An interesting story interwoven with song and music will be found in "A Prince For a Day," the new musical offering which comes to the Lyric tonight. Seldom has there been gathered together such a distinguished corps of artists as will be seen with this musical comedy. The story is one of college life bristling with wit, set to tuneful music, the song numbers new and catchy, rendered in a masterly manner by an exceptionally strong singing contingency, ably supported by a chorus of pretty girls whose rendition of the various musical numbers is superb. The piece is gorgeously mounted and will be offered at popular prices.

Death of Mrs. Caulfield.

Mrs. Mary Jane Rutledge, relict of the late John S. Caulfield, died at her home near Galilee in Damascus township, on Saturday, March 4, 1911, at about 9:15 p. m. About four weeks prior to her death she received a fracture of the right arm. She was recovering from this injury, yet it is thought that the shock and pain hastened her death, as no other illness was apparent. She was about to retire for the night when she complained of not feeling well. Those immediately near hastened to her bedside but she died before a doctor could be summoned.

The funeral services were conducted in the Galilee M. E. church on Wednesday, March 8, by Rev. J. M. Coleman. The body was taken to Damascus and laid at rest beside that of her husband, in the M. E. cemetery.

The pallbearers were six of Mrs. Caulfield's nephews, viz: H. D. Lord, A. M. Rutledge, Irving Rutledge, Otto Rutledge, Tilden Rutledge and Fred Rutledge.

To this couple were born eleven children, seven of whom now survive, namely, Sarah O., wife of Addison Darling, Fish's Eddy, N. Y.; Lydia J., wife of W. L. Jackson, Tyler Hill; Miss Fannie E., Jeremiah, John J., Isaac L., farmers living near Galilee and Judson A., a carpenter at Damascus.

Mrs. Caulfield was a worthy and respected neighbor; an affectionate and indulgent mother, a devoted wife.

Her genealogical tree has many wide-spreading branches. Enumeration shows that she is represented by the sons and daughters named and also by twenty grand children, twenty-one great grand children, thirteen nephews, eighteen nieces, twenty-three grand nephews, twenty-five grand nieces and four great grand nieces, making 132 direct descendants now living.

A levy of 4½ mills on the assessed property valuation was laid for 1911. Bernard M. Rifkin, Miss C. Peterson and Mrs. Penwarden appeared before the Council and Mr. Rifkin explained the desirability of having a City Shade Tree Commission. The subject was thoroughly discussed but action was deferred to the next regular meeting.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS

CLASSIFICATION ACCORDING TO APPROPRIATION BILL INTO THREE GRADES.

A list of High schools in the several counties of the State of Pennsylvania as reported by the Superintendents of Schools and classified by the Department of Public Instruction, prepared by Nathan C. Schaeffer, superintendent of Public Instruction, just received by County Superintendent J. J. Koehler, contains the following items of interest to our Wayne county readers. In this connection it may be mentioned that the Department of Public Instruction classifies the schools and not the County Superintendent as some think.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The following classification of the high schools is based upon the clause of the appropriation bill which refers to high schools. In order that a school may receive appropriation as a first grade school it must employ at least three teachers, who devote their time to high school work during a term of 9 months, and it must maintain a course of study for four years beyond the common branches.

A second grade school must employ at least two teachers who devote their entire time to high school work during an eight months' term and the course of study must be three years beyond the common branches.

The third grade schools must have at least twelve pupils, qualified for high school work, in regular attendance throughout the year and maintain a course of study two years beyond the common branches.

No school has been classified as third grade if the teacher was attempting to teach four different grades of pupils, representing four different school years, nor has a district employing but two teachers in all grades been considered as able to maintain a high school.

Under the distribution of appropriation for the year ending June, 1910, all schools of the same grade received the same amount of aid, or 50 per cent. of the maximum allowed by law; hence schools of the first grade received $400; second grade, $300; and third grade, $200.
