Know Who Stole Jewels Aboard the Amerika.

New York, March 1.—Captain Seymour Buetler has cabled to London for news of old acquaintances. Captain Buetler, who used to be with the Pinkertons, has about come to the conclusion that Mrs. Malvina Drummond's jewels were sneaked from the Hamburg-American liner Amerika by a "topper," Scotland yard slang for a Class A thief. Captain Buetler, who recovered $130,000 worth of diamonds for Mrs. Anna Held Ziegfeld and $45,000 worth of jewels for Mrs. Clark Potter of Cooperstown because of his knowledge of the habits of able professional crooks, figures that none but a slick old timer could have got away with Mrs. Drummond's pearls and diamonds.

So the captain has asked Scotland yard and the French ministry of police what they know of the whereabouts of certain gentlemen of fortune who might well be suspected of having followed Mr. and Mrs. Drummond aboard the Amerika. While waiting for news from abroad the captain looked up a number of flash crooks who make their headquarters in this city.

The Drummonds at the Hotel Plaza were not minded to discuss the loss of Mrs. Drummond's $75,000 black and white pearl necklace, the black pearl and diamond ring which her former husband, Marshall Field, Jr., gave her and the other pieces that are missing. Questions as to how much the jewels were insured for got no response whatever. There was a suggestion that the insurance is carried by the Lloyds and that it is around $100,000, but nobody could get the Drummonds to say so. Mrs. Drummond thought that a French maid who came over with an American family on the Amerika and who had scraped acquaintance with her own maid might know something about the jewels, but Captain Buetler didn't consider that suggestion of real importance. It was possible, he said, that professional thieves might have employed a servant to get information concerning the movements of the Drummonds, but he did not think it at all probable that the maid had any knowledge as to the actual theft of the jewels or as to what has become of them.

SCHOONER SINKS AT SEA.

Crew of the J. C. Strawbridge Rescued by Russian Vessel.

Boston, March 1.—Word has been received here of the foundering of the Boston schooner J. C. Strawbridge, which sank at sea last Thursday, 280 miles from Bermuda. The crew of nine men was picked up by the Russian ship Endymion, bound to Rio Janeiro, which landed them at Be Ruda.

A brief telegram announcing the loss of the vessel was received by Captain John C. Crowley, manager of the company, from Captain Arrey. The Strawbridge was built in Camden in 1901 and was valued at $30,000.

New Head of Illinois Central Ends Search of Forty-six Years.

Charles was taken north from Clarksville, Tenn., by his stepfather during the war. John joined the Confederate army and after the war went to Hopkinsville, where he has lived ever since.

New York, March 1.—Miss Doris A. Dick and Horace Havemeyer were married at the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Incarnation. The bride was given in marriage by her father, J. Henry Dick.

She was attended by Mrs. James Watson Webb and Miss Julia A. Dick, her sister-in-law, and sister as matron and maid of honor. Stephen M. Edgell assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Boston, March 1.—William H. Koehler, alias Eugene Conrad, a former Boylston street palmist, was sentenced to from three to five years in state prison following his plea of guilty of larceny of $7,000 from Dora T. Coffin of New York.

With the aid of spiritualism and palmist powers, it is alleged, Koehler obtained over $24,000 from the woman before he was finally arrested a month ago.

WOMEN TAKE PICTURES TO RID CITY OF SMOKE.

Unightly Places in Your Town Can Be Removed by Camera.

Clubwomen, the wives and daughters of wealthy St. Louisans, armed with cameras, recently made pictures of chimneys that smoke in the campaign to rid the city of its murky atmosphere. All photographs will be presented to Smoke Inspector Parker. An army of 350 women participated.

It has been suggested that this method might be tried advantageously and effectively with the many eyesores to be found in nearly every town.

places, etc., then publicly exhibit them, showing what a disgrace to the town they are. Public feeling should soon become aroused, and the objectionable spots will be removed. In the illustrations one can see the possible good that can be accomplished in cleaning up your town. They show how an unclean, insanitary, unbecoming spot was cleared of its debris and with a little masonry work was converted into a really handsome section.

GOOD BUSINESS ADVICE.

Make it so pleasant and agreeable for your customers that there will be no "ifs" and "ands" about where they are going to make their purchases, considering all other things equal, but they will come to your store, where they are assured of courteous treatment.

Paris to Be More Beautiful.

Paris, already conceded to be one of the most beautiful cities in the world, recently has borrowed $200,000,000, with which immense sum it proposes to put on some more architectural and scenic frills. Half of the sum will be devoted to the upkeep of municipal buildings, for new buildings, for parks and promenades. That single interesting unit in the scheme is an "X" bridge over the Seine, one drive connecting the Rue de Rennes with the Rue de Louvre and the other connecting the wharf of the Louvre with the wharf Conti. A single river pier will serve as the bridge support.

Out of Door Advertising.

"What Can Be Done to Eliminate Objectionable Out of Door Advertising?" was the principal topic discussed by the Associated Billposters and Distributors, who held their annual meeting in Chicago a short time ago. The chairman of the censors' committee said in his report: "Our aim is to eliminate everything objectionable from out of door advertising. We are in harmony with all the organizations which are working for this end. We have cooperated with the Woman's Christian Temperance union, the art leagues and the civic leagues of the different cities in which we work."

Would Combine to Boost.

O. W. Randall of Eagle, Colo., is trying to enlist the aid of Denver boosters in the formation of a commercial organization on the western slope. Randall's idea is to have the towns of Eagle, Minturn, Red Cliff and Gypsum unite in forming one commercial organization which shall have for its objects the advertising of these towns and more especially the creation of interest in good ads in that part of the state. It is probable that several members of the Denver chamber of commerce will visit Eagle within the next month to aid in the inauguration of an organization of this kind.

Road to Business Success.

Are you discounting your bills this year or paying interest? The retailer who discounts all bills is doing business on the right basis. The man who pays interest is losing money both ways and cannot hope to compete with aggressive merchants. He loses the interest and the discounts, and together they amount to more than a fair trading profit.

A Wetter if Not a Better Man.

A little man in the west of England rushed to the river last summer, swearing loudly that he would drown himself. When he had waded in to the depth of his waist his wife, who had followed him, seized him by the hair, and then, as a local editor described it, she led him back till he reached a place where the water was about two feet deep, where she pulled him over backward and soaped him under and pulled his head up again.

"Drown yourself (down he went), leaving me to father the brats! (An other plunge.) Get drunk (another scuse) and start for the river! (An other dip.) Better use the water instead of rum! (Another dip and shake of the head.) I'll farn ye to leave me a widow!" After sozzling him to her heart's content she led him out a wetter if not a better man and escorted him into the house and closed the door.

The Gordian Knot.

The famous Gordian knot was made of leather taken from some part of the harness belonging to the chariot of Gordius, king of Phrygia. It seems that this knot was so tied that the ends of the leather thong were not visible, hence the difficulty in loosening it. Many must have tried to untie it, for its fame as a "sticker" at last reached the great oracle, which declared that the lucky experimenter should be rewarded by the kingship of Persia. Alexander, trying his hand and meeting with no better success than the others, drew his sword and cut into the knot until he found the ends of it.

The Colonel—And you actually assert that you want to marry my daughter? Fusby—Y-yes. The Colonel (staring at him unpleasantly)—You know I am English. Fusby—Y-yes, sir. The Colonel—Well, it's going to take me several years to see the point of your little joke. Good day to you.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
