The Printers' Union of Binghamton, is asking the business men of the city to keep their work at home. It is argued that the printers make good wages when employed and that they spend the money they make with home merchants. This is a good point. The printers estimate that five thousand dollars is sent out of Binghamton every month for printing that could be done at home. The peculiar part of the proposition is that so few business men look at it that way. A drummer for an out of town printing house comes along and tells him that he will print him 15,000 bill heads for $1.75 per thousand. He looks up his bill from the local plant, and discovers that he was charged $2.25 for the last thousand, and reasons that here is a chance to save money. He doesn't stop to think that home he orders by the single thousand, and insists on "the best paper in the shop." He orders enough to last him three years, and the out of town printer spells his name wrong, and prints his stuff on "punk" paper.

The Independent Republican of Montrose where Judge A. T. Searle held court in the latter part of April, comments on an opinion handed down by the Judge as follows: Judge A. T. Searle on Wednesday handed down an opinion in the suit regarding the division of the property of the late Andrew H. Rose, Silver Lake, being a portion of the original Dr. Robert Rose property, the founder of the Silver Lake colony. The case has been in litigation for nearly two years. The property in question involves some 1280 acres of heavily timbered land of great value, the only tract of primeval timber of any extent in the county. Judge Searle in a lengthy legal opinion that showed much learning and research awarded a decree in partition which if sustained will result in a division of the property among beneficiaries, sharing proportionately as follows: Agnes Rose Giles, 45-120ths; Wm. Main, 15-120ths; Agnes Fillebrown, Henry J. Rose, Caleb C. Rose, each 6-120ths; Emily F. Edwards, Robert R. Rose, Dickerson L. Rose, each 10-120ths; Alice, Marion and Edw. L. Rose, each 2-120ths. Charlotte S. Rose, life use of 26-120ths, the balance of the awards being given absolutely. John S. Courtright was appointed master, and D. D. Lathrop and F. L. Lonard commissioners to divide the estate, value same, etc.

On motion of Mr. Penwarden, seconded by Mr. Genung, a resolution was adopted "calling the attention of the citizens of the borough and the members of the Honesdale Fire Companies to Borough Ordinance Eighteen, Section 1, in regard to using fire plugs for sprinkling purposes, or using any hose without the authority of the fire department." There is a penalty of $5 attached for each offense.

Mr. Genung reported that there was more or less bicycle riding on the sidewalks. A complaint was also made that some one wants a lamp removed from one of the gas posts in the Park, as it looks so odd since the other one is gone. One of the members thought it would look all right if they took them both out, and the Council let it go at that.

TOWN COUNCIL

developed, it appears, to the attempt to secure the old Delaware and Hudson canal for a dumping ground, and that project had to be abandoned. Street Commissioner Weidner informed the council that a good available place, a short distance from town, could be secured at $50 an acre, and the committee was authorized to examine the property at once, and if suitable close the bargain without any further delay.

Mr. Penwarden, for the Street Committee, offered a resolution to the effect "that Seventeenth street be hereby accepted and made a part of the borough." The motion, which was seconded by Mr. Genung, prevailed 5-0. The street, which runs from the home of J. Baker through to East Extension street, was laid down some thirty years ago by E. F. Torrey, and was opened and dedicated to the public use. The street is thirty feet in width, but had never been formally accepted as one of the public highways. The secretary was instructed to notify the Torrey estate of the action taken by the Town Council.

Petition Granted. A petition signed by James Caulfield, A. Markie and P. J. Finnerty, residents of Fourth street, asking permission to build a sewer to Main street to the river, a distance of 750 feet; claiming that a sewer is absolutely necessary for the sanitary condition of the neighborhood, the property holders to pay the expense, proportionately, upon motion of Mr. Penwarden, seconded by Mr. Ham, was granted.

On motion of Mr. Ham, seconded by Mr. Canivan, Councilman Murray was given the privilege of running a sewer across the street, through a small corner of the borough property, between Hiller's property and the bridge, and empty into the river, and also to connect with the borough sewer at the corner intersection.

Mrs. W. W. Weston applied for scrip on East Park street. The recommendations of the Board of Trade to the Town Council that East Extension street be opened, and that amusement owners be obliged to pay billboard license, received scant consideration, one of the members remarking that it would cost $5,000 to buy the Wilson property, and that the borough was not in a financial condition to do it, at present.

The "Shade Tree Commission" question came up again. The text of the 1907 Shade Tree Act was read by the secretary, and Mr. Ham moved that its provisions be accepted. Considerable opposition to the Act developed for the reasons that it might give autocratic power to several individuals, and more especially because to provide for the expenses of such commission, a tax levy not to exceed one-tenth of one mill would have to be laid. Not being seconded, the motion was lost, and the matter was laid on the table until the next meeting, when it will be discussed further.

Fire Ordinance. On motion of Mr. Penwarden, seconded by Mr. Genung, a resolution was adopted "calling the attention of the citizens of the borough and the members of the Honesdale Fire Companies to Borough Ordinance Eighteen, Section 1, in regard to using fire plugs for sprinkling purposes, or using any hose without the authority of the fire department." There is a penalty of $5 attached for each offense.

Mr. Genung reported that there was more or less bicycle riding on the sidewalks. A complaint was also made that some one wants a lamp removed from one of the gas posts in the Park, as it looks so odd since the other one is gone. One of the members thought it would look all right if they took them both out, and the Council let it go at that.

Street Question. The everlasting street question sprang up again. Mr. Murray moved and Mr. Ham seconded a resolution that a committee be appointed from among the Town Council to go to Harrisburg and interview the State Highway Department people in regard to our street, and that their reasonable expenses, such as car fare and hotel bills be defrayed by the Council." The regular committee on streets was appointed to go to Harrisburg in the near future. They are: P. R. Murray, George Genung, Mayor John Kuhbach, Geo. W. Penwarden and S. T. Ham. Mr. Ham said he couldn't go, so borough solicitor C. A. McCarty, Esq., was appointed in his stead.

A Bell telephone pole in front of Finnerty's was reported as being a source of possible damage and consequent suit against the borough. The street commissioner was instructed to fill out the curb to the street line. The proposition of Mr. Seaman to plow up, root up, grade and roll Upper Main street, at a cost not to exceed $75 a block, was accepted and the Council will try a block at that price.

Bills Paid. The following bills and claims amounting to $778.38 were ordered paid: Kraft and Conger (coal) $ 18.95 Consolidated Tel. Co. 60.00 Levi DeGroot (police duty) 50.00 J. J. BUSINESS BIBLES

"I regard this Bible as God's best book for man. In it is found everything that is desirable for mankind for this life and the next.

What Marshall Field Said. "Marshall Field, one of the most successful business men of the United States, who amassed a great fortune, said: 'Impress on young men the study of the Bible, the building of a character on its precepts, a character that will win respect of mankind and will be greater than a great fortune.'

"It has done this for hundreds and thousands of other business men. It is capable of doing this for you and for me, for business or professional men. Our pastor is a very shrewd man, a very discreet man, but he has given to each of us a big subject.

"Nations without the Bible have no inventive genius. Confucius, 700 B. C., even boasted that the Chinese invented nothing, that the times were degenerate, and that the nations had to look back to ancient civilizations for reforms.

"Before the advent of the Son of Man, the individual did muscular work, when and where he pleased. In Christ's time the laborer received a cent a day. Last year the United States Steel Corporation paid its 187,000 employees an average of $800 per annum. Christ works scientifically. He gives fresh air, sunlight, abundant harvest. Poor sanitation meant poor morals. The world has come to realize that imperfect cooking has much to do with vice of various kinds.

"The feeling is very general that there is danger in the accumulation of wealth, but it has not been proven so. Think of all that has been accomplished by the use of wealth. There is not a fly or a mosquito in the Panama zone.

"Some of you think it is only necessary for professional men and students for the ministry, but I stand here to-night to say to you that had it not been for the comfort I derived from this book, I would not be here, I would not be active in this church."

Following Mr. Holmes' address, the choir rendered an anthem. The offering was then received.

In introducing R. M. Stocker, Esq., editor of the Wayne County Herald, whose subject was "The Bible in National Life," Doctor Swift commented upon "the two most excellent addresses, not only scriptural but philosophical as well, that had been made, 'but will be followed,' he said, 'by a third address just as excellent, just as scriptural and just as philosophical.'"

Mr. Stocker's Speech. Mr. Stocker spoke in part as follows:

"The influence of the Bible upon the nations is in proportion to the heed that is given to the teachings of the Bible by the people comprising the nations where it is taught. The Bible contains the revelation which God has made of himself to man, and according to our catholicism: It teaches what man is to believe concerning God and what duty God requires of man." The author and inspirer of the Bible is the creator of the universe.

"The nations that have read and studied the Bible because of its general distribution among the people are the English speaking nations, the Germans, Hollanders, Danes, Scandinavians, French, Italians and Austrians. Great Britain, including Canada, Australia, and her other dependencies, the United States, Germany and France are the greatest nations in the world."

"The heathen nations with their teeming millions are mere dependencies of the Bible loving nations. Christian nations have the heathen for their possessions. The Latin nations, when they were first Christianized, were the leading nations of the earth. Our ancestors were heathen barbarians worshipping wood or the sun at that time. The Teutonic or German stock were converted together with the Anglo-Saxon, a kindred people. Martin Luther and Philip Melancthon, in translating the Bible into German did for the Germans what Wickliffe, Coverdale, Tyndal and the learned men who made the King James translation did for the English-speaking people. They laid the foundations for the German and the English languages and gave the Bible to the common people. The Bible thus given has revolutionized these nations and entered into their literature and lives. The Bible reading nations are the most powerful, the most cultivated, the wealthiest, the most inventive, the best housed, clothed and fed, the best protected against famine, disease and misfortune. They are the lands of churches, schools, colleges, hospitals, asylums and other eleemosynary institutions. In fact they are the only nations on earth fit to live in. Contrast England, America, Germany, France, with heathendom, with India, China, Japan, yes Japan. She has advanced and learned many of the arts of the Christians but she has gone about as far as imitation will take her. The Bible must influence the lives of the Japanese or they will fail."

"The influence of the Bible is gradually destroying force and war as a means of settling differences among nations. It promotes virtue, temperance, honesty and righteousness. It teaches the nations to trust in God and to do right. Peace on earth and good will to men is its message to the nations and ultimately peace and good will must triumph among men, and the God of the Bible shall rule over all."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Neville, Holisterville spent several days in Honesdale last week. Miss Mollie Demer is the guest of her brother's family, Mr. and Mrs. C. Demer, at Binghamton, N. Y.

Miss Margaret Weaver spent last week as the guest of her brother, John Weaver, and wife, at Towanda.

Mrs. E. Griswold, who has been spending several months in Honesdale, left for her home in Deposit, N. Y., Monday.

More than a hundred of the members of the society their friends and invited guests gathered around the festive board to enjoy the feast of reason and flow of soul so bountifully provided for them.

It is more than likely that the strength of this powerful arm of St. John's church is due to the fact that each one of its seventy-nine members is making an attempt to put into practice the precept enunciated by that foremost apostle of the strenuous life, Theodore Roosevelt, which adorns an inside page of the neat banquet program, and which runs like this:

"It is most important that each man should do a little, more than pull his own weight in the world."

A picture of the toastmaster, Prof. J. J. Koehler, who was recently re-elected County Superintendent by an almost unanimous vote, in addition to being granted a salary increase of $200, per annum, graces the front cover page of the banquet booklet.

Death Of Byron L. Evans. Byron L. Evans, a well-known farmer of Berlin township, died at his home there Friday evening, at 19 o'clock, aged forty-six years and eleven months, from typhoid fever.
