

THE COUNTY

ALDENVILLE.

(Special to The Citizen.) ALDENVILLE, Pa., May 23.—The bacchante sermon to the High school class at this place will be preached at the M. E. church on Sunday next at 2:30 p. m. by Rev. Wendell from Honesdale. There will be special music.

On Friday evening the drama, "Phyllis' Inheritance" will be given in Odd Fellows' Hall for the benefit of the senior class. Music will be furnished by Dorin's orchestra.

George Gaylord is making extensive improvements on his barns. His youngest son, Clifford, received a badly bruised eye by falling off a stone wall last week. The eye was nearly swelled shut.

We learn that Warren Sunting, who recently moved from this place to the farming region thirty-five miles north of Philadelphia, has been laid up for some time past with a serious attack of poison ivy.

The heavy rains of last week did a world of good and some damage as well near here. Some crops were completely washed out while others were badly damaged.

Where is that fellow who said Aldenville was a dead one? We have two thriving churches, a first-class general store, grist mill, blacksmith shop, cut glass factory, Odd Fellows hall, theatre, butcher shop, livery, two tennis courts and a base ball field.

The Pleasant Mount team into camp on the latter's grounds. Score 17 to 7. The Pleasant Mount team was strengthened by the addition of Glanville and Cunningham and gave the locals a stiff argument for four innings, having a 5 to 1 lead, but in the fifth inning Aldenville "got busy" and pulled the game out of the fire.

The fans sat on the hillsides which form a natural amphitheatre. They wore their red tickets in their hats, as a sign that they had paid to see the matinee.

The Citizen man and Mr. Sweet of Taylor kept tabs on the game, which lasted for two hours and three minutes.

The Honesdale boys played a splendid game. They faced a nine of seasoned veterans, some of whom had been tried out by the Scranton State League team this Spring.

Well, we lost. But we made a good showing anyhow. And we'll win the next game.

After the game was over the teams had supper in the dance hall of the William Tell Rifle Club.

On their way home Sunday they saw part of the Archbald-Carbondale game in the Pioneer City.

In the opinion of the writer the home team showed up very well in the first game of the season. And he further believes that the team is a "comer" and that the season of 1911 will produce another championship team to uphold the honor of a town that produced men like Christy Mathewson and Sherry. Play ball!
