It's a long ways between towns in Wayne county. So far from each other, and from the county seat, are some of the inland villages that the Coroner cannot reach them in less than a day or two of hard railroad or overland travel.

To expedite matters, and incidentally to save money for the county, Justices of the Peace are frequently authorized to hold inquests, as was the case in the finding of the dead body of an aged citizen on the first of May in Scott township. A transcript of the inquisition held upon the body of William Tarbox, whose body was found with life extinct, the first of the month, is a case in point, the details of which follow:

"On May 1, I, James Hoag, Justice of the Peace of Buckingham township, was called upon to hold an inquisition over the body of William Tarbox, in the township of Scott, County of Wayne, then and there found dead near the edge of the woods, and by an old road used as a foot path, and to act as the coroner, it being about sixty miles, via railroad, distant from Honesdale, the residence of the Coroner of Wayne county.

"That I went to the place where the body was found, and there found his dead body lying on its back in a swale of water with his head on dry ground, and from all appearances he had gone there for a drink of water.

"Dr. John E. Bennett, a physician of Starrucca, had also been called with L. C. Mumford, an undertaker, also of Starrucca.

"Made inquiry of his son, G. C. Tarbox, Winterdale, and his two nephews, D. M. and Frank Smith, of Scott Center, and friends and neighbors, as well as of the physician and undertaker in attendance. They found no marks of violence on the body, and on his body was his gold watch, some money and receipts that he carried.

"Ascertained that he was a man 83 years old. Also that there was no evidence of any violence or circumstances leading to a suspicion that death has been caused by any unnatural means, and from all that I could learn, William Tarbox, of Scott township, Wayne county, aged eighty-three years, died in a natural way, from the visitation of God and not otherwise. James Hoag, J. P."

—Frank A. Jenkin's latest composition, "The Marsh Child's Lullaby," will be rendered as an encore song at the recital at the Lyric on Friday evening.

—Max Denhardt reports that his brother who is an ornithologist, recently experienced considerable difficulty in bringing arms and ammunition into Columbia, S. A., because of a revolutionary movement going on there.

—On Thursday morning a commission in lunacy composed of R. M. Salmon, Esq., Francis H. Crago and E. W. Burns, M. D., was appointed by Judge Searle to inquire into the sanity of George R. Nelson of Lebanon township.

—On Tuesday evening a party took a straw ride to Dyberry and enjoyed a chicken dinner at the pleasant home of L. O. Mumford. The following attended: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hilly, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Birdsall, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Fuller, Misses Grace Salmon, Marietta Russell, Mary A. Menner and Messrs. R. M. Salmon, Norman Farnham and C. P. Searle.

—It is probable that a delegation from the Honesdale Skat Club will attend the grand national tournament of the North American Skat League, for the year 1911, to be held in Pittsburgh, June 10, 11, 12, 1911. The Honesdale Skat club has a membership of thirty-five. The officers are: John H. Weaver, president; Albert Elmerhardt, Jr., vice-president; A. F. Voigt, secretary; Marcus Bregstein, treasurer; Fred Michaels, Leopold Blumenthal, David Fisher, trustees.

Gun In A Tree.

Peter Loven is well known in this county. He was in our company. A laughable incident befell him, one which almost became a fatal calamity. Fort Clifton was playing ball with us without any knockers (as their balls were too heavy and rotten). While Peter Loven was walking along with his gun in his left hand, and his haversack on, with his other equipments, a cannon ball struck his gun and knocked it in a tree, and it was hanging there the last we saw it. This ball also cut off his haversack and knocked Peter down. When Peter was helped up he looked dazed, and saw his gun was no more use to him, unless it was to shoot around a barn. He said: "I guess I will have to go to a hospital." We could not help smiling. We knew it injured him, as we worked for his pension on that very casualty.

If Caruso dines at Sherry's where will I dine?
