For the sixth time the Wyoming conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held at Owego, N. Y. The sessions will begin on Wednesday, March 29, and will be presided over by Bishop Robert McIntyre, Minneapolis. It promises to be a most important conference and the work of the four district superintendents will be reviewed, and considerable interest will attach to their reports, as their territory has been enlarged so that the four superintendents now do the work that was formerly done by six presiding elders, giving each superintendent an average of about fifty-five churches in his district.

Mrs. T. E. Callaway, who has been spending several months with her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Schuller, at Montclair, N. J., returned home the first of the week.
Harry P. Cassidy, special agent of the dairy and food department, says that instructions had been issued to inspect all Gorgonzola cheese, which is imported chiefly from Italy.
"This cheese has been found to be covered with a coating," said Mr. Cassidy, "the primary purpose of which is nothing more than to cheat, namely, to increase the weight of the cheese 16 to 26 per cent., which the consumer pays for."
"Aside from the fact that the coating cheats and defrauds, it contains a poisonous substance, which, by absorption, penetrates the cheese. The poison is known chemically as 'barites' or 'barium sulphate.' The normal commercial use of this poison is in making mixtures of white paint and is extensively used by paint manufacturers. On the cheese the coating is colored with a preparation of iron rust to give it its brown color."
"The government permits this stuff, covered with a substance used to mix white paint, to enter the country."
"The analysis was made by Professor Charles H. Lawall of 39 South Tenth street, Harrisburg, the chemist for the department. The use of this chemical in candy is prohibited by federal and state law. This cheese sells at 50 cents a pound."

Fishermen all over the state are very much interested in a bill soon to make its appearance in the legislature and which permits one to fish on Sunday. Such a law grants the statute books of many states and for some years back there has been a movement here in Pennsylvania to get just such a measure passed. The Sunday fishing bill will be more heartily supported by the disciples of Isaac Walton than is the measure affecting hunters and which provides that every hunter must take out an annual license, the cost of which is to be made $1 per. Every mail coming to the capitol brings a dozen or more petitions signed by many hunters and which urge the legislators to put their foot on the proposed hunter's license law. The Game Commission is back of the move to have the hunter's license bill become a law, explaining its stand by stating that such a measure will bring to the state something like $150,000 annually. This money it is proposed to spend in restocking the woods and to further prosecute the illegal hunter.

The annual meeting of the Honesdale Business Men's Association will be held Wednesday evening, March 8, at 8 o'clock in Town Hall, when officers will be elected and other important business transacted.
Although the following advice in a trade paper is addressed to sales clerks, it is really of more importance to the buyer:
"Salesmen cannot pay too much attention to the fitting of rubbers, for half the life of the rubber is in the proper fit. I believe in fitting rubbers as large as possible.
"Do not stretch a 4 1/2 rubber over a 5 shoe. It puts too much strain on the rubber, and it will break before half worn out. Watch and see that the sole does not project over the edge of the rubber.
"Do not sell Cuban heel rubbers for low heel shoes and vice versa. We can supply a rubber for almost any heel made to-day. If you do not have rubbers to fit, it is your own fault.
"Do not sell a motorman, teamster or any man or boy who gives a rubber hard use a light rubber. You would not sell a light dress shoe for everyday wear; do not do so with your rubbers. Watch sales more carefully, and you will have no trouble with your rubber trade.
"Watch the heels of the customers' shoes, especially the Cubans. When they get half worn off no rubber will fit or wear over them. Suggest that they get them built before wearing the rubbers. This causes a large majority of the complaints of rubbers breaking down at the heels, both on men's and ladies' rubbers.
"Tell your customers not to use their rubbers like a stick of wood after they have worn them a few times, for freezing up on the stoop and thawing out under the hot stove does not help them any."

Two bills were presented to the Legislature recently providing for pensions for Pennsylvania veterans and their widows. Their provisions are as follows:

The Riebel bill creates a commission consisting of a Senator, Representative and three old soldiers. The veterans are to be suggested to the Governor for appointment by the commander of the department of Pennsylvania G. A. R. The Governor's appointees serve for four years and the Legislative members for two years. Vacancies on the commission are filled in like manner. The commissioners are not salaried. A chief clerk is to receive annually $1,800, two clerks $1,200 each and a stenographer $900.

Those entitled to draw pensions consist of every citizen of the state at the date of the approval of the bill who enlisted from Pennsylvania in the Civil war and who, on account of age, bodily infirmity or other cause, is unable to earn a living and does not have sufficient income. He is to be paid at the rate of $8 a month and in extreme cases not to exceed $15 a month. "Any person of continuous vicious and intemperate habits shall not be entitled to the provisions of the act."

When a pensioner dies the widow can make application. Wives of soldiers, who died prior to the passage of the act, are also eligible to draw a pension. The bill appropriates $600,000 for the pensions and $25,000 for expenses.

A Bureau of Pensions in the adjutant general's office is created by the Reno bill under the supervision of the adjutant general. His decision on an application is final unless an appeal is taken and then the State Military Board decides. The bureau is to have a chief clerk at $2,500 a year. Additional clerks, not exceeding 10, can be appointed. Those eligible to pensions include all soldiers, sailors and marines of the civil war enrolled from Pennsylvania and residents of the state at the date of the commencement of their service and one year prior to making application for a pension. In addition, any person who served in the militia or emergency troops of Pennsylvania is eligible.

The rate of pension is as follows: Service of one full year or less, $5 a month; one year and not more than two, $6; over two years, $7; emergency men, $5 a month irrespective of the length of service, providing the person saw active service. The first payment is to be made on April 1, 1912, and quarterly thereafter. No petition is to be filed before November, 1911. The appropriation for pensions is $2,500,000 and $67,950 for expenses.

HONESDALE AND ENVIRONS.

Miss Alice Ulmer has returned to her home in Carbondale, after a week's visit with Honesdale friends.

"This is the only time in my experience," said District Attorney M. E. Simons to a reporter for THE CITIZEN, Monday, "that we have no criminal cases to come before the Grand Jury. We have absolutely none. The Hunkele case will be closed up at the end of the week."

The structure of the brain places Veneration at the very top, and thus, by implication, confirms the statement of the Catechism that "Man's chief end is to glorify God and to enjoy him forever." Without this Fulcrum, missionaries and philanthropists might well lose all heart and all hope in respect to the moral and social uplift of the masses and the classes. Whoever, therefore, is intelligently a friend to his race must do everything in his power to maintain this center of mental balance, and to utilize it as an essential feature in the Divine arrangement for human well-being. Whoever in any manner or degree undermines this element of the mind is surely doing a destructive work, instead of a constructive one, whether he realizes the fact or not.—Paster Russell.

To have no personal God must eventually signify to the reasoning mind no Law-Giver, no Judge, no justice, no love, no mercy, no personal relationship, as between father and child. Thus would be lost the very basis of Christian faith and doctrine.—Pastor Russell.

Charles E. Lathrop, veteran editor of the Carbondale Leader, and probably the oldest active journalist in Pennsylvania, celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday at his home on Garfield avenue, Carbondale, Sunday. The event was observed in a very quiet manner. For the past several days Mr. Lathrop has been confined to his home with an attack of the grip, which, however, is not considered to be serious, and it is expected that he will again be occupying the chair of editor of the Leader within a short time. Despite his advanced age Mr. Lathrop invariably reports at the Leader office daily, being the first one around in the morning and the last one to leave the editorial rooms in the afternoon. At the morning service in the First Presbyterian church Sunday the pastor, Rev. Charles Lee, D. D., mentioned the fact of the birthday of the aged churchman and spoke feelingly of the work he has performed in the many years that he has been identified with the church. Mr. Lathrop has been a member of the church for forty-two years and during that long period he has missed only three of the quarterly communion services.

Paine, is being formed to have general charge of the encampment. Many of the members of this committee have already been definitely selected and others will be added within a few days. At a meeting of the committee held last Friday afternoon in the board of trade rooms a rough sketch of the program for the encampment was considered. Among other features it was decided that the camp fire to be held on the evening of the first day of the encampment, June 6, will be of important dimensions.
