WEDNESDAY, MAY 10, 1911.

It sometimes happens that the object of the girl who is oh, so coy is to decoy.

A good spanking is getting to be the first wedding present of a great many boy and girl elopers.

You might think Cornell University was Georgetown from the trouble they have over the race question.

When a man's wife compels him to stop wearing rubbers it's high time for him to come home early from the office.

Carnegie is going to establish a hero fund in Russia. Probably most of those who get the medals or the money will be Japs.

It isn't a very flattering comment on a woman's comeliness to have a jury award her a measly six cents damages for a stolen kiss.

Mayor Gaynor says that he believes in God because he must. Still, that same belief does not necessarily apply to City Chamberlain Hyde.

Some men, as Kin Hubbard would say if it hadn't been said too many times before, some men go looking for trouble and others get married.

Mexican gold coin to the amount of $1,000,000 has been received at the Federal treasury. Well, we're glad to see that it's not all going out and nothing coming in.

The Philadelphia man who talked calmly to a policeman while a surgeon took seventeen stitches in his ear, was probably used to having his wife sew buttons on his shirt.

Kansas has a new drink called fishberry wine, the effects of which are said to have plain ordinary whiskey looking like a cup of cocoa. Well, Kansas needed something to wake her up.

The South Orange Man who chewed tobacco for 35 years and ate pie twice a day for 89 years said before he died that he lived so long because he never smoked. Probably he has learned the latter by now.

Well, Vermont is going to spend the enormous sum of $5000 to advertise itself. Isn't it the reckless state? Why some adv. writers get that much for a month's salary.

We've often heard of "spending money like water," but the Bloomfield, N. J., girl who turned on the faucet and drew seven dimes into the tumbler seems to have reversed the adage.

A Washington minister says that he is going to leave the ministry for the stage and if unsuccessful there will drive a cart. What's the use of his wasting time? Giddap, Dobbin, the world's in a hurry for successful men.

The young man from St. Louis who has walked 475,000 miles of the 500,000 that he started out to walk between 1887-1915 says that he has worn out 433 pairs of shoes in his long tramp. Wonder what shoe company will nail him for an adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller are the proud parents of twin girls, born Wednesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Miller are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Roder, 370 Cedar street.—Fon du Lac Reporter. Bet they weren't invited to visit again.

What do you know about this? New York has sent a woman to Bellevue Hospital as insane because she sewed $1,700 in her clothes. We are inclined to believe she showed the height of wisdom, remembering as we do, the Carnegie Trust and Northern Bank failures.

It is estimated that Americans will spend $35,000,000 in England during coronation week—and then they'll come back and complain of the high cost of living. We have a sneaking idea that a Presidential inauguration is just as inspiring a sight only more so.

A father and a mother in White Plains, N. Y., are going to court for possession of a two-year-old baby. The father says he ought to have the child because its mother washes it but once a day. The originality of the man ought to get a reward and it does right here in this item. The mother however gets the baby.

THE RE-ELECTION OF KOEHLER.

The overwhelming majority of votes which Mr. J. J. Koehler received for county superintendent at the recent meeting of the county school directors seems to prove that the office has found the man. The increase of salary seems to show that Mr. Koehler's work has been appreciated. We hope that the next three years of his incumbency will see no diminution of the progressiveness and energy which Mr. Koehler has evidenced during his first term as county superintendent.

Some men call themselves "live wires" because everything they have on is charged.

$125,000,000 spent for candy last year. No wonder the "How-to-get-thin" companies do such a business.

Generally the man who enjoys his garden most is the one who stands around and tells his neighbors what to do.

"I have heard the report, but I do not give a damn."—City Chamberlain Hyde, of New York. And that's the kind of a man to whom the great city of New York entrusted its finances.

In Chile they have 40 verses to their National Anthem, in Siam 66 and in Uruguay 70. We have only four verses in our national hymn but its a 10 to 1 chance that you can't repeat any two of them without a mistake.

"What has become of the red headed girl?" asks the Washington Herald. That's simple. She's generally to be found within one block of the white haired horse.

"Frankly, I am not opposed to Greek letter fraternities, nor am I unequivocally in favor of them. Nor yet am I neutral in the matter," says Dr. Elmer E. Brown, Chancellor-elect of New York University. Can you beat that? And yet they talk of a woman not knowing her own mind.

A Mrs. Nimrod, lecturing a short while ago in London, said: "I found the Belgian officials very kind everywhere. I was given a special permit to shoot elephants, and used it. I shot a hippopotamus." Probably she was so scared she couldn't tell the difference.

"I tell you buttons up the back are foes not only to common sense but to liberty. When women haven't any more sense than to have dresses that button up the back they certainly haven't sense enough to vote," says Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady. And yet, we always had an idea that ministers such as Mr. Brady buttoned their collars up the back!!!

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Dear Editor: We receive "The Citizen" regularly in spite of the distance between us and its place of publication and am glad to say that we enjoy it exceedingly.

I was pleased to find in the latest issue of The Citizen that I had won one dollar and notice on page 2 I stand a chance of getting another. Respectfully, EARL E. DUFFY.

This Gets a Prize and a Place of its Own.

Dear Editor: I entered my home recently unobserved. Hearing a lady's voice in the parlor in conversation with my wife, I listened for—no I wasn't eavesdropping either. I just naturally listened a moment to see if I recognized the voice, but the lady just then ceased speaking. From my wife's remark which followed, I inferred they were conversing on that all-absorbing topic husbands. In that familiar, cool, impassioned voice, characteristic of my wife, she remarked "fate gave ME a model husband." I tiptoed into the library and sank into the first chair I reached which chanced to be before her open desk. So carefully had she concealed her opinion from me, so sudden, so unexpected was it from anything I had been led to suppose that I began to feel acute symptoms of being threatened with a perpetual smile. It was broadening so rapidly I involuntarily clutched my cheeks with my hand as it were, to check it. On the desk before me laid The Citizen and a sudden inspiration seized me and I grasped her pen to announce my independent candidacy for the Presidency of the Smile Club, and proceeded to prove my eligibility.

So absorbed in my topic was I that I was lost to everything beside until startled, yes, paralyzed by that same cool familiar voice saying, "Perhaps you would better reconsider," as under my nose she pushed a pocket dictionary, open, and with her long forefinger pointed to Model: A small imitation of the real object. With lightning rapidity I escaped becoming a perpetual smile. That smile came off. Now, my brow is knitting itself (after a pattern of the latest knitting stitch) into sort of a cross between one in a quandary, and one in the superlative degree. It hasn't developed sufficiently for me to determine whether I need to call a medical, legal or spiritual adviser yet. If it doesn't get serious, I am disposed to sell the design to one of our knitting manufacturers, maybe Bower, (right or left) and buy me a runabout. I started to write this for the Smile column but better boots it ends in the Kick Kontest, so here goes: I kick because women are past finding out.

And marriage a snare and delusion; I kick because women's chief aim in life seems to be to put men to confusion. Rats! A. F. RAND.

The Star Boarder. Officer Levi De Grote, Sunday morning at 2 o'clock arrested John Mullen, sixty years old, for intoxication. He was lodged in the municipal hotel where he remained the star-boarder until Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when he was sent toward Behany. Officer De Grote found him lying on the street, back of Caulfield's, alongside the railroad track. "As he had no money, what was the use of giving him a hearing?" said Officer De Grote. Mullen farms and works around. The poor authorities won't take care of him as long as he is able to work.

The trial list for the June term contains only six cases, viz: Smith vs. Brown, assumpsit; Stuck vs. Bigart, interpleader; Henrich vs. Sanders, assumpsit; Telleg vs. Chapiak, trespass; Klanser vs. De Breen, trespass; Lewis S. Troon vs. Cortright, assumpsit.

Miss Kathryn Briggs, Christ Hospital, Jersey City, is passing a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Briggs of Tenth street.

Hon. E. B. Hardenbergh left Tuesday morning on a business trip to Harrisburg.

Miss Eva Griffin, Scranton, is spending a few days with relatives here.

Mrs. Arthur Hull, New York, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. R. N. Torrey.

F. A. Jenkins spent the latter part of the week with friends at Lake Como.

Costs But a Trifle to Cure Catarrh

How many readers of The Citizen know that in Inland Australia where the mightiest of eucalyptus trees grow in abundance, that there is no consumption, catarrh or diseases of the respiration tract.

The refreshing balsam thrown out by these trees fills the air and is breathed into the lungs by the inhabitants and all germ life is destroyed.

If you have catarrh you cannot go to Inland Australia except at great expense, but you can breathe right in your own home the same pleasant, soothing, healing, germ killing air as you would breathe if you were living in the eucalyptus district of Australia.

Just breathe HYOMEI! It is made from Australian eucalyptus and scientifically combined with thymol and other antiseptics employed in the Listerian system.

Pour a few drops of HYOMEI in the inhaler and breathe it, and as it passes over the catarrh infected membrane it kills the germs and heals the raw, inflamed surface.

HYOMEI is guaranteed to cure catarrh, coughs, colds, croup and sore throat or money back. Complete outfit including inhaler $1.00. Extra bottles of HYOMEI cost but 50 cents. Sold by druggists everywhere and by G. W. Peil, Honesdale.

3 TIMES AND OUT

come to them from the elements. That same night Mrs. Weichel who is in mortal terror of her life, had to appeal to Officer Canivan for protection.

The house in which the unhappy couple lived is owned by Mrs. Weichel, who has been thrice wedded. Although Mrs. Weichel, who was born in Girland, is only forty-four years old, she had already been married twice before, when last November 15, she became the bride of Rudolph Weichel, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Dr. Swift.

Her second husband, who was William H. Sherman, a well-known stone mason and contractor, ended his life by suicide, Wednesday morning, November 20, 1907, at the age of forty-eight, in the same commodious, pretty and well-furnished cottage on River street, in which the stirring scenes of last week were enacted. Her first husband was Louis Hartung, who, strange to relate, was also a suicide. Mrs. Weichel had two daughters by her first husband, and one son from her second marriage.

The house is located near a quarry which her second husband owned, and which furnished much of the building stone used in the town and suburbs. The extensive flights of steps leading from River to Cottage streets were also built by him.

Rudolph Weichel, who was born in Honesdale, is only forty-two years old, and had never been married before. His mother, who had been making her home with him, died recently.

Rudolph is a cigar maker by trade, and can make good wages when he works, which, however, it is alleged, he only does spasmodically. He spends much of his time, it is said, running from one saloon to another, and the charge made against him by his wife when she caused his arrest, was drunk and disorderly.

In the meantime peace reigns supreme in the little cottage on River street, and it is more than likely that the matter will be thrashed out at the June term of court.

EDITOR'S CORNER

We get a lot of fun out of this column. We want you to enjoy it also. Primarily it is run for your amusement. If anything appears here which offends you in any way whatsoever, drop us a postal or phone us to that effect. An apology will appear in the next issue of the paper. That's fair, isn't it? We have no wish to hurt anybody's feelings. All we want to do is to brighten one moment of your day; and if but one single item brings a smile, we shall feel it was not written in vain.

Bodie Lands in Second Place. Another candidate for President of the Smile Club forges to the front. Joseph A. Bodie, Jr., took the second position among the Honesdale candidates when three more votes arrived in last night's mail. Mr. Rose still leads in the race, however, and if the present ratio keeps up he will land the handsome gold medal which The Citizen will award to the most popular man in Wayne county.

Brook Leshar has one friend at least in Neshotown. The morning mail brought in another vote for Brook, making a total of 5.

Are there any popular women? They have the same chance as the men and that medal would make a beautiful buckle or a bob.

There will be no regular ballot for Vice President hereafter. The two names which receive the greatest number of votes for President will be awarded the handsome gold and silver medals with which The Citizen wishes to decorate the two most popular persons in Wayne county. Now, then, it's up to you to vote for the person who is, in your opinion, the best liked in the county.

The names of the candidates thus far sent in follow in order of the number of votes each has received: George P. Ross, Honesdale...12 J. A. Bodie, Jr., Honesdale...6 Brock Leshar, Neshotown...5 Michael J. Hanlan, Honesdale...5 A. W. Larrabee, Starruca...4 H. G. Rowland, Honesdale...4 R. W. Murphy, Hawley...3

Judge Wilson cheered (?) us up the other day with the following story: It seems a young man with a Quaker friend got married and his friend in congratulating him said: "Well, my young friend, thee is now at the end of thy troubles."

The young man shook the Quaker's hand and didn't see him again for a year.

Then, chancing to meet the Quaker on the street he rushed up to him and said: "See here, didn't you tell me that when I got married I was at the end of my troubles?"

"Yes," answered the Quaker gravely, "I did tell thee that, but I didn't tell thee which end and thou seemest to have taken the near end."
