Events Of Interest In The County, Tersely Told.

Teachers' Examinations

On account of the frequent complaint by applicants for provisional certificates that the time (one day) allotted to the work is too short to do justice to themselves, a day and a half will be given for each examination. All examinations will begin promptly at 9 p. m. and continue during that afternoon and the morning and afternoon of next day. Every applicant must avail himself of one of the examinations to be held at the place and time indicated below: At Winwood, June 28 and 29; at Pleasant Mount, June 30 and July 1; at Newfoundland, July 6 and 7; at Damascus, July 13 and 14; at Honesdale, July 20 and 21; at Ariel, July 27 and 28. No applicant will be admitted after 2:15 p. m.

The questions in Theory of Teaching will be based on the state course of study for the elementary school and the first 191 pages of Frank Murray's "How to Study and Teaching How to Study." In Reading, the questions will be based on Hawthorne's "Twice Told Tales," Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" and diacritical markings. A standard of 75 per cent. is required.

The new school code raises the minimum salary for provisionals from $40 to $45, and for all grades of certificates above the provisional from $50 to $55. See Art. XII, Sec. 1211. With the advance in salary, the standard for certification must likewise be raised. All the younger applicants should avail themselves of the advantages offered by our summer schools for teachers.

Please note the following sections of the new school code: Art. XII, Sec. 1202: Every teacher employed to teach in the public schools of this commonwealth must be at least eighteen years of age.

Art. XIII, Section 1302: No person entering upon the work of teaching in the public schools after the approval of this Act shall teach more than five school terms on provisional certificates.

Art. XII, Sec. 1209: Any principal or teacher who unless released by the board of school directors refuses or neglects to teach through the term for which he was engaged, except when prevented by personal illness, shall be disqualified from teaching in any public school in this commonwealth during the term of said contract.

Art. XXI, Sec. 2108: All teachers shall receive three dollars per day for attending the annual teachers' institute.

Sec. 2110: Every teacher absenting himself from the annual teachers' institute without a valid cause shall be fined three dollars for every day he is absent. This amount is to be deducted from his next month's salary following.

All applicants for provisional certificates who taught during the last school term, and likewise all teachers holding certificates higher than the provisional certificate shall leave a complete record of every pupil, namely, his progress, grade, promotion, grade examination marks, etc., on the page following the double page of the last month's report in the teacher's monthly report book. This does not mean the report on a loose sheet of paper slipped in the report book, but a part of the report book itself. This does not include teachers in graded schools where special record books are kept. Teachers who have failed to make the above report will please do so before they present themselves as applicants at the examinations.

Teachers who fail to receive proficiency certificates before Sept. 1, 1911, can not secure a $55-salary per month under the minimum salary act.

Report of Orson District Sunday School Convention

On the morning of May 24, 1911, the Orson District Sunday School convention convened in the M. E. church at Starrucca. Program opened by morning praise led by J. Nichols.

The address of welcome by Rev. B. F. Larrabee was delivered in a most cordial manner and none could doubt its sincerity.

Response was given by Rev. W. B. Signor of Orson.

Miss Clark of Boyds Mills gave an enthusiastic talk on the Cradle Roll department which was started originally by Miss Dudley of New Jersey. The object of the cradle roll is to enroll all the babies. Great importance should be attached to the selection of a superintendent. She should be the trusted friend of the mother. Mother's meetings should be held as often as possible. The best time to promote from cradle roll to beginners' class is on Children's Day.

Singing, "I Need Thee Every Hour."

The topic assigned to Rev. Kopp was passed as he was not present. Teacher Training by Otto Appley, M. D., was next taken up. There should be 50 cradle rolls in every 100 schools; 30 per cent. must have a Home Department; 20 per cent. must have a Teacher's Training class.

Afternoon Session.

The afternoon session opened with singing "Onward Christian Soldiers." Prayer was offered by Rev. W. Schenck.

Finances of Sunday school work had been assigned to Dr. Appley. Instead he talked on organized Bible classes. He showed that they were an important and far-reaching factor in Sunday school work.

Miss Clark supplemented his remarks by rehearsing and giving her experiences in the adult class in her own school. She related several incidents showing the great influence emanating from a class of fifteen members. Her plea to the delegates was to give home and organize an Adult Bible class.

Rev. H. B. Emmel, of Lake Como, gave his topic assigned, "How to Reach the Young Men," in his usual breezy manner, which had marked effect.

The roll call of Sunday schools and their superintendents was followed by an earnest, helpful talk on the subject of Home Department Work, after which Theodore Klein of Ariel was introduced who spoke from his own experience on behalf of the young men who are to be seen on every hand, careless and indifferent. The question being raised as to why pleas were not made on behalf of the boys, especially against the deadly cigarette and the liquor traffic, an answer was given that when the district was thoroughly organized superintendents or committees would be appointed to take care of these problems, a consummation devoutly to be wished for.

The congregation stood while singing "Precious Name."

Dr. Otto Appley was the moving spirit of the convention. As he could not be present at the evening session it was left in charge of J. W. Gould.

Session closed with singing, "Stand Up for Jesus."

Evening Session.

The evening session opened by singing "Near the Cross."

Rev. F. B. Sanford read the scripture lesson and also offered prayer.

Song by Revs. Emmel, Signor and Buck.

At the business meeting Mrs. W. Mosher was elected to act as Cradle Roll superintendent of the district for the remainder of the year. Ethel Woodmansee was elected secretary. The next district convention is to be held on November 3.

The evening offering was then taken followed by a reading of "The Saloon Keeper's Daughter," by Mrs. E. W. Hine.

"An Up-to-Date Sunday School" was the topic assigned Rev. W. Schenck. The up-to-date Sunday school is only the very best Sunday school we can have. The superintendent must be a leader. He must enthrall the people and put something into it. It must have skilled teachers if you expect to get anything out of the work. They are demanding a person who has or almost has a college education to talk to them. It must have a Teacher Training class. The aim is to keep the children in the Sunday school from the cradle to the grave. If we do not bring the hearts of the boys and the girls closer to Christ we have utterly failed.

"Rewards" was the topic which Rev. Holmes very ably presented to the convention. The teacher should not enter the work with some reward in view. The rewards they will receive will be of far more value. The first reward is a close or intimate knowledge of the scripture. No book has exerted so great an influence as the Bible. It is at the very center of civilization and all the fruits are due to it.

The second reward is a clearer understanding of the child.

The third reward is the enlarging of our lives caused by the unconscious influence our lives has on others and thereby enlarging our lives in theirs. As we labor for God we labor with Him. The Christian work is not an unpaid work but workers receive the riches of his store house.

Singing, "Come Thou Almighty King."

We were very fortunate in having with us Rev. Buck from Uniondale who gave a very instructive talk on "Temperance."

After singing "God Be With You" Rev. Signor pronounced the benediction.

Ethel Woodmansee.

FIFTY-FOUR HOURS A WEEK.

We now have in this state a law limiting the hours of work for women and children in mechanical employments to 54 a week instead of the 58 which have prevailed for some years past. This means, of course, for the textile and some other factory employments a 54-hour week for men as well as women and children. Gov. Foss had wanted to compromise on 55 hours; but on assurances "with all the emphasis at our command," from labor leaders in the textile industries that the passage of a 54-hour law "means a cessation of agitation for shorter hours in Massachusetts for years to come," the governor signed the bill, believing that stability of the laws in this respect "is more important than a difference of a simple hour in the length of a week's work."

This pledge from the labor leaders is of course something which neither their successors in office nor their followers will be bound to observe; and we may not have to wait long for agitation and work upon the Legislature for a further reduction. But the promise is one which may operate to strengthen legislative resistance to further attempts for the arbitrary restriction of working time until at least other states have caught up with Massachusetts in this particular.

Here is the great trouble with such a law as has now been enacted. It may possibly handicap us in competition with other states, and particularly the adjoining industrial states of Rhode Island and Connecticut, which do not even have a 58-hour basis against their competition. It is quite possible that labor efficiency was increased enough to offset the loss in work time. But there are, of course, limits to this rule of efficiency compensation. We may have passed them already in going down as far as 54 hours; and if so, then Connecticut and Rhode Island, not to speak of the adjoining states to the north, or the state of New York, whose limit is still 60 hours, have an advantage over us in the industries affected. And in the South, in the cotton manufacture, 60 hours is still a minimum and in some states the work week exceeds that length.

But we may fairly expect that the consequences to our disadvantage will not be material, and we may hope that the stronger Massachusetts example now established will operate to bring the other nearby states into greater legislative consideration of their workmen and children. New Jersey under a 55-hour law seems not to have lost ground as a manufacturing state in competition with Pennsylvania and New York under a 60-hour work-week. Nevertheless the labor which has been favored by this new legislation should keep in mind the fact that it will do them little or no good in the long run if efficiency is not improved in some proportion to the reduction in working time.—Springfield Republican.

Regulations Governing the Driving or Shipping of Dairy Cows and Such other Cattle as are for Breeding Purposes into Pennsylvania.

AN ACT

To protect the health of the domestic animals of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., That the importation of dairy cows and neat cattle for breeding purposes into the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby prohibited, excepting when such cows and neat cattle are accompanied by a certificate from an inspector, whose competency and reliability are certified to by the authorities charged with the control of the diseases of domestic animals in the State from whence the cattle came, certifying that they have been examined and subjected to the tuberculin test and are free from disease.

Section 2. That in lieu of an inspection certificate as above required, the cattle may be detained at suitable stock-yards nearest to the State line on the railroad over which they are shipped, and there examined at the expense of the owner, or cattle as above specified from points outside of the State may, under such restrictions as may be provided by the State Livestock Sanitary Board, be shipped in quarantine to their destination in Pennsylvania, there to remain in quarantine until properly examined at the expense of the owner, and released by the State Livestock Sanitary Board.

Section 3. The State Livestock Sanitary Board is hereby authorized and empowered to prohibit the importation of domestic animals into the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, whenever in their judgment such measures may be necessary for the proper protection of the health of the domestic animals of the Commonwealth, and to make and enforce rules and regulations governing such traffic, as may from time to time be required.

Section 4. That if any person, firm or corporate body shall by himself, herself or themselves, or by his, her, their or its agents or servants, violate any of the provisions of this act, every such person, firm or corporate body, and his, her, their or its agents or servants, shall forfeit and pay the sum of fifty dollars which shall be recoverable with costs, by any person suing in the name of the Commonwealth, as debts of like amount, are by law recoverable; and Justices of the peace and aldermen, throughout this Commonwealth, shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine all actions for the recovery of said penalties: Provided, however, That either or both parties shall have the right to appeal to the court of common pleas of the proper county, as provided by existing laws in suits for the recovery of penalties. In addition to the above penalty, every person, firm or corporation, and every officer, agent, servant and employee of such person, firm or corporation, who violates any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of quarter sessions of the peace of the proper county, shall be sentenced to pay the costs and a fine of not less than fifty dollars, and not more than one hundred dollars, for each and every offense, or be imprisoned for not less than ten days nor more than thirty days, or both, or either, at the discretion of the court. In all prosecutions for a misdemeanor, under this section, the magistrate before whom the complaint is made shall have authority in case the defendant admits the commission of the offense or requests the magistrate to hear and determine the complaint, to impose and receive the costs and fine, as provided herein. All penalties, fines and costs recovered for the violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid to the Secretary of the State Livestock Sanitary Board, or to an authorized agent of the said Board, and by him be immediately covered into the State Treasury.

Sec. 5. The State Livestock Sanitary Board is hereby charged with the enforcement of this act, and is authorized to see that its provisions are obeyed, and to make, from time to time, such rules and regulations as may be necessary and proper for its enforcement.

Section 6. That this act shall go into effect January first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight.

DANIEL H. HASTINGS,
Approved—The 26th day of May, A. D. 1897, and as amended by the act of April 5, 1905.

RULES FOR THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE ACT OF MAY 26, 1897, AS AMENDED BY THE ACT OF APRIL 5, 1905.

Dairy cows and such other cattle as are for breeding purposes may be brought into Pennsylvania from other States only in accordance with one of the three following provisions:

1. The cattle may be examined and tested with tuberculin in the State whence they come by an inspector whose competency and reliability are certified to the State Livestock Sanitary Board by the authorities charged with the control of the diseases of animals in that State. Special blanks for reporting upon such examinations, tuberculin to be used in making the test and tags for marking those animals which are found free from disease will be furnished by the State Livestock Sanitary Board upon application. Cattle thus examined found to be free from disease and brought into Pennsylvania, shall remain in the possession and custody of the person or persons who ship them or own them when brought into Pennsylvania until the inspection reports have been approved by a member of the State Livestock Sanitary Board or by an agent authorized to approve such reports. After such approval, the cattle can be disposed of without restriction.

2. In place of an inspection outside of Pennsylvania as provided above, dairy cows and such other cattle as are for breeding purposes may be examined and tested with tuberculin at suitable stock-yards nearest to the State line on the railroad over which they are shipped. Such examinations are to be made by inspectors approved by this board and at the expense of the owner of the cattle.

Cattle so inspected shall be marked with a suitable metal tag or shall be accurately described, so that they can be reliably identified, and a report on the examination and test, with directions for identification, shall be submitted without delay to this Board.

3. Dairy cows and such other cattle as are for breeding purposes may be brought into Pennsylvania WITHOUT PREVIOUS EXAMINATION ONLY UNDER THE FOLLOWING CONDITION:

A special permit for each shipment must be applied for to the State Livestock Sanitary Board, Harrisburg, Pa., and held, and this must accompany the cattle.

Such cattle shall remain in strict quarantine during transit and after they have arrived at their destination until they have been examined and tested with tuberculin and found to be free from evidence of infectious disease, by an inspector approved by this Board. Under this quarantine it is required that the cattle shall be kept apart from other cattle, that they shall remain in the possession and custody of the person or persons who bring them into this State and that their milk shall not be sold or used without previous sterilization by boiling.

Dairy cows or such other cattle as are for breeding purposes, brought into Pennsylvania under this provision, that are found upon examination or test to be tuberculous, shall be strictly isolated and quarantined, their milk cannot be used for any purpose whatever without previous sterilization by boiling, and they shall not be moved to other premises except upon special permit for slaughter. No compensation shall be allowed for such cattle.

As approved by the State Livestock Sanitary Board at Harrisburg, Pa., February 26, 1908.
